So long as this engine and its precious cargo cling to the rails, the hopes of every family represented in the train ride high. Only in the event that the engine strikes an immovable object or is diverted from its course can disaster strike.

The rails on which a train must travel may be likened to the road on which we mortals must walk in the performance of our duties and our responsibilities in life. The road is narrow and rugged. If we have the faith and the spiritual fibre to stay on the road, it will lead to salvation. It will prove to be a highway of contentment and peace.

But should we stray from the road of Christian living, the disaster which ultimately must strike may be likened to the pile up of the passenger cars of the train should the engine leave the tracks and lose its way.

There is something sturdy-looking about the great steel trail blazer shown here. We could almost believe that it possesses human character. Certainly it teaches us some worth while lessons in life. It reminds us that there is a great responsibility connected with insuring the safety of the lives entrusted to our leadership. It teaches us the importance of plodding ever onward toward our goal, keeping on the right tracks and coming in on time whenever possible for the appointments in which others, too, have a stake.

Are You Ready To Vote In November?

This is the last week you will have an opportunity to register in order to be able to vote in the coming presidential election on Nov. 2.

Your vote is important in the coming election as it is in every election. Throughout the world today fewer and fewer people still have the freedom you have, namely to be able to go to the polls and cast a ballot for the candidate of your choice.

If you are thankful for this privilege, respect it and be sure you can vote on Nov. 2. The polling place in your community will be open special hours for your convenience on Monday, Oct. 4. The election board is to be commended on this service.

All The Good Men Aren't Republicans

A lady called me this past week and conversation centered around the current topic of discussion on the Hilltop, the liquor question. She addressed me "You Democrat".

There are those who disagree with our open correspondence to the governor, who sincerely believe that our stand could be for no other reason than that we want to further the interests of the Democrats in the coming election.

This isn't the first time I've been called a Democrat—or even a Republican. I guess it still isn't any disgrace to be called one or the other. In fact I don't recognize myself as being either if I have to be a dyed in the wool variety. I've always called them as I see them, and don't recall any election when all the good men were on one ticket or the other. I think it stands to reason that all the good men running this time aren't necessarily Republicans.

So call me what you will—if it makes you happy—I'll still put in a couple cents worth for the man I think can do the best job.

Check Your Furnace And Save A Fire

It's time to light up the furnace again . . . and coincident with this season of the year the fire department reports that business gets brisker with them and property damage rises.

It is appropriate with the approach of National Fire Prevention Week that every resident should take a little time out to make a thorough inspection of the basement before lighting the first fall fire in the furnace.

The fire department asks that you clean out the furnace thoroughly—don't just throw in a match on a pile of old papers and rubbish that has collected through the summer. Then, too, be sure that old magazines, and other trash and rubbish are removed from the vicinity of the furnace or pipes that might become overheated.

Let's save the firemen as many trips as we can. Let's observe National Fire Prevention Week by actually preventing fires.

Mail Carrier Completes 26 Years Delivering Service on Hilltop, Retires

Orin R. Siler

Orin R. Siler, a veteran of 35 years with the Columbus Mail Service, and a Hilltop carrier for the past 28 years, sorted his mail for Terrace, Richardson, Burgess and Ogden-ays from Sullivant-av to Eakin-rd, and hoisted the bulging pouch to his shoulder for the last time today, the day of his retirement.

The Silers, who had been Hilltoppers for 20 years, moved to Washington C. H. about two years ago. After that, the local carrier had to drive back and forth to work every day, a total of 80 miles. He rose every morning at 4:30, left home at 5, and arrived at the Hilltop Branch Post Office at 6.

"It wasn't too bad," he remarked, "at that time of the morning there were very few cars to worry about."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Siler, formerly of 830 Racine-av, are charter members of the Immanuel Baptist Church, which is an outgrowth of Hillcrest Baptist. "Rev. John Vincent was our first pastor," Siler recalled, and the congregation met in the John Burroughs School." That was in 1933.

At the time of his retirement, Siler and Earl Clark were the only two men left at the local post office who had been assigned there after it became a carrier station in 1936.

The Siler's romance began on a double date, fixed up by Mrs. Siler's cousin. They are the parents of a son, Jack, who is 30 years old, and another son, Bill, [redacted].

Jack is married and has two small daughters. He and his family live on Mt. Pleasant-av. Both are West High alumni, and both served in the Army. In fact, during the war they met each other in Austria.

"Neither of my boys liked my kind of job," he said. "Bill got a taste of it one Christmas, when he carried part of my route, but decided it wasn't for him.

"I plan to be a 'man of leisure' for a few months anyway," said Mr. Siler. "I'll enjoy a good vacation."

Southworths Are Betting On Uncle Bill and Boston

If you happen to drive up Sullivant Avenue one of these days soon and see a big sign on the front of the Southworth Poultry House saying "Gone to the ball game," you can readily understand what it is all about.

Uncle Bill's Boston team just won the National League baseball pennant and it goes without saying that the entire Southworth family is quite enthused over the coming world series and certainly wont be pulling for anyone but Boston.

Arley W. Southworth, 1910 Sullivant-av, is a brother of Billy Southworth, Boston manager, and thereby "Uncle Bill" to Bill and Marvin who operate the poultry house.

Mr. A. W. and Billy once played sandlot baseball together. Arley pitched and "Uncle Bill" caught. But they both went to work on the railroad when they were young men. A couple of years of railroading was enough for Billy though. One day he came down off the engine and said, "That's enough railroading for me. I'm going to play baseball." And a long and very successful baseball career, well known to all sports fans, followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Southworth definitely will see some of the games in the coming world series and Marvin and Bill and their families say they are making every effort to get away too. And they may do it, even if it means shutting up shop while they watch "Uncle Bill" direct his Boston Braves.

West Band Parents Sponsor "Kick Off"

The West High Band Parents Club is sponsoring the "East-West Kick-Off" dance to be held in the school gym following the East-West football game tomorrow evening. Admission is 50c, and the school's dance band will be featured.

Mrs. E. B. McCrady, president of the Band Parents Club has appointed the following committee chairmen for tomorrow evening's activities: Mrs. Dennen Leach, publicity; E. M. Bradfute, refreshments; Mrs. P. W. Nippert, check room; and E. B. McCrady, doorman.

Rebecca Hall, 30, of 175 S. Harris-av, was treated in Mt. Carmel Hospital for arm injuries Sunday when a car door came open and she fell to the pavement while riding with her husband, Franklin, who was making a turn at Hague-av and Olive-st.

Hilltoppers Should Take Advantage Of Opportunity To Get Free X-Ray

By Libby Downing

A stitch in time saves nine? When something of a physical nature is wrong with a person, he usually has symptoms. However, once in a while a disease, whose symptoms are disguised, attacks and the victim has no warning signal. Tuberculosis operates this way many times.

There is no excuse for any person on the Hilltop living through another day in doubt as to whether or not this malady lies hidden in his body.

The Columbus Tuberculosis Society in connection with the Hilltop Kiwanis Club is offering free chest exams to all Hilltoppers at the Hilltop YMCA, 2585 W. Broadst. Every day this service is available, 2-5 p. m. and 7-9 p. m. In addition, from Oct. 4 to 7 there has been a special time, 9-11 a. m., set aside for industrial groups.

Your reporter personally had an examination Monday. The test itself takes no more than five minutes. Contrary to many beliefs, there is no disrobing or inconvenience. In a matter of three weeks to one month, I will receive the report, which, incidentally, is my second.

Helping at the "Y" on Monday were Mrs. Jack Merriman, 2520 Sutton-av, Mrs. L. E. Saunders, 52 Binns-blvd, and Mrs. Haydn Jones, 190 S. Roys-av. Technician of the Columbus Tuberculosis Society, Ned Martin, and his assistant, Lois Cohagen, are on duty there, and are in charge of the actual X-Ray work.

Until press time this week a very small percentage of Hilltoppers had taken advantage of this service. Dr. J. W. Miles of the Kiwanis Club is the chairman of arrangements, and took the necessary steps to bring the free exams to our community.

The clinic has been brought to our door. Five minutes is all it takes, and then you're really sure!

Liquor Control and The Election

There are only 32 days until election!

And a lot of Hilltop people are doing their election thinking early. This is especially true in the race for governor.

Since that delegation of Hilltoppers went down to the state liquor appeals board to protest the granting of another liquor permit within the 500 foot radius of three local churches and were the recipients of rude treatment and a reverse decision of the liquor board's previous ruling, more and more Hilltoppers are asking a question of Governor Herbert and are rightfully expecting an answer before they go to the polls on Nov. 2 to vote.

The question: What are the Republicans going to do about this business of expanding the liquor business in Ohio?

To date the Governor has made no commitment on the matter and as things now stand it would appear that the party in power has no intention of altering their position, namely that they are all out to expand the sale of liquor in the state wherever possible. The law as it now stands should be corrected, but in the recent Republican convention nothing was done to go on record for such a change. It looks like good business for the Republicans to keep the law as it is.

32 Days Til Election

If the Republican party henchmen have any influence with the Governor at all it would appear wise to extract some statement from him within another week so that people in this and other communities may know how he stands so they will have ample time to determine how they want to cast their vote in the election Nov. 2.

While we anticipate a large Ohio vote for Dewey for president there are still enough independent voters in the state to keep the race for governor from being a corresponding Republican landslide.

Today Last Day To Get License

Today is the last day for the sale of drivers' licenses.

The Robinson Electric Store, W. Broad-st at S. Wayne-av, is headquarters for the Hilltop area. Licenses may be purchased until 9 this evening.

Russell Henry was appointed deputy registrar for the sale this year, proceeds of which will go to the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Yacht Club Secy.

Cliff S. Dum

Cliff S. Dum, 143 S. Algonquin-av, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Buckeye Lake Yacht Club on Sept. 19. He has been a member of the group for four years and served as race committee chairman during the past year. The local sailor participated in each of the weekly races held on Sundays at the lake, this summer.

On Labor Day, the Hilltopper won the series of races in his Lightning Class 19-foot boat, which he built. His crew consists of his wife and his son, Jeff, a pupil at West Broad Street School. A daughter, Carol, is a student at West Junior High.

Dum, commodore of the Ohio Inter-Club Yachting Association, attended the group's third annual regatta held at Chippewa Lake during the month of June.

Surgery Performed On Joseph Nailor

Joseph C. Nailor, 70 year-old Columbus attorney, who resides at 109 N. Burgess-av, is said to be in "fairly good" condition at St. Anthony's Hospital, where he has been a patient since Sept. 19.

Nailor underwent surgery several days ago and is recovering as quickly as possible. The operation was of a "serious nature."

Former Hilltop Boy Becomes Eagle Scout

A former Hilltop Boy Scout and Columbus resident, Ralph McKinney, Jr., was recently awarded the rank of Eagle Scout at a Court of Honor in Cleveland. Eagle Scout McKinney was formerly a member of Troop 161 and attended West Junior High. The family, who resided at 274 Powhatan-av, moved to Lakewood in March, 1947.

W. W. Wylie Is New Manager Of Hamilton Milk Co.

Will W. Wylie, 75 Powhatan-av, a leader in the dairy business here for more than 25 years, today was named manager of Borden's Hamilton Milk Co. Mr. Wylie's appointment to succeed Thomas B. Buchanan, who died recently, was announced by Norval D. Goss, Midwest district chairman of the Borden Co.

We [illegible] the [illegible] business in 1921 as a route salesman for the Budd Dairy Co. The same year he was promoted to route supervisor. When Budd was merged with the Hamilton Milk Co. in 1924, Wylie was appointed sales manager of the enlarged Hamilton organization. He continued in that capacity after Hamilton joined Borden's in 1929. Through the years he also has assumed additional duties covering every phase of the milk business. He supervised plant operations and headed the company's advertising and sales promotion programs.

Hamilton's new manager has been active in the affairs of business, civic and religious organizations. He has served as a member of the board of trustees of Hoge Memorial Church, where he also has been an elder and a deacon. He has been a leader in the Columbus Milk Distributors Association and now is its treasurer.

1300 Seats Added To Magly Field

There will be 1300 additional seats available to West High football fans Friday, Irvin F. Young, principal, announced this week.

The school has purchased these new steel bleachers, to be set up alongside the 1000 other rented bleachers on the east side of Magly Field, making a total of about 6000 seats.

Mr. Young also said that the school's band would attend the Central and South games.

This week's band performance will include (toward the East bleachers) formations of "Hi" and "E"; and facing the West fans, the band will form a tiger's head to the tune of "Tiger Rag"; a Cowboy ten gallon hat; the number "47" for last year's football champs; and a "48" for this year's team; and finish with a "W" formation accompanied by West's fight songs.

Adult tickets for the East-West game are now on sale at the school office at 75c. Persons expecting to attend the game are urged to buy tickets previous to game time.

Fire Destroys Farm Home

A raging fire destroyed the Dale G. Vance home at 4207 Trabue-rd, Tuesday afternoon. An unofficial estimate placed the loss at about $10,000.

Columbus, Prairie and Brown Townships fire squads were summoned to the fire, but were hampered by the lack of water. Columbus firemen said the only water supply was the 100 gallons carried on their pump truck.

Alma Vance, 18, was the only member of the family of five who was at home at the time of the blaze. Kenneth Ary, a neighbor, saw flames in a small shed near the rear of the house and warned Miss Vance.

The dwelling and surrounding farm lands are owned by John Hoffman, 126 S. Harris-av, Vance said. He was returning home from work when he saw his home in flames.

Besides their daughter, Alma, Mr. and Mrs. Vance have two other children, Connie, 16, and Barbara, 7.

Golf Roundup Tickets Available

A few tickets for the "Hilltop Golf Round-up" are still available at Seiller's Department Store, The Hilltop Record, or Beacon Light Golf Course, scene of the Sunday event.

This is the second annual "Round-up". Tickets are $2.50 each, and include food, drinks and golf events.

Jack Kidwell, manager of Beacon Light, said that no green fees will be accepted Sunday, since the course has been reserved for the 200 "Round-up" ticket holders.

Prizes worth $400 will be given at the golf event, along with the presentation of the Seiller Trophy to the club champion, Earl Carper, and the trophy winners of other flights.

Dick Francis, of the West High Boosters Club, said that the Boosters would award a round-trip football ticket to the Cleveland Browns game in Cleveland, Nov. 14. All golfers participating in this contest must be members of the Booster Club. Tickets will be on sale at the first tee.

Ronnie Wilcox Wins $10 In First Football Contest

It was a tough fight, Ronnie, but you won!

Professor Pigskin is glad to announce the first winner in The Hilltop Record's weekly football contest and this week the $10 goes to Ronnie Wilcox, 2997 Palmetto-st.

Ronnie picked all four winners in the first week's contest and was the only person in the large number who submitted entries to guess the exact score of the East-West game.

But it was a close race even so. Joe Leone, 2820 W. Broad, came in second and will receive two passes to the CCC Auto Theatre. Both prize winners will receive their prizes through the mail either today or Friday.

Already a goodly number of entries have been received by Professor Pigskin for the second week in the contest—games to be played this week-end. Contestants should be reminded that all entries for the games to be played this week-end should be postmarked not later than midnight tonight, Thursday, and addressed to Professor Pigskin at The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st. Another entry blank and the games to be judged next week are contained in the page ad on Page 6B in today's Hilltop Record.

Why not sit down right now and get that contest entry in the mail right away!

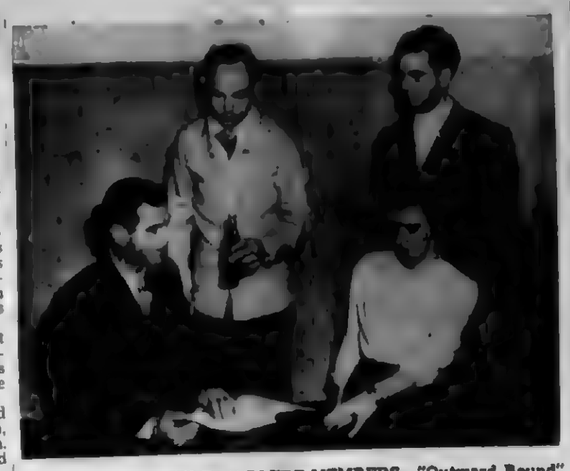
Race In Broad St. Results In Death For 2

A race between two cars in W. Broad-st last Thursday evening, ended in the death of two young navy veterans, one a West High graduate.

Roy Stewart, 21, of 2565 Hamilton-av, a former Hilltopper, was driving one car. His passenger was Jack E. Clifford, 23, of 361 Clinton-st. The other car involved in the race sped away as Stewart's auto crashed.



It careened across W. Broad-st in the 1900 block, and crashed into a steel utility pole. The boys had been driving west, just before midnight.

The car was practically sheared in half by the impact of the crash, according to police patrolmen. Stewart was dead when extracted from the wreckage by the fire department emergency and the police. Clifford died a short time after his arrival at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Stewart, a former employee of the Shroeck Service Station, 2460 W. Broad-st, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Jessie Stewart Mader and his stepfather, Ralph Mader.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Emerick Funeral Home in Portsmouth, where the family lived before moving to Columbus eight years ago. Burial was in Rushtown Cemetery.

Services for Clifford were held Monday at the Platt Funeral Home in Portsmouth. Burial was in Greenlawn Cemetery there. Clifford was also a former Portsmouth resident.

Enrollment Drive Under Way In Camp Chase Post

The membership round-up committee of Camp Chase Post, American Legion, is now starting on the second period, which will end Oct. 20. The 1949 paid-up membership at the end of the first period was 186, which is over 37% of the 1949 membership quota.

During the second period the 12 teams will be divided into two squads, the blue and the gold. The captains will be two men who have recently been advanced in rank to majors: Major Elmer A. Young leading the blue and Major Alkire leading the gold squad. The team leaders for the blue squad will be Elmer Young, George Ward, Tom Huffman, Elmer Dysart, Tom Lewis and John Martindale. Leaders for the gold squad will be Jack Alkire, Ray McVay, Dewey Stout, Charlie Weaver, Don Novak and Ed Planck.

Only members secured during this period count in this contest. Each member of each team has an equal chance and every member of the Post is invited to enter. The prize will be a steak dinner on Oct. 21, to be served by the losing squad.

The membership committee meets every Thursday evening to accept dues and prepare membership cards. All dues should be turned in promptly so that cards can be mailed at once. The membership committee hopes to give Commander Dewey Stout a record breaking membership when he takes office Oct. 8.

The regular post meeting will be held Friday evening. All veterans of World War I and II are urged to attend. Joint installation of Post and Auxiliary officers will be held Oct. 8 at 8 p. m. Installing officers will be District Commander Harry Weaston of Westerville and Mrs. Agnes Merritt, past department president of the Auxiliary.

Young "Dems" Make Pre-election Plans

In conjunction with the next regular monthly meeting, all state and county candidates will speak before the group, and a Halloween dance and party is being planned.

King said this week that Margaret Truman, daughter of the president, had been invited to be the honored guest of the evening.

Hilltopper Injured In Packing Co. Blast

Charles Fender, 547 Larcomb-av, who was burned in an explosion at David Davies Packing Co. Monday, is reported in "good" condition at Mt. Carmel Hospital. With him at the time of the explosion was Richard Underhill who is also in Mt. Carmel Hospital. Both men suffered second degree burns of the arms and face.

The blast occurred at 11 a. m. when Fender pulled an air switch. The effects of the blast were confined to the smokehouse, but damage was minor. Neither Fender nor Underhill could give an exact account of what had happened for "everything seemed to blow right up" in front of them. Firemen said that an exhaust fan apparently blew up.

Ohio produced $8,000,000 of petroleum in 1946. In 1946 $4,000,000 of salt was produced in Ohio.

Hearing Society Schedules Program

Classes in lip reading and auditory training for the hard of hearing will begin at the Columbus Hearing Society the first week in October. The evening class in lip reading is scheduled for each Monday evening at 7:30 and the afternoon lip reading class each Tuesday at 1:30. The auditory training class will meet each Wednesday at 7:30.

The Columbus Hearing Scciety, a Community Chest agency, offers these educational programs to all of the hard of hearing. There are also recreational and social clubs. Free hearing tests are available to anyone.

The lip reading classes are organized for all people with a hearing loss, even though they wear a hearing ad. The auditory training is primarily for those who are new users of hearing aids or persons contemplating buying one. However, the class should most certainly benefit those who have worn an aid for some time.

Registration may be made at the Society's office at 55 E. State-st, Room 410.

AFTER 15 YEARS—Mrs. J. P. Kelley, 1789 Sullivant-av, is enjoying the fragrant and beautiful blooms of a cactus plant which has been in her home for 15 years. The plant, which formerly belonged to Mrs. Kelley's aunt, stands about 11 inches high. The blossom is pure white and very true in shape, resembling an orchid. Although it requires two months in which to develop, the blossom lasts only 24 hours, during which time it has a delightful fragrance. Dr. H. C. Shetrone, 3038 Crescent-dr, identified the plant as an echinopsis aures, South American cactus of the orchid family.

Four West Grads Return To Alma Mater To Do Practice Teaching

When the doors of West High School swung open this fall to admit the 2058 pupils, they also welcomed back four former pupils who are now engaged in student teaching or field work duties at their Alma Mater.

Dave Jenks, class of '42, Tom Reed, '37, Wallace Rayburn, '40 and Harold Peters, '46 are back roaming the halls again, but this time not as students.

Jenks is student teaching in Clarence Bateman's classes. Before he leaves West High in December, he will have taught in woodworking, metal and drawing classes. While a student at West he became the president of the Triangle Club, and was a member of the track squad. Since those carefree days of sports, wiener roasts and "all those lessons," he has married, been in the service, and gone to Ohio State University, where he will graduate in December. The war years found him serving 39 months with the U. S. Navy, 24 months of which was spent in the Pacific Theatre.

Rayburn, who lives at 37 N. Westmoor-av, is doing his field work in George Heitz' general science classes. He too is a veteran of over three years in the Navy, with 33 months of that time spent overseas. During his high school career he decided he wanted a sports letter, so he joined up with the track team, and got his letter!

Harold Peters, a West graduate of January, 1946, just completed two weeks of field work with O. C. Montgomery, physics teacher at the local school. Peters lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Peters, at 42 N. Huron-av. Two of his older sisters are West alumnae and his brother, Eugene, is a senior there now. Harold is a member of Ohio State University's Newman Club.

Thomas W. Reed, a graduate of '37 is doing September field work at West High. He served five years in the U. S. Armed Forces, spending about 14 months in Europe. Reed and his wife live at 905 Binns-blvd. He is working with Clarence Bateman, industrial arts teacher.

Tubeless tires have been developed and are undergoing tests. They combine safety features of puncture sealing inner tubes with improved riding qualities, it is cleaned with high bruise resistance and ability to retain air pressure.

Bernard Sisters Win Eagles Prize

Judging, by audience applause, was almost evenly distributed Friday evening at the Aguila Aerie Eagles headquarters, when the fifth and final talent contest was held.

Appearing Friday were the five winners of previous competition bouts sponsored by the local Eagles group.

Final results found the Bernard Sisters, from St. Henery, O., copping first place and the award of $25 for their singing. Ray Baker, a tap dancer, placed second; Andy Granley and Ronnie Booth, playing the drum and piano, came in third; "The Sweetheart Duet" featuring Norman Blakely and Florence Hooker, was fourth place winner, and Francis Wiseman and Philis Bickles placed fifth with an acrobatic dance number.

The Eagles plan some "Barber Shop Quartet" competitions for coming weeks. Any person interested may contact Norman Diehl at lodge headquarters, 2358 W. Broad-st.

Cub Scouts, Troop 214 Met Friday Evening

Francis Boehm, assistant Cub master, presided at the first fall meeting of the Cub Scouts of Troop 214, St. Mary Magdalene School, Friday evening.

Speed and the Individual Driver

How fast is too fast!

The highway patrolman says it is any fraction over the speed limit set by law. If you drive 51 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone, you're liable for arrest on a traffic violation charge.

Common sense, on the other hand, may not be so meticulous as to detail, but can be a lot more rigid regarding speed limits than the law requires the patrolman to be. Under certain conditions, like rain or ice-coated pavements, common sense will tell you that 15 miles an hour is too fast in a 50-mile zone. Common sense, or here more specifically called proper driver attitude, is your own personal speed cop and should ride with you at all times.

Safety experts point out that excessive speed is the greatest single cause for our great number of traffic fatalities—approximately a third of the total. Next in line come driving on the wrong side of the road, followed by failure to give right-of-way, disregarding traffic signals, improper turning and a host of others. All of them, especially speed, can be lumped under one ominous heading: Reckless Driving.

The safety and traffic specialists have a three-pronged cure for reckless driving and its annual harvest of death and injury. By widespread public education in traffic hazards, by strict enforcement of sane and adequate traffic regulations and by installation of uniform and adequate traffic control devices, the annual toll of traffic deaths and injuries can be wiped off the slate.

Unfortunately, they point out, such a beneficent program is of little avail without the inclusion of a fourth element: Proper individual attitude toward safety. All the education, enforcement and engineering we can muster will be of no use if the individual driver persists in the attitude that he can indulge in excessive speed and reckless driving.

The most important factor in accident prevention is a sane attitude toward safety, with proper respect for the rules of the road and the rights of others. The realization of this is the only thing toward which the man behind the wheel should apply the accelerator.

Letters To The Editor

Gentlemen:

We want you to know how much we appreciate receiving the Record. Since we were residents of the Hilltonia area for almost 14 years, we feel that the Hilltop is "home".

Our family moved to Cincinnati Aug. 15. You carried a news item of our moving in that issue of the Record. Our moving has had a note of grief as Mr. Markel died in Good Samaritan Hospital Sept. 9. Being among strangers, my sons and I look forward eagerly to the Record and its news from friends.

We have no plans as yet but we feel that we would all be happier to come back to the Hilltop and West High when we get our affairs organized. Our boys like the schools here but they are considerably larger than the West Side schools.

Mrs. Eldon H. Markel
3954 Zinsle Ave.
Cincinnati 13, Ohio

Dear Mr. Hartley:

I want to thank you, even though belatedly, for writing the letter to Governor Herbert, about the liquor permits, and for printing a copy in the Record. I am chaplain of Columbus State Hospital, and see some of the sad consequences of the use of alcoholic beverages.

I have been chaplain for nearly five years and have had most interesting experiences.

Cordially,
Charles E. Hill

DOMESTICITY

I know I said we'd cut some ice
In tails and ermine wraps;
But could these, dear, be half so nice
As after-dinner naps?

We swore we'd never grow too old
To cut a payday caper;
It's funny we were never told
We'd rather read the paper.

Did someone mention a hayride? Where? At the Teen Club! When? Saturday night, Oct. 2 at $1 per couple. See members for tickets.

All you shutter bugs" remember the Camera Club meets on Wednesday evenings, directed by A. (Hypo) Thorn. Bill, Ted, Frank and George were really slapping the paint on Saturday. I wonder if they will get that room finished this week.

Cowboys Face East Tigers To Open League Play

West High Coyboys, city champions in 1948, will face their first test of City League play Friday night when they play host to the East High Tigers under the lights at Magly Field.

The two teams, rivals of many years standing, will be attempting to break a deadlock in their 35th meeting. The all-time standing shows that each team has won 12 games with 10 of them resulting in tie contests.

By Paul Wichterman

School officials have promised that 1200 more bleacher seats will be erected this week in time for tomorrow night's contest. Last Friday hundreds of spectators were forced to stand when bleachers, promised for use that night, failed to arrive.

Last week Coach Mack Pemberton's boys tied up their game with Upper Arlington in the closing minutes of play when it looked like they were about to suffer their first defeat in 15 starts. Badly outplayed on the line all evening, the Cowboys were frequently nailed in their own backfield before getting to the line of scrimmage. Rushing of the Golden Bears caused the West backs to fumble at crucial times.

Paul Theisen snatched the game out of the fire in the last minute of play when he shot a long pass to Dick Culbertson, who raced over for the touchdown from the visitors' 5. Big Chuck Weeks booted the point that resulted in a 13-13 tie. Theisen's pass was good for approximately 40 yards and was only one of several good pitches he got off during the evening. The first West touchdown came on a Theisen-to-Rudolph toss into the end zone in the waning moments of the first half.

West outplayed the Golden Bears throughout most of the first half and was aided materially by Arlington penalties coming several times when the visitors were deep in Cowboy territory. The first scoring play was set up when Ankrom intercepted an Arlington pass at midfield. Theisen the Cowboy signal caller, missed Speakman with his first aerial, but hit Culbertson on the next toss, which was good to the 26. The touchdown pass to Rudolph followed three plays later. Weeks failed to make the try for extra point.

The Arlington touchdowns both came in the fourth period. After being stopped on the West 10 and later on the Cowboys' 3-yard stripe, the Golden Bears took advantage of one of several West fumbles to take possession of the ball on the Hilltoppers' 15. Hager failed to gain, but Fullback Goodsell went to the 8 and scored on the next play. Capt. Tice's kick was blocked.

The visitors lost little time in setting up their second tally. Young shot a pass to Maloney that was good for 22 yards to the West 23. Weigel carried the ball to the 13 and Goodsell lugged the pigskin into pay dirt on the next try.

With less than four minutes to play the Cowboys cause began to look hopeless, trailing as they were by seven points. But last year's champs were not to be denied. They fought back desperately but ineffectively until Theisen's pass connected for the second West six-pointer to Culbertson.

West-East Have Tied 10 Times During 34 Years

When East meets West on the Hilltop gridiron Friday night it will mark the 35th meeting of the two teams. The game will also be significant from another point of view. It may break a deadlock of games won and lost over that period.

To date both teams have won 12 contests and 10 have been tied. The record number of ties is unique for two teams. It is the most tie games that the Cowboys have had with any opponent, the record books reveal.

Always a hard-fought contest, the East-West tilt tomorrow night promises to give the fans plenty of thrills. Last week the Tigers bowed to Ironton by a 25 to 7 count while the Cowboys were lucky to get off with a 13-13 tie with Upper Arlington.

The first of the 10 East-West tie contests was played in 1915 when neither team was able to score. In 1917 the game ended in a 6 to 6 deadlock. The same score is recorded for 1918. Another scoreless tie was played in 1921 and the 1924 game ended in the familiar 6 to 6 tie. Another scoreless contest is entered in the record books for 1929. A 7 to 7 game was played in 1938. Another scoreless fracas was registered in 1941 and once more in 1945 the contest ended without either team able to score.

The last in the series of 10 tie games was played in 1946 when the count went to 13 all.

Mixed Leagues Start Sunday

Two new mixed leagues are being arranged for Sunday evenings at the Hilltop Bowling Alley. The two leagues are scheduled for 7:00 and 9:00 on Sundays. Each league will contain eight teams, each of which will include two men and two women. The 9 p. m. league is just about filled and will begin bowling this coming Sunday but anyone wishing to bowl on the 7:00 shift may call "Red" Ward, RA. 0128, and leave his or her name and telephone number. This league will probably begin this Sunday or a week from then.

Teen Age Boys To Start

The teen age bowling league for boys, sponsored by Seiller's Department Store and under the management of the Hilltop Bowling Alley, is scheduled to open its season this coming Saturday at 10:30. The league will contain eight teams, each having five bowlers. At present there are openings for two or three boys. Anyone who would like to bowl may call "Red" Ward, RA. 0128, or be there Saturday at 10:30. At a meeting held at the Teen Canteen Thursday evening I was elected president of the league while

Dick Ardle

Gene Urban was chosen to replace Ed Harold as secretary of the league.

A new system of organizing the teams is being tried this year. The first eight averagers of last year's league have been chosen the captains and they will each be given a man from the second eight and so forth until they have complete teams. The new system was chosen in order to eliminate some of the terrific handicaps that were given last year.

St. Aloysius Mothers

It seems I am getting my ears pinned back for failing to write about the St. Aloysius Mothers' League and their scores. Well, I'll try and make it up now.

The league is composed of just what its name suggests—women from the St. Aloysius Church Mothers' Club. Almost all of the women are from the Hilltop and most of them are new at the game. These women bowl on Wednesday afternoons and they don't worry about the kids, they just bring them along. At one time when I had a chance to enter the bowling alley on Wednesday afternoon I thought I had gotten into the wrong building for there were 15 to 20 children staring me in the face. That shows how much interest the women of the Hilltop are showing in bowling.

To date the league has rolled three sets of games with Vogelsang's Bakery on top, with a record of eight wins against one setback. Keith Dancing School and Midland Market are only one game back with 7 and 2 records. Last week Helen Conroy of Vogelsang's had the high single game of 175 and Marie Balthaser the high three game total of 426. Vogelsang's also had the high team series of 652-1811.

Sorry for overlooking you ladies. Keep up the good work.

Seven 600's This Week

Six regulars and a sub broke the 600 mark this week but only the sub was able to hit over 610. The Monday night Commercial League found Boots Maier of Shroyer's holding his team in second place with a 282-608 series. In the latter league it was J. Murnane with 607 and Fred Wolf with 609. Fred's 609 helped his Allen Milk team take over undisputed first place with a 7-2 record.

Pat Jones of Seiller's kept his team well encamped in first place with a 228-603 while Paul Roberts had 233-609 in the same league.

Alex Nicol kept his Thursday night Fox Cafe up towards the top with a 608. They also had high team games of 971-2777.

Bob Winters, subbing for Maier Ments on Friday night, had the best series of the week by putting together games of 203-234 and 179 for a grand 616 total.

Three Women Hit 500

Irene Potts, Pat Barnhart and Billie Warden were the only women to break 500 this week.

Pat and Billie both roll for Warden Drugs and Pat's 619 and Billie's 522 kept their team up in a tie for second place and one game behind the league leaders, Stewart Black Toppers.

Irene Potts, with 510, helped her team, West Hill Furniture, win three games and go into a tie for first place with Hilltop Van and Storage

That's it for this week, bowlers. Keep up the good work and here's hoping for more 600's and 500's next week.

BIBLE COMMENT
FOR OCT. 3

Some Tips on How To Understand Bible To Greater Extent

SIXTY-SIX books in one—39 in the Old Testament and 27 in the New—that is the collection of books that we call "The Bible."

In many editions and translations it is familiar to most of us in the so-called "Authorized Version," dating from 1611, and "authorized" by King James I of England, who commissioned the translation. Discovery of early manuscripts, that were not known in 1611, have led to minor changes in revised versions and clarification of certain passages. But the main teaching concerning God, and the way of life and salvation, has not been affected by any of these changes.

A few simple facts ought to be borne in mind by anyone who would read the Bible intelligently, both for enjoyment and for spiritual guidance and profit. The failure to observe such simple facts has led to a great deal of futile controversy, and often to a missing of the Bible's deepest message.

First of all is the fact that the Bible is an eastern book and is marked by imagery and figurative language. The greatest and deepest truths may be expressed in parables, or figuratively. To read the Bible with crude, western literalism is often to miss its inner and essential truth.

The Bible, too, is a translated book. That does not mean that we, who can read only English, cannot know its truth. But it does mean that it is wise and profitable to compare different translations, and that it is unwise to base controversies and speculations upon the English words in individual passages.

The Bible itself tells us that it is a progressive revelation. We cannot know its highest truth by taking proof texts at random, from any part, as of equal value in revealing God's truth and God's will. Jesus said there was a higher truth and way of love. An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth were better than blind vengeance that took a life for an eye or a tooth. But mercy and forgiveness were better still.

Observe World Wide Communion Day

Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church will observe World Wide Communion with two identical services, at 8 and 10:30 a. m. There will be a reception of new members. Both services are open to strangers in the community and to those who may temporarily be without a church home.

Rev. Norman L. Schreiber, pastor of the church, presented the first of a series of six such studies on Sept. 29. Each Wednesday evening through Nov. 3, a meeting will be held, in order to help the Bible reader to read more intelligently, and the teacher to teach more effectively.

An invitation is extended to any interested party to attend the series, which is held each week at 8 p. m.

Each evening at 7:30 the young man will be presented as the feature of the revival services which are sponsored by the Young People of the church.

The chapel is located just south of W. Mound-st on Whitethorne-av. Entrance to the street may be made by turning south off W. Mound-st at either Columbian or Highland-ave. Signs will direct those attending. Parking will be provided and a loud speaker system has been installed. Paul Washburn is director of the work, Rev. G. H. Hellyer is pastor of the church.

Sunday Is Rally Day At Church of God

Sunday, Oct. 3, will be Rally Day at the Hilltop Church of God.

The Sunday school is departmentalized and has classes for all ages. Dale L. Wilkens, who has been serving as assistant to the pastor, is also now serving as the new Sunday school superintendent.

During the Sunday school worship period there will be a religious broadcast of the national Church of God. The program is called "The Christian Brotherhood Hour," and will be heard at 9:30 a. m. from WRFD every Sunday. This is the first time that this program has been carried on a central Ohio station.

The one week revival continues in progress all this week with services starting at 7:30 p. m. Rev. O. O. Boggess, evangelist from Springfield, Ohio, will speak in the Sunday 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. services on Rally Day.

Austin Hutt Elected At St. Paul's Church

Austin Hutt was elected president of the Christian Endeavor organization of St. Paul's Evangelical Congregational Church, 22 S. Warren-av, on Sept. 26.

This group meets at the church each Sunday evening, and has invited all young people in the locality to attend.

The Wednesday evening fellowship hour will not be conducted for a time, as the city-wide revival program has begun and the church is cooperating with this "Christ for Columbus" campaign.

On Thursday evening, the choir will hold rehearsal under the leadership of the new director, Elzie Radcliffe.

Oct. 10 is the Sunday School and Church Rally at St. Paul's.

It Could Cost You A Lot More

Starting this week local business firms will be contacted by other local business men for contributions to the Community Chest.

The goal for the chest this year is large. In addition to local work the chest is being asked to support the revived USO. Locally, the Hilltop should support the chest in a bigger way than ever before, due to the fact that more chest money will come back to this community than has ever been turned back before.

In 1949 the Hilltop YMCA is scheduled to receive $7500 from the chest, thus eliminating the necessity for a large fund drive by the "Y". Any funds received by the local "Y" from this point on can be deposited to the organization's building fund.

In past years it has been a common thing for a business man to make a contribution of $5 or $10 to the chest and feel he was doing his part. Those who have been in business long enough to remember back before the days of the chest will recall that their contributions to those needy persons who came to his business place in a week's time might easily far exceed this amount.

Bear this in mind and remember that were it not for the chest it would cost more. Give generously this year!

Rt. 40 Super Highway To Be Extended To Lafayette

New 4 Lane Road From W. Jefferson

A million dollar road construction project on Route 40, between West Jefferson and Lafayette, will begin soon following letting of contracts by the State Highway Department, tomorrow, Oct. 8, Division 6 Engineer Robert F. Werner announced today.

The four-lane super-highway will begin in Lafayette, one-half mile west of the intersection of U. S. 40 and 42, running east along 40 to 1¼ mile east of the West Corporation line of West Jefferson, a distance of seven miles.

Traffic volume on this vital highway, Werner said, is such that additional lanes are needed to expedite traffic and eliminate accidents. On the existing seven mile stretch, there were a total of 74 reported accidents, six of which were fatal, from January 1945 to July 1948.

Construction plans, when executed, will also eliminate a great amount of confusion to turning movement now existing at the partial cloverleaf intersection of U. S. Routes 40 and 42.

U. S. Route 40 is an important interstate transportation artery running across the United States from the Atlantic Coast to the Pacific Coast, connecting such important centers as Atlantic City, Baltimore, Wheeling, Columbus, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake City and San Francisco.

U. S. Route 40 enters Ohio from Richmond, Ind. near the Ohio-Indiana state line, and leaves at Bridgeport just across the Ohio River from Wheeling, W. Va.

In crossing Ohio it passes through the cities of Springfield, Columbus, Zanesville, Cambridge and St. Clairsville, and bypasses Dayton approximately 10 miles to the north.

Important also as a trucking route, it carries a multitude of commodities east and west across the country, as well as to the various cities and villages through which it passes.

Twelve intersecting streets, state highways or county roads are within the limits of the proposed development, including U. S. 40-42 and State Route 29.

Construction and engineering costs on this project are to be financed 50 per cent by the State of Ohio and 50 per cent by the Federal Government. 66 2/3 per cent of the cost of right-of-way will be borne by the State, and 33 1/3 per cent by the Federal Government.

Two-way traffic will be maintained during road construction.

Donna Spring To Be Homecoming Queen At West High On October 22

Introducing the 1948 West High Homecoming Queen, Miss Donna Spring.

Miss Spring and her court of four will reign at the ceremonies on Oct. 22 when the Cowboys meet New Philadelphia at Magly Field, and included in the events will be the flowers, speeches, convertibles, and of course the kissing of the football captain. Then on Saturday night she will reign again, this time as queen for the homecoming dance to be held in the gym under the sponsorship of the West Alumni Association.

Attendants to the queen will be Donna Thomas, 307 N. Warren-av; Vera Masdea, 67 N. Eureka-av; Marilyn Hoelcher, 150 S. Westgate-av; Shirley Thurell, 476 Wrexham-av.

After the mad rush of nominations, balloting and final elections was over last week, Donna had just one thing to say: "I tried to be calm."

This was not the first such race in which the pretty blonde with grey eyes had participated. In fact in her case the third time was the "charm".

Donna was chosen 9A Queen at West Junior High a few years ago, and then last spring the five-foot-two queen with the sweet disposition was again chosen to reign at the annual Triangle Club Dance.

"But this one is the most important!" she said, with a shy smile and blush of excitement.

Donna says it's not her "Pepsodent Smile" which is responsible for her being elected. She attributes it to the fact that she has made many friends as a cheerleader, and during the past summer while working in the office of the Hilltop Swimming Pool. However, unless the opinions of her classmates are to be disqualified, it's because she is just herself".

Miss Donna Spring

The 17-year-old senior is as elusive as a pixie. After being named last week, she went home to lunch and returned to school without announcing the big news to her family. When asked why she clammed up, she replied "Well, mother didn't ask me."

Donna's ambition for the present is to go to college. Later she wants to be a housewife and have four children "three about three years apart, and then one for later."

Sports absorb most of the Queen's time at present. Active in the GAA at West, a girls' athletic group, she also likes swimming and ice-skating. Football and basketball are both important to Donna, too. For dates she likes "very feminine or at least softly tailored" clothes.

The "Queen" is also treasurer of her class. In order to have plenty of energy for all her pet activities, Donna relies on vanilla milk-shakes, grilled cheese sandwiches, and chicken, the love of her life.

After her graduation in January she hopes to find a secretarial position. And then, if she decides to go to OSU in the fall, she will take an accounting course.

Born and raised at 125 S. Hague-av in the home where she now resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Spring, and her two brothers, Harold and Howard. Donna went to West Broad Street School. She also has two sisters, Mrs. William Reardon and Mrs. Robert Mohn.

Football Banquet Set For Nov. 16

The Annual football banquet honoring the West High Cowboys and coaches and sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association will be held in the West High Cafeteria on Nov. 16. Speaker and other details will be announced in later issues of The Record.

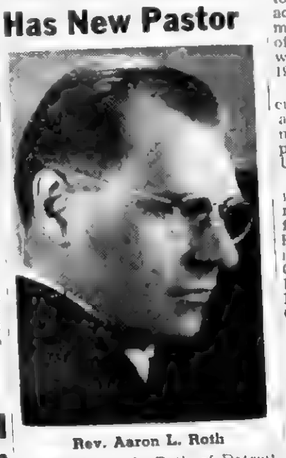
Kiwanis To Elect Oct. 14

The Hilltop Kiwanis Club will hold its annual election at the regular luncheon meeting, Thursday, Oct. 14.

The ballot will contain the following nominees: president — Jack Sensenbrenner; first and second vice presidents — Phillip Stout, George Williams, Jack Merriman, Ray McVay, and Joe Agee; treasurer — L. L. Saunders; Harold Fox and Elmer Hegenberger, directors — Sam Amato, O. H. Craft, Herbert Kunze, Otto Best, William Ewald, Ed Witherspoon, J. Beryl Miles, W. R. Clark, Dr. Jack W. Miles, Lowell Shroyer, Gerald Watson, Morgan Murphy, Roger Strauss, W. H. Jones, Leo Phillips, Don Smith, D. E. Jacques and Curt Roberts. Seven directors are to be elected from those nominated.

A committee for the installation of new officers has been appointed. This committee will consist of the past presidents with Jim Miles acting as chairman.

New State Park To Be Developed Near W. Jefferson



Madison County will have its state park following development of the four-lane super-highway project from West Jefferson to Lafayette to be let Friday, Oct. 8, it was announced by Division Engineer R. F. Werner of the State Highway Department Monday.

The land acre triangular plot purchased by the state is on the south side of Route 40, about four miles in a westerly direction from West Jefferson.

It will be the only state park on Route 40 between Columbus and Springfield. The park will provide recreational and picnic facilities, typical of those in other parts of the state.

Now a veritable wasteland of underbrush the land will be cleared. A secondary growth of trees, including pin oaks, hawthorne, and various seedlings will be salvaged to provide shade and shelter to the park visitors. Landscaping with trees and decorating touch to the plot.

In addition to the 65 musicians, seven expert rope twirlers, including Jim Harter, Roland Sunker, Donna Fledderjohann, Barbara Gordon, Caroline Gordon, Patty Miesse, Mary Ann Ams will accompany the group with Jim Harter highlighting the rope twirling with a lighted rope.

A locomotive formation, smoke and all, a locomotive cheer by the band and fans, and formation of a huge "W" will bring to a close the brilliant show.

Mother And Child Die As Home Burns

A 17-year-old mother and her two-week-old daughter were burned to death early Monday morning in a fire which destroyed their concrete block home at 3240 Joan-rd. The father was critically burned but escaped by diving through the kitchen window.

The victims were Mrs. Geraldine Canada and her daughter, Debra Ann. The father, William F. Canada, a war veteran, suffered first and second-degree burns, lacerations, and shocks. He was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital and placed under an oxygen tent.

Awakened by flames and smoke, Canada attempted to rescue his wife and daughter. Unable to do so he plunged through a window and struggled to the nearby home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Canada, 213 N. Sylvan-av. Mrs. Canada aroused her husband and son, Charles, and called the fire department. The two brothers returned to the burning home but were beaten back by smoke and flames as they tried to enter.

The firemen were unable to enter the house before they brought the flames somewhat under control. When entrance was gained they found the mother and baby dead in the ashes of their bed. Although firemen could find no cause for the fire it is believed to have started from the coal oil stove.

The young couple had gone to a picture show Sunday evening to celebrate Mrs. Canada's birthday. They returned from the show after 9 p. m. and spent a few minutes with his parents who had kept the infant for them. On Saturday they would have celebrated their first wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Canada, who attended the Starling Junior High School, is survived by her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Linderman, 924 Hart-rd; three brothers, Charles of Cleveland, John and James, at home; and four sisters, Mrs. Alberta Self of Rome, and Ruth, Dorothy and Ethel of the home address.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Floyd Born Funeral Home.

Split Your Ticket Nov. 2

With only 25 days remaining before the election on Nov. 2 and no reply from Governor Tom Herbert or any of the powers-that-be in the Republican party, relative to the policy of the state liquor department in expanding the sale of liquor in Ohio, we feel that voters throughout the state will do well to split their tickets when they go to the polls, and vote for Dewey and Lausche.

That there is a very strong swing throughout the nation to Thomas Dewey for President is to be expected and we join in endorsement of his candidacy. We have always felt that the one thing that makes American democracy work is to keep the pendulum swinging. It has certainly swung far enough to the left during the reign of Roosevelt and Truman and it's time for it to swing back to the right again.

It's Dewey and Lausche

In the race for Governor in Ohio, we sincerely believe that Frank Lausche, a former governor of the state is far better qualified for the job than the present holder of the office.

Hilltoppers in particular should rally behind Lausche in protest to the recent handling of the liquor business in this section of the city. The fact that no one from the Governor's office or the Republican party has in any manner attempted to explain the workings of the appeals board in granting permits after the liquor control board has turned them down is sufficient proof that the administration is in sympathy with this manner of handling the liquor business.

In our present campaign we are in no manner casting any reflection on any present Hilltop permit holders. We are not attempting to take anything away from them. But we are definitely against any further permits being issued in this community.

Voters on Nov. 2 will have an opportunity to speak. If you agree that the attitude of the present administration is wrong . . . then cast your vote for Lausche!

Get Cowboy Football Ducats Early And Avoid Rush Is Advice of Williams

Ducats! Ducats! Ducats! my kingdom for a ducat might caption this story.

With capacity crowds already jamming Magly Field concrete stadium, and new bleachers on Friday nights, tickets are practically at a premium.

The man and his corps of workers that helps pack them in, West High Coach George Williams, athletic faculty manager at the Hilltop school.

Almost any period of the school day will find Hilltoppers clamoring in great numbers at the Senior High office to buy these precious pasteboards which admit them to see Hilltop's biggest and best show. Practically any day of the week preceding the home game it is no unusual sight to find school patrons lining up in the corridors waiting their turn to buy the pink slabs.

"Buying your tickets early in the week will save time," Coach Williams said. Members of the Booster Club may see the New Philadelphia-West game, Oct. 22, gratis upon presentation of their membership cards, Mr. Williams advised.

A bevy of nine lovelies dispense the tickets at various times throughout the day. "Their smiles and winning ways," Coach Williams said, "help to make possible record sellouts this year."

Those who head the ticket sales group include Joan Rohr, Joan Clipp, Delores Sparks, Marilyn Tingler, Frances Smith, Sue Glass, Mary Ross, Carole Trapp, Marilyn Valentine and Mrs. Louise Perry.

Sam Morrison Takes Army Job

Sam Morrison, 1107 N. Hague-av, erstwhile mathematics instructor of West Junior High School, this week begins a new routine as assistant to the commanding officers of the 155th Aircraft Control and Warning Group of the Air National Guard, with headquarters at Fort Hayes.

Morrison

After 14 years as a teacher, eight of which were spent at the Hilltop school, Morrison was granted a leave of absence from his pedagogical duties to aid the military authorities.

He served three and one-half years as a member of the armed forces in World War II, returning—so he thought—as captain in 1946. Entering the services in the ground force, he was transferred to the air force before his retirement".

His appointment to the new post is for an indefinite period of time. His duties embrace all prerogative assumed by the commanding officer, though in his absence, drill might be excepted. In fact, he represents the commanding officer in practically all necessary situations.

Prominent in Hilltop Boy Scout activities, he was scoutmaster of Troop 45 for a number of years.

During the past year Morrison, also a licensed real estate salesman, contracted and built his own home on a one-acre plot across from Skidmore School. He resides with his wife and boy at the N. Hague-av address.

A heroic 50-foot leap from the Town-st bridge into the Scioto River Monday afternoon by 19-year-old Milton Gore of 688 Reynolds-av, saved the life of Elsie May Wilson of 1084 Whitethorne-av.

Mrs. Wilson, who was identified through a driver's license in her billfold, had jumped from the bridge. Seconds after she had jumped, Gore went to her rescue. He pulled her from the river and clung to a pier until the two were rescued by an emergency squad. Both were taken to St. Francis Hospital for treatment for exposure.

Golfers Have Successful Roundup

THE WINNER! Barney McClain was proclaimed winner of the first flight championship at Beacon Light Golf Course. Beside him, runner-up of the contest is Russ McClain. At the bottom, almost hidden by his trophies, is Earl Carper, who is the club champion.

The weatherman did his best to "put a crimp" in the Hilltop Second Annual Golf Round-up Sunday but 129 males braved the elements to compete for $458 worth of prizes.

As early as 8 a. m. local professional, Jack Kidwell, who was in charge of the event, sent foursomes forth into the northeasterly wind.

Twelve women golfers teed off at 3 p. m. for the nine hole ladies' event, which was won by Mrs. Joe Briggs.

One of the outstanding phases of the Round-Up was the food served. This committee was headed by Howard Fox, cafe man, who was assisted by "Coffee" Cal Rich-ards. The serving staff was headed by Mrs. L. W. Lewis and George Kidwell.

Dick Murray stole the show when he won six prizes but accepted only two. His low net was 67. Jerry Spears dethroned Emmett Martin as the best dressed golfer. Scuire Lewis was awarded a modest trophy for being "The Golfer of the Year".

Beryl Taylor was selected as the year's most improved golfer. Seiller's novel "Bull Slinger's" trophy was awarded to Erv Friend. It is rumored by experts that Erv stands a good chance of reclaiming this rotating trophy the necessary three years.

Jimmie Ryan was master of ceremonies and Paul Leighninger presented the rotating Seiller Department Store trophy. The first name to appear on this cup is the "Ben Hogan of Beacon Light," wiry 6 handicap golfer Earl Carper, who made a runner-up of Billy Sapp.

Last year's club champion was Norm Willey, who caught a "bad day" this year and was eliminated in the quarter-finals with the Seiller trophy. A permanent trophy was given Mr. Carper, plus a year's free membership to the local course given by the Kidwells Leighninger coughed his way around 18 holes to edge John Eckleberger out of the championship consolation trophy.

The first flight was a brotherly affair, Barney McClain beating brother Russ in the final and popular golfer Tom Revell outlasted rambling Scotty Zimmerman.

Members of the Round-Up Committee were L. W. Lewis, Joe Briggs, Cal Richards, Jack Kidwell, Howard Fox, Curt Wilcox Jim Ryan and Paul Leighninger

Station Entered

Burglars who entered Murnane's Sohio Service Station at 2635 W. Broad-st early Monday, smashed the hinges from a safe but failed to break open the strong box. John Murnane, 93 N. Burgess-av, owner, told the police entrance was gained by breaking out a rear window.

John Brown, '43 graduate of West High School, and son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Brown, 2709 Elliott-av, Valleyview, was selected from a wide field of applicants to the school of law at Ohio State University, school authorities announced last week.

As prerequisite for admission to the law school, he was required to pass a comprehensive test in that field of six hours duration.

Results showed that he was in the upper 10 per cent of those competing for admission to the school, and by virtue of this record, his admission to this restricted college at the university was assured.

Normally only 60 to 75 students at the university are selected annually for this honor.

During his high school days, Brown was an honor student, and active in a wide variety of extra-curricular activities.

Prominent in Hilltop church work, Brown's name looms large in dramatic circles at Glenwood Methodist Church.

West High Boy Fires At Burglar

Sixteen-year-old Richard Brophy, 655 S. Ogden-av, routed a burglar from his home early Sunday morning and fired a .12 gauge shotgun as the prowler fled.

Having been awakened by a noise on the first floor, he roused his mother and hurried downstairs with his father's shotgun. When he turned on a light in a hall, the burglar ran out the front door. Richard fired out the door as the prowler disappeared around the side of the house. Although the burglar had ripped off the screen from the living room door to enter, nothing was reported missing.

Richard, who is the son of Assistant Fire Chief Elmer J. Brophy, is a junior at West High School.

His father was on duty at the time of the attempted burglary.

West To Meet South After Defeating East 6 - 0

By Paul Wichtersman

The West High Cowboys, having passed their first test in their defense of last year's City League championship, will go to South tomorrow night to play the winhungry Bulldogs.

A capacity crowd was on hand Friday night to watch Coach Mack Pemberton's boys eke out a 6 to 0 win over a highly touted East High eleven. Despite the fact that $6,000 worth of new bleachers had been erected at Magly Field during the week, the Standing Room Only sign went up 20 minutes before game time. More than 6,000 fans found seats and an unestimated number of late comers stood at either end of the field to watch a much-improved West team gain its first league victory of the season.

Despite the fact that pre-game prognosticators rated the Tigers above the Cowboys, the Hilltoppers had little trouble pushing through a light East line to gain almost at will. A slippery ball and a case of fumblitis alone kept the winners from scoring a couple more touchdowns. The East offense was effectively bottled up on the ground when the Cowboys shifted into a five-man line with big Chuck Weeks moving out of his tackle position to serve as line-backer at center.

Taking to the air in the second half, the visitors were more successful in picking up yardage but were always stopped short of pay dirt. The anticipated speed of the Tiger backs was matched by equally alert and fast defensive play that nailed Stewart, Paske, Sowars, Wright and their replacements behind their own line on numerous occasions.

The Cowboys demonstrated that they were playing for keeps on the opening kickoff when a long boot by Weeks sent the ball back to the goal posts. A slight miscue on the part of Wright, the receiver, gave two West tacklers time to get down and hit him hard before he could get out of his own end zone. During the evening the Tigers were able to account for only one first down, that coming in the first period when Wright ran from his own 20 to the 39. The Cowboys rolled up 7 in the first half and 6 in the two latter periods for a total of 13.

The West touchdown came after a sustained drive of 64 yards that was started when Quarterback Paul Theisen intercepted an East pass on the West 36. Miles, Brown and Culbertson took turns at lugging the pigskin through a series of four first downs that set up the scoring play for Brown when he ran from the 4-yard stripe for the lone tally. The kick for extra point was blocked.

Early in the fourth period West drove to the Tiger 26, but lost possession of the ball when Theisen's pass slipped off the ends of the fingers of Don Speakman and into the arms of East's Mizelle.

Danny Miles and Dick Culbertson both showed improved running technique and added drive, and the speed and defensive play of Brown helped the Cowboy cause but the improved line play spelled the difference over the previous week's tie game with Arlington.

East made good on all four of West's fumbles during the evening. The West win gave the Hilltoppers a slight edge over the Tigers on the all-time record of games played. The record books now show that in the 35 meetings the Cowboys have won 13 while East has won 12, and 10 games have resulted in ties.

While South's record thus far this season has been unimpressive, the Bulldogs are going to be pointing for a long overdue win and nothing could suit them better than to get it at the expense of the Cowboys, undefeated in their last 16 outings. However, nothing but a major upset could bring about such a situation and it is not expected that West should have too much trouble getting by this one.

Across The HILLTOP ALLEYS

By Dick Ardle

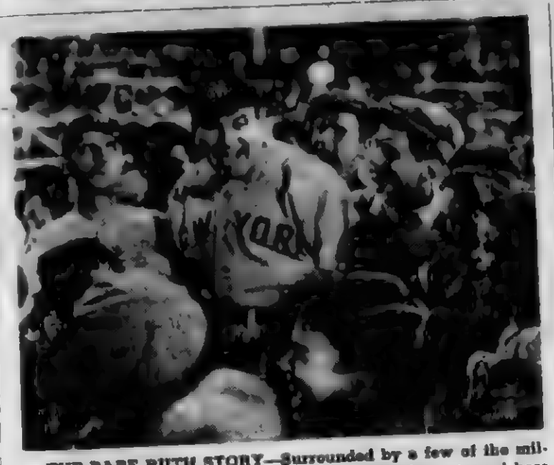
Bowlers Slow Pace

With the exception of Joe Bogner the bowlers at the Hilltop Alleys slowed their pace this week. Joe was the only bowler to hit 600. He was bowling as anchor man on the Francis-Stinson Shell who are now leading the Tuesday Nighters. Bogner had games of 197, 240 and, 182 for a grand 619 total. His team had games of 810, 939 and 794. At present the team has a record of 11 wins against one setback. The only defeat was handed to them by Stewart & Neff this week, when in the third game they racked up 776 to 644 for Stinson. Joe's middle game of 240 was also high for the night.

Kent Brothers rolled into the challenging role in the Recreation League as they defeated Wayer Impactor three games, enabling them to go into a three-way tie with Allen Milk and Seiler's for first place. George Phillips topped the team bowlers with 234 and 592. Homer Ranney had the highest series of the evening while bowling with Shroeck's Service Station. He had games of 160-222 and 213 for 595.

Seiler's Department Store continued its winning streak in the Suburban League as it beat Midwest Roofing two games but lost the third game 849-740. It was only their second defeat against 10 wins. Frank Friend had the best series with 585, while Kenny Morris' 237 was the best single game. Wilson Floors had 992.



Theresa Matchack with 518 led the women this week. While rolling in the third spot on the Fox Food Shop, Theresa put together games of 189-171 and 158 for her 518 total. Jerry Parrett had the high single game of 208 and Stewart Black Toppers continued to hold the top spot with a three game victory over Seiler's.

Tanner's Figure Control team which was in first place lost two games to Spang Drugs but gained some consolation in the fact that Cal Kimball, rolling in the lead-off spot, was high for the evening with 508. Louise Carpenter had the high single game of 182. Louise bowls for Chubby's Market. Hilltop Van and Storage topped the team events with 841-2370.

Vogelsang's Bakery remained unbeaten in the St. Aloysius PTA, racking up their 7th, 8th and 9th wins. Keith School of Dancing came close to beating them in the second game but it ended in a tie and Vogelsang's won the roll-off.

Mary Noble was high for the afternoon with 174 and 405.

One last reminder before I leave. There are still a few openings for the Sunday night mixed league. Further information may be obtained by calling RA. 0128.

Hilltop To Have Basketball Clinic October 20

A Hilltop Basketball Clinic of interest to both prospective players and arden fans, will be held at Hoge Memorial Church, 29 S. Eureka-av, next Wednesday, Oct. 13, at 8 and the following Wednesday, Oct. 20, Ben Lewis, Jr., Athletic director at the church, announced this week.

An invitation is extended to all Hilltoppers who are interested in promoting sportmanship, Lewis said.

The program will consist of movies, illustrating many interesting phases of basketball, Lewis advised. Ohio State University basketball movies will also be used; discussions will follow.

Practical charts, showing plays and technique will be displayed.

Inter-teams from the Hilltop church will demonstrate actual performances of lessons learned.

Lewis, a junior in agriculture at Ohio State University, is a star in his own right.

At Greenbriar Military Academy he played forward on that school's basketball team, scoring 393 points in 18 games during his junior year. He was assistant coach at the exclusive West Virginia College in his senior year.

At present Lewis resides in Grove City.

"Y" let me tell you," I saw "Motzart" Geist and "Chopin" McDonough repairing the piano, Tom Heyl and Andy Granley during one of their frequent "jam sessions."

"A pot full of petunias" to the gang that braved the elements on the hayride. But with a swell time being reported by all attending.

Remember fellows and girls these activities are planned for the young people of the Hilltop, and everyone's participation is needed to make them a huge success.

Thanks go to Ted Collins, Bill Walton, Phil Cunningham and Carl Jones for all the work they have been doing on the craft room and the photo studio.

Program Highlights Of Local G. S. Work

Girl Scouting is growing rapidly in District 8, according to local Scout officials. Both a Girl Scout and Brownie Troop have been organized at St. Aloysius, and in Grove City, another Girl Scout Troop was formed during the summer.

Mrs. H. C. Booth is the new chairman of the John Burroughs Neighborhood Association. She assumes the duties of Mrs. Carl Driscoll who is no longer a Columus resident. Other new leaders in the association are Mrs. Mrs. Melvin Craig, Troop 142; Mrs. Howard Hartranft, Troop 186, and Mrs. Prendergraft, Troop 145.

Girl Scouts from Troops 127, 145, 186, 142, 146, 147 have been inserting Red Feathers in Community Chest Envelopes in order to further the drive. Several scouts worked at the Community Chest Headquarters, but Barbera Brady, Troop 146, who is confined to her home with a broken leg, stuffed her envelopes at leg, stuffed her envelopes at home.

Troop 185 hiked into the country last Tuesday. After a short meeting and snack they hiked back to he Hilltop Riding stables and disbanded.

G. S. Troop 105 Has Slumber Party Friday

Girl Scout Troop 105 held a slumber party at the home of their leader, Mrs. Martin Meisner, 562 Salisbury-rd, on Friday, Sept. 23.

Gloria Russell, troop president, celebrated her birthday and was presented a large birthday cake. Group singing and dancing were events of the evening. On Saturday morning the girls rode their bikes out Sullivant-av, to Georgesville-rd, where they prepared their breakfast.

Norwich Twp. To Vote On School Bond Issue

At the Nov. 2 election of the Norwich Local Board of Education is submitting to the voters of the school district a proposed $205,000.00 bond issue. These funds are to be used to provide the following improvements in the local school services:

(1) Grade School. Elimination of two basement rooms which do not meet minimum state standards as to window area and ceiling height. Construction of an addition to provide seven new class rooms, a small office for a school nurse and an office for the school principal.

(2) High School. Construction to provide showers and dressing rooms. The present makeshift and temporary arrangement in the grade school gymnasium is inadequate and hampers the use of this area by the elementary grades. Additional lockers will be provided to meet the present population in grades IX - XII.

(3) Athletic and Parking Areas. Physical education, recreation and parking space is at a premium near the high school. Since the school participates in football, baseball and track, required space for practice as well as the actual playing fields is in order. Tennis and activities, such as band maneuvers, should have designated areas which can not be shared with the practice or playing fields.

(4) Garage. An economy, and better service is planned in the construction of a good building to protect our investment in school buses. At present the storage has not been available all year at the county fairgrounds and scattered private locations are not most desirable.

These four points constitute the basic developments to be obtained by the passage of the bond issue. Careful studies have been made of the trends in future population in this school district and the points of our present school system which need immediate relief are to be benefitted at once.

Ohio Sportsmen Spend 85 Million

A report of the evaluation of Ohio's wildlife resources completed in July by Daniel L. Ledy and Charles A. Dambach of the Ohio Wildlife Research Unit at Ohio State University in cooperation with the Ohio Division of Conservation, has been printed in pamphlet form, attractively illustrated and written for easy reading. Distribution of the pamphlets is being made to state officials, conservationists, and interested organizations.

The report shows that Ohio hunters and fishermen spend 185 million dollars annually in pursuit of the state's wildlife, based on 1947 figures.

Hunters and fishermen last year spent almost 10 million dollars for transportation (gasoline and oil); almost the same amount for fishing tackle; over 7 million for guns; over 7 million for boats (purchased) and 3 and a half million for boat rental; 5 million for hunting and fishing clothing; 5 million for meals on the road to and from hunting and fishing ground; 3 and a half million for lodging; 3 million for ammunition; 3 million for bait; and only 1 and a half million for the privilege of hunting and fishing in the form of state hunting and fishing licenses, which finances the conservation and restoration of fish and game.

News and The Community

The type of news which each week fills the columns of the Hilltop Record is a reflection of the everyday life of the communities which you call home.

An examination of this news reveals the varied activities of a vast section which comprises the western sector of Franklin County.

Reporters and writers are required to record this news quickly and accurately and to give it meaning to the people who live in this active, progressive growing section.

They must keep their fingers on the pulse of community life so that the whole picture of a great population in a state of constant growth is recorded in clear perspective

The shape and color of this news is important in that it should give a true picture of the lives of 40,000 people.

Through it all runs the central theme of growth and progress in a pioneer area which only a few years back was a vast section of open spaces.

That progress—that growth—is a real story of the western section of Franklin County. It's the central theme, it's the great force which affects every person's life and which in turn creates the other news which finds its way in the columns of The Hilltop Record.

We, therefore, are essentially concerned with the local aspects of the news. That is the backbone of a community newspaper.

How these local, close-at-home problems are handled are just as important to a peaceful world as international diplomacy.

If we can give meaning and high purpose to our lives in our own communities, we can help, in the long run, to give high purpose to the city, the state, the nation, and the world.

But That's a Kid's Natural Reaction

Modern Poetry

YOUNG FARMER'S WIDOW

This is the unyielding, the wasted land
Of early heartbreak. Here are the hills
Of courage unordained and out of hand;
Here are the long, long roads of broken wills.

Here are the sunsets of farewell, here flow
The bitter winding rivers of despair.
This is the present savior that I know:
His little mirror that will smooth my hair.

END OF SUMMER

The end of summer comes so very gently—
It is a murmured song, a wistful sigh;
The shadows deepen under every hedgerow;
The very breeze is hushed as it drifts by!

The garden dreams of youth and love and springtime;
The butterflies are flower souls reborn;
There is no room on earth for flaming passion,
For jealousy or bitterness or scorn.

The end of summer comes with haunting sweetness,
With memory to take ambition's place—
For though the dawn has lost its burning wonder,
The dusk has gained tranquility and grace.

And we who read Life's book pause for a moment,
Before we turn the last enchanted page,
And lift our eyes and scan the veiled horizon,
And whisper, "This, at last, is middle age!"

Margaret E. Sangster, in Ted Malone's BETWEEN THE BOOKENDS.

SEPTEMBER

September holds a mirror to the land,
A glass where August and October gaze:
Their shadows come together, hand in hand,
Mingling the treasure of their richest days.

A scarlet leaf shows on the greenest tree
When grapes are turning purple, kissed by noon.
Oh rare September! Magic harmony!
Your diatonic swells the seasons' tune

With deeper chords than April ever knew.
Could I make hours double in the day,
Each burnished night a twin, they're still too few,
So I am sad when I should be most gay.

Hoarding the lovely essence to remember
Until next year shall bring a new September.

Charlotte Louise Groom, in her book, SUN UP, SUN DOWN.

On "Burping" Baby

A lot of mothers, grandmothers and great grandmothers in the State of Connecticut, and plenty more elsewhere, likely will chorus a scoffing "Humph!" at the advice of the Connecticut state health department that you mustn't 'burp' baby by holding him over your shoulder.

Do you want him to get a sagging tummy and have poor posture when he grows up? exclaims a pamphlet called "Let's Keep Them Straight" which the experts have just compiled.

Here's how they'd have you do it:

"Hold baby across mother's lap with his head higher than his feet, his lower abdomen resting on mother's knee, and gently stroke his back."

And so another lot of mothers, grandmothers and great-grandmothers here, there and everywhere will shrug it off with a nonchalant "Either way's all right," and wonder why in the world the experts thought it necessary to master-mind on something that even fathers have been doing successfully for generations untold.

Those "J. S." Initials

Some time ago much ado was being made about the appearance of the initials "J. S." in very small type below the profile of Franklin D. Roosevelt on the 1947 Roosevelt dimes. Some wags had it that they were the initials of Joseph Stalin. Now comes the explanation. According to the Bureau of the Mint, the "J. S." doesn't stand for Joe Stalin at all, but for John Sinnock, famous engraver of the mint, who died in April, 1947. During his years with the mint, Sinnock designed many memorial coins and many foreign coins which the U. S. mint made for other countries.

The Balcony, Too

Incidentally, the Bureau of Printing and Engraving is preparing to issue a new $20 bill. It's likely they'll quickly be dubbed the "balcony bills."

The new bills will picture the south side of the White House, including Harry S. Truman's balcony. Andrew Jackson's picture appears on the front of the bill.

The present $20 bill design, first to use the White House, was originally issued in 1929, when the present small-sized bills replaced the larger bills of earlier issue. The present bill shows the front of the White House BEFORE the HST balcony was added. So new official photographs have been taken and the engraving plates made, and the new $20's should begin to show up in circulation early in 1949.

Truly American

Your Community Newspaper

Visitors from foreign lands really are amazed at the number of newspapers published in this country. They have reason to be interested in this typically-American institution, The Community Newspaper.

Not even in those countries which profess a democratic way are there comparable newspapers to those found in thousands upon thousands of towns, hamlets and small cities. Rather there are great national newspapers abroad, usually the official organ of government or of certain cliques. In those totalitarian lands, the Press is confined to one-sided political publications.

Here in America, a peculiar institution has grown . . . The Community Newspaper. These newspapers never have abandoned the philosophy of one of our first great newspapermen, Benjamin Franklin, who promulgated "honesty is the best policy."

These newspapers recognize that charity is necessary in determining news values. Their make-up, tone, full coverage of clean local news, and their devotion to the simple verities in life, the home, school and church, never fail to command reader respect and interest.

This newspaper is proud to be counted among the great segment of the American press which is observing the premise that "Your Right To Know Is the Key To All Your Liberties," during this NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK, 1948.

News of Rome

By Mrs. E. C. Sheets

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Daugherty, and daughter, Krysten, formerly of 566 Rome-Hilliards-rd, are now living in Crete, Ill., where he is connected with a construction company.

Mr. and Mrs. Caito (Dorothy Brooks) who have spent some time in Michigan have returned and recently spent the day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brooks.

Miss Altherr, the fifth grade teacher in Rome School, who makes her home with the Oscar Bakers, went to Jackson, her home town, for the week-end. She returned with the Bakers Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Knisley spent Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. Barnecut, Maple-dr.

Plans are being made by the Monitors, young married class of Columbia Heights Church, for a chili supper, on Oct. 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coulter and daughter, Sue, spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Breckenridge. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Breckenridge and family also visited there during Sunday afternoon.

Kenneth Eberhard, who has been bedfast for several months, is up and around, but is still under doctor's orders to live very quietly.

The chicken supper put on by the Rome PTA Saturday night, was a big success. It was the first experience at serving several hundred in the portable and doing the cooking in the cafeteria kitchen. Friday, the ladies made 1500 biscuits, and stored them in the refrigerators. Saturday night as they served, the cafeteria cooks, Mrs. Forest Daugherty, Mrs. Ray Daugherty, Mrs. Butin and Mrs. Schneider kept hot biscuits on the trays. The pie committee was composed of Mrs. W. G. Lamb, Mrs. Ernest Schroeder and Mrs. Campbell. Sixty pies were made in the Columbia Heights Church kitchen. Allen Bettinger and George Bukey furnished music during the entire evening. Columbus Chief of Police Beery was on hand to enjoy the good meal. Mrs. Pennell extends her sincere thanks to all of the ladies who so willingly helped make this a success.

Sunday afternoon, little Mary Lu Foresman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Foresman, Pasadena-av, celebrated her fifth birthday with a party for about 25 little guests. Games inside the house were enjoyed and a treasure hunt was held outside. A happy time was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sulzgaber and daughter, Elizabeth Jean, were Sunday evening guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Kaderly, Fairacres, Galloway.

Nazarenes To Celebrate 40th Year

On Oct. 10 the Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene, 648 S. Warren-av, will join in a church-wide celebration of the 40th anniversary of the organization of the Church of the Nazarene as a Protestant denomination.

The union of separate groups from the West, the East and the South took place at Pilot Point, Texas, in 1908.

At the time of the organization in 1908 there were 10,000 members scattered widely in 228 churches with a few missionaries in a half dozen foreign areas. At that time the Sunday School Department had an enrollment slightly in excess of 6,000 and the total giving of the church was $140,000.

Forty years later (1948) the Church of the Nazarene had grown until its membership has reached 210,000, representing 3,350 churches in the United States, Canada and the British Isles with nearly 200 missionaries in 28 foreign areas. The Sunday School enrollment has advanced to 400,000 and the total giving for all purposes during 1947 was more than $44,000,000, making the per capita for the year $90.28.

The Church of the Nazarene, which maintains its international headquarters in Kansas City, supports six major colleges in the United States, one in Canada and one in the British Isles, and the Nazarene Theological Seminary, graduate school for ministers and missionaries. In addition, "Showers of Blessing", radio voice for the Church of the Nazarene, is heard over 150 radio stations and by short wave around the world.

The local Church of the Nazarene was organized May 27, 1927, according to Rev. Harris B. Anthony, pastor of the congregation. Special Fortieth Anniversary services honoring the founding of the denomination will be held next Sunday. The public is cordially invited.

County WCTU Groups To Meet

The county convention of the WCTU will be held all day Saturday, Oct. 8, at the YMCA in the Green Room. It will begin at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Rose Henderson, county president, will be in charge of the meeting to which all members are invited. The convention will also be open to the public.

BIBLE COMMENT
FOR OCT. 10

Bible Is Source Of Biographies Of Many Men

"THE proper study of mankind is man," wrote the poet Pope. And there are no finer or more adequate sources of material for that study than are to be found in the 66 books that we call the Bible.

The late President Thwing, of Cleveland's Western Reserve University, made a specialty of collecting books of biography. He once told me that he had 17,000 volumes, of which the greater part were biographies. One can imagine what vast sources of incident, anecdote and illustration could be found in that immense array of books.

But though such a collection of biographies might offer great variety and detail, I venture to believe that it would offer no basic facts concerning human life and character that do not somewhere find their most pointed exemplification in the Bible.

There we find man in his heights of goodness, and in his depths of evil. There are tragedies of sorrow, disaster and failure, in contrast with experiences of ecstatic joy and sublime feeling. There are literary skills that not even Shakespeare has surpassed, and practical philosophies of living that reveal wisdom.

The Bible is a book of prophets, priests and kings. Chapter 11 of Hebrews records the lives and doings of Israel's great, both men and women. It is a noble chapter. What nation or people could record anything better? And in the history that it summarizes, as in the New Testament itself, are the almost full-length biographies of great individuals — Abraham, Moses, Samuel, Saul, David, Solomon, Jeremiah, Isaiah, Paul, Peter, and many more.

But the Bible is also the book of the common man. The most interesting, significant and vital things concern incidents in the lives of the lowly, sometimes named, sometimes unnamed, who played their part or who exemplified some nobility of character and action.

What a book! "God's book for man's life," but also the wonderful book of the lives of men.

American Freedom Taken For Granted States Rev. Wold

"The charge that the American people just take for granted the freedom they enjoy under the American system is no doubt substantially true," said Rev. A. J. Wold, of the Hope Memorial Presbyterian Church, in a column entitled "Our America" in the September issue of The Columbus Labor Tribune.

Rev. Wold then urged the people to remember that America and the Government belong to the American people who must in the end decide who is to represent them and also how far the government shall go in its policies and practices. To ably do this he stresses the need of the American people to keep well informed, be eternally vigilant and participate in all activities essential to the life of the nation.

"From what we know of these foreign 'isms', the worker and the worker's wage are the first to be brought under control by a government fiat. Free enterprise, free labor, and self-respect cannot exist under a dictatorship. We do not want to lose these precious heritages.

"But in order to keep America the property of the American people it is essential that we think of our land in terms higher than just a crib from which we feed," Rev. Wold concluded.

Hilltoppers Hosts To Prayer Meets

Cottage prayer meetings in connection with the city wide revival program now being conducted will be held in the homes of six Hilltoppers on Friday evening (tomorrow) at 7:30 o'clock.

HBA Will Ask County To Develop McKinley Ave. Parks

It was indicated this week that the Hilltop Business Association and the West Side Board of Trade will take the initiative in circulating petitions addressed to the Franklin County Commissioners asking that body to see that the area immediately adjacent to the new McKinley Avenue thoroughfare west from the new Sandusky-st project be preserved for parks and recreation areas.

The new road project was outlined by County Commissioner George Matson at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Hilltop Business Association at Westgate Methodist Church and the organization voted to instruct the civic committee to confer with the West Side Board of Trade to take immediate action on the matter of circulating petitions.

It was pointed out that this new artery will carry a very large volume of traffic from the north to the west and that this is an opportunity to eliminate many of the eyesores along the route and at the same time provide the city with much valuable park and recreation space.

The county will be urged to control all land owned or leased by it rather than sub-lease it for industrial purposes or dumping grounds.

Rudolph Evjen, executive secretary of the Columbus Community Chest, was the principal speaker at the meeting, pointing to many needs of the chest today and urging support of the movement.

A musical program was presented by five West High girls: Ruth Ansley, Lois Stansel, Martha Brown, Marilyn Ring and Donna Thomas.

Carl Turner spoke on the program of the Hilltop Little Theatre, advising that yearly associate memberships are available at $5 which entitle the holder to admission to the five productions each year.

A nominating committee consisting of Joe Briggs, L. E. Saunders and Curtis Roberts was appointed.

Membership was voted to Broadview Linoleum and Tile Co. and Attorney A. A. Clark.

The annual Halloween Dance will be an event of Tuesday, Oct. 26, at the Columbus Riding Club, Main-st and Fairway-av.

West High In Fortieth Year

Forty years ago this fall West High School, now Hilltop's most important industry, had its inception on Central-av in the present Starling Junior High building.

Much water has "gone over the dam—including the 1913 flood that harassed the West High students in that day.

In observation of this momentous occasion, affecting the lives of thousands of West High and Hilltop lives, The Hilltop Record takes pride in recording the achievements of a glorious era in secondary education.

We shall devote a 16-page tabloid edition, come Nov. 4, heralding the story of 40 years at West High School.

Cooperation of the public in submitting pictures, anecdotes or documents dealing with the story of the Hilltop school will be appreciated.

Any suggestions or copy should be addressed to Myron T. Seifert, 46 S. Westgate-av, RA. 7271, or in care of The Hilltop Record.

Band Plans Big Show At Central

The Cowboys' celebrated band of 153 pieces, resplendently regaled in their buff and brown uniforms, yellow plumes, gold braid and white spats, will trek to the Pirate stronghold at Washington-blvd and W. Broad-st Friday night, when the Westerners collide with the naughty Pirates.

Prior to the game Charlie Bennett, director of the band, his drum major, two majorettes, four twirlers, and the syncopated band will strut their stuff in a fashion singularly characteristic of West High School.

In collaboration with the Central High band, West will form a huge block "U. S. A." formation during a black-out with red, white and blue lights, implemented by the national anthem played in unison by the two bands of the contending schools, Mr. Bennett said today.

At half time West will open its show with a welcome formation "Hi" and then going into a huge block "C" arrangement. Immediately following the "Hi Central" salutation, a realistic pirate ship will be formed by the Cowboy musicians, representing the symbol emblamatic of the down-town school; a black-out will be made and the ship illuminated with a crimson red, and one of the major colors of the school will be portrayed under dimmed lights.

The community fund will come in for its share of attention when the Western band will depict the red feather worn by all who contribute; then a dollar mark sign will be observed in a green color.

Wishing luck to the team, the band will then break into a four-leaf clover formation and concurrently play the selection of "Four Leaf Clover" with corresponding green color.

In the final stanza of the show West High will present a singular block "W" formation.

Harry Gaggero Gets $10 Prize In Grid Contest

Another week, another contest, another $10 — and this week Professor Pig-skin gives that first prize $10 bill to Harry Gaggero, 1808 Rich-st.

D. J. Wakeman, 342 Southampton-av, came in with a close second and will receive as his reward two free passes to the CCC Auto Theatre.

"Like son, like father" — this week it is Charles E. Hall, Sr., 39 S. Algonquin-av, who gets a prize from Professor Pig-skin. To him goes one free haircut at Ezzo Barber Shop, 2820 W. Broad-st, as third prize.

The three prize winners will receive their prizes or certificates through the mail either today or Friday.

The Professor urges everyone to try—you might win one of the three prizes. Choose the winners and the best possible scores from the games given in the page ad in Section B of the Record today. Write them on the entry blank and mail to Professor Pig-skin at The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st. What will it be for you—$10, two free passes, or a haircut?

A. E. Hayes Retires After 35 Years

The retirement of Aaron E. Hayes, 271 S. Wheatland-av, from the Pennsylvania Railroad after 28 years of service, became effective last week. Hayes spent a total of 35 years in railroad service.

The former railroader and his wife have one son, Leroy, at home. They have lived on the Hilltop since 1918.

ROY BOWEN IS DIRECTOR

Roy H. Bowen, 395 Oak-st, former West High School instructor, will be the director of five major productions of the Players Club this year. A dramatics teacher at West for five years, Bowen is currently at work on the first Club play of the season, "The Warrior's Husband." Beginning Oct. 28, the production will have a four night run.

Sold Snowsuit On Second Call From Record Classified Ad

Numerous are the little success stories that satisfied customers tell the classified department of The Hilltop Record each week.

Among others last week was the case of Mrs. B. A. Manning, 421 Townsend-av, who had a boy's snowsuit for sale. She reports it was sold on the second call she received.

This is just one of many weekly examples of persons who use Record classifieds at a very small cost and get big results.

Why not take inventory of your closets today and call RA. 1138 to have the Record tell some 40,000 Hilltoppers what you have for sale.

State Hospital Gardener Robert Elliott Selects a Prize Pie Pumpkin — The Crop Was Harvested Last Week-End

By Libby Downing

Pumpkins, pumpkins, everywhere and not a pie in sight . . . but a whale of a lot of pies will be passed over the counter to inmates of the Columbus State Hospital before long now as harvest time approaches for the approximate 15,000 pumpkins in the two acre plot facing W. Broad-st, at the foot of the hill on the hospital grounds.

This year's harvest of pumpkins at the local institution will exceed that of last year by about 15 tons, is the estimate of Robert Elliott, chief gardner.

Elliott lives on the hospital premises with his wife and six year old son, Bobby. He was born and reared on a truck farm near Etna, so naturally he has a "green thumb."

Just two acres of pumpkins make up just a small part of the hospital farm procedure.

One hundred-fifty acres of the 264 total are cultivated each year. The farm equipment is all mechanized now except for one team of horses. About seven years ago eight teams were kept for plowing, etc.

The whole of the land is dedicated to raising vegetables only. Last year according to wholesale prices, $60,000 worth and 27 varieties were grown. These are sent to London where they are canned and then returned for the hospital's use.

Tomatoes, green beans, and spinach are canned right at the hospital, because the work is fairly easy.

This year's yield brought 15,000 gallons of tomatoes, 5,000 of peas, 6,000 of corn, between 4,000-5,000 of spinach, about 8,000 of green beans, 150 gallon barrels of sauer kraut, and around 25 fifty-gallon barrels of pickles.

During the coming year officials hope to build a deep freeze unit, where they will be able to store more vegetables.

Between 30 and 50 patients perform the farm labor, with five farm employees to assist them.

"From the money standpoint, and the quantity also," said Elliott, "our most important crops are sweet corn, tomatoes, onions, cabbage and peas. We raise eight types of fruit too. Mostly strawberries, black raspberries and grapes."

The hospital has its own poultry yard, with 1,000 laying hens. This year about 9,000 dozen eggs will be gathered, and about 6,000 pounds of meat will be used.

"The farm supervisor's job," said the gardener, "is more and more becoming one which encompasses everything on the outside, including the lawns and the farms. We're just about a city in ourselves, and confidentially, Mrs. Elliott is the dietitian."

The Columbus State School also raises about one-tenth of the total amount of food consumed during a 12 months' period.

Superintendent of the State School gardens is Augustus E. Amsbary, 202 N. Harris-av, Amsbary was gardener at the Columbus State Hospital from 1919 until 1941, when he was transferred to his present position.

A civilian is employed to drive the tractor through the fields and 30 of the male inmates do the rest of the farming. Eighty-four of the 197 acres in the school plot are cultivated.

Recently 43,800 pounds of the recently harvested vegetables were sent to London, O., where they will be canned, and then returned for the school's use during the winter.

J. W. Bauersachs, clerk at the school, said that the total expenditure for a year's supply of food amounts to $290,000. The school supplies $28,000 worth of this amount, in home grown food products.

Five mules are kept, to do heavy work about the institution. Enough alfalfa to feed all, for the entire winter is harvested at the school farms. Each fall seed rye is planted to enrich the ground, then in the spring the rye is plowed under.

A quick look at the amount of food grown at the local school, shows that this year 86,400 pounds of roasting ears were picked. In addition there were grown 20,000 dozen of green onions, 10,000 stalks of celery and 50,000 pounds of cabbage, some of which goes for sauer kraut.

Other crops include 600 bushels of green beans, 1,500 bushels of beets, 5,000 pounds of lettuce, 250 bushels of peas, 8,000 dozen radishes, and 600 bushels of sweet potatoes. Also harvested were 125 bushels of cucumbers, 1,000 bushels of carrots, 5,600 quarts of strawberries, 402 pounds of currants, 188 pounds of gooseberries, and 5,485 pounds of grapes.

Hilltoppers Play Prominent Part In Firemen's Minstrel

The annual Columbus Firemen's Minstrel Show, for years the Midwest's most elaborate throw-back to the days of Al G Fields, has been scheduled for four days, starting Thursday, Oct. 28, at the Hartman Theatre. As in previous years, the show will be under the personal supervision of Lt. Virgil Weakley, and is being produced by John Hardgrove, with three well known Hilltoppers assisting.

Adam Gilger, possibly best remembered as the musical director for the late George M. Cohan, will conduct the Dixieland Band; Jack Sherrick, revue choreographer, will present his beauty chorus of 24; and handling the top comic role will be the one and only Fred Washburn. In addition, Frank Grashel, 241 S. Eureka-av, is to be one of the featured vocalists.

Hardgrove, a veteran of many years in vaudeville and minstrel shows, has been a local resident since his retirement from the stage. At the present time he supervises the Academy Theatres, including the Westmont, Old Trail and National Drive-In, and is contributing his time to the minstrel shows, profits from which go to the Columbus Firemen's Benevolent Association.

Rating top billing in the 1948 production, with its cast of 150, is the internationally acclaimed team of Habb & Denton, the last of the great minstrel favorites of the past. Other stars include the lovely and talented Gracie Hardgrove, who is being currently groomed for a Hollywood career; Fred Hawks, a master of ceremonies; and Roger Garrett, who is to conduct an old fashioned community sing from his organ console.

Specialty numbers will feature Art Davis, Eddie Hart and Charlie Wood, end-men comedians; Phillip Johnson and Albert Justus, singers; Durwood Lowe, tapstar; and the vivacious singing stars, the Morgan Sisters.

Particularly outstanding will be the male chorus of 70 voices, featuring songs written by Ohio's own Dan Emmett, composer of the immortal "Dixie". Coincidently, Oct. 29, second night of the show, marks the anniversary of Emmett's birth in Mt. Vernon. Others in the ensemble include the feminine double octet, and the laugh provoking "Hippo Chorus" of 16 firemen.

The West Side and Hilltop will be well represented in the ensemble, including Lt. Eugene Miller, 561 S. Eureka-av; Charles Krieg, 456 S. Wayne-av; Wilbur Reed, 159 N. Huron-av; Ike Kidd, 38 N. Warren-av; Ralph Bender, 753 S. Hague-av; Ralph Owens, 45 E. Mill-st; Martin Henry, 1504 Thomas-av; Charles Grashel, 283 N. Warren-av; H. F. Johnson, 274 S. Burgess-av; Elmer See, 624 Nashoba-av; C. Raike, 2182 W. Mound-st; Ed Kamer, 458 S. Wayne-av; Val Boehm, 44 Brehl-av, and Mickey McFadden, 194 Brehl-av.

All seats for the Firemen's Minstrels will be reserved; tickets may be purchased at any city firehouse, or from any fireman. There will be an evening performance at 8:30 on each of the four days, with matinees on Saturday and Sunday.

Hilltop Has First "Wing Scouting" Troops In City

Two new Wing Scouting Troops are in the formation process on the Hilltop, the only groups of their kind in Columbus or Franklin County.

Senior Girl Scouts of Troop 105, held their first meeting as Wing Scout candidates, at the Sullivant Avenue Airport on Sept. 22, with Vernon E. Hysell, 619 Columbian-av, chief instructor of the Jones Flying School there, and their leader, Mrs. Martin Meisner, 502 Salisbury-rd.

The following week, the Scouts of Troop 107, with Mrs. Edward Bradfute, 333 S. Ogden-av, as leader, met at the port with Mr. Hysell, to begin their candidacies as Wing Scouts.

This new phase of scouting first became popular in 1942. It is closely related to the Air Scout program carried on by the Boy Scouts. The recent Senior Scout Air Meet held at the local airport was attended by Wing Scouts from Akron and Circleville, the only nearby Wing Scouting groups at the time.

Girls from 14 years up may join the Wing Scouting legions, which offer a pre-flight program. A girl must study the history of aviation; aerodynamics, aircraft construction and engines; navigation, meteorology and communications; ground services; and flying safety; and be able to answer the required questions on these subjects before being eligible to wear the Wing Scout insignia.

To all Senior Scouts, the new Wing Scouting program opens the doors of "visibility unlimited."

The members of Troop 105 include Phyllis Truitt, 585 S. Burgess-av; Janet Sayer, 500 Wiltshire-dr; Gloria Bunnell, 3285 Parkside-rd; Sheila Pugh, 620 Wiltshire-rd; Janet Martin, 484 S. Westgate-av; Marjorie McDowell, 545 S. Highland-av; Carol Knierim, 530 Clark-av; Margaret Johns, 265 N. Burgess-av; Nancy De Witt, 640 S. Hague-av; Annabelle Allard, 488 S. Ogden-av; Diane Smith, 506 Binns-blvd; and Sonia Meisner, 502 Salisbury-rd.

Members of Troop 107 are Adele Zeigfield, 506 Nashoba-av; Janice Suver, 500 Woodbury-av; Donna Williams, 220 S. Terrace-av; Alice Weller, 187 S. Terrace-av; Sandra Timmons, 397 S. Richardson-av; Eileen Landenberger, 567 Townsend-av; Vivian Hall, 283 S. Eureka-av; Jeanette Fulton, 587 Townsend-av; Nancy Fleming, 461 S. Wayne-av; and Barbara Bradfute, 333 S. Ogden-av.

To begin their new program, the girls of Troop 105 are studying and reporting on the lives of famous women aviationists. Among these being studied are the life stories of Amelia Earhart Putman, Harriet Quimby and Ann Morrow Lindbergh.

The girls meet once each week. The meetings alternate between their leaders' home and Sullivant Airport. Helping with getting the girls to and from the airport is the transportation committee, Mrs. J. J. Martin, 484 S. Westgate-av; Clyde Watkins, 245 N. Burgess-av; and Delbert Pugh, 620 Wiltshire-rd.

Troop 107 held its first meeting at the Sullivant Avenue Airport as Wing Candidates on Sept. 29. They too will alternate their meetings between the local port and the home of their leader. Hysell will assist with the program of flight plans, safety rules, Red Cross First Aid Course, identification of planes and their parts, etc. which is a part of the pre-flight studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Atkins Never Let Their Handicaps Affect Abilty To Smile

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Atkins

By Ruth Broadway

Handicapped but smiling—Mr. and Mrs. Orval Atkins, of 300 S. Harris-av, carry on the activities of a home and two businesses with never a feeling of dissatisfaction or discontent.

Atkins, confined to a wheelchair because of infantile paralysis contacted when five and one-half years old, carries on a business of saw filing and lawn mower sharpening. Previous to entering this work, he was in the commerical art field. "If I could get around, I'd be in that field today," said Atkins, as he told of his love for work in the field of art.

Hanging on one wall of his shop are four exquisite, original pictures. Some of these he is sending to the Craft Shop in Cincinnati hoping that through that aid for the handicap, he will be able to do more work in the field of art. He received his art training in the Columbus Art School at which he studied illustration and water color.

Mrs. Atkins for 14 years has sold greeting cards and wrapping paper. Little did she realize that through this she would meet her husband. It was while talking over the telephone to him regarding the purchase of some Christmas cards, that they first became acquainted. It wasn't too long before they realized that they needed each other, and they were married Dec. 27, 1945.

Confined to her wheelchair since a short time after her high school graduation because of a nervous condition, Mrs. Atkins still carries on her business of selling cards. But that isn't her chief delight. "I just love to cook for my husband," she smilingly said, "and each day I pray for strength to carry on my work."

Their small, over-garage apartment has an electric door control so that friends and customers can enter without their going down to the door. All things are at a level which they can reach from their wheelchairs. Mrs. Atkins is particularly proud of her new electric roaster. The business of the home is carried on over the telephone. And over their telephone friendships deepen as they call their friends and converse with them—many of them also shut-ins.

• "Nothing is as important as happiness," said Mrs. Atkins, smiling at her husband. One can easily see that here is a couple who has found great happiness by being strong enough and great enough to rise above greatest of handicaps.

During National Employ-the-Physically-Handicapped Week, Oct. 3-9, everyine is mindful of the handicapped people and is putting forth a new and greater effort to help them all that they can, in every way possible. It is estimated that more than 1,000,000 handicapped Americans, including disabled veterans, could be rehabilitated for gainful employment providing that jobs were available. We wonder as we leave the Atkin's apartment if, in that great number, there is another couple so completely happy and content with the confinement which is theirs.

Coon Dog Field Trials Are Held

O. M. Wilmer, 586 Hilltonia-av, was the sponsor of the Ohio State Champion Coon-dog Field Trial held near Powell, O., last Saturday and Sunday.

He said that hereafter the tryouts would be an annual affair, and that there were approximately 80 dogs in this year's events.

Heats were held on Saturday with the semi-finals and finals being on the Sunday bill.

Cancer To Claim 18 Million

Cancer will claim the lives of 18,000,000 of the present population of the United States if present death rates continue, according to the American Cancer Society.

Dehydrated foods, usually prepared by one or another type of heating process, are made on a new basis in the process covered by a recent patent. Water is removed from vegetables and fruits by exposing them to exceedingly "thirsty" compounds, such as some of the sugars, and merely finish the job by evaporation.

Fall Fashions

Take A LONG Look At the Slim Silhouette --

From the natural shoulder to well defined waistline and slender skirt, the outlook for Fall and Winter is a newer look, a lovelier look. Most prominent in dresses and suits it is enhanced by the contrast of sweeping flares and elegant capes in coats. Take a LONG look at the fashions on this page for they are the longer-length fashions that will give you long-term joy in the wearing!

TALL AND SLIM is the way to look in this circular cape coat designed by Rothmoor in Forstmann's Burmens, Persian lamb trimmed. Removed, the cape leaves a basic coat with a new sleeve, slimming below the elbow to a tight cuff.

Provocative posterior -- in dark Celanese taffeta contrasted with the gown's lighter color.

The notched sailor collar is Victorain in mood — on this 10-button suit by Murray Sices.

Luxurious slipper satin made of Avisco rayon yarns, handsomely embroidered on bodice and skirt. The newer look for a shirtwaist style, in the newer length.

Every season must have a beret by Brewster to add chic to milady's ensemble.

HBA Will Ask County To Develop McKinley Ave. Parks

It was indicated this week that the Hilltop Business Association and the West Side Board of Trade will take the initiative in circulating petitions addressed to the Franklin County Commissioners asking that body to see that the area immediately adjacent to the new McKinley Avenue thoroughfare west from the new Sandusky-st project be preserved for parks and recreation areas.

The new road project was outlined by County Commissioner George Matson at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Hilltop Business Association at Westgate Methodist Church and the organization voted to instruct the civic committee to confer with the West Side Board of Trade to take immediate action on the matter of circulating petitions.

It was pointed out that this new artery will carry a very large volume of traffic from the north to the west and that this is an opportunity to eliminate many of the eyesores along the route and at the same time provide the city with much valuable park and recreation space.

The county will be urged to control all land owned or leased by it rather than sub-lease it for industrial purposes or dumping grounds.

Rudolph Evjen, executive secretary of the Columbus Community Chest, was the principal speaker at the meeting, pointing to many needs of the chest today and urging support of the movement.

A musical program was presented by five West High girls: Ruth Ansley, Lois Stansel, Martha Brown, Marilyn Ring and Donna Thomas.

Carl Turner spoke on the program of the Hilltop Little Theatre, advising that yearly associate memberships are available at $5 which entitle the holder to admission to the five productions each year.

A nominating committee consisting of Joe Briggs, L. E. Saunders and Curtis Roberts was appointed.

Membership was voted to Broadview Linoleum and Tile Co. and Attorney A. A. Clark.

The annual Halloween Dance will be an event of Tuesday, Oct. 26, at the Columbus Riding Club, Main-st and Fairway-av.

West High In Fortieth Year

Forty years ago this fall West High School, now Hilltop's most important industry, had its inception on Central-av in the present Sterling Junior High building.

Much water has "gone over the dam—including the 1913 flood that harassed the West High students in that day.

In observance of this momentous occasion, affecting the lives of thousands of West High and Hilltop lives, The Hilltop Record takes pride in recording the achievements of a glorious era in secondary education.

We shall devote a 16-page tabloid edition, come Nov. 4, heralding the story of 40 years at West High School.

Cooperation of the public in submitting pictures, anecdotes or documents dealing with the story of the Hilltop school will be appreciated.

Any suggestions or copy should be addressed to Myron T. Seifert, 46 S. Westgate-av, RA. 7271, or in care of The Hilltop Record.

Band Plans Big Show At Central

The Cowboys' celebrated band of 153 pieces, resplendently regaled in their buff and brown uniforms, yellow plumes, gold braid and white spats, will trek to the Pirate stronghold at Washington-blvd and W. Broad-st Friday night, when the Westerners collide with the naughty Pirates.

Prior to the game Charlie Bennett, director of the band, his drum major, two majorettes, four twirlers, and the syncopated band will strut their stuff in a fashion singularly characteristic of West High School.

In collaboration with the Central High band, West will form a huge block "U. S. A." formation during a black-out with red, white and blue lights, implemented by the national anthem played in unison by the two bands of the contending schools, Mr. Bennett said today.

At half time West will open its show with a welcome formation "Hi" and then going into a huge block "C" arrangement. Immediately following the "Hi Central" salutation, a realistic pirate ship will be formed by the Cowboy musicians, representing the symbol emblamatic of the down-town school; a black-out will be made and the ship illuminated with a crimson red, and one of the major colors of the school will be portrayed under dimmed lights.

The community fund will come in for its share of attention when the Western band will depict the red feather worn by all who contribute; then a dollar mark sign will be observed in a green color.

Wishing luck to the team, the band will then break into a four-leaf clover formation and concurrently play the selection of "Four Leaf Clover" with corresponding green color.

In the final stanza of the show West High will present a singular block "W" formation.

Household Gadgets Galore Made by Hilltop Firm

Often the busy Hilltcp housewife will stop on a shopping tour, to admire some new Lustro-Ware plastic household item. She will love it for its colorful beauty, for its apparent usefulness, and even for its uniqueness, without realizing it is made by a Hilltop firm.

The Columbus Plastic Products, Inc., 1625 W. Mound-st, one of the oldest wholesale manufacturers of plastics, has been in business for more than 10 years. Starting with only a small beginning, the expansion has been rapid and steady. They now have approximately 200 employees with three eight hour shifts.

Going through the ultra-modern, air-conditioned offices, one reaches the manufacturing section of the plant. Music is clearly heard over the hum of the machines. There under very pleasant working conditions are men and women efficiently completing all types of fascinating plastic articles.

Even the mechanical side of the plant is interesting as one goes on to watch the huge presses at work. Out from the molds, which are made within the plant, come the beautiful Lustro-Ware items, ready to be completed with the finishing touches, such the tiny hinges of the watch cases or the pictures under the dial disc in the toy telephones.

Every article made here is interesting and exciting. The cheery color and the usefulness make each thing appealing. There are watch cases and ring boxes of all sizes and shapes. There is the classic serving tray, both practical and decorative; a handy spice or what-not shelf; the ever popular refrigerator dishes; a soap saver; a cleansing tissue holder; bathroom fixtures; knife handles—and oh, so many sparkling, colorful products.

These articles do not all remain here for sale through Columbus jobbers. Lustro-Ware goes throughout the United States and even to foreign countries. At present there is an interesting addition to the regular work. Proctor and Gamble have an offer of a set of plastic refrigerator dishes to be given for a Dreft box-top and 75c. Proctor and Gamble sends the necessary information to the Columbus Plastic Products, where the orders are filled and sent out to all parts of our country.

Some of the plastic is so made that it can stand the hottest faucet water; some is made to stand up under the very hardest of wear; all is attractive and suited for the product into which it will be made. The designs are the result of much careful thought. A new idea is carefully considered from every angle and patents checked so that there is no possibility of infringement. After being deemed a worth-while product, patents are secured, molds are made, and the presses commence to turn out another product.

"We are very optimistic in the plastic field," said W. J. Braley, sales-manager. "We feel we have a great future in the business." And after viewing the various exciting plastic wares made in the plant the observer feels that, indeed, the future is bright.

High Spirited

YOU simply couldn't depress Smythe. He'd come home from a rotten game of golf or a barren day's fishing full of beans. He'd back the whole program without getting one placed horse, and exude good humor. When business got so bad that he had to move into a smaller and cheaper place, much to his wife's disgust, he tried to console her with the fact that she hadn't such a big place to look after.

The first wet night she met him at the door with the news that the roof leaked and water was dripping into the dining room.

"That's all right, dear," he said; "put your aspidistras under the drip; it'll save you watering them."

TOO MUCH COMPETITION

"I say, old man, what happened to that parrot of yours?"

"Oh, I married, you know, and it died of a broken heart!"

"Jealousy, I suppose!"

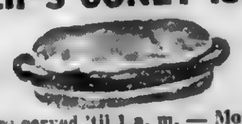
"Well, not exactly. It couldn't stand the competition."

A Hard Struggle

"Prices don't seem to go down, do they, Mrs. Riggs?"

"No they don't Mrs. Digg. Like I was saying to my man the other night, after we pay our income taxes, keep up the installments on our apartment house, buy a few bonds, put the boys through college and buy our clothes, what have we left?"

Public Posing



One day an acquaintance remarked in the presence of Sarah Bernhardt that she could not account for the peculiar manner in which a certain vain young woman had lately been acting.

The great French actress intervened.

"I can," she replied. "The other day someone told her she had a beautiful profile, and ever since she has been trying to live sideways."

West High In Fortieth Year

Forty years ago this fall West High School, now Hilltop's most important industry, had its inception on Central-av in the present Starling Junior High building.

Much water has "gone over the dam—including the 1913 flood that harassed the West High students in that day.

In observation of this momentous occasion, affecting the lives of thousands of West High and Hilltop lives, The Hilltop Record takes pride in recording the achievements of a glorious era in secondary education.

We shall devote a 16-page tabloid edition, come Nov. 4, heralding the story of 40 years at West High School.

Cooperation of the public in submitting pictures, anecdotes or documents dealing with the story of the Hilltop school will be appreciated.

Any suggestions or copy should be addressed to Myron T. Seifert, 46 S. Westgate-av, RA. 7271, or in care of The Hilltop Record.

Band Plans Big Show At Central

The Cowboys' celebrated band of 153 pieces, resplendently regaled in their buff and brown uniforms, yellow plumes, gold braid and white spats, will trek to the Pirate stronghold at Washington-blvd and W. Broad-st Friday night, when the Westerners collide with the naughty Pirates.

Prior to the game Charlie Bennett, director of the band, his drum major, two majorettes, four twirlers, and the syncopated band will strut their stuff in a fashion singularly characteristic of West High School.

In collaboration with the Central High band, West will form a huge block "U. S. A." formation during a black-out with red, white and blue lights, implemented by the national anthem played in unison by the two bands of the contending schools, Mr. Bennett said today.

At half time West will open its show with a welcome formation "Hi" and then going into a huge block "C" arrangement. Immediately following the "Hi Central" salutation, a realistic pirate ship will be formed by the Cowboy musicians, representing the symbol emblamatic of the down-town school; a black-out will be made and the ship illuminated with a crimson red, and one of the major colors of the school will be portrayed under dimmed lights.

The community fund will come in for its share of attention when the Western band will depict the red feather worn by all who contribute; then a dollar mark sign will be observed in a green color.

Wishing luck to the team, the band will then break into a four-leaf clover formation and concurrently play the selection of "Four Leaf Clover" with corresponding green color.

In the final stanza of the show West High will present a singular block "W" formation.

The former railroader and his wife have one son, Leroy, at home. They have lived on the Hilltop since 1918.

Roy H. Bowen, 395 Oak-st, former West High School instructor, will be the director of five major productions of the Players Club this year. A dramatics teacher at West for five years, Bowen is currently at work on the first Club play of the season, "The Warrior's Husband." Beginning Oct. 28, the production will have a four night run.

Harry Gaggero Gets $10 Prize In Grid Contest

Another week, another contest, another $10 — and this week Professor Pig-skin gives that first prize $10 bill to Harry Gaggero, 1808 Rich-st.

D. J. Wakeman, 342 Southampton-av, came in with a close second and will receive as his reward two free passes to the CCC Auto Theatre.

"Like son, like father" — this week it is Charles C. Hall, Sr., 39 S. Algonquin-av, who gets a prize from Professor Pig-skin. To him goes one free haircut at Ezzo Barber Shop, 2820 W. Broad-st, as third prize.

The three prize winners will receive their prizes or certificates through the mail either today or Friday.

The Professor urges everyone to try—you might win one of the three prizes. Choose the winners and the best possible scores from the games given in the page ad in Section B of the Record today. Write them on the entry blank and mail to Professor Pig-skin at The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st. What will it be for you—$10, two free passes, or a haircut?

HILLTOPPER INJURED

Mrs. Douglas K. Robinson, 55, of 362 S. Warren-av, fell down the back steps at her home Saturday. She suffered a broken wrist and severe lacerations of the face. Mrs. Robinson, who was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital, is now recovering at her home.

Sold Snowsuit On Second Call From Record Classified Ad

Numerous are the little success stories that satisfied customers tell the classified department of The Hilltop Record each week.

Among others last week was the case of Mrs. B. A. Manning, 421 Townsend-av, who had a boy's snowsuit for sale. She reports it was sold on the second call she received.

This is just one of many weekly examples of persons who use Record classifieds at a very small cost and get big results.

Why not take inventory of your closets today and call RA. 1125 to have the Record tell some 40,000 Hilltoppers what you have for sale.

Esther W. Tyree Subject of Special Feature Story

Mrs. James L. Tyree

Esther Walker Tyree, 192 S Wheatland-av, was the subject of a recent feature story in the Ohio State News, after her election as secretary of the National Baptist Convention, on Sept. 8.

Mrs. Tyree was one of four delegates representing the Columbus Shiloh Baptist Church when they attended the national convention of the women's auxiliary in Houston, Texas, last month.

A native of Columbus and a life member of the Shiloh Church, she began a series of study classes in the church. Beginning with the cradle roll, she worked upward — primary beginners juniors, intermediates, seniors, young people, and finally the adults.

At the age of 11 she was living with her family in a section of Columbus known as "Fly Town." Each Sunday morning she went by streetcar to the Shiloh Church then located on Cleveland-av. In the afternoon she taught Sunday school in the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Church, just two doors from her home.

When Mrs. Tyree was 14, she became the secretary of her church class, and learned to keep minutes and records. About one year later she was elected president of the same class and still later became treasurer of a young adult class. This class specialized in raising money, and for years led the church in this respect.

Other church activities in following years included teaching the junior and young people's departments, and acting as supervisor of the young people's department. She worked as supervisor of women's activities at Beatty Center for a period, and then became interested in politics. She remained in this field just long enough to add her bit toward furthering good government, she says.

After working with the Public Welfare Department here for nine years, she was the victim of an accident last year, which forced her to give up this activity.

At present Mrs. Tyree is supervisor of the adult group at Shiloh Church, but through the years her two greatest interests in life have remained the same. They are her husband, James L. Tyree, and their son, George.

ROOM STAFF CHOSEN

The bookroom staff chosen this year to assist Louise Lincoln at Starling School are Jane Bolin, Carol Clark, Jack Conrad, Eileen Conroy, Evelyn Cuckler, Tom Ellison, Dorothy Gallagher, Earl Gates, Marion Gaunder, Marilyn Greene, Shirley Hammel, Diane Hilf, Pat Kinder, Bob King, Charles Leach, Charles Recob, Diane Sally, Donna Strickler, Bernice Turner, JoAnn Wallace and Selma Wolfe.

An auxiliary engine for overloaded trucks and buses to enable them to maintain normal speed on stiff grades is the invention on which a patent has been issued. The second engine delivers its power to the same gearbox as the main motor, but is held idle by an automatic control until it is needed.

HBA Will Ask County To Develop McKinley Ave. Parks

It was indicated this week that the Hilltop Business Association and the West Side Board of Trade will take the initiative in circulating petitions addressed to the Franklin County Commissioners asking that body to see that the area immediately adjacent to the new McKinley Avenue thoroughfare west from the new Sandusky-st project be preserved for parks and recreation areas.

The new road project was outlined by County Commissioner George Matson at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Hilltop Business Association at Westgate Methodist Church and the organization voted to instruct the civic committee to confer with the West Side Board of Trade to take immediate action on the matter of circulating petitions.

It was pointed out that this new artery will carry a very large volume of traffic from the north to the west and that this is an opportunity to eliminate many of the eyesores along the route and at the same time provide the city with much valuable park and recreation space.

The county will be urged to control all land owned or leased by it rather than sub-lease it for industrial purposes or dumping grounds.

Rudolph Evjen, executive secretary of the Columbus Community Chest, was the principal speaker at the meeting, pointing to many needs of the chest today and urging support of the movement.

A musical program was presented by five West High girls: Ruth Ansley, Lois Stansel, Martha Brown, Marilyn Ring and Donna Thomas.

Carl Turner spoke on the program of the Hilltop Little Theatre, advising that yearly associate memberships are available at $5 which entitle the holder to admission to the five productions each year.

A nominating committee consisting of Joe Briggs, L. E. Saunders and Curtis Roberts was appointed.

Membership was voted to Broadview Linoleum and Tile Co. and Attorney A. A. Clark.

The annual Halloween Dance will be an event of Tuesday, Oct. 26, at the Columbus Riding Club, Main-st and Fairway-av.

Here Is Where Your Chest Dollar Goes

INNOCULATIONS ARE IN ORDER—Some of the tots pictured above aren't quite sure that they're being done right by. Each Wednesday morning an average of 30 children from six months to six years of age are given check-ups and immunization shots at the Gladden Community House, 623 W. Town-st. This "well-child conference" is part of a joint project of Red Feather settlement houses and the City Health Department.

HILLTOP YMCA FANS—Playing ping-pong is one of the most popular pastimes at the YMCA, which is a brand new community chest agency. This year the local "Y" will receive $7500 from the Chest. Shown above, getting ready for an exciting game, are Sylvia Wolf, Bill Moore, Margaret Adams and Phil Cunningham.

WHAT INTERESTING SCENERY!—A newly born baby gazes brightly about while lying in the arms of Eleanor Wilson, at the nursery of the Friends Rescue Home, 245 N. Powell-av. He will have a nice warm bed, and plenty to eat, and the mother will be well taken care of also. The Rescue Home is a Community Chest Agency.

INTERESTED SHUTTER-BUGS—Averille Thorn, executive secretary of the recently established Hilltop YMCA, explains to Frank Crego, Bing Reeves, John Seint and Ronnie Boothe, members of the Camera Club, just how to operate this flash camera in order to get best results. The "Y" is a new Red Feather agency.

IT'S THE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME—The eight young misses above are pictured as they played in the yard at the West Side Day Nursery, 40 W. Grubb-st. The nursery is one of seven Red Feather nurseries where children of working mothers are given good care and wholesome food.

The 26th annual Community Chest Campaign will open Tuesday. The Hilltop should want to open its heart to the drive this year as never before, because of the many, many benefits the Hilltop realizes through the Chest.

Just recently the Hilltop YMCA was named as a new Red Feather agency, and the "Y" alone will receive appropriations totaling $7500. The Friends Rescue Home at 245 N. Powell-av is another Community Chest affiliate.

Mrs. C. O. Cramer, 188 S. Westmoor-av, heads the West Residential district for the campaign, which will be carried through Oct. 27. She will be assisted by Mrs. L. K. Fishinger, 273 S. Westgate-av, as vice-chairman.

The combined goal for the Hilltop and West Side districts, referred to as "W" and "O", is $5429.

Mrs. Carl Turner, 3039 Crescent-dr, is the colonel for "W". She heads the list of eight majors and 28 captains for this section alone. "O" when complete will consist of one colonel, two majors and 16 captains. However, there is a place in the Chest's lineup for any woman with a few hours to spare, during the day.

Mrs. Cramer extended an invitation to these women to contact her at RA. 3500. All help is volunteered, and she will attempt to work out territories to suit the schedule of the workers. The West Residential District is interested in one thing—accomplishing its goal!

The Red Feather's Family and Children's Bureau placed 280 children in foster homes and institutions, and aided 1338 families in various ways during the first part of this year. Seven hundred more children were placed in better environments, and are being carefully cared for by the Catholic Welfare Bureau. In addition 100 patients have been helped in meeting their hospital bills, through the Community Chest and its seven participating hospitals. The Red Feather also sponsors day nurseries, district nurses, etc., and 4000 Franklin County boys and girls were able to attend summer camps this year with the help of the one and only Community Chest.

Cancer Funds Inadequate

There was only $16,219,000 available from private and public sources for cancer research last year. This amounts to less than $30 per known case.

We Are Approaching That Time When The Goblins Will Get You
If You Don't Watch Out

Fall Fun Time Had It's Origin In Pagan Times

When the birds are sleepy,
And the moon-light's creepy,

And the bug-a-boos are close beside
The night of Hallowe'en.

We smile as we think of these things—realizing that it is just a time of merrymaking with everyone aware that it is but a fantastic event. We wear witch's costumes and tell weird stories without realizing that the beginning was all seriousness centuries ago.

Had you lived years ago you would have waited fearlessly for the Eve of All Hallows, for that was the night in the year during which ghosts and witches were most likely to wander abroad upon the earth. Perhaps you would have waited eagerly, believing that this year the ceremonies and charms would make plain to you your partner in life.

With its beginnings in pagan times, Hallowe'en is still associated in the popular imagination with the prevalence of supernatural influences. It was a time of many bonfires and apprehensive whisperings. On these Druidic ceremonies were grafted some of the characteristics of the Roman festival in honor of Pomona which was held about Nov. 1. In this holiday, nuts and apples, representing the winter's store of food, played an important part.

As Christianity came into the world, pagan ideas gave way to it. But we still duck for apples, toast chestnuts over a bright bonfire, and as we do so, tell frightening stories of the ghosts and goblins that "will get you if you don't look out."

Young people, entering into the hilariously festive mood, would play harmful pranks, not thinking of the value of property or of personal feelings. One joke—one prank—led to another until Hallowe'en became a time to fear for the safety of your property.

Every year efforts are made to counteract the hilarious pranks of the season. Each community has its own system for so doing. Last year Sheriff Ralph Paul, recently returned from Europe went throughout the city, speaking to assemblies of junior and senior high school students. He stressed the want and poverty in other lands, urging students to help preserve our plenty by eliminating harmful Hallowe'en pranks. It is encouraging to note that after his series of talks it was found that there was 90 per cent less vandalism in the city at Hallowe'en time.

Substituting fun for harmful frolic was the keynote when the Hilltop initiated its elaborate program of festivities for all Hilltoppers. A simultaneous program was planned in the auditorium and in the gym of West High School. In 1945, the first year, 4,200 celebrants attended and in 1946 3,400 spent the evening there. The Hilltop Kiwanis Club made possible the substitution of a lively window decorating contest for the "window soaping" of other years. No longer were the windows smeared with non-decorative layers of soap but were attractive with fall pictures. PTA's, Blue Star and Mothers' Groups made possible refreshments, the ever-popular fish-pond and cake walk, and fortune-telling.

Last year was no different. Those on the Hilltop had fun—and lots of it. Neither will this year be different. There will be fun, frolicking, frivolity and fantasy for lovers of the Hallowe'en season.

Halloween Should Not Be Marked By Destruction

MUST we destroy? Must we by playing pranks harm the beauty and comforts of our town? Must we in an evening of fun, wage an undeclared war against the things which we seek, through peace, to preserve?

Cathedrals that are but shells, homes that are heaps of rubbish, schools that are masses of broken bricks, lawns that are strewn with debris - - - these are the things that children in war-torn countries have to call "their town." Thankful for being alive and for the meager things of comfort which they have, would they go out on Halloween for an evening of harmful pranks? Would they destroy some of the preciously few things that they do have?

Not too long ago a small boy in Germany wrote to a Columbus woman asking if America is beautful, asking about the comforts which we have and the food which we eat—not in an envious way but with awe, unbelief, and wistfulness. Correspondence had started because he begged his aunt to write to a relative here to send him some chocolate.

We, who live in this land he so much admires, ponder over ways in which we might show forth what we feel is the true Halloween spirit—perhaps a window pane broken here and there, perhaps some branches piled on the widow's porch, perhaps some tires with loosened valves, perhaps some windows smeared with soap.

Thinking of the merrydrolic of the affair we often fail to recognize the value of the things which we are destroying or the expense which we are causing some people. We forget that in the world at that same day there are children who must glean the grains for a meal by crawling over a field, carefully treasuring the few grains of food which they find.

So must we break windows when children overseas have no home—let alone one with glass windows? Must we pile branches when children there suffer because of lack of any kind of heat? Must we ruin tires when children in some foreign lands have never ridden in an auto? Must we smear soap when children in war-torn countries ask for one small bar of soap to be sent to them?

Let us frolic—yes—let us revel in the mystic charm of this century-old festival. But as we do so this year we should stop to think of the children in other lands, and be thankful for the plenty which we have.

We love our country; we love the advantages and happiness that we have here. We must do our part to keep it that way. Let us not destroy that which we do have, that which our fathers have labored to get for us, and that which our brothers have died to preserve for us!

Hilltop Plans Big Program For Youngsters

Hallowe'en activities again will start a few days before Hallowe'en with a store window decorating contest sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, under the leadership of "Woody" Clark, of the Westgate Pharmacy.

Those who enter will be assigned a window in the business district for Wednesday and Thursday afternoon painting. Special water-color paint will be distributed to the schools and will be allotted to the contestants. All painters must furnish their own brushes.

The windows will be judged Friday afternoon with prizes, the total of which is $75, being presented to the three winners of each of the four classes in the gym at West High School Saturday night, Oct. 30.

In the gym will be dancing, jitterbug contests, costume awards, and the election of a Hilltop Hallowe'en queen. Who will that queen be??? You can help decide this question, for all can vote. Clip out the entry blank which will be contained in the Record, write down the name of the one you choose, and mail the entry to the Record office. These happy events will be under the supervision of the Hilltop Business Association.

If you care not for those things, the committee has another program for you in the West auditorium, running simultaneously. This will include movies, a dancing show, and the awarding of prizes in the window painting contest.

In some secluded corner will be a fortune-telling booth in charge

HBA Will Ask County To Develop McKinley Ave. Parks

It was indicated this week that the Hilltop Business Association and the West Side Board of Trade will take the initiative in circulating petitions addressed to the Franklin County Commissioners asking that body to see that the area immediately adjacent to the new McKinley Avenue thoroughfare west from the new Sandusky-st project be preserved for parks and recreation areas.

The new road project was outlined by County Commissioner George Matson at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Hilltop Business Association at Westgate Methodist Church and the organization voted to instruct the civic committee to confer with the West Side Board of Trade to take immediate action on the matter of circulating petitions.

It was pointed out that this new artery will carry a very large volume of traffic from the north to the west and that this is an opportunity to eliminate many of the eyesores along the route and at the same time provide the city with much valuable park and recreation space.

The county will be urged to control all land owned or leased by it rather than sub-lease it for industrial purposes or dumping grounds.

Rudolph Evjen, executive secretary of the Columbus Community Chest, was the principal speaker at the meeting, pointing to many needs of the chest today and urging support of the movement.

A musical program was presented by five West High girls: Ruth Ansley, Lois Stansel, Martha Brown, Marilyn Ring and Donna Thomas.

Carl Turner spoke on the program of the Hilltop Little Theatre, advising that yearly associate memberships are available at $5 which entitle the holder to admission to the five productions each year.

A nominating committee consisting of Joe Briggs, L. E. Saunders and Curtis Roberts was appointed.

Membership was voted to Broadview Linoleum and Tile Co. and Attorney A. A. Clark.

The annual Halloween Dance will be an event of Tuesday, Oct. 26, at the Columbus Riding Club, Main-st and Fairway-av.

West High In Fortieth Year

Forty years ago this fall West High School, now Hilltop's most important industry, had its inception on Central-av in the present Starling Junior High building.

Much water has "gone over the dam—including the 1913 flood—that harassed the West High students in that day.

In observation of this momentous occasion, affecting the lives of thousands of West High and Hilltop lives, The Hilltop Record takes pride in recording the achievements of a glorious era in secondary education.

We shall devote a 16-page tabloid edition, come Nov. 4, heralding the story of 40 years at West High School.

Cooperation of the public in submitting pictures, anecdotes or documents dealing with the story of the Hilltop school will be appreciated.

Any suggestions or copy should be addressed to Myron T. Seifert, 46 S. Westgate-av, RA. 7271, or in care of The Hilltop Record.

Band Plans Big Show At Central

The Cowboys' celebrated band of 153 pieces, resplendently regaled in their buff and brown uniforms, yellow plumes, gold braid and white spats, will trek to the Pirate stronghold at Washington-blvd and W. Broad-st Friday night, when the Westerners collide with the naughty Pirates.

Prior to the game Charlie Bennett, director of the band, his drum major, two majorettes, four twirlers, and the syncopated band will strut their stuff in a [illegible] singularly characteristic of West High School.

In collaboration with the Central High band, West will form a huge block "U. S. A." formation during a black-out with red, white and blue lights, implemented by the national anthem played in unison by the two bands of the contending schools, Mr. Bennett said today.

At half time West will open its show with a welcome formation "Hi" and then going into a huge block "C" arrangement. Immediately following the "Hi Central" salutation, a realistic pirate ship will be formed by the Cowboy musicians, representing the symbol emblamatic of the down-town school; a black-out will be made and the ship illuminated with a crimson red, and one of the major colors of the school will be portrayed under dimmed lights.

The community fund will come in for its share of attention when the Western band will depict the red feather worn by all who contribute; then a dollar mark sign will be observed in a green color.

Wishing luck to the team, the band will then break into a four-leaf clover formation and concurrently play the selection of "Four Leaf Clover" with corresponding green color.

In the final stanza of the show West High will present a singular block "W" formation.

Numerous are the little success stories that satisfied customers tell the classified department of The Hilltop Record each week.

Among others last week was the case of Mrs. B. A. Manning, 421 Townsend-av, who had a boy's snowsuit for sale. She reports it was sold on the second call she received.

This is just one of many weekly examples of persons who use Record classifieds at a very small cost and get big results.

Why not take inventory of your closets today and call RA. 1128 to have the Record tell some 40,000 Hilltoppers what you have for sale.

Child League Celebrates 10th Anniversary

HOSTESS AT TENTH ANNIVERSARY—Mrs. Howard Willson, 579 S. Wayne-av, above, is the president of the Randolph Child Conservation League, which celebrated its 10th birthday on Sept. 22.

On Sept. 22 the Randolph Child Conservation League celebrated its tenth birthday, with a party at the home of its president, Mrs. Howard Willson, 579 S. Wayne-av.

It was in September of 1938, that Mrs. Eldon Markel, formerly of 582 Belvidere-av, now of Cincinnati, Mrs. Clyde Fowler, an active member of the Indianola Junior CCL, and Mrs. Jesse Baldwin, then a district president of the CCL, pooled their efforts and emerged with the nucleus from which the Randolph group has grown.

The original members of the local league were Mrs. Markel, Mrs. David Caton, 829 S. Terrace-av, Mrs. Gordon Mott, Mrs. Winston Taylor, 345 Martha-av, Mrs. Wendell Griffith, 1163 Broadview-av, Mrs. Carey Allen, 474 N. Harris-av, Mrs. Leroy Seba, 572 Larcomb-av, Mrs. George Michaelis, 599 Clark-av, Mrs. John Scholton, 160 Nashoba-av, and Mrs. Edward Bassett.

Mrs. Michaelis was chosen as the first president of the group, and at the tenth birthday celebration recently, she was chosen to read a history of the organization.

Since the members were all mothers of young children, they decided that a study and discussion group would best meet their needs. The meetings were held in the various member homes, and at first the membership was limited to 20, and later to 25.

To qualify for membership in the league, a woman must have an interest in, and ability to contribute to its purpose: establishing understanding between children and their parents. She should be a conscientious mother and homemaker, present a pleasing appearance and personality, and be of good moral character.

During the war years, the club mothers baked 10 to 15 dozen cookies each month and filled the servicemen's cookie jar at the Union Depot until it fairly bulged.

The Teen Canteen, Red Cross, Crippled Children's Fund, Cancer Clinic, Gladden Community House, girls in the Hospital for Feeble Minded and veterans in the hospital at Chillicothe are several of the groups which have benefitted by the League's work.

In 1946 the club changed from a study to a lecture group. Meetings are held each month from September throuh May, and a big picnic for all the participants' families is an annual affair. At least one program is planned for the benefit and interest of the husbands, and a library of pamphlets and books on subjects of interest to the members, is maintained.

During the past ten years, the membership has included 37 mothers. On Oct. 8 and 9 the state convention is to be held at Youngstown, O.

Incumbent officers are Mrs. Willson, president; Mrs. E. M. Bradfute, 333 S. Ogden-av, vice-president; Mrs. Ralph Burden, 753 S. Hague-av, recording secretary; Mrs. John Scholten, Jr., 160 Nashoba-av, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Roger Geist, 160 S. Ogden-av, treasurer.

By Whom The Bells Toll -- St. Aloysius Organist Plays Carrillons

Mrs. Harold Gillivan

"BY whom the bells toll—"

The sparkling eyed woman who plays the carrillons at St. Aloysius Church which echo so beautifully across the Hilltop is Mrs. Harold Gillivan of 77 S. Erinker-av. From her one can hear interesting incidents of the beginning of the Hilltop and thrilling reports of a busy life devoted to her family, her home, and music.

Mrs. Gillivan looks back upon a life which has been musically rich since she was a child. When 10 years of age she started playing the organ for Children's Mass and at 13 was substitute organist. Her activities were not confined to the organ for she was pianist for eight years with St. Cecelia's All Girl Orchestra playing for private parties, banquets, and all leading Democratic affairs.

In 1922 she became the full time organist at St. Aloysius. She now plays practically every morning at the 7 and 8 o'clock masses for the Girls' Choir and at the Sunday 10 o'clock mass. With almost limitless ambition and energy she puts into her busy schedule the training of a 14 voice men's choir and a 26 voice mixed choir. Her expressive eyes sparkle as she also tells of the 50 voice glee club which she is training at St. Euphrasia's.

Her husband is load dispatcher for the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. They have three children, son Jack, is with the City Ice and Fuel in Dayton. The two daughters, Mary Ann and Claire Jane, are well known for their dancing. Their mother, who for eight years has been pianist with Keith School of Dance at which they are studying, thrills to their success more than to her own.

A musician of long ago, hearing the melodies from the tower of St. Aloysius, would never believe that a woman was playing. Dodge, who originated the Liberty Carillons, by the use of electricity makes possible playing the carillons by 38 keys of a small console. No longer is it necessary to pull the ropes or bars to set bells vibrating.

Now solid metal bars are struck by solid metal clappers. As the clapper hits the bar, the sound is hardly audible. But the vibrations are caught by an electro-magnetic system which transfers the minute electrical currents through a complicated system of wires to the amplifier in the tower of the church, from which the tone goes out, sometimes being heard over a mile away.

The deepest tone is equal to the sound produced by a bell weighing 4600 pounds, the tones of the entire set being equal to those of bells weighing 16 tons.

On this type of carillon a chord can be played, although the notes must be struck an instant after each other. Also upon this it is possible to get a degree of dynamics—soft and loud tones.

When Mrs. Gillivan plays the carillons on a week-day morning, it is preceding or following a wedding, or on a special feast or holiday. A mechanical helper sends out the measures of the hymn heard at regular intervals throughout the day.

A Halloween Dessert

On Halloween and for a day or two before, when "mischief" is uppermost in the minds of our children, planning meals is a difficult problem. Candies, apples, peanuts and cookies seem to flow toward kiddies in a magic stream—and at dinner "I'm not hungry" is the cry.

Here's a simple, economical, healthful dish for the children's Halloween dinner that will nourish yet not overtax little stomachs. Make it in the morning, cool it in the refrigerator and serve it at dinner. You'll be delighted.

Halloween Rennet Desserts

2 cups milk, not canned
1 package orange rennet powder
Chocolate butter frosting

Set out 4 or 5 individual dessert dishes. Warm milk slowly, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When COMFORTABLY WARM, (110° F.) not hot, remove at once from heat. Stir rennet powder into milk quickly until dissolved — not over one minute. Pour at once, while still liquid, into individual dessert glasses. Do not move until set—about 10 minutes. Then chill.

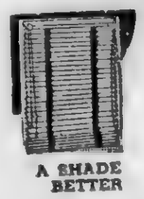
Frosting: Make a chocolate butter frosting by creaming 1½ tablespoons butter until soft and smooth, and working in ¼ cup XXXX sugar, 1 tablespoon cocoa, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, a dash of salt, and ½ to ¾ teaspoon cream—to make the mixture soft enough to pipe through a pastry tube with the single-holed tip. Pipe onto the surface of the chilled rennet desserts in the outlines of owls, cats, witches, Jack O'-lanterns, etc.

Makes 4 or 5 servings.

"A DATE WITH JUDY"—Wallace Beery resembles a grizzly bear as he swings Carmen Miranda around the dance floor, tripping the light fantastic. The two screen favorites are together in "A Date With Judy," technicolor musical romance starring teen-agers Jane Powell and Elizabeth Taylor, Xavier Cugat and his orchestra and handsome Robert Stack, at the Westmont Theater Sunday, Oct. 10, for a four-day run.

High Test Hose

A new flexible hose strongly reinforced to withstand pressure of 800 pounds per square inch has been developed for use on high-pressure auto washer equipment.



The hose is constructed with a synthetic rubber tube specially compounded to resist hot water, soapy solutions and chemicals used to clean cars, National Patent Council has revealed. It is reinforced with two plies of Ustex, a chemically treated, high-strength textile. The cover is made of synthetic rubber to resist oil and grease encountered on garage floors.

Rudolph Evjen, executive secretary of the Columbus Community Chest, was the principal speaker at the meeting, pointing to many needs of the chest today and urging support of the movement.

A musical program was presented by five West High girls: Ruth Ansley, Lois Stansel, Martha Brown, Marilyn Ring and Donna Thomas.

Carl Turner spoke on the program of the Hilltop Little Theatre, advising that yearly associate memberships are available at $5 which entitle the holder to admission to the five productions each year.

A nominating committee consisting of Joe Briggs, L. E. Saunders and Curtis Roberts was appointed.

Membership was voted to Broadview Linoleum and Tile Co., and Attorney A. A. Clark.

The annual Halloween Dance will be an event of Tuesday, Oct. 26, at the Columbus Riding Club, Main-st and Fairway-av.

West High In Fortieth Year

Forty years ago this fall West High School, now Hilltop's most important industry, had its inception on Central-av in the present Starling Junior High building.

Much water has "gone over the dam—including the 1913 flood that harassed the West High students in that day.

In observation of this momentous occasion, affecting the lives of thousands of West High and Hilltop lives, The Hilltop Record takes pride in recording the achievements of a glorious era in secondary education.

We shall devote a 16-page tabloid edition, come Nov. 4, heralding the story of 40 years at West High School.

Cooperation of the public in submitting pictures, anecdotes or documents dealing with the story of the Hilltop school will be appreciated.

Any suggestions or copy should be addressed to Myron T. Seifert, 46 S. Westgate-av, RA. 7271, or in care of The Hilltop Record.

Band Plans Big Show At Central

The Cowboys' celebrated band of 153 pieces, resplendently regaled in their buff and brown uniforms, yellow plumes, gold braid and white spats, will trek to the Pirate stronghold at Washington-blvd and W. Broad-st Friday night, when the Westerners collide with the naughty Pirates.

Prior to the game Charlie Bennett, director of the band, his drum major, two majorettes, four twirlers, and the syncopated band will strut their stuff in a manner singularly characteristic of West High School.

In collaboration with the Central High band, West will form a huge block "U. S. A." formation during a black-out with red, white and blue lights, implemented by the national anthem played in unison by the two bands of the contending schools, Mr. Bennett said today.

At half time West will open its show with a welcome formation "Hi" and then going into a huge block "C" arrangement. Immediately following the "Hi Central" salutation, a realistic pirate ship will be formed by the Cowboy musicians, representing the symbol emblamatic of the down-town school; a black-out will be made and the ship illuminated with a crimson red, and one of the major colors of the school will be portrayed under dimmed lights.

The community fund will come in for its share of attention when the Western band will depict the red feather worn by all who contribute; then a dollar mark sign will be observed in a green color.

Wishing luck to the team, the band will then break into a four-leaf clover formation and concurrently play the selection of "Four Leaf Clover" with corresponding green color.

In the final stanza of the show West High will present a singular block "W" formation.

Harry Gaggero Gets $10 Prize In Grid Contest

Another week, another contest, another $10 — and this week Professor Pig-skin gives that first prize $10 bill to Harry Gaggero, 1808 Rich-st.

D. J. Wakeman, 342 Southampton-av, came in with a close second and will receive as his reward two free passes to the CCC Auto Theatre.

"Like son, like father" — this week it is Charles C. Hall, Sr., 30 S. Algonquin-av, who gets a prize from Professor Pig-skin. To him goes one free haircut at Ezzo Barber Shop, 2820 W. Broad-st, as third prize.

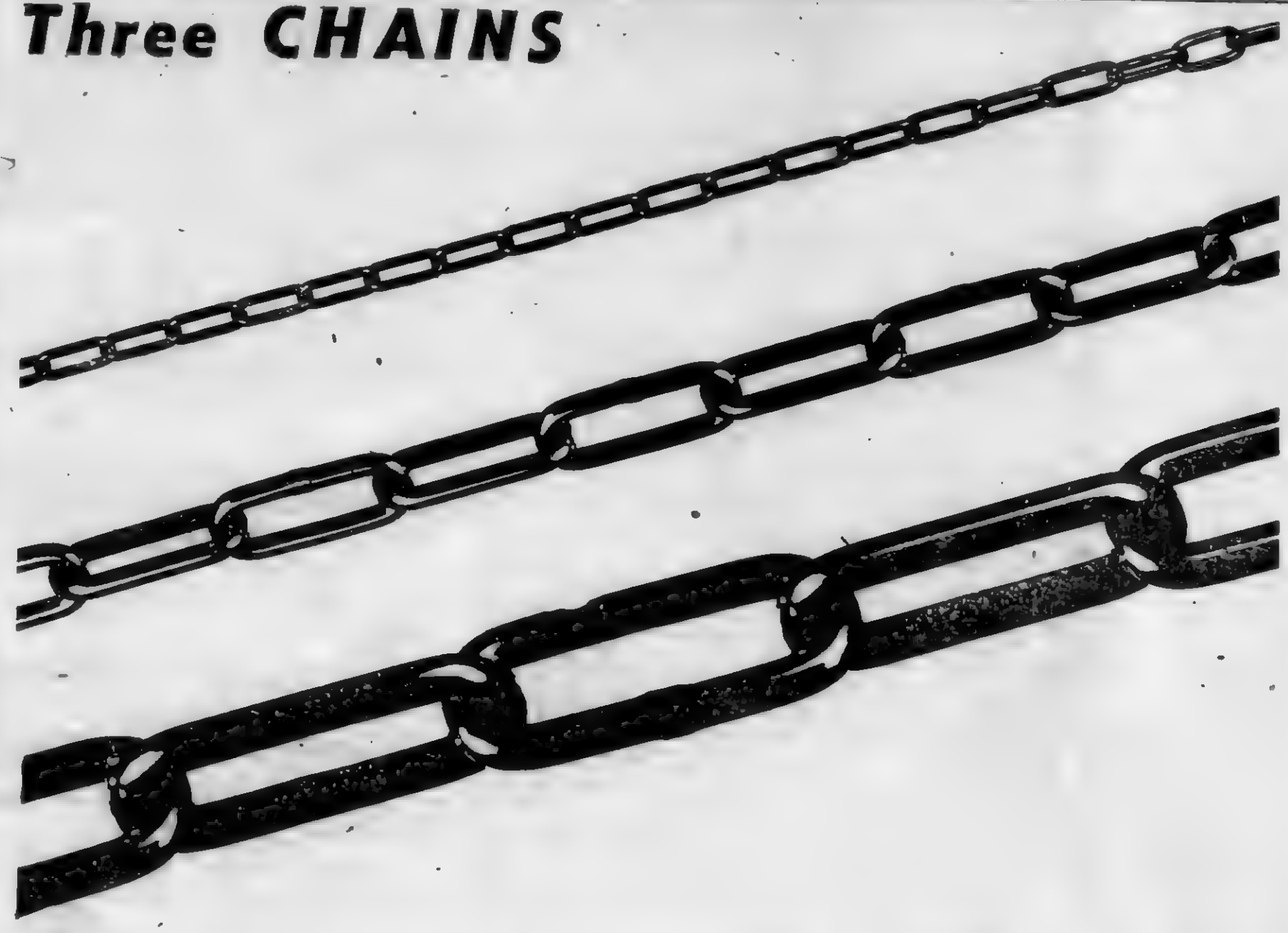
The three prize winners will receive their prizes or certificates through the mail either today or Friday.

The Professor urges everyone to try—you might win one of the three prizes. Choose the winners and the best possible scores from the games given in the page ad in Section B of the Record today. Write them on the entry blank and mail to Professor Pig-skin at The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st. What will it be for you—$10, two free passes, or a haircut?

HILLTOPPER INJURED

Mrs. Douglas K. Robinson, 55, of 362 S. Warren-av, fell down the back steps at her home Saturday. She suffered a broken wrist and severe lacerations of the face. Mrs. Robinson, who was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital, is now recovering at her home.

Sold Snowsuit On Second Call From Record Classified Ad



Numerous are the little success stories that satisfied customers tell the classified department of The Hilltop Record each week.

Among others last week was the case of Mrs. B. A. Manning, 421 Townsend-av, who had a boy's snowsuit for sale. She reports it was sold on the second call she received.

This is just one of many weekly examples of persons who use Record classifieds at a very small cost and get big results.

Why not take inventory of your closets today and call RA. 1125 to have the Record tell some 40,000 Hilltoppers what you have for sale.

Three CHAINS

CHAINS! CHAINS! CHAINS! Great chains which draw the heavy loads of commerce! Middle-sized chains which we carry for pulling an automobile from the mud! Tiny chains which hold a cross, a precious gem, or a lovely cameo, suspended about my lady's neck! Of them all the old adage remains true, "No chain is stronger than its weakest link." For one weak link the great load of logs breaks adrift; for one weak link my car remains by the roadside; for one weak link something precious is lost, perhaps never to be recovered. Chains of character and of fellowship, habits meant to keep us fit for the day's tasks, influence on young life near and dear to us, religious and morals that will make us strong and dependable in difficult hours of living; these also depend on every link in the chain. Life is of a piece; every day is part of the week; every week fits into the month and the year; every year counts toward the everlastings.

PUT the picture of the chains in the gallery of your daily meditation; stamp it indelibly upon the minds of children and youth. Shall habits we form from day to day hold us firmly in constructive toil, or in a community where we count so much? Can family and friends and neighbors depend on us when some difficult emergency appears? Do they know that we will be strong when the going is hard? Have we put goodness and integrity and genuineness and friendliness and goodwill and truthfulness into a chain of personal character that will not break when others are calling for our help? Am I the one person in a community chain which will stand strain and stress and trial? Or will women and men fear to trust me when they must have trustworthy persons at some great task? Will the chain of the years be strong, forged by faithful living? Good chains, strong chains, useful chains, dependable chains; how priceless they are! The Church will help you mold chains of character that will stand the test.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you —form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Rambling with Ruth

By Ruth Broadway

Washing, ironing, mending, cooking, cleaning—the housewife's day is full, with no time for browsing through the local stores to see what is new, different and helpful. With the beginning of this supplement, the Record is going to do just that for you. Each month we are going to spend some time going through the various Hilltop stores looking for something which will interest you.

We took our pad and pen and started on the first jaunt on a pretty, fall day just a little before lunch. Therefore, it wasn't a bit strange that we first went to a grocery store. We immediately spied something for those who like macaroons. Chubby Distelhorst has a coconut macaroon mix and an almond macaroon mix to which you just add water and spoon on a cookie sheet, and bake. For a refreshing and delicious drink to have with your macaroons try the Hawaiian Punch mixture. No sugar is necessary—just add water and ice. It seems to be the inexpensive basis of a hundred and one things — jelly, puddings, sundaes, milk shakes, icings, and even in apple pies.

An afternoon lunch of these quickies might well include some of those deliciously fresh, hand-rolled and hand-dipped chocolates which are now obtainable at Georgiton's.

With a last, hungry look we went on to browse where there was nothing to further tempt our growing appetite. Looking at the beautiful jewelry box and music box combinations at the Hilltop Jewelers, we completely forgot our hunger.

As we left the store we were wondering how one of those popular gold pins, of which there was such a fine selection, would be on a dress the color of that beautiful autumn leaf which we had picked up. The colors of the leaf so inspired us that we began to wonder just how we could obtain that same delicate green for the walls in the guest room. Thus pondering, we strolled into Erlenbach's Hardware Store. There we found just the thing for those with an eye for color but no sense of paint proportion. Rite-Hue will help you get the correct color and to keep it—regardless of the number of quarts you mix. Forty different colors are available by adding a bottle of Rite-Hue to the designated amount of white paint. If you're doing your fall painting, first check the various colors possible in the attractive note-book which they have. You'll be thrilled, as we were. And while you have paint brush in hand, why don't you paint that screen or gutter with the new rust neutralizer, Bar-Ox? It will prevent the flaking off of paint and further rusting.

Color for the walls and woodwork and color in the furniture! Delicate shades of the fall leaves or the brilliant hues of summer flowers—any of these can be had in the beautiful new chrome dinette sets in Butler's Furniture Store. We loved the deep padded seats and backs which can be had in any shape, size or color. The table tops are of formica to withstand heat, scratches and rough useage. We were amazed when we found that the legs can be adjusted to take care of that little hump in the corner of the room. One of those cheery sets would certainly rejuvenate that part of the house, especially if helped in its merry color scheme by the clever plastic kitchen helps which the C & S Dime Stores have. There are strainers and funnels to help in canning, refrigerator sets, and darling spice holders which would be equally at home in the living room holding ivy.

For help in keeping this living room clean, we found something very exciting in Robinson's Appliance Shop—a new vacuum cleaner. For those who want a vacuum which really cleans, and does so quietly, they have the new, scientifically proven Leyt cleaner. With powerful suction it will clean the finest of rugs safely and is complete with a set of handy attachments which "really work." Whenever necessary to empty the cleaner, which is only once in four weeks, just lift off the top and pour out the dirt. Because it is light this is no task.

Neither is it a task to simply call Bond Cleaners for a pick-up and delivery cleaning. With their $10,000 worth of new equipment they can clean our garments and bring them back to us without a trace of cleaning odor. And with this the garments are moth-proofed for six months—free.

In all this browsing brief we haven't told you of something new in the make-up line. But we found something excitingly so when we went to the Economy Drug Stores—Max Factor's Pan-Stik. This is a new cream-type make-up in a stick form—easy to apply, light, long-lasting, and so completely different that you will love it. Because it is as convenient to carry in your bag as a lipstick, it is just what the working girls have been wanting.

The last lap of our jaunt for this month left us somewhat in a quandary but realizing that we had found "the new" in the motor world. It is the Vitameter which local service stations are featuring. With our feminine minds we can't understand the workings of this new instrument. 'Tis some sort of gadget which is placed in its own definite place in your car's motor eliminating the knock and giving new "get-up and go" to it.

"If I had my wish I'd take the ———" but we just couldn't decide which of all these exciting new things would come for us; we liked them all. Don't you?

Cancer Interest Lags

Nearly 13 per cent of the present population will die of cancer if present death rates continue, but less than one per cent of the people in the U. S. have joined the American Cancer Society.

A seasonal warning to motorists from the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce: Pedestrian deaths usually rise sharply in September because the period of darkness is growing longer. Watch extra carefully for the walker who is not watching out for himself—especially during the dangerous hours of dusk and darkness.

The State of Ohio Improves My Knowledge

I am indebted to the State of Ohio for sending me two of the state's many recent important printed publications.

One is an 80-page "Anthology of Ohio Verse" published by the Ohio Department of Education. The other is a two color job containing 32 pages entitled, "Opportunities in Civil Service" and issued by the State Civil Service Commission.

A quick survey of the anthology reminds me I should brush up on my iambic pentameter or something:

HBA Will Ask County To Develop McKinley Ave. Parks

It was indicated this week that the Hilltop Business Association and the West Side Board of Trade will take the initiative in circulating petitions addressed to the Franklin County Commissioners asking that body to see that the area immediately adjacent to the new McKinley Avenue thoroughfare west from the new Sandusky-st project be preserved for parks and recreation areas.

The new road project was outlined by County Commissioner George Matson at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Hilltop Business Association at Westgate Methodist Church and the organization voted to instruct the civic committee to confer with the West Side Board of Trade to take immediate action on the matter of circulating petitions.

It was pointed out that this new artery will carry a very large volume of traffic from the north to the west and that this is an opportunity to eliminate many of the eyesores along the route and at the same time provide the city with much valuable park and recreation space.

The county will be urged to control all land owned or leased by it rather than sub-lease it for industrial purposes or dumping grounds.

Rudolph Evjen, executive secretary of the Columbus Community Chest, was the principal speaker at the meeting, pointing to many needs of the chest today and urging support of the movement.

A musical program was presented by five West High girls: Ruth Ansley, Lois Stansel, Martha Brown, Marilyn Ring and Donna Thomas.

Carl Turner spoke on the program of the Hilltop Little Theatre, advising that yearly associate memberships are available at $5 which entitle the holder to admission to the five productions each year.

A nominating committee consisting of Joe Briggs, L. E. Saunders and Curtis Roberts was appointed.

Membership was voted to Broadview Linoleum and Tile Co. and Attorney A. A. Clark.

The annual Halloween Dance will be an event of Tuesday, Oct. 26, at the Columbus Riding Club, Main-st and Fairway-av.

Band Plans Big Show At Central

The Cowboys' celebrated band of 153 pieces, resplendently regaled in their buff and brown uniforms, yellow plumes, gold braid and white spats, will trek to the Pirate stronghold at Washington-blvd and W. Broad-st Friday night, when the Westerners collide with the naughty Pirates.

Prior to the game Charlie Bennett, director of the band, his drum major, two majorettes, four twirlers, and the syncopated band will strut their stuff in a fashion singularly characteristic of West High School.

In collaboration with the Central High band, West will form a huge block "U. S. A." formation during a black-out with red, white and blue lights, implemented by the national anthem played in unison by the two bands of the contending schools, Mr. Bennett said today.

At half time West will open its show with a welcome formation "Hi" and then going into a huge block "C" arrangement. Immediately following, a realistic pirate ship will be formed by the Cowboy musicians, representing the symbol emblamatic of the down-town school; a black-out will be made and the ship illuminated with a crimson red, and one of the major colors of the school will be portrayed under dimmed lights.

The community fund will come in for its share of attention when the Western band will depict the red feather worn by all who contribute; then a dollar mark sign will be observed in a green color.

Wishing luck to the team, the band will then break into a four-leaf clover formation and concurrently play the selection of "Four Leaf Clover" with corresponding green color.

In the final stanza of the show West High will present a singular block "W" formation.

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

The State of Ohio Improves My Knowledge

I am indebted to the State of Ohio for sending me two of the state's many recent important printed publications.

One is an 80-page "Anthology of Ohio Verse" published by the Ohio Department of Education. The other is a two color job containing 32 pages entitled. "Opportunities in Civil Service" and issued by the State Civil Service Commission.

A quick survey of the anthology reminds me I should brush up on my iambic pentameter or something:

MY LITTLE DOG

I had a little dog and his name was Ted,
I put him to rest in a good warm bed;
He soon fell asleep and began to snore,
And awoke the little dog who lived next door.

The anthology is being forwarded to our poetry editor, Esther Weakley, who serves the cause of the poet far better than I could ever do.

And from the Civil Service report perhaps the most important thing I learned was that the chairman has done her duty by having the danged thing printed at a cost of perhaps several thousand dollars, but "in accordance with the requirements of Section 486-7, paragraph 7, of the State Civil Service Laws of Ohio."

Flowers of the Week

This week's Rosebud Floral tribute goes to Dr. Jack Miles, chairman of the committee in charge of bringing the Tuberculosis Society free x-ray service to this community for the past two weeks. Several hundred people availed themselves of this opportunity. If only one person is warned in time to do something about this dread disease the efforts of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club have been well worth while.

Briggsdale Sets Fund Goal of $2500

Briggsdale Methodist Church and Sunday School membership subscribed $1400 toward the $2500 goal for the Improvement Fund last Sunday.

The Fund Drive will enable the members to carry on extensive interior and exterior decorating of the church structure. Daily contributions are being received, according to Rev. J. A. Shirer, pastor of the church.

Rally Day was celebrated Oct. 3, with 167 persons in attendance. Harold Reber is superintendent of the Sunday School.

Uncle Wiggly In Record Comics Weekly

"Howdy folks! It's sure going to be nice to visit you on the comic page of The Hilltop Record each Thursday. Nurse Jane Fuzzy-Wuzzy and all the rest of my animal pals will be running through their capers with me. Don't forget to read all about us!"

In keeping with the Record's policy of presenting a clean-cut comic page for the readers, "Uncle Wiggly," drawn by Howard R. Garis, will take the place of the discontinued "Reg'lar Fellers." It will appear weekly on the comic page.

Dunifon Blasts Record

The Hilltop Record and publisher C. C. Hartley along with Dr. B. F. Lamb, secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches, were severely criticised by Dale Dunifon, director of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, when he addressed the meeting of the Franklin County WCTU convention at the YWCA last Friday.

Hilltoppers attending the meeting report that Dunifon stated he represented the governor and had turned down a recent application for a permit sought by a local restaurant man. He did not provide a satisfactory answer to those present to the question as to why the Liquor Appeals Board should overrule his decision and then grant the permit in the face of stiff opposition from residents of the Hilltop.

Instead, he stated that C. C. Hartley, publisher of the Hilltop Record must be interested in the political welfare of another candidate for governor or else was interested in furthering the cause of some particular permit holder in the community.

When asked if the chairman of the present liquor appeals board was a Herbert appointee, Dunifon agreed he was.

A letter from Dunifon addressed to Hartley and received on Monday is reprinted as follows:

Dear Mr. Hartley:

I would like to present to you some facts pertaining to the operation of the Liquor Control Act in connection with the specific issuance of certain new liquor permits on the Hilltop, Columbus, Ohio.

The Director of Liquor Control was appointed by Governor Thomas J. Herbert, and is a member of the Governor's Cabinet. Under the law he shall serve at the pleasure of the appointing authority.

The Board of Liquor Control consists of four members, no more than two of whom may be of the same political party. They are appointed, under the law, by the Governor of Ohio, and serve for four-year terms.

Two of the present members of the Board of Liquor Control are Democrats, two are Republicans. Two members were appointed by a previous governor, Frank J. Lausche; two were appointed by the present governor, Thomas J. Herbert.

The Director of Liquor Control rejected the applications for new liquor permits in locations on the Hilltop.

The Board of Liquor Control, upon appeal from the decisions of the Director, ordered the permits issued.

Although the ruling of the Board of Liquor Control brought unanimous action, only three members were present on the day of the hearing of the appeal, namely, Walter Mitchell, former Democratic member of the Ohio State Tax Commission, Frank M. Krebs, former Democratic mayor of Dayton, and Simon L. Leis, Republican attorney from Cincinnati.

Very truly yours,
Dale Dunifon

It was pointed out by Hartley this week that the Record had previously agreed with Dunifon's stand and had lauded him for turning down the permit in question but that the community is still entitled to know to whom the liquor appeals board is responsible.

Sewing Machine Tools Needed In YMCA Program

Have you an old sewing machine, power tools, or photographic equipment which is not in use? Averille Thorn, executive secretary of the Hilltop YMCA, states that there is a definite need of these items to help carry out phases of the "Y" program.

A number of girls are eager to start a sewing class but are unable to do so because of lack of equipment. Tools of all description are needed by the boys' groups in their work, and camera equipment can be used by the Camera Club.

If you have any of these items —new or old—which you would like to give to assist in the YMCA program, call JO. 4641. Arrangements will then be made to collect your donation.

Dwight Maxwell, 3 Breaks Leg In Fall

Three-year-old Dwight Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maxwell, 104 S. Highland-av, fell Saturday morning and broke his left leg between the knee and the hip. He was playing with a flower box in a neighbor's yard at the time of the accident.

The child was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital and then taken to Children's Hospital where he will be a patient for about three weeks.

Mrs. Louise Perry, 37 Chase-av, also helps on the committee. The West Senior office is open each day of the week so that patrons may buy their ducats in advance, thus saving time at the ticket gate. Williams attributes much of the credit for the record sellouts to his pretty feminine helpers; he says their smiles and winning ways help boost sales.

Windows Are Broken In Mon. Spree

An epidemic of window breaking broke out on the Hilltop Monday night but may prove to be a short lived junior crime wave since police report apprehending two local boys who answer the description of one person who saw them break a window.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barnhart, 76 S. Wayne-av, report that a piece of concrete weighing about a quarter of a pound was hurled through a front window at their home about 8:30 p. m. Monday. It barely missed Mr. Barnhart's mother, aged 84. A year ago at this same season a window was broken at the Barnhart home when a baseball was thrown into it.

Other incidents reported between 8 and 9 p. m. Monday follow:

Mrs. William Call, 423 Clarendon-av, reports a rock thrown through a kitchen window.

Charles Taylor, 469 S. Eureka-av, reports a piece of concrete thrown through two dining room windows.

Pauline Groves, 115 S. Wayne-av, states some coal was thrown through a side window.

Harold Hughes reported to police that a piece of concrete broke a window in his living room.

John Jones, 322 S. Terrace-av, had a front window broken by a rock.

A tomato was used to break a window at the home of Harry Alexander, 3055 Parkside-dr.

Wolfe Resigns Rea Bow Job

George W. Wolfe, president of the Rea-Bow Improvement Association, has resigned as head of that organization, effective at the Nov. 2 meeting. Mrs. George W. Wolfe will resign as secretary to the treasurer at the same time. Mr. Wolfe will cease to edit the "Rea-Bow News" sheet, put out in the community once a week.

Planck, Hurd, Austin To Attend Convention

Next regular meeting of Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion, will be held Friday, Oct. 15, at 8:15 p. m., at post headquarters. The new commander, Dewey Stout, will preside at the meeting.

Past Commanders Ed. Planck, Jim Hurd and Mike Austin will attend the national convention of the Legion at Miami, Fla., Oct. 17 to 21. Austin is one of the delegates from the 12th District.

Past Commander Fiscus reports 302 members paid up for 1949, which is a new high at installation time.

Mario Smith, second vice-commander, has announced open house for Legionnaires and their friends each Saturday afternoon and evening. The club rooms, which have been completely renovated and are being improved, will be open at 1:30 p. m.

Johnny Jones To Speak At Hillcrest

Johnny Jones, columnist for the Columbus Dispatch will be the speaker at the meeting of Hillcrest Community Brotherhood at Hillcrest Baptist Church, Tuesday, Oct. 19, at 6:30 p. m. He will tell of his recent trip to the Olympics. Anyone desiring a reservation for the meeting should call Harold Cunningham, FR. 8-8439, by Monday.

Don't Have To Agree With The Editor Says Tharp

"The American Press sets aside a place for opinion—the editorial page. Here the editor expresses his opinion and you don't have to agree with him." This statement was made by Melvin E. Tharp, assistant promotion manager for the Columbus Dispatch, who spoke to the Hilltop Kiwanis Club last Thursday noon on "Do We Appreciate Freedom of the Press?" in keeping with [illegible] Newspaper Week.

Tharp, who recently returned from Yunan province in China, spoke of the superstitions, diseases and corruption there. He declared that an intelligent, pioneering and aggressive press could have stopped these things.

About America's control of disease, low percentage of graft, etc., he said "The record is good all down the line and I'm going to tell you why. It's because our forefathers placed in our hands the greatest instrument a free people can ever hope to have—a FREE American Press."

Today at noon local Kiwanians will hold election of officers.

Who Controls The Control Board?

An Editorial

The forces of politics are at work and those who hold state jobs or are high up in the Republican party have been busy in the past week to set The Hilltop Record and its publisher right. They are strong in their defense of Governor Tom Herbert and we claim they aren't doing right by the gentleman. He should not be criticised they claim.

Last week-end speaking before a meeting of the city WCTU the director of the State of Ohio Department of Liquor Control had been invited to inform those present of the workings of the Department of Liquor Control and the Board of Liquor Control. Just like ourselves, these people wanted to know just how it is that the director can turn down a permit and then over the heads of severe protest from a community of respectable citizens the Board of Liquor Control goes ahead and reverses the decision and in a rude manner at that.

This question was not answered by the director but instead he used his time to tell those present that the publisher of The Hilltop Record was either playing politics or interested in someone else's liquor permit. He also took the opportunity to be critical of Dr. B. F. Lamb, head of the Ohio Council of Churches.

Monday morning we received a personal letter from the director which is printed in a news story on this page. We have had no argument with the director and we have already said in a previous editorial that he was to be complimented on turning thumbs down on the permit in question when the Hilltop delegation protested the granting of it. But in the director's accompanying letter in defense of the governor (election is just 19 days away) he still hasn't told us what Hilltoppers want to know? If we are not right in directing this matter to the attention of the governor then to whom are these members of the Board of Liquor Control responsible? And too, just what is the administration going to do about granting further liquor permits in this community in the future?

In view of failure to answer these questions we are still of the opinion that Hilltoppers who have the best interests of their community at heart will do well to register a protest against this kind of government and the expansion of the liquor business in the state by voting against Governor Herbert on Nov. 2.

Mack Sauer To Speak At Grid Banquet

Mack Sauer, publisher of the Leesburg Citizen, a nationally known humorist, will be the guest speaker at the annual West High football banquet, sponsored by the Hilltop Business Association, on Nov. 16.

Tickets, at $2 per person, are now on sale from any of the following arrangement committee members: Joseph Briggs, Edgar Planck, Paul Leghninger, Herbert Deems, C. Carlton Hartley, Bill Southworth, Harold Fox, Bud Woehrle, Jerry Spears, Jr., Harold Green, Ira Claggett and John Hardy. They are also available at West High.

HBA Will Ask County To Develop McKinley Ave. Parks

It was indicated this week that the Hilltop Business Association and the West Side Board of Trade will take the initiative in circulating petitions addressed to the Franklin County Commissioners asking that body to see that the area immediately adjacent to the new McKinley Avenue thoroughfare west from the new Sandusky-st project be preserved for parks and recreation areas.

The new road project was outlined by County Commissioner George Matson at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Hilltop Business Association at Westgate Methodist Church and the organization voted to instruct the civic committee to confer with the West Side Board of Trade to take immediate action on the matter of circulating petitions.

It was pointed out that this new artery will carry a very large volume of traffic from the north to the west and that this is an opportunity to eliminate many of the eyesores along the route and at the same time provide the city with much valuable park and recreation space.

The county will be urged to control all land owned or leased by it rather than sub-lease it for industrial purposes or dumping grounds.

Rudolph Evjen, executive secretary of the Columbus Community Chest, was the principal speaker at the meeting, pointing to many needs of the chest today and urging support of the movement.

A musical program was presented by five West High girls: Ruth Ansley, Lois Stansel, Martha Brown, Marilyn Ring and Donna Thomas.

Carl Turner spoke on the program of the Hilltop Little Theatre, advising that yearly associate memberships are available at $5 which entitle the holder to admission to the five productions each year.

A nominating committee consisting of Joe Briggs, L. E. Saunders and Curtis Roberts was appointed.

Membership was voted to Broadview Linoleum and Tile Co. and Attorney A. A. Clark.

The annual Halloween Dance will be an event of Tuesday, Oct. 26, at the Columbus Riding Club, Main-st and Fairway-av.

Committeemen Henry A. Koontz and George A Sinclair, co-chairmen of the rally, are being assisted with the plans by Agnes Cain, Leo Uridil, Joseph Enright and Josephine Allen.

Frank H. Kearns of Columbus City Council, who is a candidate for the office of prosecuting attorney for Franklin County, will be the principal speaker. In addition, all state, county, and judicial candidates will be introduced.

Entertainment will be furnished by the Ralph J. Paul "Singing Sheriffs," who bill themselves as the "1000 Pounds of Harmony;" and by Judge Rodney Ross' old time German band.

Tribute Paid To Norton Benton

The following tribute to Norton Benton, former Hilltopper was printed in the Daily Evening Item of Lynn, Mass., last week.

"News of the sudden death last night of Norton B. Benton, youthful, efficient and popular executive secretary of the Greater Lynn Community Fund Association, in the midst of his preparations for the launching of this year's fund drive, stunned the thousands of Greater Lynn residents with whom he had come in professional and personal contact in his brief tenure here.

"A serious young man, wrapped up in his work and tireless in his application to the solution of the manifold problems which his position entailed, Mr. Benton literally gave his life to the cause closest to his heart. A virus infection, which under other circumstances he might easily have conquered, proved too strong for his fatigued condition to overcome, and death came with appalling and dismaying swiftness.

"Lynn has lost an able executive who had a brilliant future before him. The poor, the needy, the young, the handicapped and the underprivileged had in him a knowing and understanding friend. Executives of the agencies embraced in the Community Fund Association had the utmost confidence in his ability and judgement."

West High In Fortieth Year

Forty years ago this fall West High School, now Hilltop's most important industry, had its inception on Central-av in the present Starling Junior High building.

Much water has "gone over the dam—including the 1913 flood that harassed the West High students in that day.

In observation of this momentous occasion, affecting the lives of thousands of West High and Hilltop lives, The Hilltop Record takes pride in recording the achievements of a glorious era in secondary education.

We shall devote a 16-page tabloid edition, come Nov. 4, heralding the story of 40 years at West High School.

Cooperation of the public in submitting pictures, anecdotes or documents dealing with the story of the Hilltop school will be appreciated.

Any suggestions or copy should be addressed to Myron T. Seifert, 46 S. Westgate-av, RA. 7271, or in care of The Hilltop Record.

Band Plans Big Show At Central

The Cowboys' celebrated band of 153 pieces, resplendently regaled in their buff and brown uniforms, yellow plumes, gold braid and white spats, will trek to the Pirate stronghold at Washington-blvd and W. Broad-st Friday night, when the Westerners collide with the naughty Pirates.

Prior to the game Charlie Bennett, director of the band, his drum major, two majorettes, four twirlers, and the syncopated band will strut their stuff in a routine singularly characteristic of West High School.

In collaboration with the Central High band, West will form a huge block "U. S. A." formation during a black-out with red, white and blue lights, implemented by the national anthem played in unison by the two bands of the contending schools, Mr. Bennett said today.

At half time West will open its show with a welcome formation "Hi" and then going into a huge block "C" arrangement. Immediately following the "Hi Central" salutation, a realistic pirate ship will be formed by the Cowboy musicians, representing the symbol emblamatic of the down-town school; a black-out will be made and the ship illuminated with a crimson red, and one of the major colors of the school will be portrayed under dimmed lights.

The community fund will come in for its share of attention when the Western band will depict the red feather worn by all who contribute; then a dollar mark sign will be observed in a green color.

Wishing luck to the team, the band will then break into a four-leaf clover formation and concurrently play the selection of "Four Leaf Clover" with corresponding green color.

In the final stanza of the show West High will present a singular block "W" formation.

THE NEW MR. AND MRS. SPANGLER — Miss Normalee Worthington became the bride of Mr. David Spangler, on Sept. 4, in the rectory of the St. Aloysius Church. They now reside at 248 N. Ogden-av.

The rectory of St. Aloysius Church was the setting on Sept. 4 for the double ring ceremony which united in marriage Miss Normalee Worthington and Mr. David Joseph Spangler, Father George F. Schorr, assistant pastor of the church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony, which was read at 2:30 p. m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Worthington, 248 N. Ogden-av, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Spangler of Portsmouth, O.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a shimmering ice-blue, street-length satin gown. It featured a V-neckline, long sleeves which came to points over the wrists, and a flared tunic which fell softly over the circular skirt. She wore an open-crowned bonnet which held her shoulder length veil of illusion, and carried a bridal bouquet of magenta rosebuds and white carnations, with a white orchid as the centerpiece. Her rhinestone choker was a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Harriet Worthington was her sister's only attendant. Her gown was of champagne satin and was styled similarly to that of the bride, except for its bracelet-length sleeves. She carried Talisman roses and bronze mums, and also wore an open-crowned bonnet. Her gold choker was a gift from the bride.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Mr. Michael Spangler, as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Worthington chose an emerald green dress and black accessories, with which she wore a corsage of yellow baby mums. Mrs. Spangler wore a dress of grey and white with black accessories and a corsage of white mums.

A reception for 100 guests followed the service, at the home of the bride's parents. Assisting hostesses were Miss Joan Steen, Miss Ruth Bomgarner and Miss Jean Walters.

A graduate of West High School, the bride is now a senior in the school of nursing at Ohio State University. Mr. Spangler is a graduate of Denison University, and is a senior in the college of medicine at OSU, where he is a member of the Phi Chi Medical Fraternity.

For their 10-day trip through southern Ohio and West Virginia, the new Mrs. Spangler changed to a kelly-green silk dress with matching accessories. She pinned the orchid from her bridal bouquet at her shoulder.

The couple is now at home at 248 N. Ogden-av.

Ticklers — By George

"He won't be so crazy about changing the world when he gets a few years older and packs a bay window."

New Neighbors League Has Job Of Making New Families At Home In City

If you are new, if you are lonely, if you are anxious to meet people of Columbus; the New Neighbor League will care for you. From a source unknown even to members of the League, the names and addresses of new Columbusites are given to the hostess, Mrs. F. A. Jettinghoff of Crestview-rd.

Ladies whose names appear upon that list will soon receive visitors at their new home—visitors who come for the purpose of making the newcomer happily acquainted with the city. They help Mrs. Newcomer to locate the churches, schools and clubs in which she is interested. To assist her further they give to her a booklet which gives much general information concerning the city. In addition there is a map and gifts from merchants who sponsor the club.

Perhaps all of this information is given in a few minutes if Mrs. Newcomer is very busy arranging her new home. But if she is lonely and possibly even then longing for her former friends, they remain for a pleasant social visit showing her that the people of Columbus are anxious to be her friends. Members of the league do not here consider their work done. With a winning smile, they give to the new Columbusite an invitation to become a member of the league.

Mrs. Newcomer then eagerly awaits the first meeting of the league. Finally the Tuesday arrives. There at the regular gathering place, the Deshler-Wallick Hotel, are other newcomers—coming from all places in the United States and even foreign countries to make new homes in the various parts of Columbus. At these meetings members of the group act as hostess. At the meeting Sept. 21, Mrs. John Beall, 274 S. Sylvan-av, was hostess.

Although primarily an afternoon luncheon-bridge meeting, the group sponsors parties to which husbands are invited. The friendships gained by Mrs. Newcomer at the afternoon meetings thus come to include the husband—and many happy couples-friendships are the result, as two families become close friends through the never-tiring efforts of the New Neighbors League.

MOTHER FEELS A DRAFT

What a nuisance, what a bore—
Pajamas left upon the floor,
A collar here, a necktie there,
A slipper underneath a chair,
Magazines, a pipe, a book,
Clutter everywhere I look.
Disorder is your middle name,
And Mother doubtless is to blame.

However, son, the army'll do
A multitude of things for you.
Gone the comforting morning doze,
Up the minute the bugle blows,
Quarters orderly, bed just so,
Everything in an even row.

Boy, how wonderful when you come
Straight from under the sergeant's thumb!

Fleming's Band Plays For Dance At Homecoming

Saturday evening, Oct. 23, the night after the West High Homecoming Game, a Homecoming Dance will be held in the school gym from 9 till 12 p. m. Bill Fleming's dance band has been engaged to play for the affair.

An alumni membership will admit members of the club to both the game and the dance. The memberships are on sale at the senior high office, or will be delivered by calling George Hardy, Ga. 7528.

The starting eleven of last year's West Championship Team is asked to contact Mr. Hardy at once. Tentative plans call for presenting these boys at the Oct. 23 game.

New officers will be chosen for the alumni group the night of the dance. Any graduate is eligible to be a candidate for an office.

"THAT'S Y"

"Y" Shore Nuff!, it's us again, back with news and notes from around the YMCA.

Seen at the "Street Dance" were Shirley Krull's bright red sweater flashing around here and there; "Skip" and Margret making hot dogs, a booming business; and a bottle of liniment should be awarded the boys who helped with the piano moving.

Question — Who was keeping who warm? Crego or the wieners?

Thanks to the boys who furnished the music Saturday afternoon while the work was being done: Andy Granley, piano, Paul Thompson, sax, Tom Heyl, bass, Roger Geist, trombone, and Ron Boothe, drums.

We wish to extend our thanks to all who participated in making the dance a success, and hope that all future activities are attended with such enthusiasm.

The new West Senior Hi-Y officers are Dick Hurt, president; Louis Wolfe, vice-president and chaplain; Bill McCrady, secretary and treasurer; Dick Lemkull, program chairman; Bill Clarkin, membership chairman, and Robin Schmit, sergeant-at-arms.

Well, that's all for this week but we'll be back next week, just like the "bad penny"»

Coach Lehman Is Passing Out Cigars

Coach Orrie Lehman, physical education director at West High School, is passing out cigars and Hershey bars this week among his friends in honor of the "new stranger" who made his appearance Sunday, October 10, before midnight.

He is a potential football threat to all future athletes, who loom as contenders against West High —believe us!

He answers to the moniker, "Robert David"!

Assembly Program Committee Named

A faculty assembly program committee was appointed this week at West High School by Principal I. F. Young for the purpose of planning worthwhile school assembly programs this year for West High students.

Those named include: Miss Blanche Kern, vice principal; Mrs. Edith White, vocal director; Mrs. Evelyn Hall, in charge of stage crew; and Calvin Parks, physics instructor.

Newark X-Country Victorious 26-29

West Cowboys lost a 26-29 decision to Newark in a cross-country meet at Newark, Oct. 7.

Redenbaugh led the Wildcat victory with 10:54 and second place. West's two-milers were paced by Bill Van Atta and Ronnie Coup, who placed first and second respectively. Van Atta's time was a fast 10:48 while Coup ran the distance in 11:02.

The Cowboys own a one and one record, having won from Worthington the week before.

Today they travel to Mansfield to meet Mansfield High School.

BIBLE COMMENT
FOR OCT. 17

A Deeper Respect Of Law Needed to Fulfill Its Purpose

"O HOW I love Thy law," declares the Psalmist in Psalm 119:97.

It would be a remarkable statement, if it were found anywhere else but in the Bible, and on the part of anyone but a devout Israelite. The good citizen, in the most law-abiding community, may have respect for the law. He may obey it scrupulously, or resist it, if he feels any of its provisions to be unjust. But he hardly feels any affection for it.

Why, then, did the devout Israelite profess such a deep and intense affection for the law?

It was because "the law" to the devout Israelite represented the perfect ideal of individual character and of the relations of men to one another. It was the law of God, the expression of God's will, inviting the deepest and highest thoughts and meditations of the sincere, and full of wondrous things (Psalm 119:18).

It was the tragedy of Israel that the law, which to the noblest and the devout was concentrated in the purpose to love God with all the heart, soul, mind, and strength, became corrupted into a multiplicity of rites and observances that had lost any real moral value.

All law, whether of God or of man, is subject to such degradation. Men interpret and pervert the laws of God to their own ends, presuming to attach divine sanction to their own purposes and enactments. The law that ought to be the bulwark of freedom, for the maintenance of human rights and the defense against wrongs, in the hands of dictators and usurpers of power, becomes an instrument of oppression.

The laws of man may fall far short of the law of God as the perfect ideal, but insofar as they represent order, security and protection, we need an increasing vision of what law can be and ought to be. We need a deeper respect for law in fulfilling its purpose.

And insofar as law is a fundamental instrument of democracy, perhaps we need a love of the law, akin to that of the devout Hebrew.

Picture Book Book Of Life Seen With Hands

"A picture book of life to be seen with the hands". Such a museum has been the dream of Kenneth V. Clark, 619 Hilltonia-av, for 27 years.

Three years ago after interesting A. R. Schwartz, director of Monett House, 221 E. Mound-st, in the idea, Clark started such a museum at the Monett House in a room dedicated to the war blind veterans of Franklin County. Although still in the embryo stage, the museum already contains objects which help the sightless to "see" the things which have a place in their lives.

Whenever possible the article itself is used. "But we can't have the Empire State Building or the Golden Gate Bridge, so we have to use models for them," said Clark. Models may be toy banks, hand-made models, or book-ends in scale, if possible, with the actual article.

Pictures in the museum are raised plaques. Clark hopes to expand the exhibit with many additional objects, models, and articles giving the development of common things, such as pencils and lights.

Clark, who has been blind since birth is married and has a daughter living in Panama. He attended Ohio State University, graduating in 1927 with an English major. Later he returned for post graduate work in that field. He is now employed as a dictaphone operator in the State Department of Welfare.

Loew's Ohio

Loew's Ohio this week is showing the latest Alan Ladd feature, "Beyond Glory," with Donna Reed as Ladd's beautiful co-star. Ladd is cast as a World War II hero who enters West Point and falls in love with the widow of the man he believes he had killed. Co-feature is "The Creeper."

Loew's Broad

Loew's Broad, starting Saturday, Oct. 16, is showing the second Jean Peters starring feature, "Deep Waters," in which Jean, chosen Miss Ohio State two years ago, is cast as co-star of Dana Andrews. She plays a welfare worker whose love for Andrews prompts her to get him to leave the sea. Co-feature is "Take My Life." Much of "Deep Waters" was filmed in a fishing village on Vinalhaven Island off the Maine coast.

Homesteading In Alaska Is Fun Couple Reports

Howard and Maxine Led, a young couple who recently visited with Mr. and Mrs. Mose Williams and other Hilltoppers, set out a few months ago to get their start in the world by taking up a homestead project in Alaska.

That it is a lot of fun and an experience they will never forget is conveyed in a letter received recently but dated Aug. 20.

"The first year is the hardest and most expensive . . . gardens won't grow until the soil has been made fallow . . . only a fool would kill game during the summer because that is the breeding season . . . This fall we will kill and can moose, spruce hen, salmon, etc. . . . A small fortune could be made by canning cranberries for export . . . We live luxurlously here—in a quonset hut. Only have one baby, have two chairs, two chests and a bed.

"Three drunk Eskimos came in the other night. They stood in line an introduced themselves. They grabbed my hand, saying, 'me Pete, very happ, to meet you. First time I've been out here. Very happy to meet you. Never see you before. Very happy to meet you.' Then George grabbed my hand and went through the same rcutine. About 10 minutes after they had gone the door burst open and Pete fell in, 'Me Pete, very glad to meet you. Thank you very much, Goodbye'."

Burgess Choir Plans Reunion

Willian Vieck, Chief of the Department of Vital Statistics of the State of Ohio, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be "Past and Present Procedures Involving Birth Certificates from State and National Aspects."

MUM SHOW OPENS—Claribel Edwards, 785 S. Terrace-av, is pictured above as she planted mums on the lawn of the City Hall grounds. She is a clerk in the Division of Water.

When You See City Hall "Mum" Show Think Of Hilltopper Leo McCombs

Leo McCombs, proprietor of Rosebud Floral, 351 N. Burgess-av, is probably doing more to popularize the propagation and growth of the chrysanthemum flower than any single individual in Columbus.

It was through Mr. McCombs' efforts, along with a number of local florists, that the annual flower show at City Hall, now an institution in Columbus, was founded and perpetuated.

Not only is Columbus the "football capital" of the nation but soon, if Mr. McCombs has his way, Columbus will be the football flower city of the universe.

"The day is not far distant," said Mr. McCombs, "when every family in Columbus will grow 'mums'."

"What tulips are to Holland, Mich., chrysanthemums will bespeak a friendly, beautiful, florid Columbus," Mr. McCombs said.

People trek from all parts of the nation to view the variegated colors and varieties of flowers on exhibit this week at City Hall and its environs. It is an especial haven for photographers and movie fans.

Jack Benny has nothing on Columbus. We have "Town Hall Tonight" with all of the color and show and Leo McCombs has helped make it thus.

Already this week the City Hall lawn boasts of huge Hilltop-grown "mums" developed through the interest and by care of the plants grown by Mr. McCombs.

This year the exclusive Rosebud bed of gorgecus "mums" at City Hall are all new varieties. In fact, so new that, as yet, they have not been named. Four-inch blooms of rare deep pinks and reds are displayed in the plot. All are early bloomers, and those at City Hall this week are in "luscious" full bloom—almost tasty enough, to eat," one observer noted.

To stimulate public interest in these novel "mums", new to Columbus and the country, and to find names for the new flowers, Mr. McCombs has asked and authorized Mayor Jim Rhodes to conduct a contest for City Hall flower show visitors in selection of appropriate names for the newcomers in floraldom.

Uniform paper forms will be provided for the public, who view the Rosebud "mums" at City Hall, and names of the mystery flowers will be submitted together with the person's name and address, and deposited in a box provided for this purpose.

Winners of the contest will receive huge "mums" from the Rosebud City Hall bed.

Not only is Rosebud locally known, but its reputation is national. Mr. McCombs ships his "mums" to every wholesale nursery in the United States.

His first efforts were started at W. Broad-st and Brinker-av some years ago. These flowers attracted much attention, especially from tourists who traveled the national road.

West High School is but one example where his generosity has made it the "School Beautiful"

High in his praise of Clarence Bateman and E. C. Reed, West faculty members, for supervising the landscaping and care of the plants, Mr. McCombs added that the boys who participated in the project gained much practical experience in planting and caring for the precious flowers.

"Mums" on every hand at West High School bespeak a beautiful and friendly atmosphere. Red and white "mums," junior high school colors, appear at the south of the building, and buff and brown in the north quarters where the senior high meets. Also their beauty bedecks all parts of Magly Field.

Seek Sewers For Dublin Road

Owners of property which borders on Dublin Road from the City Water Works to Urlin-av (Grandview Inn), and from the Pennsylvania Railroad to the Scioto River, now have the opportunity to get sanitary sewers by signing a petition that has been prepared by Grover F. Clements, County Sanitary Engineer, and is being circulated by F. R. McClain, 241 Letchworth-av, who is a property owner in this locality.

Two large firms, Coca Cola and Sears Roebuck, recognized the value of locating in this section and have already paid for the installation of sanitary sewers to their property, which brings the sewer right to the doorstep of this community.

McClain is trying to contact each property owner to offer them the opportunity to express their desire for community improvement by signing this petition.

Community Chest To Hold Report Meeting

The twenty-sixth annual Community Chest campaign got under way Tuesday at noon. The West Residential district has a goal of $5429. First reports of the progress of the drive will be made at a meeting in the Southern Hotel tomorrow at noon Soliciting will continue through Oct. 27.

A pre - campaign instruction meeting for all workers in this section was held at the Hilltop YMCA Friday at 1:30 p. m.

At that time supplies and worker kits were alloted the workers by Mrs. Alice Jacobs, secretary of all residential districts for the city. Mrs. Benjamin Knepper, 2693 W. Broad-st, explained the usage of the kits to the group.

A skit, "Mrs. Cannon Rings the Bell," was presented by the Village Players. The playlet was designed to point out the proper approach for the women to use when calling at local residences.

Earl Morris, Columbus attorney, was the principal speaker at Friday's meeting. Also presented were Mrs. Robert Lazarus and Rudolph Evjen, executive secretary of the Council of Social Agencies.

Mrs. C. O. Cramer, 188 S. Westmoor-av, is chairman for the West Residential sector.

Many Students Practice Teaching At West High

Those new faces you see in the West High School corridors, and in class-rooms are probably collegians who hope to qualify as pedagogues some day.

For the most part they are seniors, either from Ohio State or Capital University, who find it necessary, in order to qualify for a teaching position, must first of all be apprenticed to a regularly employed teacher in the public schools daily for approximately three months.

Teachers from these two schools come highly recommended from their respective department heads, and gain much practical and valuable supervision during their tenure at West High.

Irwin F. Young, principal, announced today the new practice-teacher assignments, including the name, time and supervising teacher.

The list is as follows: Harold E Carson, in Industrial Arts with H. G. Trout; Robert W. May Be Hard Pressed To Defend Win Record On Central High Field

Undefeated in two league outings and two non-league games this season, the West High Cowboys will engage the Central Pirates tomorrow night on the downtown gridiron.

In view of their unimpressive play during the last two contests, the Hilltoppers may be hard pressed to protect an undefeated record of 15 games. The series of games is marred only by one tie—that at the hands of Upper Arlington by a 13 to 13 count. This game was followed by 6 to 0 victories over East and South on following weeks.

The Cowboys had to rely on a pass interception and subsequent run of 85 yards to rack up their lone tally against the lowly Bulldogs last week. That performance was turned in early in the second period by Dick Culbertson, who snatched the aerial near the center of the field and on his own 35-yard stripe. Cutting to his right, he straight-armed and-sidestepped would-be South tacklers as he raced down the sideline for the touchdown. The try for extra point was just a couple of feet wide.

While Coach Mack Pemberton's boys were able to pile up eight first downs to three for the Bulldogs, the host team put up a stubborn defense that always stopped the Hilltoppers short of pay dirt. About the only other bright spot in the contest as far as West was concerned was Don Speakman's catch of Paul Theisen's 19-yard toss when he leaped into the air and snagged the pass from between two South defensive men. Gene Brown and Danny Miles seemed willing to break loose at any moment but the Cowboy line was just not opening up long enough to permit long runs.

In light of South's record of 30-some odd consecutive losses, the results of Friday night's encounter bordered on a moral victory for the Bulldogs but it still leaves West in the undefeated column in two games played in the City League.

Bob Bass, of South, gave the Hilltoppers trouble on several occasions when he seemed to be off and runing but he was never able to get far beyond the West secondary. Winebar and Silcott tossed pases all over the field but their percentage of completions was not impressive.

After having one punt blocked in the first half when the line failed to hold, Charley Frasher got off a nice boot in the fourth canto that went from his own 30 to about the South 20.

West threatened twice in the second period following the touchdown but both attempts bogged down in the vicinity of the Bulldog 20. On one try the Cowboys went to the 20, only to be set back to the 45 by a clipping penalty. A few minutes later came Speakman's ctach of Theisen's 19-yard pass. Miles went to the 17-yard stripe but the Bulldog wall held and Lewis intercepted another Theisen aerial just as the half ended.

The West team arrived at the stadium only 10 minutes before game time after the bus in which they were to have been transported failed to run. At the last minute the players and coaches were oiled into cars and taken to South High.

Winnestaffer Hits 584

Sarah Winnestaffer stole the spotlight from the men this week. Sarah put together games of 209, 202 and 173 for a 584 total. Mrs. Winnestaffer was toiling in the Number 4 spot on Seiller's Department Store in the Thursday evening Hilltop Ladies' League. Seiller's had the high single game of the evening, 842, while Warden Drugs paced by Ina Crane's 215, 512 and Billie Warden's 517 had high team totals of 2395.

Dick Ardle

On the male side of the alley, Howard Bruckeimeyer and Paul Kauderer were the only ones to dent the 600 mark. Howard was bowling anchor on the Friday Nighters Lewis and Noon Coal Co. team and had games of 160, 212 and 235 for 607. Paul was rolling in the Number 4 spot on Schroeck's in the Recreation League. He had games of 211, 208 and 186 for a 602 mark. Schroeck's also had team honors of 963, 2810 for the evening. Paul was also high in the Tuesday Nighters League with 179, 206, 214—599, but had to relinquish the honor to Al Shade of Home Bakery, with 569 because he was subbing for the evening.

Chuck Worthington was high Monday night when he hit for 223-592 while bowling anchor on the Shroyer Funeral Home team. He then came back on Friday night to gain top honors of 212-556 while rolling for the Maier Brothers Meat team.

Tom Wolfe paced the Business Men last Thursday night when he rolled games of 221-182 and 180 for 588. He was also rolling in the Number 4 spot, which seemed to be a lucky spot last week, for Fox Food Shop.

Evan "Doc" Morgan paced his Wilson Floors team to a two game victory over Hirsch and Hirsch Insurance with games of 204, 178 and 211 for a 593 total.

Seiller's continued their fine showing by winning all three games from Columbus Plastics to give them a 14 and 2 record.

Marge Liston led her Tanners Figure Control team with 192, 509 in the Wednesday Night Friendship League.

Tuesday night found Boots Hessinger of the Althen's team topping the individuals with 190-492. Helen Conroy's 401 and Ceil Wihl's 174 paced the St. Aloysius PTA while Eddie Harold led the Teen Age Boys' League with 221-553.

Y Cage Loop Is Organized

A basketball league for boys 17 years old and under and another for boys 14 years old and under will be organized by the Hilltop YMCA following a meeting Monday evening of representatives of local churches and the Hilltop Parents' Association.

Very nominal entrance fees will be charged so as not to eliminate any group of boys who might want to enter but are unable to pay a larger fee.

Any organization that would like to enter a team or any group of boys wanting to enter a team should contact Averille Thorn, "Y" secretary, at the Hilltop YMCA for entry blanks and further information. All entries must be in the "Y" office by Nov. 1.

Ohio Highways Have One Fourth Of Nation's Covered Bridges

Covered wooden bridges, beloved by artists and enthusiasts for the romance of the past, are more numerous in Ohio than in any other state of the Union. Despite the inroads of steel and concrete bridges, Ohio still has more than 500 covered bridges, or approximately one-fourth of all in the U. S., according to the Ohio Development and Publicity Commission.

A single county in central Ohio, is the "champion covered bridge county" of the United States.

Fairfield County, of which Lancaster is the seat, has 47 covered bridges. Lancaster is 30 miles southeast of Columbus, at the intersection of U. S. highways Nos. 35 and 22. The coveredbridges are not on main highways. However, they are on good roads within easy driving distance of Lancaster. Liberty Township alone has 13 standing bridges.

Covered Bridge Topics, published at Anderson, Indiana, lists Fairfield County's bridges as compiled by Leon E. Wolford, the county engineer, and Lewis K. Cook and John A. Diehl, bridge historians.

Largest of all the bridges is the State Dam bridge, span 157 feet 6 inches, over Walnut Creek in Jefferson Township. This bridge, built in 1894, is a Burr KA (Kingpost with arch) truss.

In all, ten different types of trusses are found in Fairfield county covered bridges. The Burr truss is the leading form of structure, but there are several Smith and Home trusses, and one suspension bridge. Other variations include skew construction, overhanging portals, and canopies on one or both sides.

Under the heading "Ohio Still Awaits Deserved Recognition" Covered Bridge Topics piles praise on Ohio as a happy hunting ground for lovers of covered bridges.

Residents of the Buckeye state have "long taken their legions of covered bridges for granted" chide the editors.

Ohio must have been a covered bridge paradise. If records may be accepted, Ohio appears to have been the home of more bridge builders than any other state in the Middle West. Since the builders were warmly competitive the quality of work they produced was outstanding.

A visit to the byways of Ohio brings the covered bridge enthusiast face to face with some of the finest examples of bridge timber framing to be found anywhere. By the time bridges were being bulit in appreciable numbers in Ohio, builders had eliminated much of the erroneous theory and useless folderol. The structures grew more and more functional, the lines were cleaner, the trusses hewed to accepted principles best determined by the trials and errors of earlier builders.

Managed by Joe Case, the Diamond Milk team is composed of several boys who gained athletic fame at West High School.

The new members of the team are Jack Thrush, Donn "Shug" Haines, Ray Grabill, Dick Hall, "Dutch" Thum, Joe Case, Bill Link, Jack Lavelle and Joe Davis.

Wanted—A Substitute Father

According to the latest figures available, approximately 4000 boys in Columbus are without fathers—for one reason or another, 4000 boys are in the unfortunate position of not having a "Pop" to lean on, to ask questions of, to depend on.

Columbus, like many other cities throughout the country, is fortunate in having an organization that is trying to alleviate the condition—the Big Brothers Association, a Red Feather Service of the Community Chest.

The Big Brothers, as the name implies, try to be a big brother to one or more of these boys—someone the boys can turn to, a friend who can help with problems beyond mother's ken.

The urgent need in Columbus today is for men who will assume this responsibility—men who can and will devote a portion of their spare time to this great effort.

The Columbus association numbers 150 men who are part-time "fathers" to a like amount of boys—a far cry from the 1000 that are needed.

Many of these boys are your next door neighbors on the Hilltop—boys who need you as a friend and Big Brother as well as a neighbor.

Look back a few years to your boyhood and your associations with your Dad—think what it meant to you.

The Columbus Big Brothers Association would, without a doubt, welcome your assistance in its great effort.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Your editorial entitled "Split Your Ticket Nov. 2" was printed Oct. 7, 1948. You state in that editorial that you believe a former Governor is better qualified for the job than the present holder of the office. You do not state your reasons. You leave the impression that the members of the Board of Liquor Control are all Republicans or at least that they are controlled by Republicans. The Liquor Act, which created the Board, states that it is to consist of four members, not more than two of whom shall be of the same political party. You apparently disfavor a ruling of this board which reversed a ruling of the Director of the same Department. Although it is bi-partisan and independent, you blame the Governor. Regardless who is Governor, the Board is an independent body. It is the Board which hears and determines all appeals. Also, the Board holds four public hearings annually. If you have complaints or suggestions, that is the time and place for them.

Your letter, regardless of merit, was misdirected.

Very truly yours,
James F. Merkel

Football At West High Reaches "Big Time" As Attendance Soars

There was a time in the annals of West High when several hundred spectators in attendance at a football game was "tops" in any language.

Today, however, that picture has changed. Came football in 1947 and Magly field overnight was in the "big time," with thousands of ardent fans in attendance at every home game.

So with larger crowds and an athletic plant, second to none, West High School shouldered the responsibilities of staging a show, clean and respectable, of which the Hilltop can be proud.

It is no small job to manage an institution whose gross income for one half dozen night football games "Ain't hay." Expenses for the games amount to a substantial figure allowing a net of less than what the general public might suppose.

More than thirty employees "man" the nocturnal activities on Magly field, including 20 teachers, ten policemen, and one-half dozen janitors. Two men in particular carry on the business angle at the fall athletic contests that are held autumnly during the school year. These are faculty manager and treasurer of the athletic department, George Williams, and Wayne House, over all, school treasurer.

Upon the shoulders of Mr. Williams rests the responsibility of providing the necessary equipment needed at the six admittance gates on evenings of the games. This involves providing admittance passes, change, and passes to the ticket takers; issuing rolls of tickets to the ticket sellers; placing tables, chairs, and depositories, and ticket stubs at the strategic positions of admittance.

Other miscellanous duties include receiving money following the games from the ticket sellers, checking their respective reports and accounting for the money of ticket sellers; figuring federal taxes, revenue due the city of Columbus and balancing the books. Another chore is to pay all expenses necessary to the operation of the games contingent upon the approval of Principal Irvin Young and making a distribution of the net proceeds of the game apportioning to each school, share and share alike of the net income.

Two groups of girls, under the supervision of Helen McCormick, girl's physical education director and Mrs. Mary Murphy, Y-Teen advisor, cater to the public epicurean tastes by selling eatables, the favorite American delicacy the hot dog, candied apples and soft drinks.

Net profit from this joint activity, is divided between the girls athletic association and the Y-Teens of the Hilltop school. The Student Council, with Mrs. Mary Dugan in charge, supervises the selling of programs at all games.

In all cases the money from these money-making projects will be turned over to school treasurer Wayne House.

Mr. House not only assists Mr Williams in handling the athletic finances but is responsible for receiving all money from every department and activity from the school.

In every case I. F. Young, the principal, approves in writing, all expenditures.

Official headquarters of both Mr. House and Mr. Williams is located in room 232 at West High School.

West Has Three New Teachers

Three new teachers were added to the West High faculty this school year, Principal Irvin F. Young announced this week.

They include Jack Schuster, Frances Davis and Cyrus Sedgwick.

Mr. Sedgwick, a math teacher is originally from Bellaire, O., and before coming to West he spent three years as a commissioned officer in the navy.

Teaching geography is Mrs. Frances Davis, a transfer from John Burroughs School.

Schuster, industrial arts teacher, teaches seventh, eighth and ninth grade wood, seventh and eighth grade drawing, and a new course of art metal, plastics and leather now being offered to the eighth grade in place of the former course in electricity. Before his appointment at West he taught at Dublin for one year, served three years in the army, and taught industrial arts at Mount Vernon, O.

ROYAL SWEETHEARTS OF THE ICE—Murray Galbraith and Dorothey Goca, whose great precision skating, and spectacular leaps and spins have won this talented couple the accolade as the world's greatest ice skaters. Their matchless tango duo is one of the outstanding thrills of the all-new Holiday On Ice of 1948, coming to the Coliseum at Ohio State Fairgrounds, Friday, Oct. 22. Proceeds from the first night performance will go to the children Hospital Twigs to assist in their work in the Hospital's polio center.

COMMISSIONED ENSIGN

Kenneth E. Cornell, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Cornell, 606 S. Oakley-av, has been commissioned a naval aviator and ensign. The ceremonies were held at the Jacksonville, Fla., Naval Air Station, Sept. 25. He has been ordered to duty with the Fleet Air West Coast division, with headquarters at San Diego.

McClelland Edits Probate Practice

C. P. McClelland

Judge McClelland attended Ohio Northern University, Ohio Wesleyan University, and graduated from Ohio State University in 1904, receiving a B. A. degree.

After graduating from Ohio State University he studied law and was admitted to the Ohio Bar in 1909. He was engaged in the active practice of law until Governor George White appointed him to the Probate Court on Sept. 26, 1931. He undertook the duties of that office on Sept. 28, 1931, and served until Nov. 19, 1932. He became a candidate for the term beginning Feb. 9, 1933, was elected, and has served in that capacity continuously since that date.

The new Probate Code became effective on Jan. 1, 1932, only a few weeks after he assumed office. The Probate Court was thoroughly organized under that code. Judge McClelland has written more opinions construing and applying the Probate Code than all the 87 other Probate Judges in Ohio. As a result of his work, he was invited by the publishers to edit the Third Edition of Adams & Hosford's Probate Practice. That work is now recognized as the leading probate treatise in Ohio, and the Probate Court of Ohio.

His name will appear on the Non-Partisan Judicial Ballot at the election on Nov. 2.

Brotherhood To Meet Tuesday

Charles A. Jones, assistant treasurer of the American Education Press, Inc., will be the speaker at the first dinner meeting of the Hoge Memorial Men's Brotherhood, Friday, Oct. 15, at 6 p. m. "Accidents That Have Made Presidents," will be the topic of Mr. Jones' address.

Many incidents of comparatively trivial importance have played a major part, either in the nomination conventions or in the elections in the selection of our presidents.

More than half of the thirty-three men thus far have been so affected, including Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Jones was formerly secretary to the late Ohio United States Senator, Frank B. Willis, Clerk of the Committee on Territories and Insular Possessions of the U. S. Senate, and secretary to former Governor Myers Y. Cooper. For five years he was executive secretary of the Community Fund; for three years president of the Central Ohio Area, Boy Scouts of America. He was awarded the "Silver Beaver" for work in behalf of the scouts. Recently he was elected president of the newly formed Franklin County Historical Society.

The Brotherhood will sponsor five dinner meetings during the season, with lectures and forums dealing with topics of current religious and national interest. Reservations can be made for the dinner by calling the church office.

West Teacher Speaks At Hiram College

West High School math teacher, George Wing, currently mayor of Worthington, was invited by Hiram College, Saturday, Oct. 9, to address an assembly to the institute of small communities held annually at that place.

Worthington unofficially has a recreation council which cooperates in providing its inhabitants with a year round program of recreation.

By virtue of this project, Mr. Wing was invited to relate how his village provides its residents with this service. The past summer the village provided a wide variety of recreation, including arts, crafts, horseback riding and swimming, for its residents.

Tuttle Was Architect For Smith Law Office

Howard W. Tuttle

Architect for the new offices of Donald F. Smith was Howard W. Tuttle, AIA. 70 S. Sylvan-av.

Tuttle came to Columbus from New York 10 years ago. While in New York he graduated from Fieldston High School and later studied at the Webb Institute of Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering and at New York University. He graduated from OSU in 1941.

Before coming to Columbus he worked for Norman Bel Geddes, industrial designer, as supervisor of the building of "Futurama," the General Motors exhibit at the World Fair. He has also been connected with the W. J. Barney Construction Co. and with Eleanor Le Maire, well-known industrial designer.

After coming to Columbus he was employed as chief engineer for the Harrop Ceramic Service Co., 35 E. Gay-st, which position he held for seven years. He is now connected with Ralph C. Kempton, with whom he has his offices at 50 W. Broad-st.

Tuttle, who is a member of West Gate Lodge No. 623, is married to a Hilltop girl, the former Geraldine (Jerri) Cook, who graduated from West High in 1935. They have one son, Jon, who is six years old.

Among the buildings completed under his direction is that of the offices of Drs. Falkenstein and Smith in Worthington. He planned his own home, one of the two in the vicinity which has a radiant heating system. At present he is working on the new residences of Dr. J. W. Miles on Dublin-rd and Robert Stanley on Riverside-dr.

B. & T. Installs Tile and Carpet

The modern office of today is indeed beautiful, and so easy to keep looking clean and sparkling when the floors are covered with Armstrong's asphalt tile. Armstrong's asphalt tile has the envious position of being able to cover perfectly over wood floors and also to withstand dampness and alkali that are found in areas below grade. That is the reason asphalt tile was selected for this splendid new suite of offices. Using white and green marble 9x9 tiles on the floors made the color selection for walls and fixtures very easy indeed.

The deep piled, luxurious feeling and long wearing Alexander Smith caracul twist carpet used in Mr. Smith's private office reflects the quiet dignity that is to be found in the modern law office today.

Fine quality and skillful installation when carefully coordinated assures the most particular person of complete satisfaction. That is always the aim of The B & T Carpet Co., 204 S. High-st.

Hilliards School Enrollment Up

The need for additional facilities at the grade school in Hilliards comes as a result of two conditions. First, the avalanche of "war babies" and second, the rapid growth of the suburban area which has increased the total of new families in this school district.

To provide for this group becomes the first duty of the community and constitutes the major objective of the bond issue which will be submitted to the voters Nov. 2.

In the local schools a steady increase in enrollment in the elementary grades is shown as follows: Average daily membership in grades one through eight for 1942 was 335; 1943 — 367; 1944—391; 1945 — 389; 1946 — 392; 1947 — 410, and the present enrollment in these grades is 436.

Red Cross First Aid Course Is Offered

Registration is now open for the Red Cross First Aid Instructors' course, starting Tuesday, Oct. 26. The class will meet twice each week, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7:30 to 10:30, for a five-week period, in the classroom at the new Red Cross headquarters, 30 E. Town-st. It is a 30-hour course.

Early registration for the course is requested and enrollment may be made by calling the Safety Services office of the American Red Cross, MA. 6841.

Venetian Shades Installed By Schmelzer's

All venetian shades in the house and office of Donald Smith attorney, were made and installed by Schmelzer's Shade Factory, 3283 W. Broad-st, which is owned and operated by Carl S. Schmelzer.

Founded in 1925, the factory has been operated up to the present time under the name Daugherty Shade Factory. This change of name will be official when the 1949 telephone directories are issued.

During the past two years, Schmelzer, who is the West Side dealer for Yardley Venetian Blind Co., has installed blinds in over 500 new homes on the Hilltop. A recent installation was a complete set of new venetian blinds at the Neil House.

In addition to installing new blinds, Schmelzer's Shade Factory repairs and cleans window shades and blinds with pick-up and delivery services for such work.

Schmelzer, who took over the business three years ago, is married and lives at 281 N. Ogden-av. They have four children. Carl, who was a pilot in the Navy Air Corps, is associated with his father in the business. Another son, William is a graduate of OSU and is now a medical student at Georgetown University. Eileen is a graduate of Mt. Carmel School of Nursing, and Wilma is attending OSU.

A telephone call to RA. 7214 will bring a representative to your home to give a free estimate on installing venetian blinds in your home. Or if you so desire, a telephone call will bring someone to pick-up your present blinds or shades for repairing and cleaning.

Belfone System Is Installed

The Belfone Inter-Office Communication System in the Don Smith Office was furnished by The Electronic Supply Corporation, 219 N. Fourth-st.

Five standard units were used in the system which makes instantaneous two-way communication from office to office, reception room to office, or office to home.

Mr. Boler, who designed the equipment, states that an unusual feature was used in the installation of the remote speakers; that of mounting them flush with the wall, painting them to harmonize with the color scheme of the room, and covering them with decorated picture frames.

Architects, builders, electrical contractors and suppliers are invited to call Mr. Boler on any problem in connection with designing, furnishing or installing inter-office communication systems or any type of sound or music playing equipment.

Public Invited To Inspect New Bldg. Saturday

When Donald F. Smith opened his law office on the Hilltop back in 1930 he felt he was providing a needed service to this community and he had faith in the future of the Hilltop to the extent that he believed he could make a success in the practice of law in this community.

Today with the formal opening of his new law offices at 2977 W. Broad-st, corner of Binns-blvd, he is realizing that his first impressions of the Hilltop were good

His new offices, an additional wing to his residence, are the most modern in the city. The building itself is constructed of Franklin County limestone. The interior finish is very attractive with light green tinted walls and bleached birch woodwork. The front door opens into a comfortable reception room with a glass partition behind which is seated a stenographer-receptionist. Three other offices open off from this room, the largest room and law library being occupied by Mr. Smith, and a front room occupied by A. A. Clark, attorney.

On the basement floor a large "closing room" is available and work is now under way there to provide ample storage space for files, etc.

Hilltoppers desiring to inspect the new law offices of Don Smith at Binns and Broad are invited to do so this Saturday. The office will be open for inspection until 5:30 p. m.

Don Smith was circulation manager of the American Education Press until 1926, at which time he was graduated from Franklin University and received his LL.B degree. He practiced law at Waverly from 1928 to 1930, when he came to the Hilltop.

Smith has been admitted to the U. S. District Court, U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals and U. S. Supreme Court. He is a former vice-president of the Hilltop Business Association and former director of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and for two years chairman of the youth service committee of Kiwanis here.

A. A. Clark, 140 S. Brinker-av, a graduate of Ohio State University law school in 1927, is associated with Smith.

Office employees include Nancy Kearns, 481 Townsend-av; Emma McCarthy and Louise Deeds, 160 Highland-av.

Smith bought the lots occupied by his new offices from Bill Southworth, now manager of the Boston Braves, in 1937.

HILLTOP MAY GET MUNY GOLF COURSE

The Spectator
By C.C. Hartley

Can't Break a Promise That Was Never Made

I'll never forget San Francisco. While there for a few days during the war, one impression of the great state of California was so deeply imbedded in my memory that I am constantly remembering it today as the state of Ohio expands the liquor business.

Up and down Market-st, or any street, is liquor, liquor everywhere—more than I've seen anywhere. Every other store has it on display—groceries, department stores, drug stores, everywhere. Window after window is loaded down with liquor displays.

Certainly Ohio doesn't want this type of, or lack of, liquor control. Officials in the present state liquor department admit that such is not desirable and yet on the eve of an election they are afraid to come out for any recommended changes in the liquor law.

In a 68-page campaign booklet boosting the candidacy of Gov. Herbert and printed at the taxpayers' expense, the administration is telling how the governor has kept all his promises. But in the matter of a better liquor control act, the governor has never made a promise, nor has the Republican party seen fit to be anything but satisfied with the present program of expansion of the liquor business.

This is certainly sufficient cause to register a protest by way of a vote against the governor. It will be possible for the best interests of the people to be represented only when the people use the only power they have in politics—the ballot box.

First Homecoming Queen Reigned In 1934

In the year 1934 West had its first homecoming game at which was elected a queen and court.

The lady of honor, chosen by the student body, was Pauline Rowland, an attractive, auburn haired, brown eyed lass. Attendants on her court were two very pretty senior girls, Audrey Shields and Laura Sisk.

This first queen and her court set the precedent of chrysanthemum corsages and riding atop convertibles.

The Cowboy eleven smothered Central by a score of 39-6, adding much glory to the first homecoming game.

May the winning spirit be present Friday evening.

Up and Down Hill: A reliable source reports that liquor permit holders in the community are going to meet and perhaps organize for the purpose of seeing that all their houses are in order rather than allow the doings of a few to bring down enough wrath of the community to bring about a local option vote. Valleyview Up In Arms Over Prowlers

The Village of Valleyview is up in arms over vandalism and prowlers in the community.

Prowlers have been reported on the loose in the village for several nights and citizens there this week advised the Record that the matter has been taken up with law authorities and they have been told to shoot if any prowlers make an appearance again.

Several cars have been broken into recently and one woman was grabbed by a man when she returned to her home after dark.

Numerous citizens of the community are reported to be carrying a gun when they answer the door at night.

Last Wednesday and Thursday night at least 16 streets signs in the village were taken down and replaced on different corners thus providing plenty of confusion to those who do not know their way around in the village. It was strictly a case where one couldn't believe in signs.

Archie Rodgers, mayor of Valleyview, told the Record this week that anyone caught repeating such an act can expect to go to jail or juvenile court and suits will be brought against the parents.

Professor Pigskin's mail increases each week but he wants your entry too. Just choose the winners and the closest possible scores from the games given in the page ad in Section B of the Record today. Write them on the entry blank and mail it to Professor Pigskin at The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st. Will you win one of the prizes in next week's contest?

Township To Vote on Bonds For Schools

In order to provide improvements for the schools in the Franklin Township District, the voters of this rural area will be called upon to vote for a supplemental bond issue on Nov. 2, which would complete the project, begun four years ago.

At that time the board of education for the township took the necessary legal action to submit to the voters the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $280,000. The issue passed by a large majority.

The plan included building a 20 room grade school at Frank-rd; the modernization of Wilson, Briggsdale, and Skidmore Schools; and the addition of four rooms to the latter.

Materials were not available to permit the construction and remodeling in the year 1944, and since that time costs have risen to the point where an additional bond issue is needed to proceed with the initial plans.

Colorful Show and Lots of Fanfare In Store For West High Homecoming Crowd Tomorrow Night

One hundred fifty-three buff and brown uniformed West High boys and girls will meet at S. Harris-av and W. Broad-st on Friday evening to form a procession preparatory to heralding the fanfare of the traditional homecoming game on Magly Field with New Philadelphia.

Moving at 7:15 p. m. to Magly Field, the queen, Donna Spring, and her court will head the parade in three spangled, bedecked autos.

West High School's famous marching band of 153 pieces will also be at its best tomorrow night when it follows the queen and her regal cortege. A moving spectrum of brilliant colors, to the tempo of martial music, will announce to Hilltoppers the official opening of homecoming festivities on the Hilltop.

An equestrian cavalcade of Cowboy riders and rope twirlers will top off the procession. Immediately preceding the whistle for the kick-off both junior and senior high bands will jointly display the national emblem on the gridiron. The senior group will form the red stripes of the American flag, and the junior band the white stripes and blue field.

At the mid-period show the capital letters "HI" formation, welcoming the Quakers to the West corral, will be formed; "NP", emblematic of New Philadelphia will be made, facing the Quaker bleachers on the east; then breaking into a capital "DS" pattern, in honor of Queen Donna Spring, the band will reverse its field facing the enthusiastic homecoming crowd on the west side of Magly Field.

A total black-out will ensue to form a huge heart pierced by cupid's arrow in fond remembrance of high school romances that have transpired through the years. The profile of the heart will be made up of senior band members and the pierced arrow a representation of a huge clock by the juniors.

Highlight of the show will be a representation of a huge clock with corresponding hands and Roman numerals.

The finale of the show will present a block "W" in revolving style.

Also at the mid-period president of the student council, Willie Evans, will present distinguished guests, including West's first principal, Otto H. Magly; Irvin F. Young, present principal; George Hardy, alumni prexy; Lee Weigand, president of the Boosters Club, and many others.

Patricia Perry, last year's homecoming queen, will formally introduce Donna Spring and her court of lovelies, including Marilyn Hoelcher, Donna Thomas, Shirley Thurell and Vera Masdea.

Escorts for the queen and her bevy of assistants are Dick Lamprecht with Donna Spring; Bob Henry, Marilyn Hoelcher and Shirley Thurell; and Vic Limkuhel with Vera Masdea and Donna Thomas. Bill Clarkin will MC the ceremonies.

Seek Purchase of 250 Acre Tract On Trabue Road

The City Recreation Commission is considering the purchase of 250 acres of Hilltop land for purposes of establishing a municipal golf course and recreation center, it was learned by the Record this week. The land being considered is the Jaeger farm on Trabue-rd bounded on the west by Wilson-rd and on the east by the New York Central railroad tracks.

Philip Stout, attorney, 2532 W. Broad-st, a member of the recreation commission, has been active in investigation of the project.

A statement issued by City Councilman Frank H. Kearns was released to the Record today as follows:

"Members of city council, the recreation commission and the administration are desirous of obtaining a 250-acre recreation site for a 36-hole golf course. Several sites have been considered but no deal has been closed concerning a site at the present time. Before city council and the city recreation commission will consider the purchase of any tract they will demand that the golf course be self-sustaining and pay for itself in a period of approximately 10 years. Under the present plans the revenues from the golf course would pay for the purchase and maintenance of the course.

"This tract would also be used for park and recreation purposes for the public, as well as for golf. We have had some negotiations with Mr. Jaeger concerning his tract of land bounded by Trabue-rd, Wilson-rd and the New York Central Railroad tracks. This is an excellent site and would afford exactly what we want if we can complete negotiations within the next week or two. The city attorney will have appraisers look at this property and make a report to the recreation commission and to the council.

"Whenever we can obtain sites and can make them self-sustaining, we believe this to be a sound investment as it is at no cost to the taxpayers of the city of Columbus and yet they have beautiful lands and parks."

13 Club To Give Several Prizes

The Thirteen Club will give away $250 in cash, an FM table model radio and an electric toaster, at its annual meeting, scheduled for Dec. 12.

Boosters To Have Paper Drive Oct. 24

Striving for "the best athletic field in the state," the West High Booster Club will stage what they hope will be their biggest and best paper drive on Sunday, Oct. 24. The proceeds will go toward more improvements at West High's Magly Field.

Within the past year, the Boosters donated $1000 to West High for the black topping of the girls' athletic space in the rear of the building.

Papers, rags and magazines are wanted by the Boosters for the coming collection. They request that all items be bundled, as the paper companies will not accept any stock that has not been tied.

Anyone having papers or paper products in an attic or basement is asked to gather them up, tie them in bundles and place them on either the porch or curbstone. The Boosters will do the rest!

Memberships for the club are still on sale at $1 per person. They will admit the holder to the Homecoming Game at Magly Field tomorrow evening.

LeRoy Weigand, 3181 W. Broad-st, is the new president of the club.

Permit Transfer To Hilltop Is Turned Down

A request for the transfer of a D-5 night club permit to the Hilltop was turned down the State Liquor Department this week.

Albert Hawraney who operates the Sunset Buffet at Broad and Front-sts, had applied to transfer his license to 2861 W. Broad-st.

The liquor department stated that the transfer was denied on the grounds that the proposed location is a vacant lot.

It has been known for some time that Hawraney is interested in building a large restaurant on the above location, at Broad-st and Chase-av. Whether or not he goes ahead with the plan will probably depend on some assurance that he may obtain a permit when he builds.

At least two other permits have been turned down in the city this past week.

Richardson-av, to place the battery in his car. The burglar then made his escape in the auto. Mrs Heigle, who was in the station at the time, was unaware of the situation.

Also Asks About Procedure To Register Protest

Continued dissatisfaction with the recent action of the state liquor control commission in granting a permit in this community in the face of stiff community opposition and after it had been turned down by the director of the state liquor department was evidenced this week.

Pastor Russell J. Olson, of the Hilltop Lutheran Church, last week addressed a letter to the attorney general of Ohio asking for the following information:

1. "What steps can be taken by a group of citizens to initiate proceedings to remove from office certain members of the Liquor Control Commission? From our experience in the

A SEPTEMBER BRIDE—Miss Phyllis Adair became the bride of Mr. Robert Stough on Sept. 12. The ceremony was performed in St. John Lutheran Church.

* * *

An early fall wedding in St. John Lutheran Church united in marriage Miss Phyllis Jean Adair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Russell Adair, 131 N. Powell-av, and Mr. Robert Edwin Stough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Stough of Bellefontaine.

The double-ring service was an occasion of Sept. 12. Rev. C. T. Langholz officiated at the 2:30 p. m. ceremony, before an altar which was adorned with fern, gladioli and candelabra. White satin ribbons decorated the center aisle of the church.

The attractive bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of traditional white satin, which featured a fitted bodice with a deep yoke of marquisette and a wide bertha. The long sleeves came to points at the wrists. A short peplum at the waist gradually lengthened at the sides and back, over the full hoop skirt, to form a long full train. A coronet of lilies of the valley held her veil of bridal illusion, and she carried a bouquet of the lilies centered with a single white orchid.

Attending the bride were Miss Paula Miller, as maid of honor, Miss Bardy Allison and Miss Loretta Grooms, as bridesmaids, and little Judy Oliver, as flower girl.

The attendants' gowns, of melon faille, were identically styled. They wore matching gauntlets and braided halos and carried cascade bouquets of white roses The flower girl carried a basket of snow-white roses.

Mr. William Crates of Lima acted as best man for Mr. Stough. Seating the guests were Mr. Jack Trautman and Mr. Ronald Mangan of Columbia City, Ind.

Mrs. Lester Doan of Minneapolis, Minn., aunt of the bridegroom, presented a program of organ music during the ceremony. Included in the selections were "Clair de Lune", "Because", "I Love Thee", "Wonderful One", "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and the "Wedding Prayer."

A reception for 150 guests followed the ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Adair chose a gown of brown, with beige and brown accessories, for her daughter's marriage. Mrs. Stough was attired in royal blue with grey and black accessories. Both wore white rose corsages.

Before leaving for a 10-day wedding trip in the East, the new Mrs. Stough changed to a suit of electric blue, with which she wore black accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Both the bride and bridegroom are attending Ohio State University. She is enrolled in the college of education and her husband is in engineering. He is a member of Alpha Gamma Upsilon.

They are now at home at 537 Garden-rd.

Butler Charges Paul With Misfeasance

Sheriff Ralph Paul today was charged with misfeasance in office by Heinie G. Butler, Democratic candidate for sheriff, who at the same time demanded an investigation of Paul's office by a special grand jury.

Butler said he bases his charge on the recently published statement of Francis Kearns, Republican candidate for prosecutor, in which several locations in the county were listed as wide-open gambling places.

Butler said a grand jury investigation of Paul's office should be started immediately on the information made public by Kearns and Paul Herbert, lieutenant governor. He charged that Paul, who has between 40 and 45 deputy sheriffs at his disposal, day and night, is guilty of neglect by permitting wide-open gambling in the county.

"It is the duty of the sheriff, who has taken an oath to uphold the law, to arrest and turn over to the prosecutor for prosecution, any person or persons found to be violating the laws of the county or state," Butler declared.

"Mr. Kearns has made a statement to the public through the newspapers that indicates Paul is guilty of misfeasance in office," Butler continued. "It is now the duty of Mr. Kearns, as a good citizen, to file a bill of information against Paul with any judge of the court of common pleas. If Mr. Kearns fails to do this he is shirking his duty as a 'dependable and reliable' citizen, and it can only be assumed that he is trying to protect his Republican colleague."

Butler pointed out that on previous occasions he has called attention to rumors that known racketeers from other cities are infesting the county with vicious rackets, but that Paul had ignored the warnings.

Butler said he will guarantee to the citizens of the county that when he is elected sheriff the racketeers will be out of the county in a few days, and his deputy sheriffs will be law enforcement officials instead of spending their time singing and molesting minor traffic violators which has been Paul's method of running the sheriff's office.

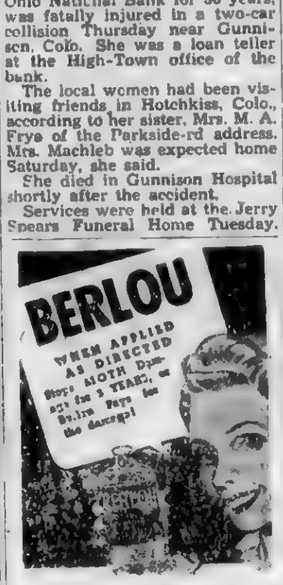
Benefit Movie To Provide Senior Class With Gift Funds

The 12A Class at West High School has chosen as its project the sponsorship of a movie to be held at Miles West Broad Theatre, Oct. 24. Proceeds will be used to purchase something for the school, which may be appreciated by future West students.

"Nightmare Alley," starring Tyrone Power and Joan Blondell, with "Boomerang" as the co-feature, will be featured at the Miles' on Sunday. Tickets are 50c per person.

Dan Miles, 27 S. Terrace-av, is chairman of the ticket selling. Other students will call at local homes, in the evenings and after school, in an effort to put the project over.



West High will receive half of the proceeds from the movie.

Chest Reaches 50% Quota

Mrs. C. O. Cramer, 188 S. Westmoor-av, chairman of the West Residential District for the Community Chest campaign, said this week that approximately 50 per cent of the district's quota has been collected.

"We are having exceptionally fine cooperation from all our workers," she said, "and ace-high on the solicitors' list are Mrs. L. K. Fishinger, Mrs. Carl Turner and the men who comprise the executive board of the Hilltop YMCA. These men are working all the business places in the district for us and it's really quite a boost."

The workers this year find that the 50 families we not financially able to increase the sum of their donation, over that of last year. In order to balance this factor, the workers are soliciting for new subscribers, of whom there are many. The increased building program in the Hilltop and West Side districts has brought many new families to these communities.

At Monday's report meeting held in the Southern Hotel, the West district ranked first of the five residential districts in its amount of Red Feather collections. In the entire list of soliciting divisions the local group ranked fourth. At that time workers had solicited 40.9 per cent of its quota, after less than one full week of work.

This year's quota of $5429 is just 7 per cent more than last year's.

Speaking for this district, Mrs. Cramer said, "We feel sure that in the final analysis our group will have attained its goal."

The drive will close next Wednesday, Oct. 27.

2. "What steps can be taken to obtain an injunction preventing the use of a liquor permit which was granted by the Liquor Control Commission over the unanimous protests of the community?"

Rev. Olson late last week received a reply from the first assistant attorney general, John P. Walsh, stating that the attorney general has authority to advise only state officers and prosecuting attorneys on public questions which arise from the exercise of their duties.

When Rev. Olson received no reply from Walter Mitchell, chairman of the liquor appeals board, to his letter asking for certain information, he had this to say in a letter to Mitchell, an appointee of Gov. Herbert on the board.

"It is evident by your refusal to even reply to the letters written by the people of Ohio that your attitude is one of contempt for us."

"Intellectually Honest" Is Title Being Conferred On Hilltopper Robert Draper In Race For U. S. Congress

"Intellectually honest" . . . this is the gist of the comment of people of Franklin County in the last few days after they have had an opportunity to hear Robert M. Draper state his mind on matters of local and national interest in the present campaign for congress.

Draper, Democratic nominee for congress, who has lived at 74 N. Roys-av, for the past 18 years appeared along with Congressman John Vorys on the "Town Hall of the Air Meeting" Sunday afternoon and subsequent reports are to the effect that his popularity has soared considerably since that time.

In the many years he has been known to Hilltoppers and West Side residents, back to the days when he graduated from West High School he has affiliated himself with the worthwhile activities of the city and his popularity is attested by the very large vote he has received when his name has appeared on the ballot for member of the Columbus Board of Education since 1939. For two years, 1941 and 1947, he was president of the board.

The label "Intellectually Honest" has been applied to him from the fact that while he has been in public life for many years he has never used the position for his own personal gain and should he be defeated in the present election it might well be attributed to the fact that he has not tried to build a political machine or seized upon the opportunity to build his political fences. In the terms of the baseball fan, he has "called them as he sees them."

When asked by the Record this week just why he had entered the race for congress his reply was, "With all the confusion in the world it looks like an opportunity for a good American to serve his country." The sincerity of this statement can best be told by the many who know of his strict adherence to Christian principles.

Draper has been a practicing attorney since 1939 and has his offices at 50 E. Broad-st. He teaches a large Bible Class at St. John Lutheran Church each Sunday, is a past patron of Robert Morris Chapter of Eastern Star, a director on the Council of Social Agencies.

Mrs. Draper is the former Ruth Pearch. She has taught piano for a number of years. Mr. Draper likes music too and is a member of the Shrine band. Daughter Deborah, 5, is a kindergarten student and daughter Nancy, 7, attends West Broad Street School.

Excerpts from Draper's Town Meeting speach are contained in a story on page 1B of the Record today.

Apply For McKinley Av. Travel Survey

Complimenting the Hilltop Business Association on its interest in McKinley's-av extension, Grover F. Clements, director-engineer of the Franklin County Planning Commission, said this week that this region needed attention.

Before any action could be taken, however, Clements advised that it would be necessary to make an origin and destination survey of travel over all county and city roads by the state highway department.

In fact, city and county units along with the local Chamber of Commerce, have already made application to the state highway department to undertake this survey.

This would entail public cooperation on a particular day, designated by the commission, in reporting the extent of travel by each motorist in the county.

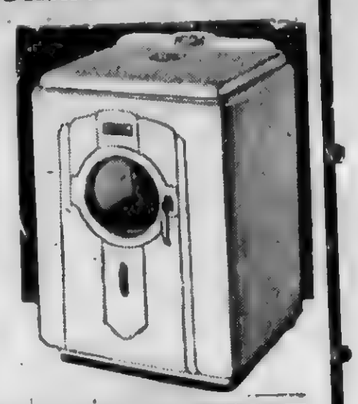
Licensed motorists would be issued a survey card by the commission, which travel data would be filled in and returned to the Planning Commission for study.

This would mean combing the files of 2,000,000 motorists' license cards on file at the state auto license bureau to ascertain those living in Franklin County and sending each a form for reporting his itinerary on the designated day.

This would aid materially in furnishing data for a master plan for plotting future courses for the county and city of Columbus, Clements said.

The federal government would finance one-half the project, the city and county would provide one-quarter of the expenses, and the state a quarter.

Much of the land on the McKinley route west of Sandusky-st toward the Hilltop is owned by both state and city.



"These unsightly, unhealthfully kept plots of ground might be turned over to the Metropolitan Park Commission and developed into beautiful parks, making a creditable approach to the Hilltop," Clements averred, adding that he would do all in his power to see that this present condition is remedied—if the survey warranted such.

Human Rights Stressed By Draper In His Campaign For U. S. Congress

Following are excerpts from the address of Robert M. Draper, 74 N. Roys-av, candidate for congress, when he spoke on the Town Meeting of the Air on Sunday:

"We can see the philosophy of the superiority of property rights over human rights if we look closely at the actions of our congressmen and the 80th Congress in the laws they espoused during the past two years, where they failed to recognize the dignity of the individual and made nothing but minor contributions to the welfare of the individual or the public, but devoted and directed their efforts toward representing the few, the vested interests, and the established order.

"In 1946 we were operating under OPA, corporations were making profits but the National Association of Manufacturers taking advantage of the people and in order to make more profits started a publicity campaign to eliminate the OPA, under the spurious reasoning that competition would eliminate high prices and so the Republican party adopted this program and were elected and what happened? Prices scared, corporation profits increased, the steel trust, the beef trust and others have had a field day and we the public are trying to pay the bills. Were the Republicans thinking of us and our rights?

"This philosophy is brought more clearly home to us in the tax reduction bill, where a married man making $2500 per year will save $64, enough for one or two weeks' groceries, but the man making $20,000 per year will save $2146.14. Was this law for the benefit of the people? Doesn't the man making $2500 have to feed, clothe and house himself the same as he who makes $20,000?

"On estate taxes, those taxes which are paid on property left on death, our congress showed whom they intended to serve when they raised the property exemption taxes from $8,000 to $120,000 by the community property law. Does that show a plan to help us?

"This philosophy is brought home to us in their failure to pass the School Aid Bill. Thousands of teachers receive inadequate pay and thousands of buildings are unfit for children. Education is essential if we are to preserve our free institutions and such a bill would help us, the people, and our children, but did it receive any consideration?

"This philosophy probably was never more apparent than in the failure to consider the housing bill sponsored by one of its own members. They listened to the real estate lobby, ignored the people and their rights and said to the veterans and others, 'If you can't pay the price or get a house, live in trailers, in shacks or any way you can. We don't intend to provide reasonably priced homes'.

"Were they thinking of human rights in their treatment of old age pensioners. Did they give any thought to a reasonable sum for those poor unfortunates so that they could have adequate food, clothing and shelter?

"They reinvoked the injunction, prevented unions from combining for endorsing or working for candidates favorable to them, but at the same time they closed their eyes to necessary laws to curtail, dissolve or control monopolies and trusts but allowed them to grow larger, gaining more control over production and prices, so that unless we do something to stop them we will become little better than serfs under a monopolistic feudalism.

"Possibly the most serious fulfillment of this philosophy was the treatment of the farmer on whom all of us depend, and their failure to expand the conservation of our land and the prevention of the exploitation of our natural resources, so that we may find ourselves in the unenviable position of China, where we will be unable to provide food enough for ourselves and leave an heritage of starvation to our children.

"Against this philosophy I am a Jeffersonian Democrat who believes in the principle that property rights are to be respected and defended as we need them and are dependent on them, but that human rights are superior and property rights must give way in the case of a conflict.

"Believing as Jefferson did, I will constantly devote myself if elected to congress to seeing that human rights and liberties will always be preserved in these United States, and will fight bitterly to see that we shall always be ruled by the majority preserving to the minorities their rights and so far as in my power seeing that all men remain free, believing as Jefferson did that the mass of mankind has not been born with saddles on their backs nor a favored few booted and spurred ready to ride them legitimately by the Grace of God.

"The freedom and happiness of man being the sole object of government, being the true Democratic party's philosophy, it is my opinion that while we should never surrender any of our right to government until necessary, yet government should always be on the alert to crush inequalities, to represent the people and to see that we do everything in our power to create a respect and confidence in government and to provide the people with necessities of life when private enterprise through greed or selfishness fails to provide these things.

"I will work for all good laws that will carry out our principles of life, liberty and pursuit of happiness which should provide food, clothing and shelter for all people. Therefore, I believe in a sound conservation program to continue to build our land to feed ourselves and others and prevent the march of starvation and the leaving of an empty heritage to our posterity.

"To work for a program to reestablish true competition, not the type provided by the 80th Congress, to reduce prices so that all people may buy the necessities of life without impoverishing themselves. This means, first to strengthen the anti-trust laws, to dissolve those which are so greedy in their desires for profits and inhuman in their attempts to possess not only the people's monies but their souls.

"It will be my purpose to work to eliminate slums and provide reasonably priced houses for our people.

"To see that old age pensioners have an adequate income for the services they have rendered in building our country and making it great, and who through circumstances beyond their control have been unable to provide for old age.

"To provide aid for schools under local control so that we can have fireproof buildings and adequate salaries for our teachers.

"To provide continued help for our farmers in maintaining a reasonable income for them, for without them we cannot live.

"To, after complete investigation adopt a fair labor program preserving both to the employers and the employees their rights guaranteed by our form of government, passing no law that will give either domination over the other, but working toward a better understanding whereby each respects the rights and problems of the others.

"And to work for any and all other legislation that will unify our country, restore the faith of people in our government and make us a true beacon of liberty in the world, always realizing that a satisfied people will have no reason to look for another type of government.

"To you the people this is your choice on Nov. 2nd—Republican property rights or human rights.

"Regardless of whether I am elected or not, I am proud to be an American and will always work to make our country ever the greatest nation in the world."

Homecoming Game Friday

Pemberton's Lads Continue Win Streak by Downing Pirates 25-19

By Paul Wichterman

Undefeated in their last 16 contests, the West High Cowboys will meet New Philadelphia under the Magly Field lights tomorrow night.

Coach Mack Pemberton's City League champs continued their defense of their grid crown when they unleashed a deadly passing attack to come from behind to defeat the Central High Pirates on the downtown gridiron to the tune of 25 to 19 last Friday. With the breaks going against them during the first half, the Cowboys fought courageously to chalk up three touchdowns in the third and fourth periods.

West has a single tie—that a 13 to 13 score with Upper Arlington in—to mar an otherwise perfect record of 16 wins in a row. Thus far the Hilltoppers have league wins over East, South and Central and are now in undisputed first place by virtue of a North-East tie Friday night. In league play they still have to face Aquinas, Linden McKinley and North.

Little is known in the Columbus area concerning the strength of New Philly. A scout from that city Friday night said they had three wins and one loss to date. It will be homecoming for West High grads.

In chalking up their fourth win of the season, the Cowboys displayed their best form of the season. Tackling was more deadly and effective blocking accounted for numerous gains.

The Cowboys scored first in the initial quarter on a pass tossed by Paul Theisen to Don Speakman. The rangy end took the pass on the Central 20, spun and raced the 20 yards for the touchdown. The try for extra point was no good.

Central scored its first six-pointer just after the second period opened when Morlan blocked Chuck Frasher's punt and fell on it in the end zone. Theisen took to the air again, completing a pass from his own 33 to the Pirate 38, but this threat bogged down on the 21 and Central took over.

With only seconds showing on the clock, Fullback Gene Morgan passed to Harry Hoffman in the end zone just as the second period came to a close. Quarterback Harper carried the ball over for the extra point.

The Pirates scored their third touchdown midway in the third period after Morgan passed and ran the ball from the Central 46. Harper carried the ball into pay dirt.

Trailing by 13 points, Halfback Gene Brown ran the kickoff back to the West 42. Theisen unlimbered a pass to Dick Culbertson, who caught it on the 35 and raced over for the Cowboys' second touchdown.

Early in the fourth period Theisen hit Culbertson again with a pass that was good from midfield to the Central 8. The ball was fumbled as Culbertson went down but Jim Rudolph recovered for West. Culbertson failed to find a hole but Theisen went to the 5 and on the next play tossed to Brown for the six-pointer. Chuck Weeks added the extra point.

Three plays after the kickoff, Culbertson blocked a Central punt on the Pirates' 18. Theisen's pass, intended for Culbertson, was intercepted by Blair, who fumbled, West recovering again on the 18. Danny Miles went to the 6-yard marker but an illegal shift penalty set the Hilltoppers back to the 23. Interference was ruled on a Theisen-to-Culbertson pass on the 9. Miles went to the one and Theisen scored on a quarterback sneak.

School Tax Levy Should Be Continued

(1) This tax levy provides 22% of the operating funds for the schools.

(2) The income from this tax levy is absolutely necessary for the continuation of the present educational program.

(3) This is not a new tax; it is a renewal of the tax levy now in effect.

(4) The school tax levy has had the continuous approval of the Columbus voters for 30 years, and in the present amount for 21 years.

There are 75 public schools in Columbus.

Over 43,700 children attend day schools and 1300 attend evening schools: a total of 45,000.

More than 3500 children are attending the new kindergartens this year.

The schools provide special training for 189 children who are crippled or have defective vision or hearing; 67 who are hospitalized or home-bound; 220 mentally handicapped; 355 for speech correction.

There are 126 adults attending Americanization classes to become American citizens.

The schools operated 15 summer playgrounds and 18 were operated by other agencies on school grounds.

School buildings were used last year for 6321 meetings in addition to regular classroom programs.

School expenditures are modest. Columbus is next to the lowest among the eight large Ohio cities in per pupil cost.

A Capable and Honest Man

"Frank Lausche . . . is obviously a man to watch. The United States doesn't have so many capable and honest men in public life that it can afford to neglect any native son, particularly if he comes from Ohio. Lausche . . . seems to be a political natural . . ."

This is the glowing tribute John Gunther, famous author of "Inside USA," pays to former Gov. Lausche as he devotes nine pages of his best-seller book, read by millions of Americans, to detailing Lausche's career as athlete, soldier, lawyer, judge, mayor and governor. Similar tributes published by Time, Newsweek, American Magazine, American Mercury, etc., evidence the national stature and eminence which have come to Frank J. Lausche as a result of his outstanding public service.

From "Inside U. S. A." we glean the following excerpt of the Lausche story as told by Mr. Gunther:

"Frank J. Lausche, governor from 1945 to 1947, of one of the great master states, Ohio, is a character like no other in American public life. What he seems to possess above all is a quality both mysterious in origin and of inestimable value to a politician—a very considerable personal vote-getting capacity."

Dear Friend:

I wish to express to you my sincere thanks for the support you gave my late husband, J. Arthur Yoder.

News of Rome

By Mrs. E. C. Sheets

NOTICE: A subject of vital importance to this community will be discussed at the PTA meeting Thursday evening, Oct. 21. Whether you are a PTA member or not, please be on hand to let us know what you think.

Rev. and Mrs. T. M. Patterson had as dinner guests Saturday night, Mrs. Fred Harbele of Chesapeake, Ohio, and Trulah Chic of Huntington, W. Va., who is Red Cross secretary of that city.

A most delightful evening was had at the home of Mrs. Clarence Scheiderer when she entertained the Rome Study Club. The Hallowe'en spirit was the party's theme. David Woehrle of California, who is here visiting his parents of Buena Vista, gave the club two readings, which were very much enjoyed, especially the one in Scotch dialect. The other was a beautiful poem, "My Dream House." Mr. Woehrle graduated in June from the Pasadena Play House, California State School of the Theatre. He did some work at Laguna Play House, Laguna Beach, Calif. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Breckenridge, Mrs. Eberhard, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Whalen and Mrs. Scheiderer.

Mrs. Woehrle of Buena Vista-av, who has been in the hospital, is now at home and improving nicely. Her son, David, was called from New York when she became ill. He will return to New York for further study. Mr. Woehrle expects to appear at the Hartman Theatre around the Christmas season in the "Babes in Toyland" production.

The Luther League from St. John, St. Mathew's and St. Paul's Lutheran Churches met Tuesday evening at St. Paul's for a hayride and a progressive supper. The hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Eiterman, Mrs. Emmelheinz, Mrs. Arthur Fisher and Cora Weber.

Mrs. Rumfield and son, Darrel, of Waverly, are visiting her parents, the Howard Breckenridges, of Maple-dr.

Sunday the Breckenridges, nearly 25 persons in all, had a family party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Breckenridge, who moved recently to the vicinity of Greencastle, Ohio.

Mrs. Allen Burns, Pasadena-av, and several ladies attended the Lancaster Fair, visiting at the home of Mrs. Paul Kolmer of that city.

James Beery, who is attending school in Cleveland, and Priscilla Warner, who is in college at Otterbein, were at the Warner home Sunday for dinner and a short visit.

Mrs. John T. Sands of Pasadena-av is entertaining her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Everett of Oakland, Calif., formerly of 254 S. Brinker-av.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

This committee, members of the Baracca Class in Glenwood Methodist, was appointed to write you a letter of commendation for your courageous stand upon the matter of the granting of a permit to another tavern keeper on the Hilltop.

The Liquor Commission well knows that there are nine places on W. Broad-st between Belvidere and Hague-avs where intoxicating drinks may be purchased, and of these, three are just plain old-fashioned saloons, all within 500 feet of churches, and all within hailing distance of the Bureau of Juvenile Research and the Columbus State Hospital where the victims of the liquor habit are incurcerated, and one where the State Liquor Commission is proprietor of the successor to the old-time barrel house, less than 500 feet from those state institutions, whose cost is paid by the state of Ohio.

Nice situation, is it not? And when some one whose brain has been fired or twisted to the point of committing a crime, the indictment always reads "against the peace and dignity of the State of Ohio" and the victim is then sentenced for the wrong done to society by the state through its alleged "Liquor Control (X)" This is peace at any price, dignity not existent.

Our commendation comes from this Sunday School class, but we feel safe in saying that it will also be heartily endorsed by the entire congregation and the officers of Glenwood Methodist Church.

Thanking you for your fine attitude in the matter, we wish you and the Record success and good fortune.

Very respectfully yours,
C. N. Williams
Charles B. Cranston
Edward Herbert

P. S.: In the Ohio State Journal of Sept. 29 there appeared an article stating that Dale Dunifon as director of the liquor commission refused a permit to Grand Lunch, 312 S. Fifth-st, on the protest of Penticost Mission and Central Business Men. How about it, Hilltop Business Association? Our churches did their bit. Where were you in the matter?

Francis-Stinson Record Best

Francis and Stinson Shell Service Station team continued on its rampage of the Tuesday Nighters League as it took a three-game victory from Hammerle to make a record of 17 wins against one setback. Although not hitting as high as they have been this season they were still good enough to defeat Hammerle's the first two games by scores of 838-805, 768-746, and the final by a score of 787-781. Joe Bogner led the team with a series total of 552, including games of 192, 189 and 171. Home Bakery, last year's champs, after spending the first three weeks in the cellar, have climbed to within one game of second place as they jumped on Hobbs Engineers for a three game victory and a record of 11 victories and seven defeats. Eddie Harold led them to victory with 188-527 and to team events for the evening with 858-2424.

Dick Ardle

The best record held by a women's team is held by last year's champs of the Thursday Night Hilltop Ladies' League, Stewart Black Topers. So far this year they have suffered only three defeats while winning 18 games. They added three more victories to their string last week by beating Hilltop Van and Storage by scores of 737-622 814-740, and 790-748. Gen Graham led her team with 178-481 while Frances Latodge had 187-482. Marie Balthaser had 200 and Ruth Perry 523 to top the individuals, while team honors were taken by Seiller's Department Store with 816-2577.

Seiller's Department Store dropped two games Wednesday night to the First National Cleaners to cut their lead over Wilson Floors to three games. They managed to salvage the middle game of the series, 869 to 816. I led the league in totals with 606 while Larry Seipel had high single game of 246. Wilson Floors and Seiller's tangle next week in what may determine the championship.

The closest league as far as league standings go, is the Hilltop Business Men's League on Thursday night. There are only two games separating the first five teams of the league. The Vee Dee-ers and Shroyers are tied for first with records of 14 wins and seven losses. McCullough's and Fox Cafe are one game back of the leaders with 13 and eight records while Fox Food has a won and lost record of 12 and nine. Paul Kauderer had 255 and Carl Breckenridge, 592, while the Vee Dee-ers had 960 and Fox Food 2707 for top team honors.

Milt Banning paced his Allen Mill team to a three game victory over Kent Brothers Monday night in the Recreation League with games of 200, 221 and 186 for a 607 total. Fred Wolf, also of Allen Milk, had an even 600.

Hazel Schaide's 188 and Elsie Dugan's 477 were high for the Pastime Ladies' League while Marg Liston paced the Friendship League with 213-556. Edna Latcha turned in the 6-7-10 in this league.

Al Shade with 209 and Paul Fetzko with 549 topped the Boys' Teen Agers while top honors in the St. Aloysius PTA League went to Keith Lovewell with 176 and Marie Balthaser with 462.

Red Ward's beginning class of women bowlers organized their own league and maybe you would be interested in their scores. They were as follows:

Team No. 1	1	2	3	T'tal
F. Coutellier	83	120	83	286
M. Zipf	73	70	82	225
C. Scott	135	95	131	361
L. Reeves	94	89	107	290
M. Strope	123	125	117	365
Totals	488	499	520	1507

Team No. 2	1	2	3	T'tal
F. Vogel	121	110	104	335
G. Berkemer	127	117	104	348

M. Taylor	112	172	101	385
N. Sharp	130	141	100	371

No Need To Worry About Promises Never Made

Well folks, this is the last round . . .

For the past five weeks we have been slugging from the front page of the Record asking for a protest vote against Tom Herbert as a means of letting the Republicans know that respectable citizens of this community as well as other such communities throughout the state want some assurance that the State of Ohio is not going to continue to expand the liquor business.

In the beginning we asked "Is this liquor control?" The question was prompted by the granting of liquor permits in this community in the face of strong protest of its citizens.

The Spectator by C.C. Hartley

Until this past week we had no reply to our editorials addressed to the governor and the Republican party. But the word has finally gotten around that what is normally a strong Republican community is going to have a lot of scratched ballots this time. The result has been that indirectly we have heard plenty from the governor this week.

Today we are printing herewith on page one a letter received Monday. The letter isn't signed by the governor but it was passed on to us by the governor's secretary, John Robert Jones, and we presume it has the governor's approval. We urge that you study the contents of the letter and then review the entire case before you allow it to influence your vote.

The letter states that we have not pointed out that the board of liquor control is made up of two Lausche appointees and two by Herbert. But we did! And furthermore we pointed out that the chairman of the board, the man who treated the Hilltop delegation with disrespect, is a Herbert appointee. Furthermore we can't conceive of the governor appointing a man to this board, even though he had to be classified as a Democrat, that would be the type of person who would purposely embarrass the governor in this manner. Then, too, it hasn't been denied that the governor can at least remove this man from the chairmanship of the board.

We have been explicit in asking what the Hilltop might expect with reference to granting of further permits under the present administration. When the governor's secretary called on me this last week he said he felt for sure that it could be promised that no further permits would be granted here. The governor says the Columbus quota is filled but no one has promised that certain permits won't be transferred to this community.

On the matter of constructive amendments needed to the Ohio Liquor Control Act—all those in the Republican state family that I have talked with admit that the act needs revision. Furthermore the Republican party had such a need called to its attention before their state convention was held recently but they came up with no mention whatsoever of the liquor department. In other words, better leave this hot potato alone. One such caller at my office in behalf of the governor was so frank as to state that this would be no time to stir the thing up because it might result in money from the big liquor interests going over into the other camp.

When the governor reminds me of the very large inventory of liquor left his administration by the former Lausche administration he should also recall that the Lausche administration was left a similar large inventory of rum by the outgoing Bricker administration.

As stated before, we are arguing for the citizenry and not for any particular politician or party. And just because men in public office believe they can go their own merry ways without adhering to the wishes of the people is cause for us to urge that you register a protest vote against Herbert for governor. If this community will act thus in this matter it will provide a healthy garden spot in [illegible]

This is our last edition before the election. Therefore it is our last swing in this particular exhibition. The voters will provide the decision at the polls next Tuesday.

Home Affairs Are As Important As Foreign Affairs

John Vorys in seeking re-election to Congress is campaigning on the part he has played in foreign affairs.

Robert Draper, a Hilltopper, is campaigning for the same position and stating that 'Home affairs are as important as foreign affairs."

Today our muddled international affairs center about the efforts of Russia to overrun the world with communism. Their past successes in this direction have been due to their efforts to break down the home front of the countries they have taken over. Their No. 1 objective today is to break down the American way of life by undermining our home affairs.

Mr. Draper, who has the intellectual honesty to put his country above politics, deserves the support of the voters next Tuesday.

• • •

There is seldom a time when it reflects intelligence to vote a straight ticket. There are good men on both the Republican and Democratic tickets this year. Take the time to scan your ballot carefully and put the X before the name of the man you think will best represent you.

• • •

Renew The School Levy

For the past 30 years the voters of Columbus have approved a school levy that has provided 22% of the school operating funds.

Figure it out for yourself—where would the schools be should their services have to be curtailed 22%?

Your vote FOR the levy will not increase your taxes. You are paying the levy now, and without any hardship, so endorse the schools again with your vote of approval.

Every Window Becomes a Picture

This is the week-end that the Hilltop becomes a veritable art gallery as youngsters of the community proceed to put their artistic abilities into paintings on store windows throughout the entire Hilltop.

This marks the third year this event has been sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and in providing this opportunity for the youngsters to show their talents they are legalizing window painting that might otherwise be turned into a soaping job. This way it is far more fun and it keeps within the law.

The five municipal judges are to be on hand along with the court bailiff to do the judging. They will meet at Don Smith's office at 1 p. m. Friday and divide the judging into two teams.

Five From Here On Ballots

Five Hilltop residents will have their names on ballots when the polls open on Nov. 2.

Robert M. Draper, 74 N. Roys-av, an attorney and member of the board of education, is the Democratic candidate for Congress.

Edward Turner, 4309 W. Broadst, a Republican, is seeking re-election as a member of the Ohio Supreme Court.

George G. Trabue, 2771 McKinley-av, a former trustee of Franklin Township and a farmer, will attempt to win the post of county commissioner. He is running on the Democratic ticket.

Newton A. Thatcher, 2966 Crescert-dr, is the Democratic candidate for county treasurer.

Genevieve Burr, 21 N. Wayne-av, is running for the job of state central committeewoman on the Democratic ticket.

In addition to the voting for state and national officials, citizens will have the opportunity to determine whether or not the school tax levy will be renewed for another five years. Residents of the 18 townships which surround Columbus will be privileged to vote on the zoning laws which have been proposed for the Franklin County rural areas.

According to common talk, the school tax levy should meet with little, if any, opposition. Not a new tax, this levy has been in force for the past 30 years. It has provided the schools with enough money in that time to pay about 22 per cent of the annual school expenses.

A more controversial matter seems to be the passage of the zoning laws for the rural areas in Franklin County. On this issue, only the residents of those 18 townships which will be affected by the laws are eligible to vote on it. If such laws are passed, these rural areas would be subject to zoning, as are most metropolitan areas. Zoning ordinances are the surest means for halting the spreading of slums and eyesore blight.

Vandals Quiet In Valleyview

Archibald Rodgers, 2678 Valleyview-dr, mayor of Valleyview, reports that there have been no reports of vandalism in that area for the past several days.

"I think they've been scared off," Rodgers declared. "I think they've found out that if I find out who has been doing these acts of vandalism, I'll make it tough on them and their parents as well."

During the past several weeks, the residents of Valleyview have been terrorized by a person or persons who have broken into parked cars, uprooted street signs and molested women walking along the street.

Several reports reached the authorities that people were carrying guns with them when they answered their doors after dark. Police were given orders to shoot on sight.

Auto Injuries Are Fatal To Paul E. Miller

Funeral services were held Monday for Paul E. Miller, 45, of 528 Columbian-av, who was fatally injured in an auto accident near Urbana Thursday afternoon.

While on a business trip his car left Rt. 29, about five miles east of Urbana and struck a tree. Miller was pinned in the wreckage of the car, which was described as "totally demolished" by a sheriff's deputy. A truck was used to pull the wreck from the tree and release Miller.

The Urbana Fire Department ambulance took him to the Champaign County Hospital, and he was transferred to the Springfield hospital, where he died. He had suffered a crushed hip and foot and internal injuries.

Miller was sales manager of the frozen foods department of the J. Fred Schmidt Packing Co., and was "filling in" for a sales representative who was on vacation. He had been with the firm 18 years.

A native of Nelsonville, he was released from St. Anthony's Hospital after an appendectomy just three weeks ago.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Victoria Miller; a daughter, Joyce Miller, and a son, Paul E. Miller, Jr., both at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Miller, Nelsonville; three brothers, Howard Miller, Cleveland, and Charles and Lowell Miller, Nelsonville, and two sisters, Mrs. Selby Barber and Mrs. Terry Tigner, both of Nelsonville.

Masonic services were held at the Jerry Spears Funeral Home Sunday evening. Interment was in Sunset Cemetery Monday.

HILLTOPPER'S DIVISION IN TOP SPOT—Mrs. Crester O. Cramer, 188 S. Hilltop Goes Over Top In Chest Drive

The West Residential District of the Community Chest Campaign, headed by Mrs. Chester O. Cramer, 188 S. Westmoor-av, had the distinction this week of being the first of the 17 divisions to over-subscribe its quota for the drive. It reported 102%.

One of 17 such divisions, the local district was among the top five last week, whose names along with the chairman's were placed on the 33 foot Red Feather sign in the Statehouse yards. At that time only 63.5% of the local district's quota had been obtained.

By last Saturday the West Residential workers had collected 77% of the total amount, and by Monday of this week they had forged ahead with the entire quota, and more.

On Monday it was announced that since the city as a whole had not collected its entire goal, the campaign would be extended for two more days. Thus it will close on Friday evening with a dinner and report meeting. The drive was 26% short of its quota of $1,300,000 earlier in the week.

Mrs. Cramer said, "We are really thrilled to have attained our full quota, and deeply appreciate all the fine co-operation shown us by everyone."

Since the drive extension, the local workers hope to add a goodly amount to their 102% figure before Friday arrives.

Mrs. Harriett Huff, a Hilltop major, reached the highest percentage per-district, among the women workers, with 190%. On Tuesday she was presented a hat by Mrs. Robert Lazarus, for her efforts.

Dr. Henry Shetrone has been assisting the men of the executive board of the Hilltop YMCA with their solicitations in the business districts.

Hilltop women helping with this years compaign include; Mrs. L. K. Fishinger, 273 S. Westgate-av, vice-chairman; Mrs. Carl R. Turner, 3039 Crescent-dr, colonel; and the following majors: Mrs. Joseph Briggs, Mrs. Gordon Jenkins, Mrs. C. W. Vance, Mrs. James Arnold, Mrs. David Caton, Mrs. Harold Mielke, Mrs. Benjamin Knepper and Mrs. Harriett Huff.

Captains are Mrs. Burleigh Billingsley, Mrs. H. C. Booth, Mrs. Paul Leighninger, Mrs. Herbert Williams, Mrs. Harry Hummel, Mrs. E. R. Tilley, Mrs. C. A. Miner, Mrs. Ed Bradfute, Mrs. C. E. Lee Addie Wins $10 In Football Guessing Contest

Professor Pig-skin finished his judging early this week, since competition was not so keen. That West game—

Lee Addie, 338 N Ogden-av, chose all winners with the closest scores and to him goes the $10 first prize.

Louis Ezzo, 2820 W. Broadst, will receive two passes to the CCC Auto Theater as his reward for ranking second.

Howard Lloyd, 126 N. Eureka-av, came in with a close third and will receive one free haircut at the Ezzo Barber Shop, 2820 W. Broad-st.

It's simple and exciting. Choose the winners and the best possible scores from the games given in the page ad in Section B of today's Record. Write them on the entry blank and mail to Professor Pig-skin at The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st. Again next week $10, two passes and a haircut will be awarded the winners. Which will you receive?

Community Halloween Party Is Set For Saturday Night

Windows Appear In Blaze Of Halloween Color

The Hilltop is ablaze with the fire of youthful artist ambition. Windows of the stores are like an art exhibit of Halloween and autumn pictures—all by Hilltop artist-hopefuls.

Armed with paint furnished by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, which yearly makes possible this event, the 250 students sallied forth yesterday afternoon and painted the town—not red, but in all colors.

Each interested student had secured permission from the merchant to paint his chosen window and made application for it on the blanks furnished by the Kiwanis Club's committee. "Woody" Clark, proprietor of Westgate Pharmacy, is chairman of the committee in charge. His committee checked for duplications and granted permission to the youthful Raphaels.

Five municipal Court judges and Bailiff Joseph Enright will judge the windows tomorrow. Prizes will be awarded Saturday evening at the Hilltop Community Hallowe'en celebration at West High. First, second and third cash prizes will be awarded to each of the winners in the four groups.

This is the third year that Clark has served in this capacity. "Each year," he commented, "it gets easier."

Judges John W. Mathias, Fred L. Donnely, Wayne Foyle, Rodney Ross and Charles Petree will be the judges.

Woolson New Alumni Prexy

William Woolson, 211 N. Terrace-av, a member of the class of 1947, was elected president of the West High Alumni Association at the West High Homecoming Dance held Saturday, Oct. 23. He replaces George K. Hardy, 608 Racine-av, as head of the organization.

For vice-president, Jack Snyder, 602 Hanford-st, class of 1940, was chosen to succeed Paul Fulton.

Joan Heisohman, 821 S. Harrix-av, a member of the class of 1947 also, was elected as this year's secretary-treasurer. She replaces Marcella Tanner to that post.

According to the association's policy, the president selects a student council, made up of perhaps two students from each class, which carries on the year's work and plans the association's activities for the year.

The new officers will serve until the next West High Homecoming.

Boosters To Move Steel Bleachers

Lee Weigand, president of the West High School Booster Club, said yesterday that the paper drive held Sunday by the organization had netted them approximately 30 tons of paper and paper materials.

At press time the actual dollars and cents figure for the campaign had not been obtained by the club.

The Boosters express their thanks to the businesses which donated trucks for collecting the paper. The following participated: Ohio Cartage Co., Krause and Pagura, Fossys Landscape, Jones Lumber & Coal Co., Merrick Miller, Inc., Ed McGurer Garage, Lile's Laundry and United Moving and Storage.

"Our thanks go to the general public, as well," Weigand said, "for their cooperation with the drive and in tying their goods in bundles. The campaign was a complete success."

Weigand also announced that when the North High Polar Bears invade Magly field next Friday night, Nov. 5, for what may well be the "game of the year", there will be 1200 to 1500 additional seats for spectators.

Moving of the baseball bleachers to the west of their present location began Wednesday. They will be erected just behind the south goal post.

This transfer, along with the other 1300 seats which were added at the field about one month ago, gives a seating capacity of at least 7250 to the Cowboy field.

In addition, the Boosters this week are installing an intercommunication system between the press box and the Cowboy field benches. This will enable Coach Pemberton and the press box spectators to compare notes as to what, exactly, is taking place on the field.

This system is expected to be in operation for Friday's game with Aquinas High School.

The Boosters have engaged two complete train coaches for the trip to Cleveland on Nov. 14, when they, their guests and friends will attend the gridiron battle between the Cleveland Browns and the 49'ers.

Tickets for the game and train reservations are on sale at Seiler's Department Store. They sell for $11, complete, and will be available through Nov. 10.

The West High School coaches and their wives will be guests of the Boosters for the trip.

PLAN BAKE SALE

"Kiwanikwa," wives of Hilltop Kiwanis Club members, will have a bake sale in the basement of Seiler's Department Store, 2404-12 W. Broadst. on Saturday, Nov. 6. The store opens at 9:30 a. m.

Fortune Telling, Dancing, Food And Fun In Store

Hilltop's gala, colorful Halloween party will get under way at 7 o'clock, Saturday, Oct. 30, at West High School.

Under the direction of the Hilltop Community Council, the party will include a costume parade, dancing, movies, the crowning of a queen, a dance revue, fortune telling, a fish pond, refreshments and awarding of prizes to the winners of the window painting contest.

General chairman of the party is Leonard Echols, vice-president of the council. Assisting him are Mrs. Earl Abram, 100 N. Hutson, and Charles P. Maus, 70 N. Westgate-av.

Window painting, done by West High students began Wednesday. "Woody" Clark, proprietor of the Westgate Pharmacy, is chairman of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club committee that is sponsoring the window painting.

Halloween Queen balloting was done through the medium of the Hilltop Record this year. Everyone who wished to vote was free to do so, but the deadline for entry was Wednesday, Oct. 27.

Elmer Hegenberger and Charles Reichelderfer, representing the Hilltop Business Association, will be in charge of the program being offered in the school's gymnasium. Among these festivities will be the costume parade, crowning of the queen and dancing. Leo Phillips will be master of ceremonies.

Cyrus Rawlings, 621 Chestershire-rd, will be master of ceremonies in the big auditorium. Keith Lovewell will stage a dance revue with some of her students. Dr. R. J. Miller will present the prizes to the winners of the window painting contest.

In or near the cafeteria will be found the fortune telling pond and refreshments.

In addition to the committees announced last week, the Blue Star Mothers fortune telling booth will contain Mrs. Ethel Becker, noted seeress who will reign as Queen of Gypsies; her assistant, Dick; Madam Shirley from South of the Border, who will arrive by plane, and the local favorites, Mrs. Elsa Marmon, Mrs. C. Dennison, Mrs. Bertha Buzzby, Mrs. C. M. Hill, Mrs. J. Schmidt and Mrs. Rose Thompsen.

Highland Garden Club's committee is composed of Mrs. Ray Cave, 2936 Olive-st; Mrs. A. C. Allen, 3021 Crescent - dr; Mrs. Ray Hauntz, 44 Binns-blvd; Mrs. D L. McCready, 273 S Powell-av; Mrs. E. H. Gildersleeve, 238 N. Ogden-av, and Mrs. H. I. Spencer, 63 N. Burgess-av.

West High Boosters Club committee will be announced later.

The Jimmy-Carl orchestra will furnish music for the evening's dancing.

Mrs. Evelyn Hall, 72 S. Oakley-av, dramatics teacher at West High, will have charge of the back-stage operations in the auditorium. She and her stage crew will direct the stage effects, the public address system and Mrs. Hall will be in personal charge of the movies.

Legion To Have Public Breakfast Armistice Day

Commander Dewey Stout of Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion, has announced that the post will observe Armistice Day this year with a ham-and-egg breakfast.

Carroll Balo, 2594 Valleyview-dr, has been appointed chairman of the breakfast committee. Dan Stout, Dewey Stout, Vern Fiscus, Jack Alkire, Frank Morgan, Larry Scales, Al Kinkead, Jay Bowser, Marlo Smith, John West, Ben Miller, William E. Booth and Clarke Finneran comprise the remainder of the committee.

An auxiliary committee consisting of Mrs. Cleo Balo, Mrs. Esther Scales, Mrs. Mary Fiscus, Mrs. Dewey Stout, Mrs. Clarke Finneran, Mrs. Louise Boothe and Mrs. Bob Jones will aid in the preparations.

Breakfast will be served at the Legion post headquarters Thursday, Nov. 11, from 6:30 to 9 a. m. The regular Armistice Day open house party will be held following the parade.

Past Commander Vernon Fiscus, chairman of the special membership committee, reports that Camp Chase Post 98, American Legion, has reached 74 per cent of its quota for 1949. The committee's goal is quota by Armistice Day.

A steak dinner was given to the membership committee Wednesday evening, Oct. 27, at post headquarters in recognition of their services in the drive.

GOVERNOR REPLIES TO EDITORIALS

A reply to recent editorials in The Hilltop Record was received on Tuesday from Governor Thomas Herbert by way of his personal secretary, John Robert Jones. The letter follows:

To the Readers of The Hilltop Record:

"The Hilltop Record has endorsed the election of the Democratic candidate for governor. The reason given for this endorsement is the recent issuance of two liquor licenses on the Hilltop.

"Mr. Hartley has correctly pointed out that the liquor director, a member of my cabinet, rejected both of these applications, thus upholding the protest of the Hilltop residents. Both applications were subsequently granted by the board of liquor control.

"What Mr. Hartley has not pointed out is that this is a separate, independent, quasi-judicial board composed of two Democrats and two Republicans, each appointed for a term of four years. The present board consists of two members appointed by Gov. Herbert and two members appointed by former Gov. Lausche. Two Democratic members and one Republican member voted to overrule my liquor director and issue the permits objected to.

"The governor can only remove members of this board for misfeasance or malfeasance in office. He cannot, and should not, control or direct their decisions any more than he can control or direct the decisions of the civil service commission, public utilities commission or any judge appointed by the governor. The governor's decisions on liquor applications are made by his director of liquor control and in this case that decision was to reject these applications.

"It has been said that there are too many liquor establishments. I agree that this is true in some localities. The legislature has fixed statutory quotas of liquor permits based on units of population. These statutory quotas have been ignored by some previous administrations and permits have been issued in excess of the quota. Cuyahoga County, for example, has 129 liquor permits in excess of the statutory quota. My director of liquor control has not issued a single liquor permit in excess of the statutory quotas. He has used the 1940 federal census as a basis for determining the quota for each county. The law does not require the use of the federal census. As a result great pressure has been exerted upon the director to have him take the 1948 estimated population rather than the smaller 1940 census figure. This he has refused to do.

"The quota for the City of Columbus is now filled. The legislature must reduce the quota per unit of population to result in any further reduction of liquor licenses in Columbus. We are making a serious attempt to bring back into line the counties that have permits in excess of their quota. This is extremely difficult to do as it may mean taking someone's business away from them. The only way we can in all fairness reduce the number of liquor permits in such counties is to refuse to issue a new liquor permit in such counties in every case where a liquor permit is revoked. This we have done.

"There is no statutory quota for beer permits. My director of liquor control has consistently refused to issue beer permits where in his judgement the neighborhood is adequately served. Also we have limited our number of state outlets. Ohio has 259 liquor stores and agencies while Michigan, with a smaller population, has 1443 liquor stores and agencies.

"Mr. Hartley states that certain constructive amendments should be made to the liquor control act. I have not been advised of his suggested amendments. They may be desirable, but he will not secure enactment of these necessary amendments by urging my defeat. The next Ohio legislature will without question be a Republican legislature. A Republican governor can best secure necessary legislation in cooperation with a Republican legislature.

"I would like to remind Mr. Hartley of the record of the Lausche administration in the department of liquor control. Excessive purchases of unsalable liquor were made, with the result that the department was actually unable to pay its bills. Permits were issued to fake clubs. When it appeared in the newspapers that the secretary of the former governor and the brother of the former governor were involved in using their influence to secure permits for these fake clubs, Mr. Lausche's only comment was, "I have been betrayed." In contrast, under my administration the inventory of this department has been reduced by $17,000,000, 119 fake club permits issued by the Lausche administration were revoked. All enforcement officers of the department were placed under civil service. Permits have only been issued by the director after rigid examinations and in strict compliance with the law.

"Mr. Hartley has the right to endorse whom he pleases for governor. I only request that he consider all the facts. I submit my administration of the department of liquor control for comparison with the administration of my opponent."

Hilltoppers Renew Education At Central Evening High School

Hilltoppers flock in generous numbers to Central Evening High School on Monday, Wednesday and Thursdays from 6 to 10.

For the most part, they are employed during daylight hours, and are ambitious to carry on their education at the lighted schoolbuilding on the corner of W. Broad-st and Washington-blvd, along the Scioto River.

Don Philips, 109 N. Wayne-av, one of the four older students from the Hilltop attending evening high school at Central High, convinces us that we are never too old to obtain an education.

Although he didn't begin his high school education until he was 53 years old, he now has ample credits and expects to graduate in June, 1949.

According to Philips, one of the most important reasons for his desire to become a high school graduate is the fact that he wishes to be able to speak to an audience with confidence to be able to use words that will impress listeners that he is sincere in his convictions.

This semester Philips is including in his curriculum sales, psychology and English. He believes that psychology will help him to understand the students who attend his Sunday School class.

He is a stock clerk at the Seagrave Corp.

Another Hilltopper, Earnest C. Wilkes, 65, of 533 Larcomb-av, is interested in mastering the Spanish language, and has enrolled in evening school to study this course. Formerly from Nelsonville, O., he attended prep school at Ohio University.

Wilkes was born in 1883 and has been employed at the department of agriculture as a chemist for the past 22 years.

He took a short refresher course in chemistry at twilight school, Ohio State University.

There is also Mrs. Clara McKeever, 787 S. Terrace-av, a graduate of Bethesda Hospital in Cincinnati School of Nursing, who has enrolled this semester in courses of world history, American history and public speaking.

Mother of three children, one now in the navy, she finds night school both worthwhile and interesting.

Shorthand and typing are popular commercial courses at the downtown high school, Marian O'Hare, a nurse at the state hospital, finds.

Already proficient in commercial subjects, having attended a local business college, Mrs. O'Hara continues to keep abreast of business tempo by brushing up on her stenographic training.

For years she was secretary to the prosecuting attorney in Detroit, Mich. Six years ago she held a similar position with a prosecuting attorney at Bucyrus, O.

Other Hilltop students in attendance at evening high school include:

Teen-age Girl Rescues Babies

Ruth Ann Lloyd, 16, of 1491 Little-av, was credited Tuesday with saving the lives of her two nieces, Connie Ray Garner, two, and Barbara Ann Garner, eight months, when she dashed into a flaming house trailer to rescue them.

Ruth Ann, who lived in the trailer, was talking with a neighbor when another niece, Sue Ellen Garner, three, ran toward her, trying to tell her something.

The young aunt, who acts as baby sitter for the children, while their mother works, looked toward the trailer and saw smoke. Running "as fast as I could," she reached the trailer, carried the baby from the flames, and returned to rescue the older child.

Miss Lloyd and the two little girls were taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital by another neighbor, Guy Atkinson, 1496 Little-av. The aunt was treated and released. The girls, daughters of Mrs. Emma Garner, were reported in fair condition.

Sheriff's deputies said the trailer was destroyed and all the family's clothing and furniture had been destroyed. The fire apparently was caused by the explosion of a kerosene stove.

Stitch Through Blotter

After oiling your sewing machine, sew through a blotter or heavy absorbent paper with the machine needle unthreaded. This will prevent the oil from staining your material when you begin to sew.

Easy To Make Closed Seam

Closed seams are often used on loosely woven fabrics to prevent them from fraying. They are made by trimming one edge of the seam and then creasing and hemming the second edge over the edge that has been trimmed.

A Simple Dish With an Elegant Air

Corn Meal Roll-Ups with Chicken a la King offer you an easy-to-prepare specialty that looks elegant and tastes it, too. This well-matched combination is dressy enough to headline your best company luncheons and since there's lots of wholesome milk in the sauce, you'll also want to serve this dish frequently to the family.

CORN MEAL ROLL-UPS WITH CHICKEN A LA KING

CORN MEAL ROLL-UPS

⅝ cup all-purpose flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
1 teaspoon salt
⅓ cup corn meal
1 egg, beaten
1¼ cups milk
3 tablespoons butter

Sift flour, measure; sift with baking powder, sugar and salt. Add corn meal and mix well. Combine beaten egg, milk, and melted butter and add to dry ingredients all at once, beating with spoon until smooth. Bake on hot, lightly greased griddle until golden brown on underside; turn and brown on other side.

CHICKEN A LA KING

4 tablespoons butter
½ lb. sliced, fresh mushrooms, or 1 small can mushrooms
5 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2½ cups milk
3 cups cooked, diced chicken

Saute mushrooms in butter over low heat until tender and lightly browned; blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk slowly and cook over low heat until sauce boils and thickens, stirring constantly. Add chicken and heat. Roll up a serving of Chicken a la King in each corn meal pancake. Serves 6.

Both Youngsters and Grown-ups are Pleased with a Chocolate Frosted Birthday Cake

By BETTY BARCLAY

Birthdays are such fun for children. For this one day at least, the "Birthday Child" holds the center of the stage, and gets attention, presents, and frequently a party. And if mother finds it impossible to give a party, the child surely gets an exciting cake that holds small flickering candles to wish upon and then to blow out with one big Woosh! But grown-ups like birthdays too, even though they may protest they don't. They like attention, and they like cake. The bane of an added year is quickly forgotten when a cake with creamy chocolate frosting such as the one pictured is brought out.

Since chocolate is a favorite flavor with Americans of all ages, we are offering a recipe for a creamy chocolate frosting which requires no cooking, to use on your favorite layer cake. You'll find this recipe useful, not only for birthdays in the family, but for other special occasions such as bridge parties and company dinners.

Creamy Chocolate Frosting

1 package (¼ pound) Baker's German's Sweet Chocolate
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
1 tablespoon light cream or top milk
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla

Place chocolate in small bowl and set over hot water until melted. Cool slightly. Add cream cheese and cream; blend. Add sugar gradually, mixing well. Add salt and vanilla. Makes enough to spread between layers and on top of two 8 or 9-inch layers or to top a 9 x 9-inch cake.

CARD OF THANKS

ROUSH—We wish to express our sincere heartfelt thanks to our many friends and neighbors of the Hilltop for their kindness and sympathy shown during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Aurilla Roush, especially Dr. Clarence Fry, Rev. Lutz, Rev. Olson, for their wonderful service and consoling words; the Floyd Born Co. for their personal and kind details; also thanks for the many floral offerings. All have our everlasting gratitude.

Mrs. Raush was a charter member of the Burgess Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church and had resided on the Hilltop many years. She had been ill for a long time. She was bedfast for four weeks, having passed away Thursday, Oct. 21. She will be missed by her family and her many friends.

CARD OF THANKS

PATRICK DIVNEY—We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness, sympathy and floral offerings at the time of the loss of our dear father. Special thanks to Father Maloney, Father Simon, Egan Ryan Funeral Home and Dr. D. S. Cowles.

The Family.

Norwich Twp. Readies To Vote On Bond Issue

On Nov. 2, the voters of Norwich Township will have the opportunity to vote on a proposed bond issue that would furnish funds for an extensive Hilliards High School enlargement program.

Improvements to be financed by the bond issue include the addition of a fireproof wing to the elementary building. This wing will house the overflow of students that have swelled this year's enrollment in the elementary grades by about 100 students. In the new wing there will be seven new classrooms, a principal's office and a nurse's office.

The seventh and eighth grades, now housed in the high school, will be moved into the enlarged elementary building, providing additional classrooms for the advancing enrollment in the senior high school classes.

Showers, dressing rooms and lockers will also be added with funds from the bond issue.

Also, a more properly balanced lighting system will be provided throughout the school. It has been discovered that the present lighting is not only inadequate, but is becoming injurious to students' eyes as they study.

Practice fields and other outdoor play areas, such as tennis courts, are to be added, along with a parking lot for use at athletic contests, and a new, centralized garage in which to keep the school's buses.

County Auditor Fred C. Dunn figures the net increase for the taxpayer, if the bond issue is voted into existence, at about 90 cents per year on each $1000 of tax duplicate.

West Band Shows Fine Music Talent

In spite of the reverse score at the homecoming game the West High Band of 183 pieces put on a wonderful show.

A rally was held in the school auditorium on Thursday morning without the leadership of Band Director Charles Bennett, who was absent due to illness in his family. Jimmy Hill, drum major carried on during Mr. Bennett's absence.

At the game where the Quakers and Cowboys tangled, a guest baton twirler, Mrs. Nancy Logan, 901 Binns-blvd, added much color to the show. Jim Crenewett, from Capital University was pinch-hitter in Mr. Bennett's absence.

When the Cowboys and Terriors contend for honors in the crucial game Friday night with the championship game possibly at stake, the West High musicians again will furnish a display of showmanship and music that is singularly a West production.

The traditional "High Neighbor" which will be played and sung by the noise makers and the "Hail, Hail the Gangs All Here," will open the mid-period show following which a huge capital "A", representing the visiting Aquinians should bring down the plaudits of the galleries.

A huge green shamrock will bedeck the entire gridiron when lights will be entirely blanked with appropriate playing of ensemble melody, "Wearing of the Green."

Green lights will disappear and and orange light will reappear when the musicians form a huge pumpkin, giving an atmosphere to the Halloween season.

Concluding the mid-period show the block "W" formation with the music of a "Hail the Cowboy," and the "Alma Mater" will fill the frosty autumnal evening.

The other class, to be held in the evening, starting Wednesday Nov. 3, 7:30-9:30, is open to both expectant mothers and fathers. Meeting at Red Cross headquarters, the class will be held only once each week for a six week period.

Registration for the classes may be made by calling the home nursing office, American Red Cross, MA. 8841.

West Member Drive On Way To 2000 Goal

Already on Oct. 26, last Tuesday, the membership campaign being carried on by the West High PTA had listed 1,657 new members and more were still coming in. This year's goal is 2,000 new members.

Top rooms in the campaign thus far are Miss Height's room in the Junior High and Mr. Seifert's room in Senior High.

West's PTA membership is one of the largest in the state, if not the largest, according to Mr. Young's figures.

Robert Shade, 420 S. Richardson-av, chairman of the membership committee of the PTA, has charge of the drive. The room mothers are working with him to push the number of new members to its 2,000 goal.

BANDITS PASS UP CHANGE—Mrs. Gerald W. Slusser, 48 W. Woodruff-av, teller, and Herbert Deems, 127 N. Roys-av, secretary-manager of the First Federal Savings and Loan, 2369 W. Broad-st, check the money that was left after a "well planned" holdup early Thursday morning.

Being Held Up For 3rd Time Doesn't Make It Any Easier Says H. G. Deems

When a man waved a gun in his face and told him to march to the back room, H. G. Deems, secretary of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, did as he was told, and, recalling that this was the third time he had followed such procedure, he admits, "I'm still not used to it."

It was shortly after 9 a. m. last Thursday, Oct. 21, that the three bandits, all unusually short men, entered the Hilltop office of First Federal at 2369 W. Broad-st, and brandished their guns.

Deems, who was on the phone at the time, was forced to hang up the receiver and accompany the rest of the bank employees into a rear room, where they were held at bay until the bandits had scooped $2,000 from the cash drawers and fled in a late model auto with Illinois license plates.

Also held with Deems during the robbery were Ray W. Redman, 35, of 65½ W. Park-av; a telephone repairman; Mrs. James Barnhill, 24, of 1237 E. Livingston-av; Mrs. Gerald W. Slusser, 21, 48 W. Woodruff-av; Lucille Glick, 41, 62 S. Warren-av; Mrs. Betty E. Porter, 26, of 2501 Ridge-av, and Mrs. Shirley Bunner, 21, of 591 Chestershire-rd.

A day after the robbery, Cincinnati police arrested four men who, they believed, were associated with the robbery. The men were also under suspicion for holdups at the Tschappat Jewelry Store on N. High-st, a loan company in Wapakoneta and at various other places where they allegedly committed lesser crimes.

Arrested for questioning are Charles W. Marcum, 25, of Cincinnati; Paul Milano, 31, of Cincinnati; Thomas Dickerson, 24, son of a Baltimore, Md., furniture store owner; and John Reed, 24, of Niles.

Found in the possession of the men at the time of their arrest was a suitcase full of jewelry from the High-st holdup.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marino of Cincinnati have already identified the men as the ones who held them in their home and then robbed them of $300 and a one-carat diamond ring.

A liquor store proprietor from Newport, Ky., has added his identification to that of Mr. and Mrs. Marino by identifying the men as the ones who robbed him of $1,000.

However, when the suspects were viewed last Monday afternoon, Oct. 2, neither Deems nor any of the other employees who were involved in the holdup could identify them as the bandits who had threatened them.

"This is a pretty good indication that they were not the men who took part in the holdup," declared Detective Miller of the police department shortly after the viewing, "but to say definitely that they were not the ones would be a strong statement at present."

It was the third time in recent years that the Hilltop office of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association had been robbed. The other two times were Feb. 2, 1938, and April 21, 1942. On neither of these occasions was anyone arrested.

Also in recent years was the Feb. 3, 1948, robbery of the Hilltop branch of the Ohio National Bank, directly across the street from the First Federal Savings and Loan office, after which Detective Bob Cline was shot and killed. Of the four criminals who took part in the robbery, three died of bullet wounds and the fourth was sent to Ohio Penitentiary and the electric chair.

New Central Y Secy. Named

Announcement is made today by G. Edwin Smith, president of the Columbus Young Men's Christian Association, that Chalmer J. Dyer, now general secretary in Hamilton, will become Harry Spyker's successor as general secretary of the Columbus YMCA as of June 1, 1949.

The special committee to choose Mr. Spyker's successor was headed by Frederick B. Hill, Jr. The other members of the committee were O. A. Donnenwirth, H. Bartley Arnold, Jr., and G. Edwin Smith. The committee made the recommendation to the board of directors of the Columbus YMCA after working on it for some months and carefully examining the records and history of more than 15 men.

Dyer is a graduate of George Williams College in Chicago with graduate work at the Chicago University and the Chicago Theological Seminary. He served as employed boys' secretary at the Wilson Avenue Branch in Chicago; for 11 years he was executive secretary of the South Side Branch in Toledo and for five years executive of all the branch work in Toledo. For the past 11 years he has been general secretary at Hamilton.

In Hamilton, Dyer is a vestryman of the Episcopal Church; a member of the Scottish Rite; secretary-treasurer of the Rotary Club; and a member of the Order of Elks. He is also a member of the Chamber of Commerce, City Club and Round Table.

His family consists of his wife, Mildred A.; a daughter, Mrs. Robert S. Thompson of Gambier, O.; and two sons, Robert G., now attending the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, and Jim, a senior at the Hamilton High School. They will move to Columbus upon assuming their duties in June.

SWEAR IN LAWYERS

Newly elected officers of the Lawyers' Club will be sworn into office today by Cong. John M. Vory during a meeting of the Army-Navy Club. Cong. Vorys will address the meeting on the subject: "The Communist Threat."

Delicious Treat

A delicious treat is fried pound cake. The cake is sliced and fried in buttered skillet, using slow heat. Turn to brown both sides. Serve with jelly.

City Schools Need Levy To Operate

The men and women of Columbus will be asked to "invest in the future" when they arrive at the polling place on Nov. 2, by voting for the renewal of the school levy.

This three-mill levy will not raise taxes, as it has been continued in its present form for the past 21 years. It appears on the ballot because the law provides that such levies be endorsed each five years.

If the city schools are to continue functioning at their present levy of efficiency, the levy must be passed. It provides 22% of their operating expenses.

Forty-five thousand children will benefit from a favorable vote by the Columbus populace. In addition, the high birth rate of recent years causes school officials to look forward to the biggest grade school enrollment in the schools' history during the next five years.

Of the eight largest cities in Ohio, Columbus is second lowest in the rate of expense per pupil. In Columbus it is $147.14, as compared with Bexley's $229.17, Grandview's $214.18, and Upper Arlington's $197.68.

Ever-rising costs also play an important part in the Columbus school program.

During the summer, 15 playgrounds are operated by city schools and they furnish the space for 18 additional ones.

Provision must also be made for those children who need special attention. One hundred eighty-nine crippled children, (or those with hearing and vision defects) 48 who are hospitalized or home-bound; 220 mentally handicapped; and 335 needing speech corrections are cared for by the schools.

Blast Injures Two At Sun Oil Plant

A series of explosions early last Thursday morning at the Sun Oil Company's storage plant, 1499 W. Broad-st, brought seven pump companies, one truck, the fire squad, and the communications truck of the Columbus Fire Department to the West Side city limits to fight the pre-dawn blaze. Damage was estimated at near $250,000.

All sorts of fantastic rumors swept the Hilltop area early Thursday. Many persons thought an air raid was being staged, others heard that the Red Bird Stadium had blown up, and still others believed that their furnaces had exploded.

The first explosion at 4:50 a. m. hurled local residents from their beds and sent them fleeing to safety at the homes of their Hilltop neighbors. Forty families prepared to evacuate their homes.

Two workmen, James Love, 24, of 145½ S. Sandusky-st, and Layton Royse, 26, of Cincinnati, who were loading a gasoline truck at the time, were blown about 20 feet in the air by the force of the first blast. They were rushed to Mt. Carmel Hospital with first, second and third degree burns, where they were reported to be in "fair" condition.

William Manus, 30, operator of Phillip's Coney Island Restaurant, 3479 W. Broad-st, near the scene, sounded the first alarm.

He had been alone in the store when the terrific blast sent him sprawling. He got up, ran to the window, and saw the huge mass of flame. After calling the fire department he rushed to the aid of the two injured men and took them to the hospital.

Destroyed in the blaze were the warehouse and five trucks. A pumphouse was also destroyed, and contents of the warehouse were completely destroyed. Cause of the explosion was not immediately determined.

The blasts of the gasoline trucks and heavy oil drums were heard as far away as Upper Arlington. Hundreds of spectators were drawn to the scene by the wail of sirens, and the periodic explosions which sent flames shooting 200 feet into the air.

Flying metal and showering sparks threatened the firemen, battling the flames, and for a time, the intense heat endangered the more than three million gallons of gasoline stored in the Sun and Standard Oil tanks in the immediate area.

Two firemen were burned by acid while they fought the blaze. Injured were Paul Buchanan, 30, of 1166 Walters-st, and Howard Specht, 24, of 573 Buckingham-st. They are in good condition at Mt Carmel Hospital. The firefighters used both water and foamite in battling the fire. Millions of gallons of water were played on the storage tanks of the two oil companies, to prevent their exploding.

Both inbound and outbound traffic on Route 40 (W. Broad-st) was detoured around the 50 police officers stationed there. Even the New York Central's passenger train, the Ohio State Limited, was detained at Union Depot, until its safety was insured. Its route runs past the plant.

William Swadley, 32, of 752 S. Terrace-av, superintendent of the plant, said that two of the trucks destroyed were valued at $30,000 each.

Again early Friday two pump companies and a truck were sent to the scene after a call from an unidentified source, that smoke was rising from the debris.

The second pre-dawn alarm was sounded at 6:29. The firemen found rags smouldering in the warehouse and quickly tamped them out. The run was listed as a "recall" and there was no further damage.

TURNS IN FIRST ALARM—William Manus, operator of Phillips' Coney Island Restaurant at 3479 W. Broad-st, next door to the oil plant, heard the early morning blast, called the fire department, then found the injured men and rushed them to the hospital. Returning to his restaurant, he served hot coffee to the firemen.

Police said the combination had been knocked off the safe and an electric drill used to bore several holes, but the strong box was not opened.

Howard F. Foley States Platform For Election

Howard F. Foley, Democratic candidate for county clerk of courts, has for more than 10 years served in the clerk's office under the late J. Arthur Yoder.

Mr. Foley has been active in bowling circles for many years and is first vice-president of the Columbus Bowling Association. He is a past president of the Charity Newsies and has been an active member of that organization for the past 29 years. Mr. Foley is also a member of the Old Timers' Club, Elks, Eagles, Moose and the Agonis Club.

In a recent statement, Mr. Foley said:

"When I am elected to the office of clerk of courts for Franklin County, I intend to return the office to the people of the county as a place of public service and public trust, free from political "bossism", inter-office squabbles and petty political maneuvering.

"Under the late J. Arthur Yoder, the clerk's office was a friendly place, rendering efficent, courteous service to all the people of the county, regardless of political affiliations. I hope to return the office to that status after I am elected clerk of courts."

Looking Ahead with Jean Worrel

Are you worried about living too long—or not long enough? Many people are worried about one or the other. Some even about both.

Yes—the fear of outliving life savings after advancing age has forced them into retirement is common to many elderly people And the fear of what will happen to wife and family should death occur before sufficient money has been saved, gravely concerns many thoughtful young men.

Both of these fears can be removed forever by carefully planned life assurance. Planned life assurance brings peace-of-mind in youth and old age. It is a blessing throughout life. You cannot afford to be without it.

Aquinas Terriers Next Opponent On West's City League Roster

Having suffered their first defeat in 16 starts, the West High Cowboys prepare this week to do battle with the Aquinas Terriers under the lights at Magly Field tomorrow night. The Hilltoppers were defeated by a score of 31 to 7 on the home field last Friday night by a superior New Philadelphia team.

Disappointed by the defeat, the Cowboys were not humiliated despite the substantial margin of victory. Meeting by far the best grid eleven during the past two seasons, Coach Mack Pemberton's boys put up a good fight all the way. The line put up a stubborn front all evening and Gene Brown sparked the secondary on defense and did his best to make a ball game out of it offensively. Superior speed and a convincing demonstration of how blocking assignments should be carried out spelled the difference in the two teams. Precision ball handling and speed permitted the Quakers to skirt the Cowboy ends all evening.

Despite the loss last week, West still holds undisputed title to first place in the City League by virtue of wins over East, South and Central. The Terriers, always a stubborn team to score against, are expected to make it an interesting contest since all remaining teams are pointing for the champs.

The Cowboys got by the first period Friday night without having their goal line crossed but on the fourth play of the second canto, Capt. Jim Pritz scored from the three-yard marker for the visitors. With only seconds remaining until the half-time. Jim Metcalf, Quaker halfback, slipped over from the one-foot line for the second six-pointer.

Gene Brown gave the homecoming fans a thrill early in the third period when he intercepted Dave Leggett's pass on his own 25 and raced for the Cowboys' only tally. Capt. Chuck Weeks made the point good. Just why Leggett had decided to throw a pass from deep in his own territory when his team was leading by two touchdowns is not clear, but the fleet-footed Brown asked no questions as he snared the aerial and then scampered toward the sidelines and into pay dirt.

After Paul Theisen suffered a hand injury, Dick Culbertson took to the air for West and for a time it looked as if West might get back into the ball game but the visitors were not to be denied. Held scoreless through the entire third period. Quarterback Leggett snagged a Theisen pass and raced 75 yards for the TD. This followed by minutes the third Quaker touchdown that was racked up by Pritz after Metcalf and Bates had set up the scoring opportunity. Fullback Bates, incidentally, proved to be one of the toughest runners to bring down that the Hilltoppers had encountered all season.

Metcalf scored the fifth and final touchdown after Reynolds had intercepted a Culbertson pass and lateraled to Pritz, who raced to the West 19. Pritz booted the extra point, the only Quaker extra tally of the evening.

The Quakers chalked up 14 first downs to 5 for the Cowboys.

Columbus vs. Chillicothe

I just returned from Chillicothe, where five teen-agers, including myself, have finished bowling a match game with five teen-agers from Chillicothe.

Believe me, if some of the fellows who complain about the bowling alleys in Columbus could roll a few games at those alleys, they'd be glad to come back to their home alleys and quit complaining There are two bowling alleys in Chillicothe. One is called "Majestic" and the other one, where we bowled, "20th Century." The 20th Century is owned by the owner of the Hilltop Recreation, Bill Wolfe. Bill has installed new overhead indirect lighting and remodeled the alley in general. He has made improvements so that now the alleys would class with the Hilltop alleys. The Majestic, on the other hand, has very poor lighting and the approaches are in very bad shape with the alleys not being much better. The alleys are so arranged that four are in front and four in back, with the pits being back to back. As you can see, the bowlers of Columbus and the Hilltop should appreciate what they have. Here is how the team came out in the game.

Red Ward is still looking for some more women to join his class and may be contacted at RA. 0128.

Use Your Right To Vote

You, as an American citizen, have the right to vote. On Nov. 2, the people of Ohio may go to the polls, intent upon the election of men who, they believe, are best suited to guide the United States through the years ahead.

To many, the process of voting may seem a mysterious and puzzling routine. For the benefit of those who have that feeling when poll-time nears, take encouragement from these fundamentals.

First, don't let someone else do your thinking for you. You are an adult person, capable of forming your own impressions, else you would not be given the privilege to vote. Your decision as to whom would make the best president or the best governor may be a sounder one than the person from whom you seek aid.

Voting itself is an easy matter. An X must be used, of course, and no check or other type of mark will be credited. Too, the X must be marked within the box provided. An X-mark outside of the box nullifies the vote.

When voting, an X in the box at the head of the party ticket denotes a straight party vote. Or, if you prefer, it is perfectly permissable to mark your X before the name of each of the candidates individually. Either of these methods is acceptable.

An X marked at the head of a party ticket, plus other X-marks before the name of candidates on the opposite ticket, denotes a straight party ticket, except where the choices are otherwise indicated.

If you should spoil your ballot, your vote is not lost. The election judge will gladly void your spoiled ballot and give you a new one.

One last thought. No matter what your political committments, whoever your choice, go to the polls and vote. Your vote is important. By not voting at all, you are casting a vote for the other party.

Definition of a Boy

A boy is a bank where you may deposit your most precious treasures—the hard-won wisdom, the dreams for a better world. A boy can guard and protect these, and perhaps invest them wisely and win a profit—a profit larger than you have ever dreamed.

A boy will inherit your world. All your work will be judged by him. Tomorrow he will take your seat in Congress, own your company, run your town. The future is his, and through him, the future is yours. Perhaps he deserves a little more of your attention now.

ILLUSORY PENETRATION

With brute thrusts, endlessly
I breach invisible walls,
But never open a passage
To the mute conservatory.

I storm the unmanned gates
And master them at will,
But the prostrate citadel
Lies calm, inviolate still.

THE ELM

There was an elm that stood here long ago.
Above the cottage, leafy and aloof,
It spread across the quilted tufts of snow—
A patterned shawl of shadows on the roof.
Birds wove bright strands of song about the leaves
And nights were wrinkled by their sleepy talk.
The wind unravelled music in the eaves.
And shook soft lint of song along the walk.
The elm is gone—a puckered scar remains,
Lone remnant of a more melodic day,
While on some hearth, a fang of scarlet stains
The heart of God that man has hewed away.

Marian Martin,

GHOST TOWNS

Ghost towns are more than
Hollow timbers;
More than sunken foundations;
More than wooden skeletons
Through which the wind
Blows recklessly.

They are the dreams of pioneers
Their loves and disappointments,
The heart-beats of the past.

LAMENT

Like some old coat too old to wear—
Threadbare, shining and gray,
As some old dream I could not keep . . .
I gave beauty away.
Alone, unguarded, free to all,
Hard and ugly as stone—
As wasted years, forgotten now,
I left beauty alone.
Oh I was flippant, hard and free,
Sipping life through the day—
But night designed my lonely grief:
I gave beauty away.

James Neill Northe,
in TALARIA.

LINES TO OLD SHOES

You look so old and shabby where you rest
There on my closet floor, and yet I like you best.
You've served me well in fair and stormy weather,
And we have traveled many a mile together.
You've been my gypsy shoes; you took me places,
Away from beaten paths, familiar faces;
One time it was a country lane, all gay
With flowers; again, a field of new-mown hay
That lured us on our way; and we have stood
On mossy banks of rivers, tramped a fragrant wood.
And just once at dawn we climbed a green clad hill,
Just as the sun came up—a wondrous thrill!
Old shoes, you bring me dreams—dreams that will last
Long after summer days have passed.

Jennie Orr Leul.

Division 6 Trucks Prepare For Snowy Winter

Comes the first snow — and freezing weather—division six of the State Highway Department, comprised of Delaware, Fayette, Franklin, Madison, Marion, Morrow, Pickaway and Union Counties fortifies to protect the motorist from hazards occasioned by ice and snow-bound roads.

More than 90 lemon-yellow trucks in 80 counties garages are serviced preparatory to a long stretch of hard usage on the division's 1338 miles of highways. Sixty-five of the numbers are snow plow trucks, ranging in weight from two to four tons; at least 30 more will be pressed into service to cart salt, cinders and grit.

Already requisitioned for the winter season, a supply of 3200 tons of rock salt, cinder and grit treated with 500 tons of calcium chloride will be at the disposal of the division.

Huge diesel power graders, of which there are five, glide easily through a four foot snow, clearing the highways in a short period of time.

Blades on snow plows are highly polished for purposes of efficient operation. There are about 100 plows, 65 of which are mounted for service, and 35 awaiting their turn, if needed.

A crew of 275 men maintain the winter highways in the division, working largely at night.

Flasher lights are mounted on hinged brackets aboard the truck at night for visibility and safety while the men are working along the highway. Blue flashing lights are reflected in front, while amber color, is seen from the rear.

Salt is frequently applied to help melt the snow and ice. A mechanical spreader from another truck follows the plow, dropping the cloride-saturated grit and cinders on this frozen surface Usually two men supervise this activity.

So called priority roads in Division Six, including Routes 23, 3, 62, 40, 33, 61, 42, and 31 are given first consideration, secondary roads follow.

Emergency barrels, deposited at 40 strategic points in the division, are kept filled with cinders throughout the winter, affording the motorist an aid when the auto wheels spin on a packed snow or ice surface.

Snow and cinder trucks are distributed among the eight counties has six or seven trucks, while to expedite the work. Each county densley populated Franklin County has 18 such vehicles available for use.

Road conditions are reported three times daily to the Central Office in Columbus during the winter.

F. C. Higley, Ass't Division Engineer, Delaware, is in charge of maintenance. Robert F. Werner, Columbus, is Division Engineer.

Cider Making Is Art of West High Boy On Farm

Lawrence Hoover, 3195 Climerd, 15, is a typical example of a junior at West High School, who commutes to school daily by way of bus.

About this time of year, Lawrence and his mother, who are managing a 30-acre farm, south of the Hilltop, are busy making cider from apples.

Many Hilltop stores and businesses merchandise this delicious amber liquid to Hilltoppers.

"It's a real art to select just the right type of apples for this purpose," Lawrence advised. "We like to select apples firm and juicy," he added.

The operation begins by dropping the apples selected for cidermaking into a huge hopper where a conveyor belt moves the firm fruit to a sharp grinder which chips the apples into small bits; whereupon, the pulp is dropped into a container consisting of sections known as a cheese.

A car with its contents is then pushed under the press with the cheeses and the hydraulic press squeezes them, pumping the cider from the vat into the container.

Many of West High's students traveled, played and maybe worked through the past summer days. None, worked harder, however, than Lawrence.

Lacking any hired help, Lawrence, with the aid of his mother and sister, spent his vacation managing 30 acres of farm land.

A high school junior, he was kept busy with hay, soy beans and a fruit crop which wasn't too good. Instead of heading for the nearest drug-store after school, he heeds straight home, knowing more work will be waiting for him.

He is doubtful as to a farming profession and is thinking more about pharmacy or engineering.

In addition to routine farming chores, raising goats and an interest in the apiary art, take much of his time. An avid aviation fan, Lawrence is a member of the Civil Air Patrol.

Ability: The trouble with college is that the professors don't recognize ability and the students don't possess it.

An Open Letter To Voters In The 10th & 11th Wards

Let's return our Hilltop area to the Democratic Philosophy of government. For the last several elections, some of us have remained away from the polls on election day, with the result, that our area here has reflected an attitude at variance with our true and deep-seated beliefs.

We are Natural Democrats here on the Hilltop. We work for our living, we are progressive, we like the better things of life, and we like good government.

Let's all do our part on election day to see that the forward looking government as rendered by the Democratic party continues.

Vote our Democratic Ticket and urge all your friends and neighbors to do the same.

I would also like to personally request you to vote for RALPH J. BARTLETT, our Prosecuting Attorney. I have been employed in his department as Delinquent Tax Collector for approximately 4 years, and know the high type of service rendered by his office.

Thanks.

BIBLE COMMENT
FOR OCT. 31

Bible Remains Wisest Book In the World

LONG ago I outgrew the notion, prevalent in my childhood, that Solomon was "the wisest man that ever lived." That judgment based upon his wise, choice (I Kings 3:5-15), and his judgment in the dispute of the two women over the babe (verses 24-25), had little warrant in relation to the whole record of Solomon "in all his glory."

For his reign began with the murder of his half-brother, and the burdens that he put upon the people for the building of his palaces and the temple led to the rebellion, following his death, in which the kingdom was divided.

But, if Solomon departed from his alleged wisdom, the wisdom stands, and the Bible is the wisest book in the world. Its preception of wisdom is based upon the experiences and observance of men of keen discernment and high integrity. They were philosophers, men of deep thought, but they were also practical men.

They observed the effect of wrong ideas and aims, or of right ideas and aims, upon individuals and the community. They marked the difference between right and wrong as they observed these effects, but they found the roots of righteousness in something deeper than apparent pleasure or pain, profit or loss.

If these wise men erred, it was in the reverse matter of too closely associating outward welfare with right conduct. They failed rightly to appraise the suffering of men for conscience sake, and the involvement of the righteous in the common lot of mankind in experiences of trial, unhappiness, and disaster.

But in the main it is true that right conduct leads to happiness and welfare, and wrong conduct leads to unhappiness and ruin. The wisdom underlying that generalized observation is justified by human experience.

The wisdom of the Bible is not confined to the so-called wisdom literature, but it is in the Bible as a whole; and the wisdom of the Old Testament has its climax and confirmation in the wisdom of the New.

Glenwood Methodist Church Will Observe Its 55th Anniversary In November

THE CHURCH IN THE WILDWOOD—Where Glenwood Methodist got its beginning.

Rev. J. B. Shellhaas

GLENWOOD CHURCH GROWS—This new building was dedicated in 1895.

GLENWOOD METHODIST Church—As it appears today

Glenwood Methodist Church, 64 Highland-av., will observe its 55th anniversay in November. Now one of the top churches in Methodism, it has had a phenomenal growth.

It is at present the largest Protestant church on the Hilltop with a membership exceeding 3300, it has been a focal point from which many worthwhile community projects have had their inception.

A pioneer in Methodism on the Hilltop—formerly called "Sullivant's Hill", later "Glenwood Heights"—its beginning was humble.

On March 20, 1893 a number of Methodists met at the home of Samuel Six and formed a temporary organization.

On Sunday, April 16, 1893, W. H. Thompson was chosen as class leader, with M. O. Randolph as assistant.

Class meetings were kept up until a permanent organization as a church society was formed Nov. 19, 1893, when the following officers were appointed: board of trustees — Albert Watts, William Harmon, M. O. Randolph, S. D. Pletcher, C. S. Needles. Stewards—W. H. Thompson, Samuel Six, B. F. Friend, Morris Breese, William McNabb, G. J. Ashbaugh. Treasurer—Albert Watts. Financial secretary — Dr. Howard Whitehead. Chorister—L. C. Fawcett. Pastor—Rev. W. B. Chadwick.

The Sunday School was organized on Aug. 27, 1893, with officers as follows: superintendent, M. O. Randolph; assistant superintendent, William Harmon; secretary, Ella Watts; treasurer, Ota Dasher; organist, Mrs. Wright. Initial attendance 63, offering 85c. At this meeting, the Ladies' Aid Society donated $400.00 for the furnishing of a new chapel.

The Epworth League was organized Sept. 11, 1894, with a membership of 14, with Dr. Howard Whitehead as president; B. F. Friend, first vice-president; Mrs. Fawcett, second vice-president; Mrs. Breese, third vice-president; Bertie Needles, fourth vice-president; Ella Watts, secretary; C. S. Needles, treasurer.

At a meeting of the official board on March 15, 1894, a motion to create a building fund was carried and later solicitors were appointed to raise funds and report the amounts.

On June 28, 1894, the society decided to incorporate under the state laws, and the board accepted the present site on Highland-av as a donation from J. H. Bullock, the society assuming an indebtedness of $300. On July 2, 1894, Winfield Scott was elected treasurer of the building fund.

On Nov. 25, 1894, a meeting of the society was held with Dr. Whitehead as president and Winfield Scott, secretary, when the matter of erecting a temporary church building was considered.

Messrs. Friend, Breese and Six were appointed as a committee to prepare an estimate for a frame church 36x50 feet. The estimate was submitted and approved with the addition of six feet to the length.

The church was dedicated Sunday, Sept. 1, 1895, with Dr. W. H. Kees of Cincinnati, of the Freedmans Aid and the Southern Educational Society present.

Glenwood Triumphant

The little white church served the congregation nicely for a few short years, but with the sudden and continued growth of the Hilltop neighborhood, it was soon apparent that a larger structure would be required.

Under the pastorate of Rev. Postle E. White the plans were completed, pledges taken and the work of erecting a finer Glenwood was begun. The cornerstone was laid June 28, 1910, and in 1911 the new building was ready for use.

Again before the elapse of many years the congregation once more found its structure outgrown, particularly the church school portion, and after the debt had been cleared, plans were made for the erection of an additional unit.

Under the direction of the pastor, Dr. E. L. Motter, pledges were again taken, plans made for the addition and the work put under way during the year 1932. Due to the financial depression of that period, no bank loans were being made and the work of building was carried forward only as funds were available.

One section of the unit was completed and put into use, and in 1936, under the pastorate of Dr. O. L. Seward, a loan was secured and the building speedily completed. The new educational unit housed the greater portion of the church school, provided social and recreational facilities through the large recreational hall, and further contained a junior church chapel, choir rooms, and an up-to-date church parlor.

Furthermore, there was a loyal congregation of members who loved the church and who were ever ready to serve and sacrifice in her behalf. In the half century, the membership of Glenwood had increased from the handful of Methodists who formed the first society to the now more than 3300 members. Who knows what the next half century has in store for it?

Thatcher's Guest Book Lists Names of Their 6172 Guests

HOSTS TO 6172 GUESTS—Mr. and Mrs. Newton A. Thatcher are shown checking their guest list of 6172 persons, who have visited them in the past nine years. (Photo by J. Curtis Allen)

By Libby Downing

"Come in the evening
Or come in the morning
Come when you're looked for
Or come without warning."

The 6172 persons who have been guests at the home of Violet and Newton Thatcher during the past nine years know that this silent welcome on the cover of the Thatchers' guest book is not just an eloquent rhyme, but remains as continually extended to them, as if they were to receive an invitation from the cozy home at 2966 Crescent-dr, each and every day.

Both good natured and full of fun, Mr. and Mrs. Thatcher bought the guest album in Albany, N. Y., while on their wedding trip. The day of their return, July 12, 1939, the couple was "belled" by the 20 neighborhood children, whose names are listed on the first page of the ledger.

As he looked at the names on that initial page, Newton remarked, "Those kids—most of them are grown up and married now. But I remember one little tot who was just four years old, I guided his hand along so that he could say he had signed our register." That "little tot" was Johnny Morrison, who is still a neighbor.

The name Thatcher has been recognized on the Hilltop since the year 1904.

Newton's parents, the A. J. Thatchers, moved to Highland-av where they resided for 25 years. Mrs. Thatcher and her daughter, Ruth, now reside at 2966 Crescent-dr.

Violet is a native of the County of Essex in England. She came to the United States almost 22 years ago, and while working in downtown Columbus, lived on the Hilltop. The couple met while attending the Hilltop Lutheran Church in which they still take a very active interest.

"Run-of-the-mill" activities are no good at the home of Newton and Violet. They like to do things that are "different" in travel and entertaining. Many times rather than jot a quick note to a distant friend, Mrs. Thatcher turns on the recording machine and speaks a letter, then mails the record.

A strictly "Thatcher invention" is the feature which they call "Thatcher's Daily Doings." These accounts of the everyday activities in their household are jotted down as they happen, compiled on a typewriter in daily form, duplicated to provide plenty of copies and then mailed once each month to all their relatives and friends, many of whom are abroad. If they make a new acquaintance, he is introduced with his description to the readers of the "Doings", thus becoming "one of the family".

Mr. Thatcher said that he is currently working on volume 10 of the "Doings".

Right now, this year's election is of foremost importance to the local couple. Newton is campaigning for the office of county treasurer, on the Democratic ticket.

There is a great parallel between the lives of Newton and his father. Both liked to work on newspapers, and both became county auditors.

Mr. Thatcher smiled as he recalled working with Hilltopper Estella Burnside on the Hilltop News, predecessor of The Hilltop Record. That was during his days as a student at OSU. He later was employed by the Columbus Monitor, and when that folded up, he went on to take courses in accounting and start a small paper on the West Side.

From 1923 to 1936 he was deputy county auditor. When his father, then the auditor, died in '36, he took over the unexpired term of two years, and then was elected to a four year term in that office.

While a city official, Newton made the acquaintance of a man who had worked with his father. His new friend gave him what is probably his most prized possession, a Columbus City Directory for the years 1850-51.

Getting back to the Thatchers' novelties, there is a unique tale behind their phone number, Ra. 3639. The first digit stands for the third month of the year, Newton's birthday, the second for the eighth month, his wife's birthday, and the 39 for the year of their marriage.

Violet and Newton are both happiest when their home is full of friends. There are very few days in the week that no one visits the couple, and as Mrs. Thatcher puts it, "I think the most important thing in the world is knowing you're really wanted!"

First Relief Map Of Franklin Co. Is Being Made

A huge base relief map of Franklin County in color is being processed in the office of Director Grover F. Clements of the Franklin County Planning Commission.

The map, when finished, will depict many points of unusual interest in the county.

Contours and elevations of land are graphically shown so that the observer, at a glance, can see and learn about its geography. All streams and valleys within the county boundaries are colorfully and clearly indicated.

Arteries of transportation, county roads and state highways, railroads and every city and village, as well as rural section of land within the county's limits, are in evidence.

The model, made from a plaster-paris mold, is 47 inches by 55 inches in size. Manila hemp was used to reinforce the model. As far as known this is the first of its kind in Franklin County, Mr. Clements said.

The Hilltop Record can be mailed to a friend. $1.50 per year anywhere in Franklin County.

Township School Improvements Up For Vote

When the voters in the Franklin Township Rural School Districts go to the polls next Tuesday, they will have an opportunity to vote for a supplemental bond issue which would provide many improvements for the schools in their localities.

Ten hundred sixty-nine children attend the township schools, plus an added 275 who attend the city's senior high schools.

The proposed $280,000 issue would make possible the building of a 20-room grade school at the Harrisburg-pk. Frank-rd site; and the modernization of Wilson, Briggsdale and Skidmore Schools, with an addition of four rooms to the latter.

The county auditor has certified to the Franklin Township Board of Education that the issue, which would be paid off over a 21 year period, would raise the average tax rate by 1.9 mills, based on the present tax duplicate. A taxpayer with a tax valuation of $100 would pay $.19 per year; the taxpayer with a $1,000 valuation would pay $1.90 per annum.

In 1944 an issue for the amount of $278,000 was passed by the voters. At that time materials for construction and modernization were not available. They are available now, at a price increase of approximately 100 per cent. Thus an additional supplementary bond issue is needed, before the improvements can be made

BROWNIE SCOUTS TO MEET

The Brownie Scout Troop 203 of St. Mary Magdalene School has resumed its meetings for this season. Two troop committee meetings have been held. The Scouts held a hike Oct. 23, to Derrerfield Farms, and a Halloween party Oct. 27, at school.

225 Tuition Pupils In Hilliards High

Tuition pupils in the Hilliards High School this year number 225, or less than 30 per cent of the total enrollment of 795. The revenue coming from these tuition pupils is $46,748.25, which is more than 40 per cent of the operation cost of the school. The total budget for operation this year, excluding transportation, is $114,500.

Without such tuition enrollment it is impossible for specialized classrooms and laboratories to be maintained. School officials agree that a high school should enroll near 400 pupils to allow for specialization in their teaching fields.

Total enrollment this year in grades I to VIII is 437, six of whom are students living outside the district and for whom the parents pay tuition.

Gregg Seeks Post Of Commissioner

Albert B. Gregg, candidate for county commissioner, was born in Syracuse, N. Y., the son of a country doctor. After being discharged as a sergeant from the Air Corps after World War I, he studied chemical engineering at Syracuse University, financing his own way.

After 10 years of employment with paper and pulp mills, he started the Gregg Insurance Agency and the Gregg Photo Studio, both of which are still operating.

Enlisting in the armed services the day after Pearl Harbor, Gregg served four and a half years, advancing during that time to the grade of captain.

Remaining in Korea for a time after V-J Day, he increased the production of the Hokusan Paper Mill more than 362,500 pounds, organized the technical association of the Korean pulp and paper industry, instituted a system of uniform cost accounting for all mills, and started a joint paper mill technical college program for technician training.

He has served as president of the Buckeye Republican Club and of both the Franklin County and Ohio War Veteran Republican Club. In 1940 he had charge of the veterans' division at Republican state headquarters. He has been active in American Legion affairs, Sons of the American Legion, Amvets, Red Cross work, Masons, emergency medical corps, and has served as chairman for many of the activities.

Judge Duncan Is Candidate Again

Judge Robert P. Duncan is a candidate for Common Pleas Judge. He served two terms as prosecuting attorney of Franklin County and on the common pleas bench of Franklin County for some years.

Most of his decisions have been sustained by the higher courts. He settled many cases without trial, thus saving much time for litigants, lawyers and the court.

He is a graduate of Princeton University and Ohio State University Law School.

Ironmaster Bundy Created Lebanon Artistic Designs 100 Years Ago

Lebanon, Ohio — George Bundy, iron-master in Lebanon a hundred years ago, created beauty that forms the basis of a modern industry in this city. He made iron grillwork in artistic designs that became known far and wide. Now railings, lattice, and antique lanterns manufactured in Lebanon are widely distributed.

Modern Lebanon's production of antique iron is the work of the Lebanon Ornamental Iron Co., founded since the second world war. Warren C. Nelson, managing editor of Ohio's oldest weekly newspaper, the Western Star, furnished facts on this and other Lebanon industries for the Ohio Development and Publicity Commission's current survey of manufacturing in Ohio.

Iron castings, faithful reproductions of the famous old acorn and grape designs, are made by the Graf Studios of Wilmington. In Lebanon they are cut to suit customers needs. The Lebanon Ornamental Iron Co. also makes old-style lanterns for brackets and posts.

Other ironwork, of a strictly practical nature, comes from Lebanon. The Oregonia Bridge Company fabricates trusses that span streams in all parts of the United States.

Tom Corwin, Lebanon lawyer who over 100 years ago became Governor of Ohio and later went to Congress, was a power in the U. S. Senate, opposing the Mexican war, is this city's most distinguished historical figure. His name identifies canned vegetables put up by the Tom Corwin Canning Company here. The Owen Harding Cannery is also in Lebanon. Other Lebanon factories shipping goods throughout the U. S. are the Meis Shoe Manufacturing Company and the Production Plating Co., makers of gas stove fittings.

Internationally, Lebanon's biggest business is the Hewett P. Mulford Co., importers, growers and distributors of millions of poinsettias, lilies and azaleas for eastern markets. The Mulford Brothers, Hewett and Marion, horticulture graduates of Ohio State University, operate greenhouses and farms in Florida as well as in Ohio. Recently they started production of another distinctive product in Lebanon—aluminum flower pots to save weight in shipping.

McClelland Gets Bar Endorsement

The Columbus and Franklin County Bar Association has endorsed Judge Cloys P. McClelland as its candidate for the office of probate judge.

Voting on their preference for the office, the lawyers gave Judge McClelland 348 votes out of a possible 453. In other words he has the favor of 76.8 per cent of all the local attorneys.

He was appointed as a probate judge in 1931 by Governor George White, who said he felt that McClelland possesses all the qualifications of the late Newton D. Baker's description of a probate judge.

That description reads in part, "The probate judge should be a man of conscientious conduct and veneration and should have the respect of the entire community he serves."

Judge Leach On Bench Since 1929

Voters at the Nov. 2 election will receive a separate non-partisan ballot for judiciary offices, according to Common Pleas Judge Charles A. Leach, who is a candidate for re-election. Judge Leach has served on the common pleas bench since November, 1929, and was re-elected in 1936 and 1942 without opposition in either the primary or general elections.

Judge Leach entered public service as an assistant city attorney for Columbus in 1910. In 1921 he became city attorney, succeeding Henry L. Scarlett, who was appointed common pleas judge. Judge Leach continued to serve as city attorney until his own elevation to the common pleas bench in 1929.

He is a member of the Ohio Judicial Council, past president of the Ohio Common Pleas Judges' Association, past chairman of the Ohio State Bar Association's Judiciary Section and a member of local and state bar associations. His candidacy for re-election this year was endorsed by a 399 to 64 vote of the Columbus Bar Association.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Norris, of Norris Appliances, attended the 20th anniversary meeting of the Skelgas Division, Skelly Oil Co., held at the Hotel Severin in Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 19. Highlight of the meeting, at which some 250 dealers and salesmen from Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky attended, was a note of optimism over future business conditions.

Hilltop Has One of Nation's 36 Studios Dealing In Papier-Mache

One of the 36 art studios in the entire country which does commercial papier-mache work is located on the Hilltop.

The Pusecker Art Studio, owned by Ivan Pusecker of 142 S. Warren-av, is operated in the basement of the Pusecker home. Mr. Pusecker jokingly refers to his imaginative designs as "a lot of dirty, work."

Be that as it may, the figures, abstractions and landscapes are very popular. Most Hilltoppers and Columbusites would recognize them, for they are used by Lazarus, the Union, the Gas Company and in various other store window displays all over the city.

The studio switched to papier-mache from conventional art work three or four years ago, when it received a large order for a display. It now sends its products to West Virginia, Florida, Texas and Illinois.

At present preparations for Christmas orders are being made, since store windows must be designed and completed long before the public sees them.

All the figures are designed and made by the several people who work at the studio. Sometimes a customer's original idea is used, but more often the customer is convinced of his needs by the studio.

Mr. Pusecker has a collection of books from which he draws his figures, and gets the details which will make the costumes and settings authentic.

Figures range from formal designs for fashion store windows to "cute" animals for children's displays.

Not only figurines of people and animals are designed, but also a variety of papier-mache products. One downtown hotel recently bought some decorative papier-mache drapes, but in case you're thinking of buying some to go with the new living room remember they cost $45 apiece!

The wiggly-looking designs may be made by either of two methods. First, a wire frame may be made from the drawing, the damp paper wound around it then heated. When dry it can be colored and decorated. Another method is that of making a clay model from which models are cast. These usually come out with a smoother surface.

Ivan Pusecker, dark and husky owner of the studio, is enthusiastic about the opportunities that commercial art offers young artists.

"Too few of the people graduating from colleges and art schools today," he says, "realize that the merchant class has taken the part of art patronage and encouragement formerly held by the church and nobility."

Hand Pop Corn Popper Develops Into Big Business

By Wanita Walker

The man who keeps you well supplied with popcorn during the Magly Field football games is Thurman D. Donaldson, 198 N. Oakley-av.

He had his first experience with popcorn when only 12 years old. His father bought him a small hand operated popper, which he and his father operated during ball games.

Since the town was small, he made a considerable amount by working it on Saturday nights. Thurman Donaldson worked on this for 10 years. A hobby turned out to be a profitable business.

When discharged from the army in July, 1945, he started once again with a hand machine. After learning he could use a larger popper, Mr. Donaldson worked on the idea of a mobile outfit.

He finally worked until he accomplished his idea. He built the mobile with his own hands. The outfit, which has a large capacity and is quick to get into operation, cost $600, including large commercial popper.

He confines his operations to athletic events, motorcycle and auto races, which does not interfere with his regular job as a driver salesman for the Shell Oil Co.

Hunting, fishing and training bird-dogs are his other hobbies. While in the army in 1942, he was assigned to 328th Heavy Maintenance Tank Co. His squadron had gone to England, Belgium, Luxenburg and Germany.

His wife, Myrna, and three children, Michael, 10, Patty, 8, and Vicki, 6, help him with his business.

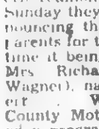
A Lot Of People Had To Hunt Their Voting Places

We are proud of the service the Record rendered this community last week by publishing the revised precinct maps for the tenth and eleventh wards. It was the means of hundreds of people being advised of their proper voting places, many of them having been changed since the last election.

Even so, there was much confusion in numerous polling places when persons went to their former voting places to learn that they no longer voted there and even then the precinct workers were not instructed or had not been provided maps with which to direct these people where to vote. Some persons went to as many as three places before they got the right one.

In one other instance we know of persons in the township who were given ballots on the city school levy when these same persons were not entitled to them.



In any event a good time was had by all and the turnout is indicative of the value we still put on our privilege of voting.

Flowers of the Week

A fine bouquet from Rosebud to Mrs. Chester O. Cramer, chairman of the west residential division in the Community Chest Drive for her very fine and successful efforts in putting this division over the top in the chest drive to the extent of 122% of the quota set. And a verbal bouquet to all the many workers and those who actually contributed so generously to make this possible.

DO THEY HAVE THE ANSWER TO THE $64 QUESTION? In a huddle and mapping strategy before the Cowboys meet North here Friday night are West High Coaches Dave Randall, Mack Pemberton and Fred Heischman. So far this season just as they did last year, they have come up with the right answer. Every Hilltopper is betting they will do it again. In any event you can expect a grand show when the lights go on at Magly Field Friday night.

Musical Treat Also In Store For West-North Grid Fans

When the Polar Bears tangle with the Cowboys at Magly Field Friday night West High's colorful and skilled musicians will once again present a display of splendor and beauty preceding the game and at the mid-period show.

Jointly, the junior and senior bands will preface the evening card of football menu with the huge American flag, illuminated with special color effects during the blackout.

The fast tempo of "Stars and Stripes Forever" while going into the flag formation, following the National Emblem of red, white and blue, with sized dimensions of a 30 by 100 foot flag will be formed, and the National Anthem will grace the occasion on the frosty autumnal evening.

At the half show period the senior high band will trek onto the field from the north with Drum Major Jim Hill and Majorettes Connie Casey and Betty Roederer in the vanguards with their lively steps will inaugurate a fanfare, playing the peppy, well known "Ensign" composition.

Breaking into the reversible "Hi", alternately facing the North High and West High stands, the marching band and gleesters will play and sing "Hi Neighbors."

Forming a block "N", saluting the Northerners with their "Polar Pep" song, the band will depict the head of a grizzly polar bear, and play and sing the popular "Who's Afraid" song.

With lights-out the marching band will form a huge musical "eighth note" outlined in heavenly blue lights, and playing "There's Music In the Air."

Also in the dark the buff and browners will make a profile of a typical harvest moon in realistic color with the appropriate music of "Shine On Harvest Moon."

From this crescent formation the welcomed "Sunrise" will appear in orange and emblazoned shades delineating the circular formation with music, "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise."

With the mazdas in operation again the final stanza of showmanship, while forming the block "W" and playing the peppy selections, "Hail to the Cowboys" and "Rah, Rah for West High," climaxing the mid-period with the sublime musical notes and words of the Alma Mater.

Credit for the showmanship and machine-like precision of the music-makers goes to Maestro Director Charles W. Bennett, whose five hours daily during the school hours are occupied in perfecting the technique of the band members.

Additional hours and hours of painstaking planning and preparation on Mr. Bennett's part are needed to condition the musicians for their weekly appearances.

Beginning the next week's show on the same night the preceding show ends, the Maestro begins the chore of plotting on paper positions and maneuvers for following next week's show.

His thinking is then reduced to transcriptions on mimeograph sheets and patterns and sequence of the various formations are placed in the hands of individual members of the band for their consideration prior to their many rehearsals.

Howard Lloyd Picks Football Winners For Prize

Three more Hilltoppers will receive prizes or certificates in the mail today from leather-skinned Professor Pig-skin.

The $10 first prize this week goes to Howard Lloyd, 126 N. Eureka-av, who chose all winners and the closest scores.

Coming in second was Michael Ezzo, 150 W. Lane-av, who will receive two free admissions to the Westmont Theater.

William Winnesteffer, Sr., of 702 S. Richardson-av, placed third and will be given one free haircut at the Ezzo Barber Shop.

Rules remain the same—clip the entry blank from the page ad in this issue or get one from one of the advertising stores. Read through the ads and choose the winners of the listed games, with their possible scores. Write them legibly in the blanks and mail the entry to Professor Pig-skin at The Hilltop Record office. There is still time for you to win one of the prizes.

Record Ad Makes Sale After Dailies Had Failed

Big or little, the Record classified ads can do the job.

O. H. Craft, Hilltop real estate man, had advertised a Hilltop double house in the downtown dailies for two weeks with no success. He then told his story through a Record classified ad and sold the house to a man living three doors from the double who didn't even know it was for sale until he read about it in the Record.

This is an every week occurence for Record classified. Regardless of what you have for sale you will find that Record classifieds will generally pay off. The cost is small and results are large.

Rescue Home Plans Harvest Home Day

"Harvest Home Day" will be celebrated by the Friends Rescue Home, 245 N. Powell-av, Thursday, Nov. 11.

The home, a participating agency of the Community Fund, will have a prayer and praise service, with Rev. J. W. Crumrine in charge, at 10 a. m. At noon a luncheon will be served.

Robert Hess, a student at Asbury College, will give a sermon at 2 p. m., followed by a song service in charge of David Skipper.

Five New Mail Carriers Here

Five new mail carriers have been assigned to work out of the Hilltop Post Office, it was announced this week and, effective Wednesday numerous Hilltop families that have not been getting two mail deliveries daily will get this service.

Increased amounts of mail, plus considerable growth of this community in the past three years, has provided a delivery problem out of the local office and it has been necessary to have several auxiliary carriers assigned here on certain days of the week. The addition of the five carriers will provide regular carriers for the routes.

Street Work Awarded To Hilltop Firm

Seven street and alley construction contracts totaling $296,240 were awarded to four Columbus firms on Thursday, Oct 2a, by City Service Director Elmer A. Keller.

Awards were given out after investigation of figures entered in recent competitive bidding. Work will begin on the streets and alleys next spring.

Of the four jobs awarded, the All Concrete Construction Co., 88 S. Westgate-av, was granted work on the alley north of 5th-av and work on Grandview-av to Broadview-av for an estimated $2940. They will also work on the alley west of Butler-av, Springmont rd to the alley north of Mound st and Butler-av to Whitethorne-av on their $9884 bid.

The Sullivant-av, Hague-av to Derrer-rd, and Fairwood-av from Livingston-av to the corporation line work will be done by the Complete Construction Co., 1221 E. 5th-av. Their total bid was $212,557.

Former pupils and teachers of the Avondale Elementary School will hold their eighth annual homecoming on Friday, at 8 p. m. at the school, Avondale-av, at W. Town-st. Fabert F. Fisher is president of the school alumni. Herbert Deems, Mrs. Mildred Decker and Ralph Bieber are other alumni officers.

Hilltop Throws Strong Vote To Lausche; Thatcher Is Elected County Treasurer

Draper Nosed Out By Vorys For Congress

But one Hilltop candidate came through to a successful finish when the unofficial vote was reported Wednesday morning. Newton Thatcher, Democrat, running for county treasurer, nosed out the Republican incumbent, C. B. Norris by a vote of 91,477 against 86,831.

Robert M. Draper, Democrat, in his first try for the congressional post held by John Vorys, Republican, was defeated, according to the unofficial tally by a vote of 94,479 to 86,866.

George Trabue, Democrat running for county commissioner, came in third to lose out to C. P. Lauderbaugh and Nate McCoy, Jr.

When he takes office in September, 1949, Newton A. Thatcher, 2966 Crescent-dr, will be the first Democrat to hold the job of county treasurer since 1920, a period of 28 years. The popularity of this Hilltop candidate, a former county auditor, was attested by the fact that while the incumbent treasurer C. B. Norris staged a lively campaign Thatcher admitted that he had done but little campaigning. He was frank to admit that he didn't spend much money. When contacted by the Record Wednesday morning he was jubilant over his victory and expressed his sincere thanks to all who had voted for him.

While Thatcher carried his home precinct by a vote of 196 to 160 he did not carry the strong Republican eleventh ward. The vote was 784 for Norris and 4717 for Thatcher. In the tenth ward the vote was 3638 for Thatcher and 2830 for Norris.

The normally strong Republican eleventh ward continued to support John Vorys for congress with 5023 for the incumbent and 4557 for challenger Robert Draper, Democrat. In Draper's home precinct, M. he received 132 votes and Vorys tallied 127.

—In the tenth ward the figures were reversed with Draper receiving 3509 and Vorys 3010.

A strong vote for the city school tax levy was shown in both the tenth and eleventh wards. It stood at 6908 for and 2197 against in the eleventh ward and 4686 for and 1895 against in the tenth.

The bond issue for schools in Franklin Township carried by a 76% vote with 1604 for it and 507 against. In Norwich Township the complete returns were not available at press time due to failure to tabulate by some precincts, but an almost complete return showed 784 for and 373 against their school bond issue or a 68% vote in favor. A vote of 65% is required to carry.

First precinct to report in from the Hilltop was C in the tenth ward.

Nov. 13 To Be "Fatal Day" For All Hilltop Fellows

The boys'll be runnin' and the girls'll be chasin' when Nov. 13 rolls around, because the Hilltop YMCA will be the scene of a Sadie Hawkins Dance that day.

With patched up overalls and blue denim shirts, the fellows will really be "catches" on this evening. Following the dress of the comic strip characters of "Li'l Abner" and "Daisy Mae", the fellows and girls will gather at the "Y" at 8 p. m. when festivities will get under way. Besides the dancing, refreshments will be served.

In charge of the novelty program are Sylvia Wolfe, Howard Spring, Gene Sullivan, Paul Thompson, Phil Cunningham and Ted Collins.

Last year's Sadie Hawkins Day, which was a real success, was sponsored by the Teen Canteen.

Thatcher Wins

NEWTON THATCHER was the only Hilltopper elected to office Tuesday. He will become county treasurer next September.

Injuries To Cycle Driver Are Fatal

A motorcycle driver John Edwin Carey, 23, of 6569 W. Broad-st, Galloway, was pronounced dead upon arrival at Mt. Carmel Hospital early Wednesday morning, after he was run over by an International tractor-trailer truck at West Broad-st and Algonquin-av. The accident occured at 7:45 a. m., while a heavy rain was falling.

According to police records, Carey was riding west in W. Broad-st when the truck driven by Paul Marrs, of Sidney, O., traveling east, made a left turn from W. Broad-st. into Algonquin-av. The motorcycle apparently attempting to stop, slid on the slippery pavement throwing Carey under the truck's rear wheels, which passed over his body.

Carey was taken to the hospital by a Jerry Spears ambulance. Police said the truck driver had been arrested and charged with second degree manslaughter.

Funeral arrangements are being completed by the Jerry Spears Funeral Home.

Scouters To Have Dinner

The installation of district commissioner and other district officers, who will be elected that evening, will be held. A program of entertainment and singing will be included.

The arrangement committee consists of V. D. Sanford, 277 N. Ogden-av, chairman, and members, James M. McCready, 83 N. Wheatland-av, district commissioner; Sam Martin, 917 Whitethorne-av, Willard Meyers, 2240 Eakin-rd, Jack Sensenbrenner, 335 Guenther-av, district president, and Cliff Matthews, 291 N. Wheatland-av, district field executive.

Record Early Next Week

All news and ad copy for next week's Hilltop Record must be at the Record office, 2465 W. Broad-st, one day earlier than usual, due to the Armistice Day holiday. Earlier deadlines will permit the Record staff to publish and mail the paper to all subscribers so that they may receive it on Wednesday. There will be no mail delivery on Thursday.

Deadline for all church copy will be 10 a. m. Monday; school, Girl Scout or Boy Scout news must be in by Saturday noon; classified ads must be placed by 9 a. m. Tuesday; and all social copy or straight news copy must be at the office by 5 p. m. Monday.

If any reader belongs to an organization which has a weekly notice published in The Hilltop Record, he is asked to pass along the above bit of information to the publicity chairman.

Drive Is 122% Over Top

As the Chest drive came to an official close on Friday, Oct. 29, the West residential area led all others in the city in percentage of quota collected. After leading the rest of the city for over a week before the close of the campaign, the West residential section, headed by Mrs. Chester O. Cramer, 188 S. Westmoor-av, turned in $6,625.45—122 per cent of its quota.

Originally scheduled to conclude on Oct. 27, the campaign was continued for two additional days in the hope of collecting the necessary amount to pull the lagging total to its $1,300,000 goal.

Second in percentage collected for the chest was the commercial area, which turned in 107.8 per cent of its quota. Third was the North residential area with 104.4 per cent.

Following the three leaders in order of their percentile collections are: Professional, 104; Tri-Village residential, 101.3; public employees, 101.1; South residential, 100.9, building trades, 100.4; county, 100.04, education, 100.02; national firms, 99.1; industry and labor, 98.5; special gifts, 98.5; insurance, 98.1; public service, 98; East residential, 96.5, and business, 93.5.

Mrs. Harriett Huff, 2154 Sullivant-av, was the high solicitor on residential day, Oct. 25, and received a hat as a special gift of Mrs. Robert Lazarus, head of all of the residential sections. Mrs. Huff's percentage at the close of the drive was 199.8 per cent.

Following, in order of their percentile ranking, are the members of the West residential area who contributed to the effort which made their section highest in the city: Mrs. Joseph Briggs, 34 S. Algonquin-av, 166.9%; Mrs. L. K. Fishinger, 273 S. Westgate-av, 160.6%; Mrs. Harold Mielke, 651 Binns-blvd, 141.9%; Mrs. Benjamin Knepper, 2672 W. Broad-st, 127.9%; Mrs. Gordon Jenkins, 3040 Crescent-dr, 112.6%; Mrs. C. W. Vance, 2023 Palmetto-av, 100.1%; Mrs. James Arnold, 267 S. Sylvan-av, and Mrs. Arthur Todd, 695 W. Chapel-av, 82.2%.

West residential takes in all of the territory west of the river.

Mrs. Carl Turner, 3039 Crescent-dr, was the colonel heading the above mentioned majors.

Also among the captains in the West residential sector were Mrs. Tee Born, 1940 Sullivant-av, and Mrs. Fannybelle Applegate, 2479 Sullivant-av.

Voters Scratch Ballots To Support Dewey

In an election filled with so many surprises that half the population still hasn't recovered, the Hilltop went to the polls on Tuesday and voted along the lines that had been predicted in most cases.

Particular attention was centered here on the race for governor in view of the recent protest against the handling of liquor permits by the Herbert administration and as a result a normally very strong Republican community swung their support behind Frank J. Lausche for governor as a definite protest against the Herbert administration.

In the eleventh ward the totals stood at 5109 for Lausche as against 4723 for Herbert. This compares with a vote of 3844 for Herbert and 2820 for Lausche in 1946.

In the tenth ward the vote this year was 4121 for Lausche and 3050 for Herbert. In 1946 this vote stood at 2249 for Herbert and 2024 for Lausche.

Adding to the confusion but still following lines that had been predicted for the Hilltop, the vote in the eleventh ward for president was 5504 for Dewey and 3747 for Truman. Wallace received 50 votes in the eleventh ward.

The normally expected Democratic vote from the tenth ward came through almost as predicted and favored Truman over Dewey. It stood at 3489 for Truman and 3361 for Dewey with 33 votes for Wallace.

Wynn Heads New Gun Club

Richard H. Wynn, 1332 Eastview-av, was chosen president of the newly-organized GM Ternstedt Gun Club at its first official meeting, held at 337 S. High-st, Nov. 1, at 8 p. m.

At the same time, Gene Tenapple, 4464 Fisher-rd, was elected vice-president and Robert T. Armstrong, 3010 Woodbine-pl, was elected secretary-treasurer. Joe Worthen, 2504½ W. Broad-st, will be recording secretary. Don Weber, 2223 Inchcliff-rd, will be range master or sergeant-at-arms.

Trustees chosen are Ray L. Kasper, 32 Butties-av; Bill Hays, 755 Buchanan-dr, and Preston French, 441 S. Sixth-av.

Those who made up the organizing committee are Robert Lehman, 129 E. Kossuth-st; Robert Keller, 502 W. State-st; Richard E. Leffler, 1605 Cleveland-av, John M. King, 778 S. Terrace-av, and Kenneth G. O'Harra, Jr., 573 E. Tulane-rd.

The club's next meeting will be held Nov. 10 at 8 p. m. in the Hilltop Sporting Goods Club Room, 2461 W. Broad-st.

Future plans of the organization include taking membership in the National Rifle Association.

At 7:30 p. m. on Oct. 2, Miss Mary Margaret Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, 815 S. Richardson-av, became the bride of Mr. Dale Richard Traeger, 1091 S. High-st, son of Mrs. Pauline Traeger, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The Rev. Joseph B. Shellhaas, assisted by the Rev. Herbert E. Saxman, performed the double-ring ceremony at Glenwood Methodist Church before an altar decorated with salal trees, candelabra and urns of white gladioli.

A half-hour program of nuptial music preceded the ceremony with Mrs. Albert Calland as vocalist, and Mrs. Clyde Moore at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Skinners bridal satin with Edwardian influence. The high round neck and bodice, were encrusted with iridescent sequins. The full skirt draped to the back with an extreme bustle, terminated into a full circular train. Her satin half-hat was edged with imported Chantilly lace which was embroidered with iridescent sequins, to match her gown, and help her fingertip veil of imported silk English illusion. She carried a white Bible, topped with a star arrangement of white roses and buvardia centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. John Needham of Newark, attended her sister as matron of honor, and bridesmaids included Mrs. Neil Whitaker, another sister of the bride, Mrs. Robert Morris and Miss Arlene Smith.

They wore identical gowns of ice blue slipper satin with nude off-shoulder yokes, pointed basque bodices, and bouffant skirts which cascaded over old fashioned hoops. They wore matching mitts, and ice blue ostrich plumes in their hair. All carried Talisman roses, and wore rhinestone necklaces, gifts of the bride.

Best man was Mr. John Needham of Newark. Seating the guests were Mr. Robert Williams of Johnstown, Mr. Neil Whitaker, Mr. Roy Bobbitt and Mr. Richard Dean.

Hostesses for the reception which followed in the church parlor were Miss Mary Marton, Miss Elizabeth Dehmann, Miss Jean Landenberger, Miss Jane Landenberger, Mrs. Thomas Kendall and Mrs. Richard Dean.

Mrs. Smith received her guests, wearing a gown of soft gray crepe, matching mitts and fuchsia accessories. Her corsage was of fuchsia roses. Mrs. Traeger wore a turquoise crepe with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

When the couple left for their wedding trip to Miami, Fla., the bride was wearing a gray gabardine suit, with a matching hat and green suede accessories. At her shoulder she wore her white orchid, along with a lapel watch and matching earrings, gifts of the bridegroom.

The new Mrs. Traeger is a graduate of Central High School and is associated with the Farm Bureau Mutual Auto Insurance Company. Mr. Traeger attended Horace Mann High School in Gary, Ind., and is now with General Motors Corporation, Ternstedt Division.

The couple is residing at 1091 S. High-st.

"Grandma" White Who Claims To Be "Maybe" 125 Years Old Is Hilltopper

By Myron T. Seifart

"Gramma" White, 273 S. Oakley-av; probably Hilltop's oldest citizen, lives in retirement—but not seclusion — at her modest four-room home on the Hilltop—"near to heaven," she says.

"Gramma", Mrs. Nancy White, attributes her longevity to faith in Divine Providence and her Bible readings, long a part of her daily routine.

"I may be 115 or 125 years old," she exclaimed. "Stopped counting at the century mark," Gramma advised.

Born in slavery, the well-preserved, diminutive lady, in spite of an illness that left her slightly maimed, recalls incidents of Civil War days.

Attesting that she had her third child just a "hundred years ago this Christmas" is one indication of the age of Gramma White.

Her master, she recalls, one Bill Franklin, a plantation owner in pre-Civil War days, was dependent upon her to care for his children, and later, Mr. Franklin's friends' children.

She spoke in glowing terms about Mr. Franklin; who, she said, taught his slaves to count, since errands on which slaves were frequently sent involved some numerical computation.

Laboring in the cotton fields all day long in the burning sun may also account for Gramma's long life.

"We didn't know nothin' about vitamins—maybe I got my share then," she averred.

Her master, she said, frequently paid them a bonus for doing the jobs well.

The mansion in which she lived was burned to the ground during the Civil War era and with it was Gramma White's Bible and indenture record, her life history and age. So, you see, her bureau of vital statistics record went up in smoke.

Following the war her master made her an outright gift of a cabin and some land to farm on shares. This, she turned over to a sister and her nine children, who needed the accommodations more than she.

Coming to Columbus in the horse-car era—perhaps as early as the 1870's—she married a plantation friend, rearing seven children, all of whom have since passed on.

Living at the corner of Long and Fourth-sts following her marriage to Joseph White here, she later removed to the Hilltop address, where she waits on "De Laud to take her home."

Habit Forming?

After restrictions had been placed on the killing of beaver in the West, the new game warden caught old Pete, a mountaineer, in the act of shooting one—and hailed him before the local justice of the peace. The justice peered sternly over his specs and said: "What have you got to say for yourself, Pete?"

"Well, the old mountaineer hedged, "I've been huntin' and trappin' pelts for 40 years, and this old rifle of mine is just nacherally fur-sighted."

WCTU was organized in Cleveland in 1874.

Milford, O., had the first woman police chief in the country. The date was 1914.

In November, 1864, the money order system was established.

Everyone's Entitled To One Mistake—We've Made Ours!

We don't know how it happened but it did! One of those strange things which can happen only in a newspaper office occurred at the Record last week when we formally announced the May marriage of Miss Ethelmae Thompson to Mr. Walter Cummins. Actually the couple was married on May 13, 1946.

Is our face red! Apparently a piece of copy from May, 1946, was responsible for the mixup. At any rate notes on the marriage appeared on the desk of the Society Editor last week. Naturally interested in all recent (?) weddings, she happily batted out a wedding story of three years ago.

Anyhoo, they are married and living happily with their small daughter in eastern Columbus. After all, we didn't say WHICH May it was!

WANT: Some people would be happy if they had all the money they want; others would be happy if they had all the money their creditors want.

RECENT VISITORS — Mrs. Michael Renzulli, the former Bette Cannon, and her year-old daughter, Karla, of New York City, recently visited with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Edith Cannon, 123 Highland-av. The Renzullis lives in New York City, where Mr. Renzulli is engaged in radio work as a musician.

The Mason-Dixon line was first surveyed in November, 1763.

Little Theatre To Meet Tonight At H. Moon Home

The Hilltop Little Theatre Group will hold a special meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moon, 203 S. Westmoor-av, this evening, Thursday, at 7:30 p. m.

After the business portion of the meeting, the "Magical Menges" will present their magic and ventriloquist acts.

The parts for the forthcoming mystery play, "The Night of January 16th," will be cast during the next several weeks. The production will be an event of Jan. 16.

The local Little Theatre Group holds its regular meetings the third Tuesday of each month.

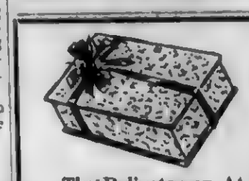
YMCA DANCE SCHEDULED

Nov. 13 will see the YMCA Sadie Hawkins Dance come into being.

Festivities are scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. Refreshments and dancing will be offered.

Sylvia Wolfe, Howard Spring, Gene Sullivan, Paul Thompson Phil Cunningham and Ted Collins are in charge of the program.

County Zoning Is Popular Here



That the residents of the county are interested in building restrictions and increasing property values was indicated by way of their votes for the county zoning plan at the polls Tuesday. Generally throughout the county the vote was substantially in favor of county zoning.

In Franklin Township the vote was 1419 to 663 in favor.

Pilot Lands In Cemetery

Glen Douthitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Douthitt, 1693 Hopkins-av, a 17-year-old Central High School senior escaped injury Tuesday afternoon, when the two place training plane he was piloting made a forced landing in an undeveloped strip of Green Lawn Cemetery.

The plane's right wing was damaged. It is the property of the Reaver Flying Service, Grove City.

By BETTY BARCLAY

Have you ever realized that there's more to good food than just flavor and color? Texture is important too — that difference between something soft and chewy and the crisp crust that goes with it. Perhaps the secret of a pie's success is its soft center combined with the flaky outer crust. And maybe one reason we find nuts so enjoyable is because they lend interest to otherwise soft candies or custards or puddings.

All good cooks must be unconsciously aware of the importance of texture without knowing just why they use a certain combination of ingredients.

Here are three quick and easy desserts that take full advantage of texture contrast. One is a simple "pudding" of apple sauce with toasted bran flakes. Another is a new dish that will please any child or hungry man — a sundae, believe it or not, made of ice-cream and cereal! And the third recipe is for an uncooked pie shell that you can whip up in a jiffy — just put together crushed corn flakes, sugar, cinnamon and butter. Yes, there's fun in looking for texture contrast, and a good "chef's secret" to tuck away in your memory!

Flaky Apple Dessert

1½ tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups 40% bran flakes
2 cups (1 No. 2 can) apple sauce

Melt butter in small skillet. Add bran flakes and heat over low flame until crisp and golden brown, stirring constantly. Place thin layer of apple sauce in shallow casserole or in individual dessert dishes or sherbet glasses. Add layer of bran flakes; then add layer of apple sauce; repeat, topping with layer of bran flakes. Serve immediately with cream or custard sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Note: A dash of cinnamon or nutmeg and 1 teaspoon lemon juice may be added to the apple sauce.

Crunchy Sundae

Place individual servings of Grape-Nuts in dessert dishes. Top each with a large scoop of vanilla ice cream. Sprinkle sugar over cereal and ice cream and pour a generous amount of cream over all.

Unbaked Pie Shell

1¼ cups corn flakes, finely crushed
2 to 4 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
⅓ cup melted butter or other shortening

Combine corn flakes, sugar, and cinnamon. Add melted butter and mix well. Press firmly on bottom and sides of 9-inch pie pan. Chill.

Regulation "W" Is Amended Slightly

Effective Monday, the Federal Reserve Board is allowing home demonstrations for appliances and radios under Regulation W without down payments for a period of 10 days, provided delivery is made exclusively for "bona fide trial, approval and demonstration."

In making known an amendment to Regulation W, the board said that the change is designed to reduce certain technical difficulties experienced by instalment dealers subject to the regulation.

It was explained that it has been the custom for some dealers to deliver appliances and other articles subject to the customers' approval for demonstration purposes. When such deliveries were made in anticipation of an instalment sale, the regulation has, heretofore, required a down payment at or before the time of delivery.

Lights On Band Hats Furnished by Boosters

Those changing lights of blue, yellow, green and red that are seen weekly at football contests on Magly Field by West High's celebrated marching band, were made possible by the West High Boosters Club, Charles Bennett, band director, said this week.

Recently the Boosters presented Principal I. F. Young of the Hilltop school with a $1,000 check, to be used in promoting girls' athletics at West High.

Latest Booster contribution to the school of $75 for lighting the chapeaux of West High Band members has added much to the showmanship of the Western band, school patrons say.

Want to save a bit on your budget? Here's a recipe for a fish dish that will take care of one meal—yes, and many more "repeat" meals later on:

Salmon Cutlets

1 cup hot mashed potatoes
1 cup flaked salmon
Egg and crumbs
Salt and pepper
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Add potato to salmon. Season with salt, pepper and lemon juice. Shape into cutlets, egg and crumb and fry in deep fat.

Deer Good Swimmers

Blacktail deer are excellent swimmers and will take to the water for five or six miles at a stretch to escape pursuit.

MR. AND MRS. BLISS A. BROWN, 173 S. Hague-av, recently returned from a 10-day visit with their son, Robert Wayne Brown, and his family of Arkedelphia, Ark.

Beef Mironton

6 slices cold beef
1 cup bouillon or
1 cup water mixed with canned tomato sauce
Salt and pepper
6 onions
1 to 2 tablespoons fat
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons vinegar
Bread crumbs

Slice the onions and brown them in fat in a frying pan. Add the flour and brown. Then add vinager, bouillon or the water and tomato sauce. Cook together until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper. Smother the slices of beef in the sauce for a few minutes. Pour into a baking dish; sprinkle some bread crumbs over the top and bake for five minutes.

Modernization Of Rural Areas Is Threat To Wildlife

Ohio Conservation Commissioner H. A. Rider, speaking at the annual meeting of the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation Commissioners at Atlantic City, said: "We in the agricultural states of the midwest must become increasingly philosophical in our efforts to produce more game for an ever-increasing army of hunters."

"Faced with the doubling of licensed hunters in the past ten years," he said, "and an expansion of urban areas coupled with a more intense agricultural program with many practices inimical to farm game, we in the midwest are fearful of being able to maintain the existing wildlife populations."

"The increased use of high-speed hay mowers and the night cutting of alfalfa for dehydrating mills especially in the pheasant countries of northwestern Ohio has increased the pheasant mortality more than 60%. In 1946," Rider pointed out, "the alfalfa cutting operations of six mills alone killed 2,418 juvenile pheasants and 5,829 adult birds or a grand total of 8,247 birds by actual count."

"The rapid disappearance of hedgerows together with the increasing use of herbicides in eliminating roadside vegetation and weeds in crop fields in modern farming have created a serious wild game "housing" shortage. Continued grazing of woodlots is an additional threat to pheasants ,cottontails, fox squirrels and other farm game species in many sections."

"The quicker we give up our wishful thinking concerning many past practices in game population, the longer we are going to have public hunting."

In his closing remarks, Rider said: "It is our sincere belief that any wildlife program must be compatible with proper land use, work conveniently into soil conservation and above all be acceptable to agriculture if it is to succeed and possess the opportunity to make it worthwhile."

The second air edition of the "Listen Ladies" program, broadcast over WCOL in cooperation with the Hilltop Record, was circulated throughout Hilltop homes on Oct. 29.

Aired between 1:30 and 2 every afternoon, the "Listen Ladies" program is MC'd by Bill Burt. Dorothy Moore provides music at the console.

Every week, as a special guest of the Hilltop Record, some Hilltop organization attends the broadcast in a body and participates in the fun. Last week's guest organizations were the Tenn Wagner and Weinrich Societies of the Hilltop Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Interviews, music and prizes are all part of the program. Some of the winners on last week's program were: Mrs. Henry E. Geshwilm, 421 S. Terrace-av, who won a leather carrying case; Mrs. H. L. Bowers, 69 S. Richardson, who won a compact; Mrs. C. M. Barbee, 329 S. Along with the regular quizzes and interviews which make up the program, a gift is sent to a worthy shut-in after each broadcast. Worthy shut-in for last week was Mrs. W. E. Grenell, 219 Powhatan-av, who received a set of dishes.

Guest organization for the program of Nov. 5 is the Kiwanikwe. In addition, Nov. 12 has been designated as American Legion Auxiliary Day on the program and the women of that organization will have a special program featuring women from their group.

If your organization would care to attend these broadcasts, arrangements may be made at the Hilltop Record office, 2465 W. Broad-st.

HCC To Plan Christmas Party

The Hilltop Community Council will hold its regular monthly meeting next Thursday evening at the Hilltop YMCA, 2585 W. Broad-st.

A complete report on the Halloween Party held at West High last Saturday will be given.

A speaker representing the local Big Brother organization will be on hand to tell the gathering about the activities of this worthy group.

Tentative plans for the fourth Annual Christmas party will be discussed.

Cyrus Rawlings, president of the group, will appoint a nominating committee who will report at the December meeting.

Good rubies or emeralds of four carats or more are usually more valuable than diamonds of the same size.

It was in November, 1879, that the cash register was patented.

Have You Seen 4-Mile Marker?

Within "gun shot" of West High School, rising about two feet above the pavement at Huron-av and W. Broad-st, is a stone marker. Only a few persons now give it a passing glance. Students at West High have doubtless seen it numerous times, but perhaps only few know of its significance.

However, before "gas buggies" were known and state highway markers were erected, it was of interest to all travelers on the National Road. Although now it is inside Columbus, it formerly was four miles from the center of town (presumably Broad and High-sts).

Throughout the length of the highway, which joined the east and west, these markers were placed at mile intervals—but few now remain. Progress dictates that state and national highway markers be used.

At this point also, an inn, known as the Four-Mile House, was a community center for the natives on "Sullivant Hill"—now the Hilltop. Travelers on the National Road, anticipated the hospitality which characterized this famous tavern.

Other taverns in the borough of Columbus proper furnished keen competition for the Four-Mile Inn. Such names as the following were familiar 100 years ago: the National Hotel, operated by John Noble; the Franklin House, by J. Robinson and Son; the Globe Hotel, by Robert Russell; the Lion Hotel, by Jeremiah Armstrong; the Eagle Hotel, by David Brooks; the White Horse, by Amps Meneely; the Farmers and Mechanics' Tavern, by T. Cadwallder; and an extension boarding house by Ira Grover.

OBSERVE PARENTS' NIGHT

Boy Scout Troop 172 of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church, will present a demonstration program on Parents' Night, which will be observed Monday, Nov. 8 at 7 p. m. Following the meeting refreshments will be served. Friends as well as parents are cordially invited to attend.

Band Parents Sponsor Dances; Band May Go To Cincinnati

The West High Band Parents Club will sponsor a North-West Band Dance, following the gridiron battle Friday evening, Nov. 5, and a West-Linden dance following the game on Nov. 12.

The West High Dance Band will furnish the music for the dances, to be held in the school gym. Charles W. Bennett is the band director.

Proceeds from these dances, for which tickets are 40c each, will determine whether or not the West High Band will accompany the football squad to Cincinnati Hughes on Nov. 19. If the returns are adequate they will be used to pay transportation expenses so that the band might put in an appearance at the last game of the season.

Dance tickets may be purchased from any band parent or any member of the band.

Mrs. E. B. McCready, president of the club, has appointed as the committees in charge, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Cline, Mr. and Mrs. Reed Jenkinson, refreshments; Mrs. Ellis Jones, check room; Mrs. Dennen Leach, publicity; and Ellis Jones, doormen.

Nov. 5 Deadline For Browns Ducats

Noon, Nov. 5, will be the final deadline for the purchase of tickets to the West High Boosters' special train to Cleveland for the Cleveland Browns-49'ers professional football game.

The deadline was set ahead from the previously announced date when the Boosters discovered that instead of the two coaches which were to make the trip, only one would be available. Earlier in the week, only 14 tickets were still unsold.

Date of departure for the game is Nov. 14. Tickets are on sale in Seiller's Department Store for $11 complete.

West High School coaches and their wives will be special guests of the Booster organization at the game.

In November, 1775, the Marines were organized.

WEST HIGH AT WORK

No Dead Language At West High; Linguists Are Properly Indoctrinated

There is no dead language at West High School.

This is especially true in the department of romance languages where students clamor to enroll in Spanish and French with the popular and well informed teacher, Leona Glenn, whose pedagogy is not confined to the covers of the textbook.

Visiting Mexico and Guatemala on several occasions, Miss Glenn indoctrinates her linguists with much local flavor and color gained from her association with our South American neighbors.

"We aim to teach conversational understanding and speaking as well as writing, the native tongue," Miss Glenn remarked. "Students learn to use the language skillfully by actual practice and they love to use the foreign language of their choice," Miss Glenn said.

Although only two years of French are offered on the school program, Miss Glenn makes it possible for students to receive the equivalent of four years of French. In Spanish, a four year course is on the school agenda.

"I want them to have a rich background of the language so they can talk, understand and appreciate to the fullest what their new tongue offers," Miss Glenn avers.

Explaining that it was smart for students — especially college preparatory students—to get their foreign language in high school, she pointed out that time, energy and money could be saved by students, once they were apprised of this fact.

"Students who plan university work and have limited high school work in language but a sufficient mastery of it, may take placement tests, enabling them to skip certain courses and still receive credit for the course skipped," Miss Glenn advised.

Then again, by taking the advanced work, following the placement test, the student makes quicker progress, expediting his university work in minimum time.

Bradley Richardson, '47, now a "fellow" at Harvard University, took first in state-wide scholastic competition in French in '47, and the year before placed third. Richardson was unusually high on the College Board examination in modern language and was placed in an advanced French course.

Rosemarie Colombo, '48, took third honors in the state, scholastically, in French, and the year before was in second place.

Joan Smith, '48, who passed the College Board with an exceptionally high score in language last year, was admitted to Radcliff.

Virginia Witherspoon, '48, three year Spanish student at West, is majoring in Spanish at OSU, skipping one course already.

Helen Dunning, '43, who also passed satisfactory placement test, at OSU, is at present teaching French in Grandview High School.

Aleta Schwender, is majoring in Spanish at Capital.

Students in the department raised money for purposes of buying a record player. Transcriptions of songs, stories, plays, etc., in the native language are learned from the record player. Army conversational records of vocabulary and conversation series are frequently heard and studied.

Plays are staged, frequently written and directed by students in room 2.

Independent research and reading is carried on, enabling students to accelerate their work if they wish. Outside reading is assigned, supplementing the basic requirement in the course.

Her globe-trotting observations are reflected in an otherwise dry recitation period for students. Timely observations are tied in with the course.

Miss Glenn's teaching duties do not end at 3:30. Three nights weekly she teaches 401 French at Ohio State.

Columbus Boy May Receive Heroism Medal

A committee of local citizens is attempting to secure the Carnegie Medal of Heroism for a Columbus youth, Milton Gore, 689 Reynolds-av, who rescued a young mother, Mrs. Elsie Mae Wilson, 1084 Whitethorne-av, from the Scioto River., on Oct. 4.

Gore leaped from the Town-st bridge to the woman's rescue after hearing her screams.

The committee, headed by Emile Reiss, 2415 Indianola-av, met at Lazarus store Wednesday to outline plans for petitioning the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission in Pittsburgh, to award the medal.

Besides Reiss, members of the committee are Maxine Davies of WCOL, Gilbert Carper of Lazarus, H. G. Moore, past president of the Franklin County American Legion Post No. 1, Harry Seltzer of Lazarus, Guy Cunningham, Mrs. Elizabeth Simons and Elizabeth Evans.

Highland Holds Halloween Parade

Highland Avenue School held its annual Halloween parade on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 28. Some 600 pupils and teachers participated in the costume promenade.

After the parade, several parties were held in the various rooms.

Highland now has a sewing club under the sponsoroship of Mrs. Clark, a fifth grade teacher. The club meets at the school on Mondays following the close of school.

Scout Display To Be At Westgate Meth.

On Nov. 11, when the Westgate Methodist Church holds its annual turkey dinner and bazaar, the Girl Scouts of this church will have on display the handcraft of members of their troop. Also on display will be a kit of clothing to be sent overseas as a part of the 100,000 kits of clothing, each a complete wardrobe for some destitute child of Europe. The Girl Scouts of America hope to complete this project, called "Clothes for Friendship", by Dec. 1.

Members of this group, under the leadership of Mrs. A. Topping, 232 N. Powell-av, and Mrs. W. C. Glass, 213 Demorest-rd, are Kay Glass, Jayne Glass, Ruth Ann Topping, Sandra Miller, Carolyn Mattox, Ruth Lorenz, Marilyn Knight, Barbara Glass, Joan Recob and Joan Lehman.

Box To Be Sent To R. Ashburns Now In W. Africa

Rev. and Mrs. Reginald Ashburn

The Missionary Society of the Oakley Avenue Baptist Church is filling a box with miscellaneous items to be sent to Rev. and Mrs. Reginald Ashburn, serving in Monrovia, Liberia, in West Africa. Rev. Ashburn is principal of the Monrovia School.

A graduate of West High School, he is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Jacob Ashburn, 300 of S. Oakley-av. The latter Rev. Ashburn is pastor of the Oakley Avenue church.

The church group has planned to pack the box with such articles as canned fruits, candies, threads and medicines. Anyone desiring to add to the collection of gifts may leave his item at the church parsonage, 300 S. Oakley-av.

Rev. and Mrs. Ashburn will be in West Africa for approximately five years. They left Columbus in early May of this year. Mrs. Ashburn, a native African, also teaches at the school there. She studied at the New York University. Her husband received his training at the Virginia Seminary in Lynchburg, Va., and at Ohio State University.

$64 Question: Can West Beat North For The Championship Here Friday Night?

"THAT'S Y"

By Ronnie Beothe

"Swing Your Partner—Pass the Jug" and we'll start our square dancing at the "Y". Beware, all eligible bachelors, Nov. 13 is the date set for the Hilltop "Y" Sadie Hawkins dance and race. The gathering will be presided over by Marryin' Sam Thorn and Hairless Joe Maus. Admission will be determined by the captive's waist line, at one cent per inch. The orchestra is still unknown but watch the bulletin board.

Seen: Judy, Skip and Jean giving the place a cleaning last Saturday. "Spider" Webb and Chuck O'Conner giving the ping-pong ball a workout. Howard Spring hiding a sack of doughnuts from everyone. We wish to inform the neighbors that the groans heard were only notes from Roger Geist's trombone — not Inner Sanctum.

The Camera Club seemed to have an interesting session last Wednesday night on "enlarging and developing" under the watchful eyes of Wes Dennis and Tom Typton.

Attention, girls—next Monday afternoon, Nov. 8, at 3:30 p. m., a Sewing Club is to be organized under the guidance of Mrs. Russell Barnes of 678 S. Warren-av. All girls interested should be at the "Y" on Monday.

Matthew Augenstein, 110 S. Brinker-av, reported to police Friday morning that four panels of a porch at his home had been broken out by large stones. The incident was supposedly a party of the Halloween vandalism.

Football again becomes the top subject of conversation on the Hilltop this week. Can West match the speed and cunning of the North High Polar Bears and thus retain possession of the City League crown for the second year in a row?

That is the question on almost every Hilltopper's lips this week as everything points to Magly Field tomorrow night at 8 o'clock when the answer to that question should be forthcoming.

Coach Mack Pemberton's Cowboys, fresh from a 33 to 0 romp over the lowly Aquinas Terriers last week, again led the City League with four wins. North is one point behind with a tie to mar an otherwise perfect record. On the outcome of tomorrow's game hinges the championship as it has done so many times in the past with North.

In anticipation of a record turnout, Magly Field is being revamped to provide seating accommodations for 7200 fans and there seems little doubt that they will all be needed. The West High Booster Club is this week moving the baseball bleachers to a position directly behind the south goal post. This will accommodate an additional 1200 customers. Gates will be open at 6:30 o'clock. All seats are on a first-come first-served basis.

Snapping back from a 31 to 7 defeat at the hands of New Philadelphia on Oct. 22, the Cowboys were mentally and physically in shape for the Terriers, whose season has been unimpressive to date. West piled up 20 first downs to 6 for the visitors and outrushed them 257 yards to 78. In the air the Hilltoppers likewise commanded the situation by gaining 58 to 8 for Aquinas.

The game was marked by considerable roughness that led to the eviction of a player from each team. Eight penalties were meted out against each team before the final gun had sounded.

The Cowboys staged a 76-yard march for their first touchdown early in the first quarter with Dick Culbertson sparking the attack. Paul Theisen got credit for the TD, going over on a quarterback sneak. Captain Chuck Weeks made the conversion.

After Aquinas was forced to kick, Theisen ran the punt back to his own 41. Danny Miles and Culbertson took turns at lugging the pigskin to the visitors' 21. There Gene Brown made it first down on the 10 and three plays later Miles scored his first touchdown of the season as he plunged through the line for the score. Aquinas was offsides on the try for extra point and on the second attempt Theisen carried the ball for the tally.

For a time the Terriers came to life, chalking up two first downs in a row with Don Outland and Melchiorre spearheading the attack. But the visitors' offense could not move through the fast-charging West line and Clint Brown kicked to Culbertson on the nine. Again the Cowboys were on the march as Theisen made it first down on the 26. Miles, Theisen, Brown and Rudolph alternated in taking the ball to the Terrier 15. Two penalties in a row set West back to the 42. Theisen faded back and shot a long forward pass intended for either Rudolph or Speakman. The serial bounced off the hands of offensive and defensive players with Speakman finally snagging it before it hit the ground. He was brought down on the 3-yard marker and Brown scored the third touchdown of the evening. The kick for extra point was blocked.

Just before the half ended the Cowboys drew two penalties for toughness and Theisen and Brown (Aquinas) were sent to the dressing rooms by the officials for "roughing it up."

Opening the second half with a three-touchdown lead, Coach Pemberton for the first time this year was able to give some of the reserves a chance to get some real game experience.

As the third period got under way the Terriers moved the ball to the West 46 but lost the ball when Quarterback John Masdea elected to pass on fourth down but could find no receiver open and was hit at about the line of scrimmage. Masdea, incidentally, is a brother of Bruno Masdea, a West star of two seasons ago. A few plays later Halfback Don Eitle turned in a 22-yard run that took the ball to the Terriers' 13. On the next play Brown romped all the way for the fourth six-pointer. Weeks' kick was good and the score was 27 to 0.

Chuck Frasure, the boy who has done the punting for West all season, Glen Schroeder and Culbertson spearheaded the attack that led to the fifth TD of the evening, which came in the fourth period. With the ball on the Aquinas 20, Bill Thrush hit Eddie Sensenbrenner with a pass that was good to the five. Schroeder went to the one-foot marker and Wilfred Evans scored the touchdown.

Staley-Seillers High

Edna Staley and the Thursday night ladies' Seiller's Department Store team jumped into the column of season highs last week with 243 and 2531 respectively.

Edna's 243 game came on Sunday evening while she was rolling in the Sunday Night Mixed League. She rolls with Gene Harold, Robert Smith and Barbara Smith (better known to bowlers as Babs Vlna). Her 243 game is one of the five highest games to be rolled this season.

The Thursday night before Edna's 243 game, came another near season high as the ladies' Seiller's Department Store team blasted out a 2531 count. Sarah Winnestaffer's 232 and Edythe Suttner with 557 were tops for the team while Edythe had 202 and Mary Harrity had 500. Even with these good scores, Warden Drugs managed to take the middle game, 810-793.

Dick Ardle

Here's the official box score for the evening:

We are saying goodbye to our old and faithful friend (?), the foul-judge, this week. The Hilltop alleys have just received an electric eye which will eliminate the mean old judge and also some of the arguments that come up on his decisions.

Don Keeley and Chuck Worthington, both of Shroyer's Funeral Home, with 233 and 599, led the Commercial League Monday night, while Howard Smith's 246-617 was high for the later Recreation League.

Mae Adamson's 215 and Elsie Dungan's 511 paced the Pastime League Tuesday night while on the men's side it was Herb Breckner of Francis-Stinson with 544.

Tanner's Figure Control team took team honors of 2440 in the Wednesday Night Friendship League while Nita Kauderer and Cal Kimball took individual honors with 199 and 502. Claude Bynner's 222 and Jim Polzer's 583 were high in the Suburban League.

Harvey Cowgill blasted the pins to the tune of 243-597, to pace the Business Men, while Betty DeBow with 210 and Mary Harrity with 532 topped the women Thursday night.

Alex Fisher was high in the early Friday Nighters' League, with 242-589, while the later K. of C. League honors went to Ray Dethy with 193 and Dick Mobile and Ted Finneran with 539 each.

The Teen-Agers were paced by Diane Smith with 156-400, Carl Latscha with 205 and Gene Urban with 562. St. Aloysius PTA honors went to Dodo Goetz with 188-513.

Esquire Team In First Place

Esquire Men's Shop Team of the Riverview All Star League put on a fine display of toppling the maples last week as they gained the No. 1 spot among the city keglers with a blistering 1134-3089. The single game is just two pins under the current city high of 1136, by United Refrigeration, also of the All Star League.

The Esquire team took over top honors in the league Monday evening, as they won two, while United Refrigeration lost three, giving the former a 16-8 record, with U. R. close behind, having 15-9.

This is Esquire's second year in the league, in which they placed sixth last year. The team is sponsored by the Esquire Men's Shop, here on the Hilltop at 2502 W. Broad-st.

Book Week Set For Nov. 14-20

The week of Nov. 14-20 has been set as "Book Week" this year, Helen Lumley, West High librarian, announced this week.

The original "Book Week" was begun in 1919, Miss Lumley said. Until now it is almost impossible to estimate the number of communities that observe this occasion, the librarian added.

Miss Lumley says she has ordered book marks and posters, which will arrive soon to publicize the occasion.

There are also several new books in the library shelves, including "The Silver Llama", Alida Malkus; "Linda Marsh", Adele De Leeuw; "A Touch of Greatness", C. W. Anderson; "Life With Father", Clarence Day; "Sequoya", Catherine Coblentz; "A Star Pointed North", Edmund Fuller; "Mutiny Island", C. M. Bennet; "The Best of Sherlock Holmes", Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

Red Cross Opens New Blood Center Here On Dec. 7

Columbus Red Cross headquarters announced this week that on Dec. 7, the new Regional Blood Center at 30 E. Town-st. will be formally opened. This will be the fourteenth center established in the nation, and the only blood center in Ohio for at least the next two years. Open house will be held.

There will be no charge for the blood or its products, although, officials say, there may be the customary hospital laboratory charge and the physician's fee.

Appointment books are now open to individuals and groups wanting to make blood donations. Appointments may be made by calling MA. 6841.

Date of the opening coincides with the seventh anniversary of the bombing of Pearl Harbor in 1941 and the opening of the county's wartime Red Cross blood center in 1942.

Newspaper Ownership Is A Trust

"I have never regarded the stock I owned in the News and Observer as property but as certificates of trust to be administered for the common good of the people . . . I advise and enjoin those who direct the paper in the tomorrow never to advocate any cause for personal profit or preferment . . . if the paper should at any time be the voice of self-interest or become the spokesman of privilege or self-ishness, it would be untrue to its history."

—From the will of the late Josephus Daniels, Raleigh (N.C.) News and Observer.

Those are words which epitomize true journalism. They are certain to find their way into the text books, anthologies and memories of newspapermen, for the ages. A modern classic has been born—from the pen of a man who was writing his will and wanted his ideals to be known.

They are simple words, true words.

They are a salient beacon toward which young writers should aim—in whose light older writers should bask.

Now the late Josephus Daniels was not a poor man. He ran a profitable newspaper; he paid his help well, he as sufficiently financed through his work to live a good life, give his family the better things and carry on comfortably in secure, advanced age.

When we say, cold heartedly, that the newspaper must be financially stable to do public service, we do not mean that it must be grasping until it reaches firm footing. There is no gap—no overlooking the ethics—early in a newspaper's rise so one may come back to his policies after it has reached the higher brackets.

The public need must be served — first, last, always. It can be served without loss of money. Indeed, it may mean more money—because the public will be more appreciative.

Service to the public is not a question of theory versus practice. It is practice. The mere fact that newspaper have become "big business" does not alter the requirement.

IN MINIATURE

A letter is a little life
Impaled upon a page.
None but the mind that is in tune
Can trace its lineage.

For every phrase will shape itself
To fit the reader's mould.
Each measures the immeasurable
By what his heart can hold.

AUTUMN'S ALPHABET

Inscribed in letters of pale gold
On grey November's page,
Now singing syllables and bold
Tell the season's age.

With like integrity may you
Draw, in strict parallel,
The deathless lines that will construe
All you have to tell.

Of faltering and strength regained,
Of joy and discontent—
Of laughter, love and hope sustained
And all things pertinent.

EMILY DICKINSON

Enclosed within a hedge
Of privet, doubts and nays,
A burning spinster paced
Her clipped New England days.

While pretty singers droned
A local, nasal hymn,
She raised a timeless voice;
It reached no spatial rim.

She never saw a moor,
She never saw the sea,
Yet from a hilltop in her heart
She scanned Infinity.

FIRST HAIRCUT

Only a little girl can know
The anguish and the thrill
Of having her first pigtails cut,
As half against her will

And half expectantly she sits
Straight in the hoisted chair
And views the amputation of
Her golden ropes of hair.

The scissors move; beyond recall
The shining braids are gone;
She gazes at the stranger there,
And tries her new face on.

Wheeling with rasping cry;
Grey shades of night embodying,

Of setting sun and silent dawn,
And all the stars between.

Habit is a dress we wear
That fits us very snug.

The zipper will not work.

BIBLE COMMENT

FOR NOV. 7

Book of Job Offers Faith as Solution To All Suffering

THE problem of suffering has been a puzzling one ever since men began to think.

It particularly occupied the minds of the writers who gave us the Bible, and whose distinction in life and literature is the supremacy of their interest in moral and spiritual values.

They early made a distinction between good and evil in thought and conduct. Their first solution of the matter of suffering and welfare was in the broad observation that good conduct made for happiness and well-being, while evil conduct brought its consequences, expressed in the warning, "Be sure your sin will find you out."

In a general way this conclusion is true and is upheld in experience. But more thoughtful observers soon perceived that the simple equations—good living equals happiness and welfare, and evil living equals evil consequences—did not fit every case.

It was obvious that the easy, simple solutions of the problem of suffering didn't square with the facts, or at least with all of the facts.

The first effective challenge to that simple solution came in the great drama, the Book of Job. It is important to remember that it is a drama, in which various characters are speaking.

The drama of Job is skillfully set to emphasize the problem of a good man, beset by severe afflictions, who refuses to accept the easy solutions of his friends.

What, then, does the Book of Job offer as the solution of this problem of suffering of the innocent with the guilty? Nothing but the solution of faith, the placing of the mystery of suffering in the deeper mystery of the world and life, and the faith that the Judge of all the Earth will do right.

This is reaffirmed in the assurance of Jesus concerning God's love and care—"Not a sparrow falleth to the ground without your Father." But it is still a matter of faith, for there is still the mystery of why the sparrow falls. But Job found a real solution in faith.

Mrs. Stickel Is Institute Chairman

The admission fee for the entire Institute is $1.00; a single session fee is fifty cents. The Institute is open to the public.

SHORT SHORT Story

Fresh Air

By MICHAEL TIFF

"IF THERE'S anything I hate," muttered Bud McDaniels, "it's swinging this pick."

"It's the smart guys that get real joy out o' life, said Tim Lafferty. "Dumb galoots like us sweat our heads off for pennies and what we call three squares."

Bud threw down his pick. "We're thinking the same. Let's eat."

Climbing out of the ditch, they opened their baskets and began to wolf their sandwiches. As Bud relaxed on an apple, a torn portion of a newspaper was blown against him.

"What you reading?" asked his friend, picking his teeth and lying on his back in the sun.

3-Minute Fiction

"Listen to this," said Bud. "Says here, 'Not satisfied with a new plane, Clarence Dunne bought a motorboat and took long rides up the Hudson.' That guy sure is one o' those smart ones we were talking about."

"What's the headline?" asked Tim.

"That part's torn away. But here's some more. 'Clarence became known as Playboy Number One along the Big Stem. There wasn't a night club he didn't visit. When he stepped out with the chorines, he left a trail of dollars behind him.' Can you imagine a guy like that?" Bud looked up from the paper. "He knew how to enjoy life. Catch him going miles near a pick."

"Wish I was in his boots. Any more?"

"Yep. It says here, 'Clarence stopped only at the classiest hotels and gave the bell-boys fifty dollars apiece. He invited the prettiest girls to his parties and the champagne ran free as a waterfall. With Clarence there wasn't any limit. His philosophy was to have a rip-roaring time while he could. He bought diamonds and rubies for his favorites. And he liked his food." Bud looked up. "Get that, Tim? this guy liked his eats."

Tim sat up. "Go on, read more. I bet he ate like a king, eh?"

"Bet he did. Well, it says here, 'Clarence was a modern Jim Brady, if there ever was one. He had the best meals, salads and sauces in the hotels. He ate three times as much as the average man.

"Boy, he sure did have the right slant," said Tim. "Why, I'd call him the smartest man that ever breathed."

"Only fools like us work like slaves and for what? Some beef sandwiches and a hard bed to sleep in. And my wife, Ann. What does she get out of it? Why, Clarence Dunne had something to offer a girl." Bud turned the paper around. "Look, there's more on this side. Says, 'Clarence Dunne laughed when reporters asked him whether he liked to work. "Work," said Clarence with a knowing wink. "What do you take me for? I tried work once. I didn't take to it or maybe it didn't take to me".'"

"Bud, after hearing about Clarence I'll be hanged if I care to go back to that ditch with the others."

The other men were rubbing their sleepy eyes and putting their lunch kits in order. Soon the afternoon shift would begin, four hours of sweating and straining.

"Anything more about this Clarence guy?" inquired Tim hopefully.

"Just a few more words down here at the bottom." Bud concentrated upon the bit of paper before the signal from the foreman would end their rest. "It says, 'Clarence remained quite calm and at ease as he was led away by the police'—hey, what's this about the police?" Bud leaned closer to the ground and Tim stooped forward, his ears cocked.

"Go on, read, Bud."

" 'To the cell which will be Clarence Dunne's home for the next twenty years—the total sentence for the series of bank robberies'."

Bud and Tim exchanged silent glances. Then they picked up their tools and went back to the ditch.

Many Dignitaries On Membership Roll Of West PTA

West High PTA, heretofore one of the largest in the nation, has finished a whirlwind membership campaign in the home rooms, numbering among its membership celebrities of national, state, and local importance—and adding to its roster, the substantial citizenry that constitutes the Hilltop.

Prominent in soliciting members were several 12-A boys who personally contacted potential members—signing-up almost 100 names, and collecting 35c per head.

Paul Theisen, Joe Six, Jim Palmer, and Glen Schroeder took the initiative in planning and carrying on a campaign that put them out in front.

Holding a personal check from Senator John W. Bricker of Ohio, for membership in the local PTA, the boys felt that it would be a distinct honor to themselves and West High PTA to have one of Ohio's leading citizens on its membership roll.

Other dignitaries include many state, county, and city officials: Governor Thomas J. Herbert, Mayor James Rhodes, State Auditor J. T. Ferguson; County Auditor Fred Dunn, County Commissioner Chuck Landerbaugh, State Treasurer Don Ebright, Secretary of State Edward Hummel, Grover Clements, Director — Engineers of the Franklin County Planning Commission, and his assistant T. R. Hickey, and Walter Tucker of the Metropolitan Park Commission.

Wilson School PTA Plans Family Night For Friday, Nov. 5

The Wilson School PTA will hold its annual family night Friday at 8 p. m. Wendell Litt of the recreation department at Ohio State University will direct folk dancing and games for the entire family.

Musical entertainment will be furnished by the Singing Sheriffs' Quartet composed of Harry Freeman, Fred Hawkes, Raymond Hathaway and Fred Washburn with Claire Shipman accompanist.

Although the membership campaign is over, Mrs. Spanable will still accept dues for additional members.

On Wednesday, Nov. 10, the Study Group of the PTA will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Nardin, Brown-rd. The topic for discussion is "Lesson Trouble" with Mrs. Coffield as guest speaker.

No Fisherman Tries Just One Cast

Nobody expects to reel in a bass the first time he throws out his plug. The good fisherman makes sure he has something the fish will take, picks out what should be the best spot and then makes one cast after another. Usually his patience is rewarded with a good catch to take home.

It's the Same Way With Advertising

The wise merchant doesn't expect to reap a big harvest of customers on the first ad. Rather, he makes sure he is advertising something people want, checks to see what paper reaches the most readers who have money to buy and reaches them with the news they most want to read, and then runs a carefully planned series of attractive ads. This wise merchant knows that only a series of casts will catch the fish, that only steady advertising will put him first in the minds of all prospective customers.

BALANCING YOUR ACCOUNT

EVERYONE is interested as the seal performs his feat; for underneath is the slumbering concern that we may do as well at the end of the month, at Income Tax time, and ever at the close of the year, perhaps looking forward to the final settlement at the end of life itself.

BALANCING the account is never finished, as life goes on from one accounting time to another; the bank statement for the current month begins by unbalancing what we did only thirty days ago. Life is ever seeking a new form of achievement, giving us another set of figures to wrestle with. So we must look forward, with whatever anxiety we may feel, to the next accounting.

THE seal has succeeded well, but it did not do it the first time. Practice, hour after hour, made success possible. Try, try and try again; that is the rule of accounting. The man who has learned to make a daily check-up is well on the way to a successful weekly accounting. Children shy away from the test, as if it were something unreal, a form of persecution concocted by school teachers. Happy is the man who learns early that life needs continual checking and accounting. Happy is he too, if he forms the habit of making careful accounting, because he wants to know day by day how his account stands.

FINANCIAL accounts worry us perhaps out of proportion. Our really important accounting is with the inner person himself. Have I more friends than last year at this time? If not, why am I failing in friendship making? How do I stand in the matter of love and peace of mind and self-respect? Have I a firmer grip on my temper, better poise in meeting and dealing with my fellows? Is there more of genuine quality about my character than before? How am I doing as a man in the midst of his fellows? How much confidence does my family have in me? How much of happiness do we share together? Do I speak more kindly and smile more sincerely? The Church will help you in balancing the most important of all accounts.

SUNSET CEMETERY and CREMETORY
"WHERE YOU GET THE BEST FOR LESS"

We believe no cemetery in the Columbus area has as many sections with appropriate Memorial Shrines dedicated to members of fraternal organizations and their families as are in Sunset. Witness the section set aside for all Masonic organizations, Spanish-American War Veterans, Fraternal Order of Eagles and veterans of all wars. The Memorial Shrine, recently erected on the last-named sections, is a dignified work of art. All of the Shrines must be seen to be fully appreciated.

You are invited to drive in over our recently re-surfaced roads, and inspect them.

If interested in cremation please arrange for same through the Funeral Director of your choice.

Too Bad It Happens This Way

Little mountains are frequently made out of mole hills in the game of politics and so many times people are hurt in the fracas when they shouldn't be.

Such an instance is that of the recent resignation of Chief Berry of the police department.

Three Kiwanians Discuss Girdles, Politics, and Hilltop Growth At Forum

Three members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club were speakers at the club meeting last Thursday and their topics included statistics on Columbus, the election and growth of the Hilltop.

Franklin D. Sparks quoted market data for Columbus showing such facts as:

1 There has been an increase of about 80,000 people in Columbus in the past eight years.

2 There have been about 22,000 dwelling units built here in the same period.

3 Fifty-one per cent of Columbus own their own homes.

4 The buying income per family averages $4,522 per year.

5 Forty three per cent of the people buy their groceries on Friday and another 43% on Saturday, leaving about 14% of the purchases made from Monday through Thursday.

6 Over 84% own mechanical refrigerators and 1.8% own home freezers.

Over 67% own automobiles. [illegible] try and find a parking space downtown).

Over 41% of Columbus Women wear girdles and nearly 75% wear brassieres with 11.9% wearing corsets.

Mose Williams commented on public opinion polls, showing how far wrong they had been in the election last week.

Why does anyone wish to be President of the United States?" he asked. He then pointed out "Last Tuesday we handed President Truman the world's biggest job with hard work, long hours and low pay. More than 235 agencies have direct access to the president.

The president has to perform [illegible] the ceremonial functions of a king, handle the government [illegible] of a prime minister, give [illegible] to the armed forces as commander-in-chief and act as leader of the party.

"He cannot afford to neglect any of his duties. If he found himself too busy to greet an important foreign visitor, to lay a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier or to light the national Christmas tree, it would raise a storm.

"He hasn't had a raise since 1909 when his salary was set at $75,000 per year. After he has paid his income tax, made all his contributions and inescapable obligations of his position, it is estimated he has about $11,000 left to live on.

"Surely there are a lot of red faces among the poll takers, but I would like to suggest that those of us who voted for the loser for the sake of the party, now be for the winner for the sake of the nation."

Elmer Hegenberger, delivering an address written by Curtis Wilcox, pointed to the growth of the Hilltop from a cow pasture to a city the size of Middletown, Ohio. Pointing to the transportation facilities available he said he could heartily recommend the extension of the Mound Street bus line to Binns Blvd. In a discussion period following, Ed Melvin stated that the bus line could not be extended until the street is improved and that will depend upon the consent of property owners to asume the necessary assessments.

"I remember Sullivant-av when it was a mud road with rough street car track down the center and all the area west of Hague-av was farm land. After watching this development I now wonder what our future growth will be and in what direction. Will it be south of the airport, west of Rome or west of Alton or will we have new municipalities such as Arlington, Bexley and Grandview? For a bigger and better Hilltop we will surely have to think of the future."

Fred J. Milligan is scheduled to deliver an Armistice Day address Thursday.

West High School Is Observing 40th Anniversary

Otto H. Magly Was Appointed First Principal

Sept. 8, 1908, saw the opening of the new West High School at the corner of Central-av and State-st. Otto H. Magly was appointed principal and was supported by the first West High faculty, composed of Clara Earnest, Augusta Connolley, Louise Coffey, Laura V. Smith, Olive Flowers, Alma Wirth, Laura J. Connell, Elizabeth Sessions, Alice Goodale, Neva Collins, Gertrude Rose, Robert C. Schroth and W. W. Wager. At that time, the enrollment included 319 pupils of the seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth grades, all students living east of the Hocking Valley tracks.

On Mar. 16, 1909, the building was formally dedicated, with Superintendent Shawan and John J. Stoddard, then president of the Board of Education, speaking at the dedication ceremonies.

Then, a Junior-Senior reception held on Feb. 24, 1911, became the first social event held in the new West High School, an occurance which was celebrated annually until the classes became too large for further continuance.

First baccalaureate services were held by the class of 1911, with the added distinction of being the first such services held by any high school in Columbus. These exercises, the first Class Day program ever held at West, were headed by Frank Randall, class president.

Mar. 25, 1913, still brings back memories to some. Heavy rains filled the streams and rivers around Columbus and broke the dam north of the city, caused disastrous floods that laid waste to the district between the Scioto River and the Hilltop. School was dismissed at 8:45 a. m. By 1 p. m. the water had reached its crest, 20 inches above the first floor level of the building. West High School became a refuge for some 150 flood-devastated people, many of them reaching the safety of its walls by boat.

After the flood school was quickly reorganized in the unoccupied portions of the W. Broad Street Elementary School, an act largely responsible for the fact that a remarkably small percentage of students failed to return to their studies. Classes resumed in the regular high school building again in May, in time for a class play and appropriate commencement exercises.

During World War I, West High students had a fine record in home-front service and on the battle lines. A Junior Red Cross chapter was organized, along with a West High School Knitting Club and a War Savings Club. For Christmas, 1917, the school sent boxes to the boys in France.

It was in February, 1921, that the library opened with 2000 books. At the end of its first complete school year, it reported over 10,000 overnight services.

A terrific blow came to the Hilltop in the summer of 1924, when plans were made to abolish the name and location of West High and send all high school students west of the river to Central High, in this way releasing the high school for use as a junior high. Due to the influence of the alumni, several civic groups and Judge Randall, a member of the board of education, however, the school continued as it had before.

West High moved to its present Powell-av location on Jan. 28, 1929. The student council was organized in the spring of 1930 and in November of that same year the new stadium was dedicated.

CELEBRATES FORTIETH YEAR — West Junior and Senior High School, 179 S. Powell-av, is pictured above. This is the building which was completed in 1928, when the school moved from the Starling Junior High School quarters.

IRVIN F. YOUNG—Mr. Young, principal of West Junior and Senior High Schools, assumed duties there in September, 1945. Prior to coming to the Hilltop he had served as East High School's principal.

OTTO MAGLY — Mr. Magly is the "grand old man" of West High School. Its first principal, he assumed this role in 1908 at the former West located on Central-av, which position he held until 1937. When the school lacked a baseball coach Mr. Magly gladly assumed the position. Retiring from the school system in 1939, he now resides at his home in Worthington, however West High will never forget him, as evidenced by the fact that both the football field and the honor society bear his name.

First WHS Site Purchased In 1903

A site for the building of West High School(now Starling Junior High) was purchased May 18, 1903, for a consideration of $8,000, according to original minutes of the Columbus School Board.

In 1905 the board resolved that during the following two fiscal years, its main objective would be to complete the West Side High School.

By January of 1906, the plans for the new school were ready to be put into the architect's hands and adopted by the board.

The name of Otto H. Magly was submitted to the board for its approval and confirmation, for the position as principal of West High School, on July 6, 1908, and on that day his nomination was confirmed.

Friday, March 26, 1909, was the date of the formal opening of West High School. A reception was held for the parents and friends of the pupils.

The West-North football game in 1918 was cancelled due to the death of Allen Miller after his injury in the East game.

1911 WHS Staff's Names Revealed

Teachers at West High School in June, 1911, included W. W. Wagner, mathematics; Robert C. Schroth, physics and chemistry; Augusta Connolley, latin; C. Lee Leahy, latin and mathematics; Martha J. Maithy, history; Kate R. Blair, zoology, botany, phys., geography; Katherine S. Burns, English; Louise Coffey, English and grammar; Alma Wirth, French and English; Laura J. Connell, German; Clara Earnest, grammar and music; Neva J. Collins, drawing.

$19,000 Spent On West's Improvements

Last year, West High School spent approximately $19,000 for athletic improvements, including football lights, probably one of the finest lighting systems in the state of Ohio, where the 100-ft. high steel poles are back of the crowds and no spectator needs to have his view obstructed by a light pole. One hundred lamps are used to light the field.

School Occupied Starling Bldg. Back In 1908

This year West High School is celebrating its 40th anniversary.

West High was opened in September, 1908, in the building now occupied by Starling Junior High School on Central-av with four grades, 7, 8, 9 and 10. Otto H. Magly was principal. At that time, many were opposed to its location as being too far out! There were few houses in its vicinity.

The first graduating class was that of June, 1911.

In 1909 West won its first championship in baseball. Billy Southworth came to West in September, 1909, and in 1910 the school, again with his help, won the baseball championship, winning the Spalding trophy, the first trophy to be placed in the trophy case.

Football began in 1910 with a teacher, Lee Leahy, as coach. He had a championship team in 1915. Dr. Lovell Rohr of the Hilltop was a member of this team.

In 1916, Augusta Connolley was made vice-principal, a position she held until her death in March, 1925. Blanche Kern, the present vice-principal, succeeded her in September, 1925.

In January, 1929, West moved from Central-av to the present location, the city having grown far beyond the expectations of those who planned a West High School at the turn of the century.

Principal Magly served at West from 1908 to 1937. He was succeeded by H. H. Reighley in September, 1937. Death ended Reighley's career in March, 1945. Irvin F. Young, the present principal, succeeded Reighley in September, 1945.

West High School, at the present time, has an enrollment of 2100 pupils. The Junior and Senior High School enrollment is almost evenly divided. The building houses both the Junior and Senior High School, with both schools using the same gymnasium, auditorium and cafeteria.

The teaching staff includes 84 members. Blanche Kern is the vice-principal of West Senior High School and Ruth Bachmayer is the vice-principal of West Junior High School, while Irvin F. Young serves as principal of both schools.

1913 Flood Does Damage To WHS

West High School, then located on Central-av, was badly damaged by the 1913 flood.

In April of that year, the Columbus School Board reported that water had entered the building, "two feet on the first floor."

The electric motors of the heating system were damaged and needed to be rewound. Until the building could be thoroughly dried out it could not be used.

West High's eighth grade pupils were sent to Highland Avenue School temporarily and the high school pupils were assigned to the auditorium at W. Broad-st.

Ironton defeated West in 1912 because the referee made an error and allowed Ironton's gridders five downs in which to make the winning TD.

Randall Name Linked To WHS Since Year 1911

The family name "Randall" looms large in the growth and development of West High School since its beginning in 1911.

Frank Randall, uncle of present faculty member, David Randall, was president of the first class at West in 1911.

This class was the first in Columbus to hold a high school baccalaureate service and class day program.

Frank Randall originated the name of "Occident" for the name of the school paper and annual. He has since become one of the nation's leading clergymen.

Judge C. J. Randall, brother of Frank and father of David, was instrumental in moving West High School to its present Powell-av location at the time when they tried to merge West with Central. Judge Randall was a member of the board of education.

And of course there is David P. Randall, who is at present a member of the faculty, teaching POD and history and serving as an assistant football coach.

Mound Street PTA Festival Nets $180

The West Mound Street School PTA announced this week that its annual Fall Festival, on Oct. 28, was a huge success, with net profits being around $180.

Mrs. Leonard Dyer, 587 Hilltonia-av, was general chairman for the affair. It featured a 30 minute cartoon movie, refreshments, hobby exhibits, the sale of baked goods and hand made aprons, etc.

Mrs. Harold Beard, 635 Woodbury-av, president of the PTA, extends her thanks to the more than 400 persons who helped to make the bazaar a success. The PTA now has a membership of 153, the largest in its history.

Brownie Scouts, 203 Celebrate Halloween

The fifth grade Brownie Scouts, Troop 203, of St. Mary Magdalene School, spent Oct. 20 folding Christmas seals. On Oct. 23, the 18 girls enjoyed a wiener roast in Westgate Park, and a hike to Derrer Woods.

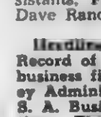
Too Bad It Happens This Way

Little mountains are frequently made out of mole hills in the game of politics and so many times people are hurt in the fracas when they shouldn't be.



Such an instance is that of the recent resignation of Chief Berry of the police department.

Three Kiwanians Discuss Girdles, Politics, and Hilltop Growth At Forum

Three members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club were speakers at the club meeting last Thursday and their topics included statistics on Columbus, the election and growth of the Hilltop.

Franklin D. Sparks quoted market data for Columbus showing such facts as:

1 There has been an increase of about 80,000 people in Columbus in the past eight years.

2 There have been about 22,000 dwelling units built here in the same period.

3 Fifty-one per cent of Columbus own their own homes.

4 The buying income per family averages $4,522 per year.

5 Forty three per cent of the people buy their groceries on Friday and another 43% on Saturday, leaving about 14% of the purchases made from Monday through Thursday.

6 Over 84% own mechanical refrigerators and 1.8% own home freezers.

Over 67% own automobiles. (But try and find a parking space downtown).

Over 41% of Columbus Women wear girdles and nearly 75% wear brassieres with 11.9% wearing corsets.

Mose Williams commented on the public opinion polls, showing how far wrong they had been in the election last week.

"Why does anyone wish to be President of the United States?" he asked. He then pointed out that "Last Tuesday we handed President Truman the world's best job with hard work, long hours and low pay. More than 235 agencies have direct access to the president. The president has to perform the ceremonial functions of a monarch, the government of a prime minister, give orders to the armed forces as commander-in-chief and act as leader of the party.

"He cannot afford to neglect any of his duties. If he found himself too busy to greet an important foreign visitor, to lay a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier or to light the national Christmas tree, it would raise a storm.

"He hasn't had a raise since 1909 when his salary was set at $75,000 per year. After he has paid his income tax, made all his contributions and inescapable obligations of his position, it is estimated he has about $11,000 left to live on.

"Surely there are a lot of red faces among the poll takers, but I would like to suggest that those of us who voted for the loser for the sake of the party, now be for the winner for the sake of the nation."

Elmer Hegenberger, delivering an address written by Curtis Wilcox, pointed to the growth of the Hilltop from a cow pasture to a city the size of Middletown, Ohio. Pointing to the transportation facilities available he said he could heartily recommend the extension of the Mound Street bus line to Binns Blvd. In a discussion period following, Ed Melvin stated that the bus line could not be extended until the street is improved and that will depend upon the consent of property owners to asume the necessary assessments.

"I remember Sullivant-av when it was a mud road with rough street car track down the center and all the area west of Hague-av was farm land. After watching this development I now wonder what our future growth will be and in what direction. Will it be south of the airport, west of Roma or west of Alton or will we have new municipalities such as Arlington, Bexley and Grandview? For a bigger and better Hilltop we will surely have to think of the future."

Fred J. Milligan is scheduled to deliver an Armistice Day address Thursday.

1918 BASKETBALL TEAM—Included among the players on the team that year were Haines as captain, Kurzhals, Wheeler, Carmichael, Miller, Van Meter, Hoover, B. Eberts, with Leahy as coach.

As to the individual players Captain Haines was easily the star, being the best floor man in the league, totaling more points for his team than the forwards playing against him. Kurzhalz developed into a splendid guard, as did Wheeler. Miller played erratically as did Van Meter, but both of them came through in a crisis. Miller's play in the East game was especially fine.

Haines again started the scoring in the second session with a neat field goal. Hoover, who replaced Miller, stood out as the shining light for Coach Leahy's quintet by registering four buckets in short order, and B. Eberts dropped in the only basket of the half for Aquinas, the score being 29-8 at the end.

1919 CHAMPIONS — The boys pictured here with Principal Magly and Coach Leahy are Charles, Magly, Palmer, Gray, Krause, Carmichael and Captain Kurtzhals.

1929 GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM—The junior team, with Mary Wiseman as captain, was the winning team. Playing on it were Mary Wiseman, Mary Worley, forwards; Mildred Schuman, center; Margaret Aschinger, Grace Puckett, side centers; Dorothy Todd, Marjorie Drumm, Emma Lohr, guards.

Three Kiwanians Discuss Girdles, Politics, and Hilltop Growth At Forum

Three members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club were speakers at the club meeting last Thursday and their topics included statistics on Columbus, the election and growth of the Hilltop.

Franklin D. Sparks quoted market data for Columbus showing such facts as:

1 There has been an increase of about 80,000 people in Columbus in the past eight years.

2 There have been about 22,000 dwelling units built here in the same period.

3 Fifty-one per cent of Columbus own their own homes.

4 The buying income per family averages $4,522 per year.

5 Forty three per cent of the people buy their groceries on Friday and another 43% on Saturday, leaving about 14% of the purchases made from Monday through Thursday.

6 Over 84% own mechanical refrigerators and 1.8% own home freezers.

Over 67% own automobiles. [illegible] ut try and find a parking space [illegible] wntown).

Over 41% of Columbus Women wear girdles and nearly 75% wear brassieres with 11.9% wearing corsets.

Mose Williams commented on public opinion polls, showing how far wrong they had been in the election last week.

"Why does anyone wish to be president of the United States?" he asked. He then pointed out that "Last Tuesday we handed President Truman the world's biggest job with hard work, long hours and low pay. More than 235 agencies have direct access to the president. The president has to perform the ceremonial functions of a leader, the government of a prime minister, give advice to the armed forces as commander-in-chief and act as leader of the party.

"He cannot afford to neglect any of his duties. If he found himself too busy to greet an important foreign visitor, to lay a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier or to light the national Christmas tree, it would raise a storm.

"He hasn't had a raise since 1909 when his salary was set at $75,000 per year. After he has paid his income tax, made all his contributions and inescapable obligations of his position, it is estimated he has about $11,000 left to live on.

"Surely there are a lot of red faces among the poll takers, but I would like to suggest that those of us who voted for the loser for the sake of the party, now be for the winner for the sake of the nation."

Elmer Hegenberger, delivering an address written by Curtis Wilcox, pointed to the growth of the Hilltop from a cow pasture to a city the size of Middletown, Ohio. Pointing to the transportation facilities available he said he could heartily recommend the extension of the Mound Street bus line to Binns Blvd. In a discussion period following, Ed Melvin stated that the bus line could not be extended until the street is improved and that will depend upon the consent of property owners to asume the necessary assessments.

I remember Sullivant-av when it was a mud road with rough street car track down the center and all the area west of Hague-av was farm land. After watching this development I now wonder what our future growth will be and in what direction. Will it be south of the airport, west of Rome or west of Alton or will we have new municipalities such as Arlington, Bexley and Grandview? For a bigger and better Hilltop we will surely have to think of the future."

Fred J. Milligan is scheduled to deliver an Armistice Day address Thursday.

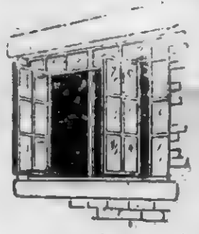
First West Pupils Attended Old Central High

In the first years of this century, high school pupils from the West Side attended Central High School at the corner of E. Broad and Sixth-sts. In 1907, it was decided that the West Side should have a high school of its own. Early in the summer construction was started on a building at the corner of Central-av and W. State-st. This building was completed late in the summer of 1908, and called the West Side High School. The approximate cost of the building was $67,000.



On Sept. 8, school opened with Otto Magly as its principal. The faculty was comprised of Augusta Connolly, Robert C. Schroth and W. W. Wager. These three teachers taught only high school subjects. There were nine other teachers who taught both seventh and eighth grade, or elementary subjects, and high school courses. These teachers were Louise Coffey, Laura V. Smith, Olive Flowers, Alma L. Wirth, Laura J. Connell, Elizabeth Sessions, Gertrude Elose, Alice B. Goodell and Neva Collins.

West High took the Central Ohio championship in basketball in 1922.

Dale Stewart was high point-getter in the final game Central Ohio tournament and State meet. He was the very backbone of the team and was placed on nearly all of the All-Hi teams. He was regarded as the best forward in the tournament at Delaware and placed second in the state.

Herbert Beck, playing his first year at basketball, fought all the time and could be counted on always to do his best.

Earl Cline was chosen as the best guard in the city, county and state. His floor work was splendid and his guarding perfect.

Allen Klemm was the other guard. He played a fine defensive game and kept his forward in constant fear.

Gabriel Blumer, Dixon Murray, Sanford Kauffman, Roy Kline and Paul Walton were substitutes, and very able ones.

BASEBALL TEAM OF 1933—This Cowboy team is composed of: Fenster, catcher; Dellinger, Miles, Thornton, Burkhalter at pitchers; Redifer at first; Corcoran, second; Boyo, Short, Link, third; Koon or Southworth in right; Burr in center; Miles or Ankrum in left.

Roney Executor For First Will

The members of the first graduating class of West High School, in 1911, composed a class will to be left behind them which would "grant courage to the freshmen entering from year to year, and give to Mr. Magly the honor of protecting said freshmen from the impositions of the sophomores."

In addition they appointed William Taft Roney, sole executor, without bond of their last will and testament, requesting that all debts and funeral expenses be first paid out of the estates as soon after their decease, as he found it convenient.

Excerpts from that first class will include:

To Martha J. Maltby, a copyright on her original expression, "You may sit," for her natural life only. Any senior violating such copyright shall be subject to the punishment of life membership to the Connel-Robinson Debating Society.

To Katherine Blair, the skeleton belonging to Mr. Schroth, said skeleton to be used in demonstrating to freshmen that there is a place in which to develop a brain.

To Lee Leahy, one austere glance to be used by him in subduing such unruly pupils as disturb him in his perusal of the continued story in the Staurday Evening Post.

To West High School, to have and to hold forever, memories of the first graduating class of said illustrious school, trusting there may be many to equal, but none to eclipse said memories.

To the athletic association the surplus of thirty-seven cents (37c) in the senior class treasury, to tide them over all financial difficulties present and to come.

"W" Initiation Notes From May 9, 1923

Secrecy! What could it mean? On all the lips of the neophytes it meant that they were to become members of one of the most honorable organizations of West High. Early on the afternoon of May 9, the members of the association gathered again for the annual initiation in the halls of their Alma Mater.

After the new members had been put through the regular rites, they were welcomed into the chapter of the "W", the only athletic association of its kind in the high schools in the state. Following these, there was much merry-making, then everyone scrambled for home to dress in his finest and take his best girl to a dance at Valley Dale. For the first time in its history, ladies were honored guests.

The festivities began by having a quartet comprised of Newton Case, Glen Miller, Howard Jones and Steve Fisher give a few selections of popular songs. Edgar Jones, a member of Al G. Fields Minstrels, also sang.

The following names were added to the roll: David Broadfoot, Carl Cline, Norman Dye, Clayton Farley, Erwin Friend, Jack Heiman, Stanford Kauffman, William McFadden, Ira Ritzman, Paul Walton, Joy Winters and Lyman Zurk.

In the 1931 gridiron contest between West and Aquinas Woodrow Wills and Bill Schmidt, both players, scored 27 points and 25 points respectively.

Frank Shugert, Edward Simes, Fred Bradfrute and Wayne Miller were the officers of the West High School's first debate team—way back in 1917.

In 1929, the West High team lost to Coschocton 24-7, but set a record by being the first team to score against the Coschocton eleven in four years of play.

Three Kiwanians Discuss Girdles, Politics, and Hilltop Growth At Forum

Three members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club were speakers at the club meeting last Thursday and their topics included statistics on Columbus, the election and growth of the Hilltop.

Franklin D. Sparks quoted market data for Columbus showing such facts as:

1 There has been an increase of about 80,000 people in Columbus in the past eight years.

2 There have been about 22,000 dwelling units built here in the same period.

3 Fifty-one per cent of Columbus own their own homes.

4 The buying income per family averages $4,522 per year.

5 Forty three per cent of the people buy their groceries on Friday and another 43% on Saturday, leaving about 14% of the purchases made from Monday through Thursday.

6 Over 84% own mechanical refrigerators and 1.8% own home freezers.

Over 67% own automobiles. Try and find a parking space downtown).

Over 41% of Columbus Women wear girdles and nearly 75% wear brassieres with 11.9% wearing corsets.

Mose Williams commented on public opinion polls, showing how far wrong they had been in the election last week.

"Why does anyone wish to be President of the United States?" he asked. He then pointed out that "Last Tuesday we handed President Truman the world's best job with hard work, long hours and low pay. More than 235 agencies have direct access to the president. The president has to perform the ceremonial functions of a host, handle the government, act as a prime minister, give orders to the armed forces as commander-in-chief and act as leader of the party.

"He cannot afford to neglect any of his duties. If he found himself too busy to greet an important foreign visitor, to lay a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier or to light the national Christmas tree, it would raise a storm.

"He hasn't had a raise since 1909 when his salary was set at $75,000 per year. After he has paid his income tax, made all his contributions and inescapable obligations of his position, it is estimated he has about $11,000 left to live on.

"Surely there are a lot of red faces among the poll takers, but I would like to suggest that those of us who voted for the loser for the sake of the party, now be for the winner for the sake of the nation."

Elmer Hegenberger, delivering an address written by Curtis Wilcox, pointed to the growth of the Hilltop from a cow pasture to a city the size of Middletown, Ohio. Pointing to the transportation facilities available he said he could heartily recommend the extension of the Mound Street bus line to Binns Blvd. In a discussion period following, Ed Melvin stated that the bus line could not be extended until the street is improved and that will depend upon the consent of property owners to asume the necessary assessments.

"I remember Sullivant-av when it was a mud road with rough street car track down the center and all the area west of Hague av was farm land. After watching this development I now wonder what our future growth will be and in what direction. Will it be south of the airport, west of Rome or west of Alton or will we have new municipalities such as Arlington, Bexley and Grandview? For a bigger and better Hilltop we will surely have to think of the future."

Fred T. Milligan is scheduled to deliver an Armistice Day address Thursday.

Mound Street PTA Festival Nets $180

The West Mound Street School PTA announced this week that its annual Fall Festival, on Oct. 28, was a huge success, with net profits being around $180.

Mrs. Leonard Dyer, 587 Hilltonia-av, was general chairman for the affair. It featured a 30 minute cartoon movie, refreshments, hobby exhibits, the sale of baked goods and hand made aprons, etc.

Mrs. Harold Beard, 635 Woodbury-av, president of the PTA, extends her thanks to the more than 400 persons who helped to make the bazaar a success. The PTA now has a membership of 153, the largest in its history.

Brownie Scouts, 203 Celebrate Halloween

The fifth grade Brownie Scouts, Troop 203, of St. Mary Magdalene School, spent Oct. 20 folding Christmas seals. On Oct. 23, the 18 girls enjoyed a wiener roast in Westgate Park, and a hike to Derrer Woods.

A Halloween party was held on Oct. 27 at the school. Refreshments were served, and the afternoon was spent working on various handicrafts. Directing this work were Mrs. Pat Timmins, Mrs. Tom McCormick, Mrs. William Kelly, Mrs. John Wolfe and Mrs. Ray Eyerman.

A Troop Committee meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Tom McCormick, 788 Chestershire-rd, on Nov. 16, at 8 p. m.

TO APPEAR FRIDAY NIGHT — Billing themselves as the "1000 pounds of harmony", the Franklin County Singing Sheriffs will be the featured entertainers at the Wilson School PTA's annual family night. Friday [illegible]

Members of Troop 61, under the leadership of Juanita Bynum, 405 Clarendon-av, meet each Tuesday at the Oakley Avenue Baptist Church. The following members took part in the song and dance number called "In the Plaza." Carol Bencon, Reita Bynum, Marcia and Shirley Lowery, Grace Roberts, Audry Fitzgerald, Beverly Cook, Elizabeth Foster, Donna and Joyce Wilson, Barbara and Sandra Calaway, Jeanne Walker, Dorothy Campbell, Joan Hill, Ruth Robinson, Joan Hollins, Lena Jackson, and Betty Penn.

Mrs. H. C. Booth, 318 S. Roys-av, worked with the girls teaching the dance. The members of this troop are working on both dance and troop dramatic badges.

Local Scout Heads Will Meet Nov. 8

On Nov. 8, at 2 p. m. the members of the West High Neighborhood Scout Leaders Association will meet in the housekeeping apartment of the school. Rules of Procedure, will be read and voted upon, and a report on the scout conference held at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel will be given.

Membership to this association is open to all adults interested in scouting in the West High Neighborhood. Troop committee members and parents of girls now meeting at the school are invited to attend.

Too Bad It Happens This Way

Little mountains are frequently made out of mole hills in the game of politics and so many times people are hurt in the fracas when they shouldn't be.

Such an instance is that of the recent resignation of Chief Berry of the police department.

Three Kiwanians Discuss Girdles, Politics, and Hilltop Growth At Forum

Three members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club were speakers at the club meeting last Thursday and their topics included statistics on Columbus, the election and growth of the Hilltop.

Franklin D. Sparks quoted market data for Columbus showing such facts as:

1 There has been an increase of about 80,000 people in Columbus in the past eight years.

2 There have been about 22,000 dwelling units built here in the same period.

3 Fifty-one per cent of Columbus own their own homes.

4 The buying income per family averages $4,522 per year.

5 Forty three per cent of the people buy their groceries on Friday and another 43% on Saturday, leaving about 14% of the purchases made from Monday through Thursday.

6 Over 84% own mechanical refrigerators and 1.8% own home freezers.

Over 67% own automobiles. [illegible] try and find a parking space downtown).

Over 41% of Columbus Women wear girdles and nearly 75% wear brassieres with 11.9% wearing corsets.

Jesse Williams commented on public opinion polls, showing how far wrong they had been in the election last week.

"Why does anyone wish to be President of the United States?" he asked. He then pointed out that "Last Tuesday we handed President Truman the world's greatest job with hard work, long hours and low pay. More than 235 agencies have direct access to the president. The president has to perform the ceremonial functions of a king, handle the government of a prime minister, give orders to the armed forces as commander-in-chief and act as leader of the party.

"He cannot afford to neglect any of his duties. If he found himself too busy to greet an important foreign visitor, to lay a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier or to light the national Christmas tree, it would raise a storm.

"He hasn't had a raise since 1909 when his salary was set at $75,000 per year. After he has paid his income tax, made all his contributions and inescapable obligations of his position, it is estimated he has about $11,000 left to live on.

"Surely there are a lot of red faces among the poll takers, but I would like to suggest that those of us who voted for the loser for the sake of the party, now be for the winner for the sake of the nation."

Elmer Hegenberger, delivering an address written by Curtis Wilcox, pointed to the growth of the Hilltop from a cow pasture to a city the size of Middletown, Ohio. Pointing to the transportation facilities available he said he could heartily recommend the extension of the Mound Street bus line to Binns Blvd. In a discussion period following, Ed Melvin stated that the bus line could not be extended until the street is improved and that will depend upon the consent of property owners to asume the necessary assessments.

"I remember Sullivant-av when it was a mud road with rough street car track down the center and all the area west of Hague-av was farm land. After watching this development I now wonder what our future growth will be and in what direction. Will it be south of the airport, west of Rome or west of Alton or will we have new municipalities such as Arlington, Bexley and Grandview? For a bigger and better Hilltop we will surely have to think of the future."

Fred J. Milligan is scheduled to deliver an Armistice Day address Thursday.

Mound Street PTA Festival Nets $180

"Most Beautiful" School Gets Help From Bateman

"The most beautiful school in the country" is the way a visitor recently spoke of West High School.

The building itself reputedly cost a million dollars, is ideally planned, substantially built and is among the most attractive school edifices in this section.

When Irvin F. Young was appointed to the West High principalship three years ago, he immediately launched a movement to landscape and make exterior improvements.

Flowers, especially chrysanthemums, grow in Magly Field where thousands pass during athletic contests.

Vandalism on the school's exterior is scarcely heard of.

Clarence Bateman, industrial arts instructor, was delegated by Mr. Young to see what improvements could be made on the outside of the building.

Recently, Bateman directed and aided in the removal of four dead elms from the school plot. In the near future, the dead trees will be replaced with sturdy pin oaks in front of the building, maples at the north and south sides, and a variety of trees on the rear of the building.

To prepare the baseball field for early spring play and practice, Mr. Bateman's crew brought 15 tons of clay from an adjoining excavation, screened it, and mixed it with sand to form a foundation along the baselines alonug which the runners could race.

Already this fall, a planting and re-planting program for the flower beds has been begun. Tulips, crocus, hyacinths and mums are being planted in beds about the schoolyard.

Now, the work crew is preparing to seed the girls' playground west of the school. In the past, the terrain on this field has been rough and uneven, with a limestone foundation, forming a myriad of lakes after every rain. A general grading and leveling of the ground, plus a planting of grass seed, should remedy the situation and make the area much nicer for the girls' recreational activities.

Also completed under Mr. Bateman's supervision during past months were the erection of 1100 new steel bleacher seats; preparations for the blackton sidewalk to the stadium; the painting of the scoreboard, bandstand and goalposts; and the new side-line markers for the football field.

Under Ohio Skies
AS TOLD BY The CONSERVATION DIVISION

West and East tied for the football championship in 1932, after a 10-16 Cowboy victory, but the honor was forfeited by West because of the ineligibility of one of the players.

In 1916, West lost the city football championship to South by three points.

In 1933, the Toledo gridders walked over the lighter West team to take a 115-0 win.

Too Bad It Happens This Way

Little mountains are frequently made out of mole hills in the game of politics and so many times people are hurt in the fracas when they shouldn't be.

Such an instance is that of the recent resignation of Chief Berry of the police department.

Three Kiwanians Discuss Girdles, Politics, and Hilltop Growth At Forum

Three members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club were speakers at the club meeting last Thursday and their topics included statistics on Columbus, the election and growth of the Hilltop.

Franklin D. Sparks quoted market data for Columbus showing such facts as:

1 There has been an increase of about 80,000 people in Columbus in the past eight years.

2 There have been about 22,000 dwelling units built here in the same period.

3 Fifty-one per cent of Columbus own their own homes.

4 The buying income per family averages $4,522 per year.

5 Forty three per cent of the people buy their groceries on Friday and another 43% on Saturday, leaving about 14% of the purchases made from Monday through Thursday.

6 Over 84% own mechanical refrigerators and 1.8% own home freezers.

Over 67% own automobiles. ...ut try and find a parking space ...wntown).

Over 41% of Columbus Wo...n wear girdles and nearly 75% ...ar brassieres with 11.0% wear... corsets.

...lose Williams commented on public opinion polls, showing ...w far wrong they had been in ...election last week.

"Why does anyone wish to be ...sident of the United States?" ...asked. He then pointed out

"Last Tuesday we handed ...sident Truman the world's ...hest job with hard work, ... hours and low pay. More ... 235 agencies have direct ...s to the president. ...he president has to perform ...he ceremonial functions of a ... handle the government ... of a prime minister, give ...s to the armed forces as ... commander-in-chief and act ... leader of the party.

"He cannot afford to neglect any of his duties. If he found himself too busy to greet an important foreign visitor, to lay a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier or to light the national Christmas tree, it would raise a storm.

"He hasn't had a raise since 1909 when his salary was set at $75,000 per year. After he has paid his income tax, made all his contributions and inescapable obligations of his position, it is estimated he has about $11,000 left to live on.

"Surely there are a lot of red faces among the poll takers, but I would like to suggest that those of us who voted for the loser for the sake of the party, now be for the winner for the sake of the nation."

Elmer Hegenberger, delivering an address written by Curtis Wilcox, pointed to the growth of the Hilltop from a cow pasture to a city the size of Middletown, Ohio. Pointing to the transportation facilities available he said he could heartily recommend the extension of the Mound Street bus line to Binns Blvd. In a discussion period following, Ed Melvin stated that the bus line could not be extended until the street is improved and that will depend upon the consent of property owners to asume the necessary assessments.

"I remember Sullivant-av when it was a mud road with rough street car track down the center and all the area west of Hague-av was farm land. After watching this development I now wonder what our future growth will be and in what directions. Will it be south of the airport, west of Rome or west of Alton or will we have new municipalities such as Arlington, Bexley and Grandview? For a bigger and better Hilltop we will surely have to think of the future."

Fred J. Milligan is scheduled to deliver an Armistice Day address Thursday.

Too Bad It Happens This Way

Little mountains are frequently made out of mole hills in the game of politics and so many times people are hurt in the fracas when they shouldn't be.

Such an instance is that of the recent resignation of Chief Berry of the police department.

Three Kiwanians Discuss Girdles, Politics, and Hilltop Growth At Forum

Three members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club were speakers at the club meeting last Thursday and their topics included statistics on Columbus, the election and growth of the Hilltop.

Franklin D. Sparks quoted market data for Columbus showing such facts as:

1 There has been an increase of about 80,000 people in Columbus in the past eight years.

2 There have been about 22,000 dwelling units built here in the same period.

3 Fifty-one per cent of Columbus own their own homes.

4 The buying income per family averages $4,522 per year.

5 Forty three per cent of the people buy their groceries on Friday and another 43% on Saturday, leaving about 14% of the purchases made from Monday through Thursday.

6 Over 84% own mechanical refrigerators and 1.8% own home freezers.

Over 87% own automobiles. [illegible] try and find a parking space downtown).

Over 41% of Columbus Women wear girdles and nearly 75% wear brassieres with 11.9% wearing corsets.

Mose Williams commented on public opinion polls, showing how far wrong they had been in the election last week.

Why does anyone wish to be President of the United States?" he asked. He then pointed out that "Last Tuesday we handed President Truman the world's best job with hard work, long hours and low pay. More than 236 agencies have direct access to the president. The president has to perform the ceremonial functions of a chief executive, handle the government of a prime minister, give orders to the armed forces as commander-in-chief and act as leader of the party.

"He cannot afford to neglect any of his duties. If he found himself too busy to greet an important foreign visitor, to lay a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier or to light the national Christmas tree, it would raise a storm.

"He hasn't had a raise since 1909 when his salary was set at $75,000 per year. After he has paid his income tax, made all his contributions and inescapable obligations of his position, it is estimated he has about $11,000 left to live on.

"Surely there are a lot of red faces among the poll takers, but I would like to suggest that those of us who voted for the loser for the sake of the party, now be for the winner for the sake of the nation."

Elmer Hegenberger, delivering an address written by Curtis Wilcox, pointed to the growth of the Hilltop from a cow pasture to a city the size of Middletown, Ohio. Pointing to the transportation facilities available he said he could heartily recommend the extension of the Mound Street bus line to Binns Blvd. In a discussion period following, Ed Melvin stated that the bus line could not be extended until the street is improved and that will depend upon the consent of property owners to asume the necessary assessments.

"I remember Sullivant-av when it was a mud road with rough street car track down the center and all the area west of Hague-av was farm land. After watching this development I now wonder what our future growth will be and in what direction. Will it be south of the airport, west of Rome or west of Alton or will we have new municipalities such as Arlington, Bexley and Grandview? For a bigger and better Hilltop we will surely have to thank of the future."

Fred J. Milligan is scheduled to deliver an Armistice Day address Thursday.

RUTH BACHMAYER—Miss Bachmayer serves as vice-principal of West Junior High. Formerly a math teacher at Highland Avenue School, she was appointed to the office at West in February, 1929, upon the completion of West's new school building on S. Powell-av.

THE LATE DR. H. H. REIGHLEY—Dr. Reighley was principal of West Junior High School during the years 1928-35. In 1937 he was made principal of the Senior High division, and served as such until his death in February, 1945.

MISS BLANCHE KERN—Miss Kern has been with West High School, as its vice-principal, since the year 1925. She assumed that duty after being a Latin teacher there from 1917 to 1925. At that time the school was located in the building which now houses Starling Junior High.

Many Grads From Class of 1911, Remain In Ohio

How often have you wondered what a classmate of yours in those "good old days" is doing now? How often have you wondered where your old eleventh-grade sweetheart is and what she looks like?

Well, we can't tell you exactly what each one looks like or where he or she is, but if you were one of those select few who graduated in the first class from West High School—the class of 1911—you might find something of interest in the paragraphs to follow.

Dorothy King went on from West High to become principal of the Chicago-av school. From there, she was transferred to the Dana School in 1943. She retired from the teaching profession in 1946 and now resides at 81 N. Warren-av.

Katherine Tryen also became a teacher—at the Crestview Junior High School. She now resides at 1[illegible] Hunter-av.

Mercedes Wedemeyer became a teacher at the Dana School and later got married. She is now Mrs. Rodgers.

Homer Robertson is now in the veterans' hospital at Chillicothe.

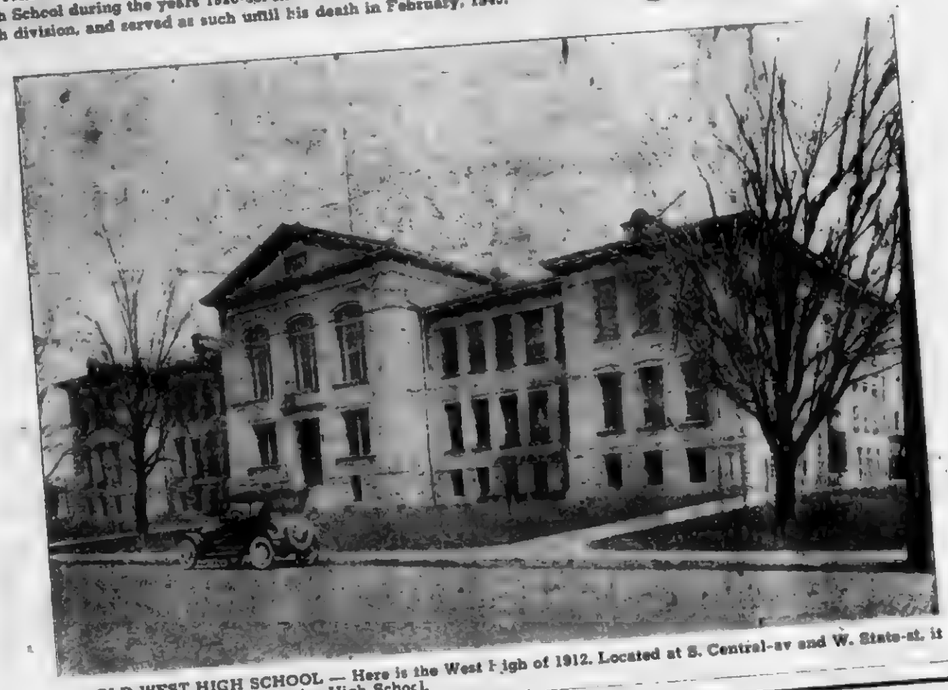
Frank Randall became a minister.

Russell Pierson is now a doctor in Middletown.

Bertha Hatch is married and, according to rumor, lives somewhere in Columbus.

Frank Marsh became a farmer and is now living in Ridgewood, Ohio.

Emma Graneswitch lives somewhere in town.



Glenn Durflinger has been teaching at Central High School since 1926 in the math department.

Russell Sperry is a colonel in the army and was stationed, at last notice, at Ft. McPherson, Atlanta, Ga.

Jesse Dowdell lives somewhere outside California.

Ethel Bevan and Gwilym Evans are now deceased.

Five Teachers At West High For 25 Years

During the past quarter-century or more five names have loomed large in the history of West High School.

Blanche Kern first decided to become a teacher while teaching a Sunday School class. A graduate of Ohio State University where she majored in Latin, Miss Kern has a Bachelor of Arts degree in education. Upon graduation from State, she taught at a private girls' school in St. Louis, Mo. Later, she came to West where she taught Latin and English. She was made vice principal in 1925.

C. M. Michel, formerly principal of Mercer High School, attended Ohio Wesleyan University, the University of Chicago and Harvard. He has a Bachelor of Arts degree and a Bachelor of Literature degree. Mr. Michel came to West in 1920.

George F. Neeb, who majored in social studies in college, has a Bachelor of Arts degree from Ohio State University and a Master of Arts degree from Harvard.

A. B. Cole, who has served longer than any other teacher at West High School, teaches American history and law. He taught at Marion, Mt. Sterling and Ironton before coming to West in 1913.

O. C. Montgomery, West High physics teacher, attended Denison University, where he received a Bachelor of Science degree, and the University of Chicago. He has taught at schools in DuQuoin, Ill.; Decatur, Ill.; New Philadelphia, O., and Los Angeles Calif. He came to West in 1917 where he supervised the Hi-Y for 17 years.

Too Bad It Happens This Way

Little mountains are frequently made out of mole hills in the game of politics and so many times people are hurt in the fracas when they shouldn't be.

Such an instance is that of the recent resignation of Chief Berry of the police department.

Three Kiwanians Discuss Girdles, Politics, and Hilltop Growth At Forum

Three members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club were speakers at the club meeting last Thursday and their topics included statistics on Columbus, the election and growth of the Hilltop.

Franklin D. Sparks quoted market data for Columbus showing such facts as:

1 There has been an increase of about 80,000 people in Columbus in the past eight years.

2 There have been about 22,000 dwelling units built here in the same period.

3 Fifty-one per cent of Columbus own their own homes.

4 The buying income per family averages $4,522 per year.

5 Forty three per cent of the people buy their groceries on Friday and another 43% on Saturday, leaving about 14% of the purchases made from Monday through Thursday.

6 Over 84% own mechanical refrigerators and 1.8% own home freezers.

Over 67% own automobiles. Just try and find a parking space downtown).

Over 41% of Columbus Women wear girdles and nearly 75% wear brassieres with 11.9% wearing corsets.

Mose Williams commented on public opinion polls, showing how far wrong they had been in the election last week.

Why does anyone wish to be President of the United States?" he asked. He then pointed out that "Last Tuesday we handed President Truman the world's best job with hard work, long hours and low pay. More than 235 agencies have direct access to the president. The president has to perform the ceremonial functions of a king, handle the government of a prime minister, give advice to the armed forces as commander-in-chief and act as leader of the party.

"He cannot afford to neglect any of his duties. If he found himself too busy to greet an important foreign visitor, to lay a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier or to light the national Christmas tree, it would raise a storm.

"He hasn't had a raise since 1909 when his salary was set at $75,000 per year. After he has paid his income tax, made all his contributions and inescapable obligations of his position, it is estimated he has about $11,000 left to live on.

"Surely there are a lot of red faces among the poll takers, but I would like to suggest that those of us who voted for the loser for the sake of the party, now be for the winner for the sake of the nation."

Elmer Hegenberger, delivering an address written by Curtis Wilcox, pointed to the growth of the Hilltop from a cow pasture to a city the size of Middletown, Ohio. Pointing to the transportation facilities available he said he could heartily recommend the extension of the Mound Street bus line to Binns Blvd. In a discussion period following, Ed Melvin stated that the bus line could not be extended until the street is improved and that will depend upon the consent of property owners to asume the necessary assessments.

"I remember Sullivant-av when it was a mud road with rough street car track down the center and all the area west of Hague-av was farm land. After watching this development I now wonder what our future growth will be and in what direction. Will it be south of the airport, west of Rome or west of Alton or will we have new municipalities such as Arlington, Bexley and Grandview? For a bigger and better Hilltop we will surely have to think of the future."

Fred J. Milligan is scheduled to deliver an Armistice Day address Thursday.

RUTH BACHMAYER—Miss Bachmayer serves as vice-principal of West Junior High. Formerly a math teacher at Highland Avenue School, she was appointed to the office at West in February, 1929, upon the completion of West's new school building on S. Powell-av.

THE LATE DR. H. H. REIGHLEY—Dr. Reighley was principal of West Junior High School during the years 1928-35. In 1937 he was made principal of the Senior High division, and served as such until his death in February, 1945.

MISS BLANCHE KERN—Miss Kern has been with West High School, as its vice-principal, since the year 1925. She assumed that duty after being a Latin teacher there from 1917 to 1925. At that time the school was located in the building which now houses Starling Junior High.

Many Grads From Class of 1911 Remain In Ohio

How often have you wondered what a classmate of yours in those "good old days" is doing now? How often have you wondered where your old eleventh-grade sweetheart is and what she looks like?

Well, we can't tell you exactly what each one looks like or where he or she is, but if you were one of those select few who graduated in the first class from West High School—the class of 1911—you might find something of interest in the paragraphs to follow.

Dorothy King went on from West High to become principal of the Chicago-av school. From there, she was transferred to the Dana School in 1933. She retired from the teaching profession in 1946 and now resides at 81 M. Warren-av.

Katherine Tryen also became a teacher—at the Crestview Junior High School. She now resides at 1[illegible] Hunter-av.

Mercedes Wedemeyer became a teacher at the Dana School and later got married. She is now Mrs. Rodgers.

Homer Robertson is now in the veterans' hospital at Chillicothe.

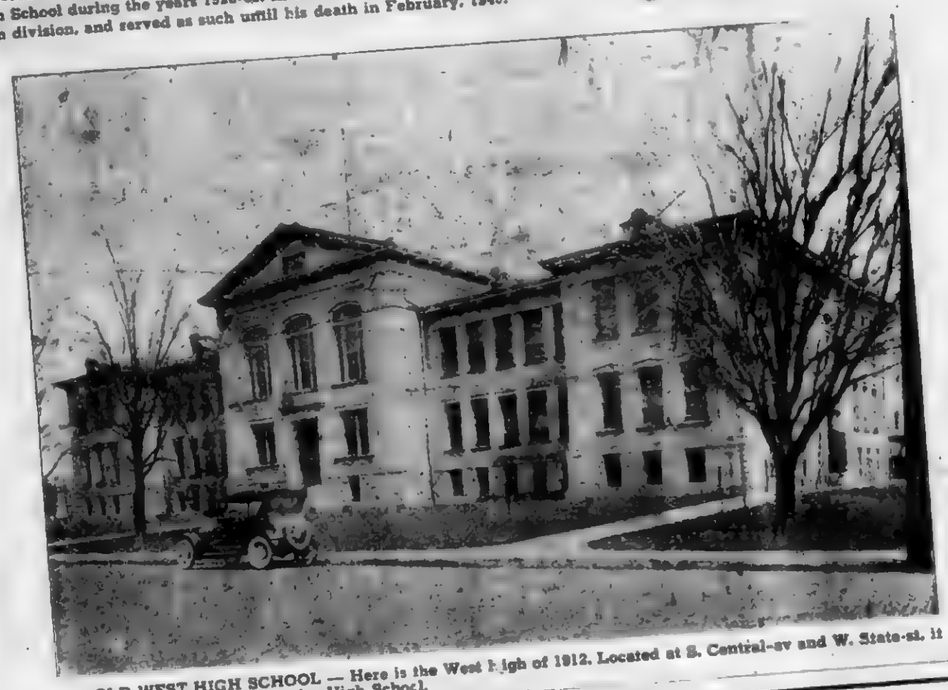
Frank Randall became a minister.

Russell Pierson is now a doctor in Middletown.

Bertha Hatch is married and, according to rumor, lives somewhere in Columbus.

Frank Marsh became a farmer and is now living in Ridgewood, Ohio.

Emma Graneswitch lives somewhere in town.



Glenn Durflinger has been teaching at Central High School since 1926 in the math department.

Russell Sperry is a colonel in the army and was stationed, at last notice, at Ft. McPherson, Atlanta, Ga.

Jesse Dowdell lives somewhere outside California.

Ethel Bevan and Gwilym Evans are now deceased.

The remainder of the class—Naimo Cowling, Mable Rickenbacker, Carrie Weed, Francis Mackey, Edward Gerish, Walter Draught and Clifford Treyens—haven't been heard from for quite some time. Their whereabouts at present are not known.

Site For West High Purchased in 1924

It was in February, 1924, that a committee was appointed by the Columbus School Board to look for a site on which a new West High School might be built.

On April 7 of the same year, $42,000 was offered to the owner of a suitable tract of land on Powell-av. It was bounded by Olive-st on the north, the first alley south of Palmetto-st on the south, and the first alley west of Chase-av on the west. The offer was accepted.

Construction on the new school building began soon after the architectural plans were approved on May 17, 1926.

West High, with the smallest school in the city, won the city championship in 1915. Nine gridders were on the all-high list.

"Keep To Left"

When there's an autumn tang in the air lots of people like to take to the roads and the woods and the hills on foot. Whether you're hiking for pleasure or by necessity, the Safety Council of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce urges you to keep on the left-hand side of the road, so you can watch the cars approaching on your side. And now is a good time to teach this safety rule to children who walk along the road to and from school.

Mr. Motorist, how would you feel if you ran over and killed a child? Even if the accident were not your fault, you'd probably be haunted for life! It's back-to-school time—time to watch out for children who have not completely learned to watch out for themselves—time to drive slowly and watchfully in residential sections.

Three Kiwanians Discuss Girdles, Politics, and Hilltop Growth At Forum

Three members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club were speakers at the club meeting last Thursday and their topics included statistics on Columbus, the election and growth of the Hilltop.

Franklin D. Sparks quoted market data for Columbus showing such facts as:

1 There has been an increase of about 80,000 people in Columbus in the past eight years.

2 There have been about 22,000 dwelling units built here in the same period.

3 Fifty-one per cent of Columbus own their own homes.

4 The buying income per family averages $4,522 per year.

5 Forty three per cent of the people buy their groceries on Friday and another 43% on Saturday, leaving about 14% of the purchases made from Monday through Thursday.

6 Over 84% own mechanical refrigerators and 1.8% own home freezers.

7 Over 67% own automobiles. (But try and find a parking space downtown).

8 Over 41% of Columbus Women wear girdles and nearly 75% wear brassieres with 11.9% wearing corsets.

Mose Williams commented on the public opinion polls, showing how far wrong they had been in the election last week.

"Why does anyone wish to be president of the United States?" he asked. He then pointed out that "Last Tuesday we handed President Truman the world's toughest job with hard work, long hours and low pay. More than 236 agencies have direct access to the president.

"The president has to perform all the ceremonial functions of a king, handle the government work of a prime minister, give orders to the armed forces as their commander-in-chief and act as the leader of the party.

"He cannot afford to neglect any of his duties. If he found himself too busy to greet an important foreign visitor, to lay a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier or to light the national Christmas tree, it would raise a storm.

"He hasn't had a raise since 1909 when his salary was set at $75,000 per year. After he has paid his income tax, made all his contributions and inescapable obligations of his position, it is estimated he has about $11,000 left to live on.

"Surely there are a lot of red faces among the poll takers, but I would like to suggest that those of us who voted for the loser for the sake of the party, now be for the winner for the sake of the nation."

Elmer Hegenberger, delivering an address written by Curtis Wilcox, pointed to the growth of the Hilltop from a cow pasture to a city the size of Middletown, Ohio. Pointing to the transportation facilities available he said he could heartily recommend the extension of the Mound Street bus line to Binns Blvd. In a discussion period following, Ed Melvin stated that the bus line could not be extended until the street is improved and that will depend upon the consent of property owners to asume the necessary assessments.

"I remember Sullivant-av when it was a mud road with rough street car track down the center and all the area west of Hague-av was farm land. After watching this development I now wonder what our future growth will be and in what direction. Will it be south of the airport, west of Ronk or west of Alton or will we have new municipalities such as Arlington, Bexley and Grandview? For a bigger and better Hilltop we will surely have to think of the future."

Fred J. Milligan is scheduled to deliver an Armistice Day address Thursday.

First West Pupils

of high school 125 pupils; in the elementary grades, 194. This enrollment increased steadily, and at the end of the first month there were 136 high school students, and 214 elementary.

At first, as there were no seats in the auditorium, it was not possible to hold assemblies. This hindered administration, but classes were held the third day. A schedule of six 45 minute periods, and a 30-minute lunch period was followed. School began at 8:30 and was out at 1:30.

A formal dedication of the building was held March 26, 1909. Superintendent Shawan and J. J. Stoddart, president of the board of education, were speakers. A flag was presented the school by Chaplain Fritter, McCoy Post, GAR.

In the spring of 1909, with Mr. Magly coaching, a baseball team was organized. Due to the fact that there were only two classes of high school, West was not successful in the High School League. The pupils of the seventh and eighth grades won the Spaulding Trophy, emblematic of the championship. This trophy was again won in 1910 by the team, and became a permanent possession of the school.

In September, 1909, the school began its second year with an enrollment of 196 high school pupils and 201 elementary. A third grade of high school had been added to the curriculum. In order to relieve congestion at Chicago Avenue School, the 6A's were brought to West High School. Additions to the faculty this year were Margaret Flynn, F. L. Leahy, Jenny Harmon and Grace Ingersoll. In addition to the duties of mathematics instructor, Mr. Leahy was appointed coach of the basketball team.

One of the largest defeats West's football team ever took was in 1920 when Steele defeated the Cowboys 56-0.

For the second year in succession, West's gridders handed the 1921 team from Trade a lopsided defeat—the score was 50-0.

West's 1922 football eleven was the only Columbus team to cross the Marietta goal line that year, although the score was only a 6-6 tie.

Mound Street PTA Festival Nets $180

The West Mound Street School PTA announced this week that its annual Fall Festival, on Oct. 28, was a huge success, with net profits being around $180.

Mrs. Leonard Dyer, 587 Hilltonia-av, was general chairman for the affair. It featured a 30 minute cortoon movie, refreshments, hobby exhibits, the sale of baked goods and hand made aprons, etc.

Mrs. Harold Beard, 635 Woodbury-av, president of the PTA, extends her thanks to the more than 400 persons who helped to make the bazaar a success. The PTA now has a membership of 163, the largest in its history.

Brownie Scouts, 203 Celebrate Halloween

The fifth grade Brownie Scouts, Troop 203, of St. Mary Magdalene School, spent Oct. 20 folding Christmas seals. On Oct. 23, the 18 girls enjoyed a wiener roast in Westgate Park, and a hike to Derrer Woods.

A Halloween party was held on Oct. 27 at the school. Refreshments were served, and the afternoon was spent working on various handicrafts. Directing this work were Mrs. Pat Timmins, Mrs. Tom McCormick, Mrs. William Kelly, Mrs. John Wolfe and Mrs. Ray Eyerman.

A Troop Committee meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Tom McCormick, 788 Chestershire-rd, on Nov. 16, at 8 p. m.

Troops 29 and 61 Attend Conference

Troops 29 and 61 took part in the folk dancing. Members of Troop 29, under the leadership of Mrs. Thomas Hughes, gym teacher at West High, who took part in the "Irish Lilt" dance were Dorothy Augenstein, Lois Eshelman, Marjorie Mallory, Mable Pringle, Billie Proctor, Ardella Thomas and Shirley Truitt.

Members of Troop 61, under the leadership of Juanita Bynum, 405 Clarendon-av, meet each Tuesday at the Oakley Avenue Baptist Church. The following members took part in the song and dance number called "In the Plaza," Carol Bencon, Reita Bynum, Marcia and Shirley Lowery, Grace Roberts, Audry Fitzgerald, Beverly Cook, Elizabeth Foster, Doana and Joyce Wilson, Barbara and Sandra Calaway, Jeanne Walker, Dorothy Campbell, Joan Hill, Ruth Robinson, Joan Hollins, Lena Jackson, and Betty Penn.

Mrs. H. C. Booth, 218 S. Roys-av, worked with the girls teaching the dance. The members of this troop are working on both dance and troop dramatic badges.

Local Scout Heads Will Meet Nov. 8

On Nov. 8, at 2 p. m. the members of the West High Neighborhood Scout Leaders Association will meet in the housekeeping apartment of the school. Rules of Procedure, will be read and voted upon, and a report on the scout conference held at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel will be given.

Membership to this association is open to all adults interested in scouting in the West High Neighborhood. Troop committee members and parents of girls now meeting at the school are invited to attend.

Too Bad It Happens This Way

Little mountains are frequently made out of mole hills in the game of politics and so many times people are hurt in the fracas when they shouldn't be.

Such an instance is that of the recent resignation of Chief Berry of the police department.

If and when the truth comes to light in this matter it will probably appear that the little item of $40 that he tried to collect as expenses on a trip to New York was used as a tool to make things unpleasant enough for someone so that the mole hill grew and grew. Later developments will show what we mean.

In any event we don't feel that a public reprimand was necessary for this officer who had given 25 years of fine service to the department. Hilltoppers who know him will agree and can testify in his behalf. They wish him well in whatever endeavor follows.

Likewise they extend their congratulations and best wishes to the new chief, Hilltopper Frank Harrison.

This week's flowers are to be presented by Rosebud Floral to Coach Mack Pemberton on his second city championship at West, when the annual football banquet is held on Nov. 16. Needless to say, the Hilltop is bubbling over with enthusiasm for that West High team. Nice going, Mack, and the same to your assistants, Fred Heischman and Dave Randall.

Just One Answer To What Happened

Last Tuesday provided perhaps the biggest surprise the world has known in many a year. It would have been hard to find even Democrats who would have bet that Harry Truman would be returned to the White House. The pollsters and people everywhere seemed convinced that a change was imminent.

But it didn't work out that way and now people are wondering what happened.

To my way of thinking, and looking back, it seems simple. After nine years of the highest level of prosperity everyone in this country has had more money in their pockets, there have been fewer people out of jobs and profits have been the highest ever. Why was it to be expected that the people would vote against the man in office when conditions were so good?

Four years from now, if business conditions should tighten, the farmer get less for his products, living costs go up and wages down, you will find the country yelling for Democratic scalps. But last Tuesday they were thinking in terms of their pocketbooks today.

That we have a false economy and that the eventual outcome may be worse than any previous depression is not the thing to be concerned with today, according to the vote. Why the pollsters didn't figure this out is the mystery. But who did?

ACTING POLICE CHIEF FRANK L. HARRISON AND WIFE —Relaxing in their home at 2964 Wicklow-rd, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison appear quite calm after hearing the news of Charles M. Berry's resignation from the office of chief of police. Harrison assumes the post on Nov. 16.

Harrison Is Named Chief

Becoming the fourth police chief in the period of a year, Frank L. Harrison, 2964 Wicklow-rd, has assumed the position of acting chief until his official appointment to that office on Nov. 16.

Harrison's appointment came with the resignation of former police chief, Charles M. Berry, who tendered his resignation, effective Nov. 15, on Nov. 4. Harrison replaces Berry under civil service regulations. Berry is now eligible for police pension.

Berry, a resident of 401 Midland-av, assumed the office of police chief after the March 9 resignation of Howard B. Hinton. Hinton had held the office only nine days before his resignation from the job which was "out of my line."

Berry resigned because of an "impaired . . . physical condition" and "unfavorable publicity I have received."

Having joined the Navy at the age of 17, Harrison saw service as chief commissary steward in both wars. A tall man with iron-gray hair, he has been with the police force since June 22, 1925. Before moving to Columbus to take the job of dining car steward for the Pennsylvania Railroad, Harrison, a native of Muncie, held a state job in Pendleton, Ind.

It was from the railroad job that he resigned to take the position on the police force.

The 56-year-old former captain was named head of the Police Traffic Bureau in March, 1946. He held that position until his recent appointment as acting chief by Safety Director C. C. Cole.

Harrison, married since 1912, has one daughter, Mrs. George Moore of Worthington. He is also the grandfather of three boys—Robert, Terry and Tommy.

Effect of County Zoning Law Described By Co. Engineer

Ernest Sterk, a member of the county engineer's office, described last week the effect of the newly-projected zoning laws on the residents of Franklin County and other outlying sections around west Columbus.

In effect, this is the program:

The ground already owned by General Motors, the Sun Oil Co. and others and the railroad has been set aside for industrial use. This takes in most of the ground between W. Broad-st and Sullivant-av, from the Columbus corporation limit to Georgesville-rd.

All of the frontage along that portion of Broad-st west of the city limits, between the General Motors ground and that owned by the Sun Oil Co. has been set apart as commercial.

Frontage along all roads which has not been designated for commercial or industrial use will be reserved for residential areas.

Areas 300 feet in from the road, extending along the road's course, will be restricted residential areas. If a farm is now occupying that territory, it may continue to be classified so. However, if the farmer should wish to sell some of his road frontage, the purchaser may use the land only for farming or residential use.

No restrictions will be set on farming as long as the farmer uses his land for that purpose. Anything that the farmer wishes to do with his land is permissible as long as it pertains to farming.

All landowners with more than five acres of land are termed farmers and their land has been designated for that purpose. Those persons who have less than five acres will find that their land has been put under residential restrictions. This has been done for the benefit of those persons who bought such a piece of land for the purpose of having their home on a larger estate. The planning commission believes that all perons with less than five acres of land belong in this classification.

Any new industries will be built only in districts approved for the purpose in the zoning plan. Any new shops or stores built will be restricted to the areas set aside for commercial or industrial purposes, with the knowledge and consent of the people of the township. Apartment houses will not spring up in districts set aside for single-family residences. Outdoor advertising shall be classified as a business use, and be limited to areas zoned for business, industry, or farming.

Movement To Adopt Villa In Holland Begun By Hilltoppers

A group of Hilltop citizens have banded together for the purpose of adopting a village in Holland.

A nationally known magazine featured an article in April about an American town which had adopted a European borough. Several local residents, reading the story, spontaneously wished to do the same.

All through the summer months neighbor talked to neighbor concerning the possibility of such a move, however there were some in the group who were of the opinion that they should be more concerned about their own home-front, and worry less about the peoples of war-torn Europe. In fact, during the vacation months, nothing more was said about the plan.

This fall the movement again gained momentum. One of the hopeful sponsors talked the situation over with the leader of the Hudson, Ohio, group which has adopted the community of Souburg, in Holland. Residents of a smaller villa in Scuburg's vicinity had expressed the wish that they too would be adopted. This small village is called Ritthem, and is the one which the Hilltop group hopes to "take under its wing."

The borough is located on Walcheren Island, Province of Zeeland. There is a population of approximately 700. This includes 500 adults and about 250 children.

Chairman of the committee in charge of the local movement is C. Carlton Hartley, 1370 Wilson-rd. His committee consists of Mrs. A. R. Fox, 247 S. Roys-av; Mrs. William Boothe, 58 Haldy-av; Ruth Gildersleeve, 238 N. Ogden-av; Laura Pennypacker, 2507 Indianola-av; Mrs. Icy Scott, 146 S. Ogden-av; and Mrs. J. G. Bowser, 35 N. Hague-av.

These persons are representing the 113 Hilltoppers who have pledged themselves to take an active part in adoption plans. The principal purpose is to encourage local communities to correspond with the communities abroad. It is this personal contact which lends encouragement to the sister communities overseas.

The local group is working through a New York agency known as "Operation Democracy," which promotes such adoptions. After the committee made known its choice of a town in Holland, the project was turned over to another company, "United Service to Holland," which will work in conjunction with "Operation Democracy."

Sidney, Ohio, a community of 12,000, has collected 256,000 pounds of food for Germany. This will be distributed in Berlin, Munich, Suttgart, Weisbaden, and Nuremberg. Lewis Warbington, farmer in Sidney, started their project. With each food package will go a letter from an Ohio family to a German family.

It is for this purpose that various local persons have attempted to establish contact with the people of Ritthem.

Let Contract To Draw Fire House Plans

City Service Director Elmer Keller advised the Record this week that the firm of Brocks and Coddington has contracted to design the fire house which is to be erected on the northeast corner of Sullivant and Brinker-avs.

The E. Broad-st firm signed a contract with the city Nov. 5. No time limit was set in which the plans must be completed. Maximum fee which the company is allowed to charge for their services is $5,000.

As soon as the plans are completed and are approved by the city, the job will be thrown open for competitive bidding. The construction company which makes the lowest and soundest offer will be awarded the job.

Honor Dads At Cowboy Game Friday

Recognition of West High Dads —and particularly dads of West High football players—will highlight the final home game, when the Linden Presidents will tangle with the West High Cowboys on Magly Field, Friday night, Nov. 12.

The famous marching band from the Hilltop school will preface the evening's festivities with a spectacular DAD formation, and will play appropriate music in honor of Dad.

Dads of football players will be admitted to the northwest gate with the football numeral corresponding to that of the son. This number will appear in black on a white cardboard.

Retaining the huge numerical sign, Dad will retire on a reserved bench, just south of sons.

Student council officials will introduce the dads by name and number.

ATTEND CONVENTION

West High School was represented by two senior students, Marilyn Vagnier and Joyce Wallace, at the 21st annual convention of the Journalism Association of Ohio Schools, held at the Deshler-Wallick Hotel and Ohio State University, Nov. 5 and 6.

Students Vote To Make Good Rally Damage

A football rally is a fine thing if it doesn't get out of control, but if and when it does, then it is time for the offenders to pay for the damages.

This was the theme of a talk on good citizenship in the Monday morning assembly at West High School following the football rally held last Thursday evening, when some damage was reported by various individuals.

The rally, held on the West Broad Street School playground, resulted in the basketball backboard belonging to the school being burned up and a picket fence nearby being damaged. The rally crowd then proceeded to the Westmont Theatre, where it got out of control and made a nuisance to the theatre management.

Irvin F. Young, West principal, pointed out to the students that a community that provides so much fine support to a school as does the Hilltop to West High deserves better treatment.

The student body has voted to replace the school blackboard, repair the picket fence and make a public apology to the theatre management.

It is believed that ringleaders in the demonstration were former students and outsiders.

"OUR COSTLY SACRIFICE"

Mrs. Ethel Titus Worthen

On June 7, 1944, the day after D-Day, Pfc. Robert Worthen was killed in action while attempting to capture an enemy machine-gun nest.

Shortly after that, Bob's mother, Mrs. Ethel T. Worthen, 2567 W. Broad-st, received a huge, heart-shaped wreath of poppies from Ireland with the request that it be put on Bob's grave.

This occasion was the forerunner of a long period of correspondence between Mrs. Worthen and Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson of Ballymana, County Antrim, Ireland.

This is the way it began.

After being sent overseas in April, 1942, Bob served with the 326th Airborne Division in the African, Corsican and Italian campaigns. From there, he was sent to North Ireland for a furlough and rest, before he re-entered battle.

It was at this time that Bob first met the Thompsons. On several occasions, he spent afternoons at tea with them. They became very close friends.

When Bob was killed in the D-Day push into Europe, the Thompsons began corresponding with Mrs. Worthen. Occasionally they would send her gifts, among them an oil painting of the Irish countryside, a beautiful plastic dish, a tea cloth, a piece of egg-shell-thin Belleek pottery, and three pairs of gloves.

Through this correspondence, Mrs. Worthen has found much solace after the tense war years in which her son was killed. The Thompson family, through their interest in a youngster away in a strange land have provided Mrs. Worthen with many indestructible memories.

It is appropriate to print herewith Mrs. Worthen's Armistice Day poem.

Our Costly Sacrifice

Upon the altar of freedom,
Our sacrifice is laid.
In laying down of precious life,
The supreme price was paid.
That good, brave men have ever
Died to make men free . . .
So these our dear loved ones have died.
To give us liberty.

No man hath greater love than this;
Is written in God's word.
O, Holy Spirit, renew us . . .
Let every heart be stirred
Help us to live more like Thee:
Remembrance never wane
That freedom at so great a cost,
Shall not have been in vain.
—Ethel Titus Worthen.

Three Kiwanians Discuss Girdles, Politics, and Hilltop Growth At Forum

Three members of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club were speakers at the club meeting last Thursday and their topics included statistics on Columbus, the election and growth of the Hilltop.

Franklin D. Sparks quoted market data for Columbus showing such facts as:

1 There has been an increase of about 80,000 people in Columbus in the past eight years.

2 There have been about 22,000 dwelling units built here in the same period.

3 Fifty-one per cent of Columbus own their own homes.

4 The buying income per family averages $4,522 per year.

5 Forty three per cent of the people buy their groceries on Friday and another 43% on Saturday, leaving about 14% of the purchases made from Monday through Thursday.

6 Over 84% own mechanical refrigerators and 1.8% own home freezers.

7 Over 67% own automobiles (But try and find a parking space downtown)

8 Over 41% of Columbus Women wear girdles and nearly 75% wear brassieres with 11.9% wearing corsets.

Mose Williams commented on the public opinion polls, showing how far wrong they had been in the election last week.

"Why does anyone wish to be president of the United States?" he asked. He then pointed out that "Last Tuesday we handed President Truman the world's toughest job with hard work, long hours and low pay. More than 235 agencies have direct access to the president.

"The president has to perform all the ceremonial functions of a king, handle the government work of a prime minister, give orders to the armed forces as their commander-in-chief and act as the leader of the party.

"He cannot afford to neglect any of his duties. If he found himself too busy to greet an important foreign visitor, to lay a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier or to light the national Christmas tree, it would raise a storm.

"He hasn't had a raise since 1900 when his salary was set at $75,000 per year. After he has paid his income tax, made all his contributions and inescapable obligations of his position, it is estimated he has about $11,000 left to live on.

"Surely there are a lot of sad faces among the poll takers, but I would like to suggest that those of us who voted for the loser for the sake of the party, now be for the winner for the sake of the nation."

Elmer Hegenberger, delivering an address written by Curtis Wilcox, pointed to the growth of the Hilltop from a cow pasture to a city the size of Middletown, Ohio. Pointing to the transportation facilities available he said he could heartily recommend the extension of the Mound Street bus line to Binns Blvd. In a discussion period following, Ed Melvin stated that the bus line could not be extended until the street is improved and that will depend upon the consent of property owners to asume the necessary assessments.

"I remember Sullivant-av when it was a mud road with rough street car track down the center and all the area west of Hague-av was farm land. After watching this development I now wonder what our future growth will be and in what direction. Will it be south of the airport, west of Rome or west of Alton or will we have new municipalities such as Arlington, Bexley, and Grandview? For a bigger and better Hilltop we will surely have to think of the future."

Fred J. Milligan is scheduled to deliver an Armistice Day address Thursday.

"THAT'S Y"

By Ronnie Boothe

YWAL, FRY MAH HIDE! Here it 'is time for the annual "SADIE HAWKINS" DAY RACE. Just a reminder to all Hilltop bachelors to be on the lookout Saturday, Nov. 13. That's the day the girls (with BEAR TRAPS) set out to find a man.

SEEN—
Everyone enjoying themselves Saturday nite among the dishes of fudge and the snowstorm of popcorn. Thanks to "MAE" and some of the girls. Lou Ann Reeves sharpening the teath of her bear trap, Denny Leach and Frank Crego working over a hot enlarger in the dark room. "Lois" Williams and "Skip" Wolfe making posters.

Don't forget the basketball league and the sewing club (for girls). With a reminder that on Sadie Hawkins Day the only thing worse than a gal is two gals with Marrin as their objekt.

QUESTION—
WILL THE "GAL" SCHMOO CATCH THE BOY SCHOOO??? SCHMOON IN NEXT WEEK AND FIND OUT.
